The president slept some last night. With him is a trained nurse, who is assisting Mrs. Wilson in caring for the patient. He has no temperature and his heart action is good.

THRIFT DAY IN LOWELL SCHOOLS

Lowell's public and parochial schools informally observed Thrift day today in accordance with a proclamation by Governor Condliffe. No extended programs were carried out but in many of the schools the teachers told their pupils of the purpose of the day and urged that the excellent thrift record made during the world war by the school children be maintained permanently. The governor's proclamation was read in many of the class rooms and in some instances a letter from Secretary Glass of the treasury in which the latter urged investments in thrift and war savings stamps as one of the ways in which school children could continue the practice of thrift.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Giving a detailed history of union activities in the steel industry, Michael F. Steel Corporation instead of "leading the van in advancing wages, as Judge Gary has claimed, has lagged behind our organization."

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 3.—Reports came from company sources today that preparations were being made to open steel plants now shut down and otherwise provide for a larger return of men on Monday.

From Donora, Pa., Mingo Junction, O., and Warton, W. Va., came reports that efforts would be made to resume work Monday. In the immediate Pitts-

LOCAL STORES LIVING UP TO REGULATIONS

Although Thure Hanson, the state commissioner of weights and measures, has sent out a warning to retailers of bread that the state law regarding the weight and wrapping of this commodity must be lived up to, local dealers have little to fear from this warning, according to City Sealer Warren P. Hildan. On the whole, the local stores which sell bread are living up to the regulations as consistently as can be expected.

In the past two days inspectors of the local sealer's office have inspected 200 places where bread is sold and found conditions satisfactory.

The state law says that unwrapped bread must be sold in units of two-pound loaves, one-pound loaves, half-pound loaves or pound-and-a-half loaves. A sign stating the prices of each size loaf must be placed in a conspicuous position in the store where the bread is sold.

Bread that is wrapped must have printed on the wrapper the name of the maker, the trade mark, if any, and the net weight exclusive of the wrapping.

White Sox and Reds Move to "Windy City" For Third Game of World's Series

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Carrying a two-game lead, the Reds today invaded the home territory of the White Sox for the third contest of the world series—the game many baseball men believe virtually will decide whether the American league pennant winners are to be serious contenders for the championship or face an overwhelming handicap during the remainder of the series.

The weather forecast was partly cloudy and somewhat cooler, followed by showers at night.

The two teams, accompanied by some 2000 Cincinnati rooters, arrived here early today on more than a dozen trains. The Reds confident that they would return to Ohio Sunday night possessors of baseball's highest honors, and the White Sox determined to overcome their handicap while playing on their home grounds.

Despite the fact that the White Sox
5 to 5 favorites before the series started, had lost two straight games to the National leaguers, their followers were confident that today's contest would be the beginning of a winning streak. Fans began gathering at the park last night, waiting in line to purchase the general admission tickets placed on sale at 5 o'clock this morning.

as a result of the decision taken by the Atlantic Sugar Refineries' workers to go on strike, until certain demands which they have made are met by their employers. There is a consid-what the company is willing to concede, and as a result of a mass meeting of the sugar refinery workers last night all work ceased in the plant at 1 o'clock (daylight time) this morning. The men did not all march out in a body, but the different departments left one after the other.

Wait All Night for Tickets

The first fan appeared at the park at 5.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and shortly afterward others appeared. By midnight, more than 100 were in line and all night the ticket seekers increased in number. Included among the waiters was a fair sprinkling of women.

Although Manager Gleason of the Sox announced last night that he probably would select Dick Kerr, the sensational young lefthander, to pitch, there was a general feeling that the youngster would not be called on at such a critical time and that Gleason would switch to one of his veterans.

Eddie Cicotte, leading hurler of the American league, who was pounded from the box in the first game, and Urban Faber, hero of the 1917 series, were considered the foremost probabilities. Faber, however, has pitched only indifferent ball this season. Kerr has just finished his first big league season. He is a southpaw, which counted in his favor because of the manner in which "Lefty" Williams yesterday held down the Reds' hits despite the loss of the game.

Reds Not Favorites

For the Reds "Hod" Eller or Ray

Fisher was the likely choice. Both are right-handers and were stars of the pennant campaign.

In what little betting was reported today on the series the Reds were 8 to 5 favorites. On today's game there were some bets at even money, but in most cases the White Sox followers demanded odds.

Perfect Weather

The weather seemed as perfect today as for the two games in Cincinnati.

"The boys all slept well and are ready to put up the same kind of ball here that they displayed in Cincinnati," said Pat Moran.

Manager Gleason also reported that every man on his team was feeling "in great shape." John Collins, who had a slight cold yesterday morning had recovered completely.

R. R. UNIONS MAY NOT BE REPRESENTED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Railroad unions representing more than 2,000, 000 workers will not participate in the industrial conference called by President Wilson for next Monday, unless the basis of labor representation is changed to include the chief executives of all international and national unions.

Timothy Shea of the Brotherhood of Firemen, said the change in representation had been suggested to Director General Hines but that to reply had been received and none was expected.
Because of this, he said, the four brotherhoods did not expect to go into the conference and it was thought the 14 other railroad unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor also would not participate.

Trouble over the railroad men's representation arose when all the railroad unions were asked to send four men to the conference. The brotherhoods, asserting that the 14 other unions would be represented by the American Federation of Labor with which the brotherhoods are not affiliated, sought to name all four delegates. The railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor contended they should have direct representation by appointment of part of the four. The matter was referred to Mr. Hines, who has been endeavoring to solve the problem without success.

Mr. Shea said today it was felt that without the presence of an official of each union, many problems might arise at the industrial conference on which no expert advice would be available.

Acting President Jewell of the railroad employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, said today he did not yet know whether the railroad unions affiliated with the federation would be represented in the conference. There was indication from men to the park while the Nashua players also had a supporting contin-gent. Although it was a little warm for football, nevertheless, both elevens showed plenty of speed in the practice sessions.

Last year Lowell high was not represented by a football team owing to the paramount interest in war activities at that time and for that reason it is expected that there will be more than usual enthusiasm this year.

Some quarters that these unions would accept representation by the delegates accredited to the federation, even if they were not allowed to appoint their own spokesmen.

Hines of President Wilson was believed to be playing a considerable part in the failure of negotiations to settle the difficulty.

Arrangements have been made at the Pan-American building to seat 100 delegates, 100 press representatives and about 250 visitors at the formal opening of the conference. Stenographic reports of the proceedings will be furnished newspaper correspondents over 10 minutes.

ATTACK ON SEN. LODGE

Much Opposition to His Stand on Treaty by G.O.P. Convention Committee

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—Sharp differences of opinion in regard to the League of Nations were shown in the speaking at the meeting yesterday afternoon of the committee on resolutions of the republican state convention. Considerable bitterness was displayed on each side of that important question, but the outstanding feature was the criticism which representatives of the so-called "Patriotic Societies" made of the attitude of Senator Lodge.

Rev. William M. Macnair, pastor of the Prospect Congregational church, Cambridge, and Brenton H. MacCurdy of Somerville, who has been for years prominent in the American Patriotic association, were the speakers who attacked Mr. Lodge for his attitude on the treaty and urged the adoption of a plank calling for the ratification of the treaty and the entrance of the United States into a League of Nations.

Mr. Macnair declared that the great majority of the Congregational ministers in the state favored the treaty and the league. He said that he voted for Senator Lodge in the senatorial election a few years ago because he (Mr. Macnair) could not support the political mountebank, who was the candidate against him, but that if the election were held today he (Mr. Macnair) would vote for the political mountebank in preference to Mr. Lodge.

Speaks for 10,000 Patriots

Mr. MacCurdy said that he represented 10,000 patriotic citizens and that at the recent meetings of the American Patriotic association there had been hardly a man or a woman who did not heartily favor the League of Nations. The speaker said that he had not been a Wilson man until he decided to enter the war, but that since that time he had been with the president. "No self-respecting citizen could be with him before that," Mr. MacCurdy said.

"I believe in Senator Lodge," Mr. MacCurdy went on. "I have always voted for him, but I take issue with him on this matter, the most important question that has come up since Adam came into the world.

Crane's Brief Statement

Ex-United States Senator W. Murray Crane was at the meeting. He made this characteristically brief statement of his position: "I recommend that the following be inserted in the platform: That the committee favors prompt and favorable action on the peace treaty with suitable reservations that will not amend the treaty."

Ex-Senator Robert W. Washburn submitted the following in behalf of the executive committee of the Roosevelt club:

"We commend the statesmanship of Henry Cabot Lodge, senator from Massachusetts, leader of the senate, and chairman of the great committee on foreign relations, far and clear-sighted, patriotic and tireless, in war and in peace; particularly his attitude for a league and not a negotiated armistice; and for Americanizing the treaty and the Covenant of Nations; for the safety and welfare of the people of the United States."

That proposed resolution was signed by Harcourt Amory, Jr., Gaspar H. Bacon, George P. Drury, Walter H. Foster, George von L. Meyer, R. M. Washburn and J. Loring Young.

For Treaty Without Amendment

Ex-Speaker Joseph Walker and Congressman Crocker, representing the Massachusetts joint committee for a League of Free Nations, offered a resolution the essential part of which read as follows:

"We urge ratification of the treaty of peace with Germany without amendment and we suggest, as a basis of adjustment between the extreme position of the president and the extreme position of certain senators, the adoption by the senate of interpretative reservations which do not substantially change the terms of the treaty, but which make the obligation of the United States under the treaty more clear and definite, and we commend the efforts of those senators who are working to effect that end."

Reports from Washington are that Senator Lodge has been thoroughly roused by what he believes to be attempts to discredit him in this state and that he will speak his mind freely and plainly at the convention on Saturday. It is commonly believed that, no matter what the committee on resolutions does, a minority report will be presented on the floor of the convention, and hence a real fight which may make serious trouble for the party.

Ask Anti-Lynching Plank

Walter A. Johnson and W. T. Miller, two colored men, asked for a plank against lynching.

Wendell P. Thore submitted planks in favor of old-age pensions, the strict observance of the legislative rules in regard to the passing of votes, a national referendum before the people of the country can be thrown into war unless it be a war of defense, and state control of the production, distribution and price of milk.

Mr. Thore said that the republican party had strayed far away from the example set by Lincoln and other men to whom its orators frequently referred as lights of the world. He said also that unless the party awoke to a sense of its responsibilities and took an attitude in favor of progressive legislation it would soon find itself in a minority.

Miss Edna J. Spencer of Cambridge urged a plank in favor of maternity pensions.

statement of the statements made to him by his employees, foremen and superintendents. It was far and away from being the truth about the industry."

Tighe repeated the charge that the steel corporation early in its history had appropriated $20,000,000 to fight unions and gave names of his informants. The unions, he said, had never sought the closed shop but union shops.

"When the management signs a contract us to scales and working conditions it is a union shop," he explained. "The effect is the same as a closed shop, isn't it?" asked Senator Sterling, republican, South Dakota.

"No," said Tighe. "We are not asking for closed shops and never have."

W. Z. Foster, secretary of the general strike committee, whose alleged views as a radical, have drawn congressional fire, was present after Tighe had concluded. Armed with copies of this book on syndicalism, members of the committee were ready for sharp

Advised For Foreigners

Tighe read an advertisement of 1909 credited to the United States Steel Corporation, which said:

"Men wanted—Syrians, Poles, and Rumanians preferred."

"The gentleman's (Judge Gary's) remarks about foreigners now," Tighe remarked, "are not well taken. In view of that."

"Do you charge that from 1909 on there was a steady increase of foreign workmen in the steel company's mills?" asked Senator Walsh of Massachusetts.

"Yes, I do," Tighe asserted.

Declaring that the present strike was preceded by universal demands for organization from steel workers, Tighe said about 100 new charters for local unions had been issued by his organization but that he could not tell exactly how many men had joined for the strike.

On October 1, he said, 363,000 men were on strike.

"How many of those strikers cannot speak English?" asked Chairman Kenyon.

Tighe had no exact information, but said: "To be frank about the matter, I think the largest percentage of them are foreign-born."

"This strike was called," Tighe said, "because Judge Gary would not grant the request for a conference with the 24 unions. If he had done that there would have been no strike."

I.W.W. Caused Strike

"Why could not it be delayed at the president's request?" asked Chairman Kenyon.

"Because there were a number of I.W.W. organizers among the men," said Tighe. "If we had delayed, they would have said that the American Federation of Labor could not do anything. They were getting some influence, and would have succeeded in calling some sporadic strikes anyway."

"Then in the last analysis, the I.W.W. caused this strike?" said Senator Sterling.

"Oh, don't take that view," Tighe responded. "If we had gotten a conference we would have had something to show these men, that their interests were being protected, and could have held them on the job."

TO MILITARIZE OMAHA POLICE FORCE

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 3.—In response to recommendations of Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, who was assigned to quell rioting in Omaha following the lynching of a negro Sunday and the burning of the court house, the city council yesterday voted to appoint 100 new policemen and effect semi-military organization of the force.

Two machine guns, 30 riot guns and motorcycles and automobiles for emergency use will be secured at once. A competent military instructor will be engaged to drill the reorganized department.

Gen. Wood said last night that there was no evidence of further troubles and all parts of the city were quiet. He made preparations to leave the city today.

Civil authorities are continuing the arrest of men and boys alleged to have participated in the riot. All are being held without bond for a special session of the grand jury next Wednesday.

FORGED POSTAL CERTIFICATE

Thomas Babrowski, alias Murray, of Billerica, who was arraigned in Lowell police court some time ago charged with forgery of postal certificates, which he was alleged to have stolen from a room on Middlesex street, was found guilty of forging a signature to a $100 postal certificate by a jury in the federal district court yesterday. The case was continued for sentence.

BELLEVUES AND K. OF C.
MEET TOMORROW

Tomorrow afternoon while the Cincinnati Reds and Chicago White Sox are battling in the Windy City, the Lowell Knights of Columbus and Bellevues will commence their three-game series at Spaulding park.

This series, coming as an aftermath of the K. of C.-Lamson series, is arousing a great deal of interest and there are many fans who figure that the Bellevues will spring a real surprise and overthrow the council team. That the Bellevues have a bunch of fast, aggressive ball players is not denied, and the Knights are not taking the series lightly. The teams will fight for a purse of $500 and the entire gate receipts to the winning club and incidentally to settle the question of amateur supremacy in the city.

Manager Hartnett of the Bellevues undoubtedly will send Lawson to the hill to oppose either Owen Devlin or Scully. The latter showed so much against the Lamsons that it would not be surprising to see him. Coughlin name him as his choice for the first game. Bob Keeler will umpire and will start the game promptly at 3.15 o'clock. Special cars will accommodate the crowd to and from Spaulding park.

PRINCE LOREE CAPTURES
THE TRANSYLVANIA

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 3.—Transylvania Day brought out the largest attendance of the Kentucky trotting horse breeders' association meeting and the race while lasting only three heats, was exciting. Prince Loree after trailing his field into the stretch in the first heat came like a shot and won the race by a length from Hollywood Kate. The second choice, Royal Mac, went to a wild break on the back stretch and finished last after trotting a half in one minute to save his distance.

The second mile found Royal Mac in the lead at the quarter. Prince Loree trailing, the last named coming through the stretch as he did in the first and winning. In the third and final heat Murphy was away in the lead and closely pressed by Easton held his position to the wire.

Easton was passed by Prince Loree, but the latter could not get up, being strung to his hilt and was declared the winner only because of the conditions under the three-heat rule.

Don De Lopez won the first event in straight heats in excellent time, Louis (Crater) the second event easily, but the fourth race was unfinished and was postponed after three horses had each won heats and three drivers had engaged in a job, which the judgeship in the bud, ordering the driver of Miss Zola Sombra to go on and win the third heat.

JESSE BURKETT WILL AGAIN COACH HOLY CROSS BALL TEAM

WORCESTER, Oct. 3.—According to a reliable informant at Holy Cross college, Jesse C. Burkett will coach the Holy Cross baseball team again next year, notwithstanding stories to the contrary. It is stated that Burkett has agreed to take charge of the team and the signing of a contract is a mere formality that will be carried out later. Burkett is to get more for his services than under his old contract, and matters have gone so far as to have him outline some of his plans for next year to the athletic officials at the college.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Miller Huggins, manager of the New York American league club, signed a contract yesterday to manage the team next year, it was announced here last night.

FROM BUTLER

LYNN, Oct. 3.—Paul Doyle of Boston proved too clever for Walter Butler of Revere in the 12-round main bout at the Casino A. C. last night. During the entire mill Butler tore into Doyle but the latter's clever boxing prevented him from doing any great damage. The bout was decidedly interesting.

Harry Loring of Charlestown won on a foul from Billy Moran of Revere in the second round. Harry Nelson of Boston and Fredy Bryson fought a fast draw to six rounds and a bout between Young Leonard of Chelsea and George Robbins of Roxbury was stopped in the second. Young Leonard having all the best of it.

YELLE BEATS STRONA

FRAMINGHAM, Oct. 3.—Referee Conley stopped two of the four bouts at the Casino A. C. last night to save the losers further punishment. He stepped in at the 10th round between Fred Yelle of London and Young Stroha of New Bedford. After Stroha had received a hard pummeling and awarded the decision to Yelle. The bout between Young Stroha of New Bedford and Young Dempsey of Boston was ended in the second round, Stroha getting the decision. Teddy Murphy of West End, Boston, defeated Mack Murphy of Atlantic in seven rounds and Ed Lewis of New Bedford won his six-round bout with Arthur Ross of Boston.

The members of the Crimson A. C. held their annual banquet on Wednesday evening at the home of George Quinn, E. Miner and M. Daley. A musical program was featured by songs by George McNally and piano selections by George Lyons.

The Call'em

Outfit and outfitted, yet they won. That in a nutshell tells the story of yesterday's victory for the Reds over the American league representatives in the big classic. They were lucky, some say. Granted, yet that conquest, maiden, Miss Luck, always rides along at the side of skill and courage. Southpaw Williams was able to prevent the Reds from hitting in after inning, but at the crucial moment, when the wishers shaded his own grave, he could not keep the ball away from Koy's favorite alley and the Redland shortstop slapped out the triple which took Chicago's heart away.

Fighting Back from the Ropes. The White Sox hit everything Sal Lee had to offer to all corners of the Cincinnati park. They picked his first one and waited for the break on his curve and rode the ball to the outfield.

for sure-cough safeties, yet, when the crisis loomed up, Slim was master. Joe Jackson stood on third base with only one down in the third frame, yet the hitting ace of Gleason could not score. Saltee was too much for the Sox when backed against the wall. Again in the fourth, Weaver opened with a single and Jackson followed his lead. A sacrifice advanced both men. Jackson on second, Weaver on third, one man gone. Did they score? No. The old light struck out like a sore thumb and the Red field threw a cordon around Saltee which rivaled that of American's machine, when Gardner, Scott, Barry and Hotly dug in their spikes and pulled their pitcher through. Yes, sir, the Sox hit Saltee when his meant nothing except batting averages, but when they meant time, the wise old bird was too much for them. That, to us, seems the answer.

Textile Eleven Looks Good. Word comes to us from the Textile school that this year's football team of future mill agents is going to be "good." Not fair, but "good." The squad is large enough to allow the coach to put three players on the field at one time in practice sessions and the first team as now constituted combines speed with power. An eleven-game schedule of hard battles will try the eleven's worth, but as it looks like the best combination in years at the Moody street school, the team ought to come through in the style. They won't play against Worcester academy in Worcester tomorrow.

You're Welcome, A.T.C. We are in receipt of the following: Call'em, Dear Sir: Will you kindly inform me through your interesting column how many times Jimmy Gardner and Frank Klaus boxed and the results? Thanking you for a reply, I remain A.T.C.

They met five times. On April 12, 1910, Gardner lost the decision to Klaus in 12 rounds in Boston; on Nov. 29 of the same year Gardner turned the tables in 12 rounds in Boston; they boxed a draw in Boston on Jan. 31, 1911 and a no-decision bout of six rounds in Pittsburgh on April 11, 1911. On July 1, 1913, their last meeting, Klaus scored a knockout in Boston in three rounds.

Big Bouts Tomorrow

We venture to say that the Knights of Columbus A. C. bouts which take place under way tomorrow will be a world series to manhandle. Both factions are all hot up over the idea and the biggest crowds of the year will turn out.

ELABORATE AND UNIQUE DINNER GOWN OF PERSIAN DESIGN

GLOWS WITH JEWELS
BY BETTY BROWN

The elaborate and unique dinner gown here shown is of Persian inspiration.

The stomacher of jewels and the armlets, the burnous-like sleeves, the great earrings and oriental comb all suggest the spicy atmosphere of Arabia. In fact the gown is spicy to the point of daring. Only a tall woman with exquisitely slender lines could achieve distinction in this model.

It is built of heavy satin and clinging chiffon. The creator of this wondrous gown chose a chiffon of apricot hue to combine with lustrous deep cream satin, which, in turn, is outlined with pearls, topaz stones and jet to glitter in evening candle light.

Stomacher and armlets are fashioned of the pearls, topaz stones and jet, but the earrings and comb, which are an integral part of the costume, are of real amber. The heavy tassels finishing the front of the skirt and the sleeves are of the pearl, topaz, jet combination, while the slender slippers with their accentuated toes are beaded with the same jewels.

REPUBLICAN RALLY

Lowell republicans held a well-attended rally last evening in Eagles' hall at which the principal speaker was Frank B. Hall, chairman of the republican state committee. The meeting was one of a series to be held during the present state campaign.

William J. White presided and introduced Chairman Hall. Mr. Hall emphasized the necessity of bringing out the greatest possible vote at the coming election if success were to be attained and said that members of the republican party should not be too confident as to the result unless a record registration at the polls was in evidence on election day.

He referred to the great vote that was cast in the days when Wolcott won by 131,000, Guild by 103,000 and Crane by 97,000. Massachusetts, Kentucky, New Jersey and Maryland are electing governors this year, he said, and the election in Massachusetts was the most important of the four.

The bearing of the current campaign for Americanization on the political situation was dwelt on by the speaker. He said that the people here had been partly to blame for the spirit of unrest now evident among the foreign-speaking immigrants. A better spirit of helpfulness and friendliness must be brought into play, he said, if the immigrant is to do his best work as an American citizen. However, if the immigrant persists in his allegiance to his mother country after being here a reasonable length of time, he should be invited to return to his native land. It was the duty of republicans to cultivate a spirit of helpfulness with the immigrants, he said, so that their power as part of the electorate might be felt.

In concluding, he urged support for Governor Coolidge at the coming election and asked for a large vote.

William A. Mitchell spoke on organization work and Albert Edmund Brown led those present in singing. Mr. Brown will lead the singing at the state republican convention in Boston tomorrow.

TO PROTECT USERS OF GASOLINE

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—More than 40 dealers in gasoline answered the request of State Commissioner of Standards Thure Hanson yesterday and went to the state house to hear him talk of pumps which failed to furnish a correct amount of "gas." He said that there was none among them he suspected of intentional short-selling. Others who had ignored his "polite letters," he said, might expect court summonses.

"I am here to protect the public and the public will be protected," said the commissioner. He said, further, that the meeting had been called to see if the dealers and he could not co-operate for the public good.

Three principal sources of inaccuracy to be guarded against, he pointed out, were shortage because the tank is too low, because it is too full and because the hose is not drained. He urged that pumps be "primed" every morning by drawing-off one or two gallons before any is sold, as this will put the pump in better condition.

He said that the owner of the pump and not the manufacturer is responsible for short sales; that it is not the duty of his inspectors to repair pumps, that the boss is not part of the measure and that pumps should be sealed early in the season and later toward the close.

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Chicago's oldest policemen have got to skip the rope to hold their jobs on the force. If they haven't the endurance for this childish exercise they will be retired on pension. Weight lifting and other tests also are being applied. There are 112 men slated for the tests.

WOMEN AGAINST JINNEYS
BOSTON, Oct. 3.—The Woburn city council last night refused to grant jiney licenses to North Woburn and Wilmington. Mayor Bernard J. Golden sent a special message to the council recommending refusal to grant the licenses. The mayor took the attitude that if Woburn is to choose between the jiney and the street car, then, by all means, it should keep the street car.

ATTENTION, BEWARE!
The Lowell police have begun a campaign against autoists whose practice it is to put on more speed after striking dogs and other animals while passing through the city, and if autoists continue to keep on their way after knowingly causing injury to animals there will be a police court sequel to the affair, S. J. Welch declares.

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Adv.

LABOR COUNCIL ELECTS OFFICERS

At a regular meeting of the Trades and Labor council held last evening a movement was started by which the labor unions of this city will attempt to bring about a reduction in car fares. The first step toward that end was taken when the secretary of the council was instructed to write to the trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company for a conference at the earliest possible moment. This matter will also be taken up individually by all unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

Routine business was transacted and officers were elected for the ensuing six months.

President, Frank A. Warnock; vice president, John D. Curtin; secretary, Charles E. Anderson; assistant secretary, Frank N. Simpson; financial secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Annie Reagan; sergeant-at-arms, Michael Kinane; trustees, Fred Drouin, Mrs. Rachel Campbell and Timothy O'Rourke.

The following committee was appointed to prepare a list of standing committees to be submitted to the next meeting: Timothy O'Rourke, Charles E. Anderson, Albra W. Hersome, Walter G. Roarke and George F. Keating.

Painters' Union
President Robert Moore occupied the chair at the regular meeting of the members of the Painters' union, which was held last evening in Carpenters' hall. Routine business was transacted and it was voted to hold a special meeting next Thursday night for the purpose of hearing the plea of the local firemen for a double platoon system in this city.

The famous leaning tower of Pisa is of pure white Carrara marble in the Gothic style. Its departure from the perpendicular has been variously interpreted, but there is little doubt that it arises from the softness of the soil on which it stands, but notwithstanding its threatening appearance, it has now stood for more than 600 years without rest or decay.

What Famous Actors Do for Their Teeth

No class values appearance so much as those of the stage and films, and their teeth come first. They want them clean and highly polished.

Cecil Lean, who has the most perfect teeth on the American stage, uses Albodon Dental Cream. So do Cleo Mayfield, Elmy Weston, Mae Murray and the great star of the Follies, Eddie Cantor. They take no chances with potash and carbolic acid tooth pastes, with gritty things that wear away enamel.

Albodon is calcium carbonate, saponified and mixed with the well-known oils of cloves, cinnamon and eucalyptus, which authorities declare is the efficient and safe composition for women and children, and so naturally for you. It is in equal parts cleansing, polishing and antiseptic. A tube containing 55 brushings is sold everywhere for 25c. It is unnecessary to pay more.—Adv.

RECONSTRUCTING ROADWAY

The highway department of Chelmsford has started reconstructing the roadway between the railroad tracks in Middlesex street, North village. This thoroughfare has been in a poor condition for some time and at the last town meeting a certain sum of money was appropriated for the necessary repairs.

From the source of the mouth of the Rhine there are to be found nearly 300 castles formerly the homes of warlike chiefs.

DISCONTINUE TOWN RAILWAY SERVICE

A special town meeting was held in Westford Wednesday evening. In the absence of the town clerk Arthur E. Day was chosen to fill the position, while Carl Sherman H. Fletcher was elected moderator. Under article 6 it was voted to accept the recommendation of the joint committee chosen to investigate the advisability of the town spending money for the continued operation of Brookside branch of the Lowell & Fitchburg St. Ry., to wit, that it was inadvisable to appropriate any more money for the said line, which means that the street railway service to the centre of Westford will be discontinued.

Under article 2 it was voted to elect a board of health at the next annual meeting.

Article 3: Voted to appropriate an employment of a public health nurse.

Article 4: Voted to appropriate an additional $5000 for the repair of roads and bridges.

Article 5: Voted the sum of $3000 to be expended in connection with the meeting.

Article 6: Voted to appropriate an employment of a public health nurse.

AMENDMENTS KILLED

36 Proposed Changes in Peace Treaty Voted Down by Senate

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—At last reaching the stage of action in its consideration of the peace treaty, the senate swept aside in quick succession yesterday, 36 of the 45 amendments which had been written into the document by the foreign relations committee. The smallest majority recorded against any of the committee proposals was 15, and the largest was 25.

All Fall's Amendments

All of the amendments considered had been introduced by Senator Fall, republican, New Mexico, and were designed to curtail American participation in European settlements resulting from the war.

Of the nine amendments yet to be acted on, six relate to the Shantung section, two propose to equalize voting power in the League of Nations, and one would limit American representation on the reparations commission.

In the absence of a definite agreement on the disposition of these proposals, senate leaders thought last night that the debate might run on for several days before another roll-call is taken.

Throughout the day's voting the democrats presented a solid front against the amendments except for Senators Gore of Oklahoma and Thomas of Colorado. Seventeen republicans, on the other hand, lined up against the first committee proposal to be considered and most of them stood with the democrats on all succeeding roll-calls. Many of them announced they were for reservations which they believed would cover the same ground without endangering the treaty.

At adjournment the treaty advocates declared themselves elated at the day's work and the opposition leaders also were claiming a victory on the showing mustered for their amendments. They mustered a maximum strength of 31 which with absentees would be sufficient, they declared, to ensure the treaty's defeat unless satisfactory qualifications are accepted. Thirty-three negative votes on the final roll-call, they pointed out, would make impossible the two-thirds majority necessary for ratification.

Under a special agreement speeches on the amendments were limited to five minutes, and nearly half the senate membership got into the running debate which occupied most of the day. Only a few senators were absent and many members of the house crowded into the rear of the chamber to see the first actual act on the treaty, while in the filled galleries the ushers stood guard in the aisles to restrain spectators from applauding the declarations from the floor.

Once during the debate the rule against applause was broken, however, a wave of handclapping following a speech by Senator McCumber of North Dakota, a republican member of the committee, who pleaded against amendment of the treaty and concluded by declaring that "no harm could come of America's doing its full duty to the very end." The demonstration was quickly hushed by vigorous use of the gavel.

There were only four roll calls, all the other amendments being voted down by acclamation. The first record vote stood 30 to 38 against an amendment to eliminate the United States from representation on the commission to adjust the German-Belgian boundary. The senate went on record 31 to 56 against withdrawing from the Saar Basin commission; 28 to 53 against refusing to be a party to the agreements affecting Czechoslovakia; and 1 to 46 against precluding this country from the upper Silesia settlement.

The roll call on the Belgian boundary amendment follows:

For adoption: Republicans—Ball, Borah, Brandegee, Calder, Curtis, Dillingham, Eklins, Fall, Fernald, France, Frelinghuysen, Gurnea, Harding, Knox, LaFollette, Lodge, McCormick, McLean, Moses, New, Newberry, Norris, Penrose, Phelps, Poindexter, Sherman, Wadsworth, Warren and Watson—29; democrats—Gore—1.

Total for adoption—30.

Against adoption: Republicans—Capper, Colt, Cummins, Edgel, Hale, Jones (Washington), Kelllogg, Kenyon, Keyes, Lenroot, McCumber, McNary, Nelson, Smoot, Spencer, Sterling and Townsend—17.

Democrats—Ashurst, Bankhead, Beckham, Chamberlain, Cuthbertson, Dial, Fletcher, Gay, Gerry, Harris, Harrison, Henderson, Hitchcock, Jones (New Mexico), Kendrick, Kirby, McKellar, Myers, Nugent, Overman, Owen, Phelan, Pittman, Pomeroy, Russell, Robinson, Sheppard, Shields, Simmons, Smith (Arizona), Smith (Georgia), Smith (Maryland), Stanley, Swanson, Thomas, Tamm, Underwood, Walsh, (Massachusetts), Walsh, (Montana), Williams and Wolcott—11.

PORTLAND
D. S. MEDAL GIVEN ONLY ONE WOMAN
NEW YORK, Oct.—Only 360 Distinguished Service medals were awarded to American soldiers—and of these just one was presented to a woman. Miss Mary Vall Andrews, an American Red Cross canteen worker in France, was the woman chosen for the distinguished honor.

The medal was presented to Miss Andrews by General Pershing in the name of the president of the United States.

Miss Andrews, a New York woman, was one of the first seven American girls to go overseas. She went to the front as the American troops entered it, and on her own initiative set up a canteen tent in the straits, and gave small comforts to the soldiers arriving or on leave. With a month she assisted 3000 doughboys a day, and it is estimated that during her entire service her canteen welcomed more than 2,000,000 soldiers. After the tent's success she opened a rest house for officers and men, and finally was put in charge of an entire hotel. Under her direction were installed shower baths where thousands of men enjoyed their first chance for a bath after weeks in the trenches.

Miss Andrews is now at home, but planning to continue her social and public service in some other form.

EASIER NOW THAN LATER

It is easier to break up a cold or check a cough now than it will be later. Persistent bronchial coughs that hang on all winter pave the way for pneumonia and lung diseases. J. W. Lloyd, 55 Campbell Ave., E. Detroit, Mich., writes: "Foley's Honey and Turpentine is one of bronchitis very quickly. I hope never to have it again." This reliable family medicine for the relief of coughs, colds, croup, hoarseness, etc., is easier to take. Children like it.

WINDOW DISPLAY AT BON MARCHE
Even on a rainy morning the present display in the windows of the Bon Marche store brings the passersby to an appreciative halt so that a closer and more admiring view may be had of this attractive display of fall clothes.

As a most fitting background to the appealing variety of women's suits, waists and hats, there is a front of a colonial house in miniature. Subdued lights of the old style English hang from either side of the door. The miniature windows are of French design and, small red and blue patch curtains are draped from the tops.

The miniature display in the right window is that of the front of the house while the other miniature is a side view with a large French window in the center. The entire lighting is most delightful to the eye and senses of warming cheer within.

The variety and appropriate style of the clothing display are cleverly planned out and have been the cause of many admiring remarks from all.

FORERUNNERS OF SICKNESS

Medical authorities agree that indigestion and constipation are the forerunners of half the ills of mankind. Don't let a mass of partly digested, decomposing food poison your whole system. When your food is being properly digested, you are free from biliousness, gas, bloating, sick headache, sour stomach, bad breath, coated tongue, Foley Cathartic Tablets, a wholesome physic, thoroughly cleanse the bowels without griping or nausea, sweeten the stomach and invigorate the liver.

TO DISCONTINUE TROLLEY LINE
WHITMAN, Oct. 2.—Whitman seems destined to lose the street cars, and, unless something unforeseen happens, the trolleys on the Brockton-Whitman branch of the former Day State system will be called into the barns Oct. 12. Division Manager R. F. Sheehan has agreed to allow the matter of a choice between the trolley and the jitney bus to stand until after the Brockton fair, when, he declares, he will put the seven-day discontinuation notice.

It would seem that the town is powerless to prevent this. Twice have the townspeople refused to accept the act empowering towns and cities to govern jitney traffic, and it is stated that the issue will for the third time be placed before the town for referendum vote. The bus owners have tried in vain to secure some definite statement from the Whitman town officials, who prefer to remain quiet, stating that a special town meeting will soon be called.

CARDINAL MERCIER IS HONORED BY YALE

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 3.—Yale university and the historic city of New Haven yesterday bestowed its greatest honors upon heroic Cardinal Mercier, aged prelate of Belgium. In Woolsey hall last night at a special convocation, second in 30 years, President Arthur Twining Hadley conferred the honorary degree of doctor of laws on this great figure of a great war. Earlier in the day, after one of the most vociferous local welcomes ever accorded a world-noted personage, Mayor David E. Fitzgerald granted freedom of the city to "Mercier, servant of God and Belgium."

City and university could not do enough in their efforts to cheer this man against whom war's evil surged in vain. Best of all, President Hadley struck the feelings of a great community and famous institution of education.

"No words can adequately express the pleasure with which Yale men welcome you," he said. "To find a parallel to this occasion we must go back a century to the visit of Talleyrand or two centuries to that of Berkeley. In you we find combined the qualities of both these men. The statesmanship of the one, the philosophic acumen of the other."

TESTED RECIPES FOR LUNCHEON

BY BIDDY BYE

Among the many wonderful things Uncle Sam does for us, and which all too few of us know about, is the testing and compiling of food recipes.

The following are a series of government recipes used in food demonstrations and study classes in different states by some demonstration agents for the United States department of agriculture. Those agents work in connection with the various state agriculture colleges.

The ones selected here were chosen for their suitability as the main dish at noon day luncheon in homes where there are hungry boys and girls coming in from school.

They are also suggested as interesting to housekeepers who serve supper at night instead of dinner.

Baked Bean Soup: 1 pint baked beans and liquid, 1 pint white sauce, 1/2 cupful flour, 1/2 cupful butter, 1/2 teaspoonful pepper. Melt the butter, stir in the flour and seasonings. Add milk gradually and stir.

Vegetable Souffle: 1/2 cupful cornmeal, 1/2 cupful boiling water, 1/2 teaspoonful paprika, 2 teaspoonfuls salt, 2 tomatoes, 1 green pepper, 1 tablespoonful grated onion, 2 eggs. Stir the hot water, salt, pepper, cut tomatoes, green pepper and grated onion into the corn meal; when mixed add the beaten eggs and fold in the whites, beaten stiff. Bake for 40 minutes.

American Chop Suey: 1/2 cupful spaghetti or rice, 1 pint-can tomatoes, 1/2 teaspoonful paprika, 1/2 cupful cooked or uncooked meat, chopped, 1 small onion, 1 teaspoonful salt. Cook rice or spaghetti in boiling water until tender. Drain, add other ingredients, pour into well-greased baking dish, and bake in oven until meat is cooked.

Minestrone: 6-inch strip fat salt pork, 1 cupful celery, chopped small, 1/2 cupful rice, salt and pepper, 1 large onion, 1/2 peck spinach, 1 tablespoonful chopped cheese, 1 teaspoonful Worcestershire sauce. Cut pork fine, chop onions and celery, add the spinach, cook in double boiler for 1 hour, or until pork has melted. Add 2 quarts boiling water, cook directly over fire 10 minutes. Add rice, cook 30 minutes more. Add cheese and flavoring. Serve at once. Minestrone is an Italian dish that has proved very popular.

Vegetable Stew: 1/2 cupful carrots, 1/2 cupful celery, 1/2 cupful turnips, 1/2 cupful potato, 1 tablespoonful onion. Prepare the amounts of vegetables given and cut into small cubes. Saute all except potatoes in 3 tablespoonfuls of drippings until a delicate brown. Add salt and pepper to taste, and a quart of boiling water. Add the potatoes 20 minutes before the stew is finished and 1 teaspoonful of chopped parsley. The potatoes will usually thicken the stew sufficiently, but flour may be added 10 minutes before serving for thicker consistency.

Corn Roast: 1 cupful corn, 1 cupful bread crumbs, 1/2 cupful chopped cooked carrots, 2 eggs, beaten, 2 tablespoonfuls melted fat, 1 tablespoonful chopped parsley. Salt and pepper. Mix the ingredient together, in the order named, omitting 1 tablespoonful fat. Shape into loaf on a greased baking sheet, brush over with the remaining fat and bake for 25 minutes in a moderate oven. Serve at once with white or brown sauce.

NOTTINGHAM BAN ON GERMAN WORKERS

(N. E. A. Special to The Sun)

NOTTINGHAM, Eng., Oct. 3.—Nottingham lace makers hope all Germans will be sent back to Germany. Nottingham has experienced the crookedness of the Germans in business. German agents worked their way into the lace industry which is the backbone of Nottingham, learned all its secrets and then set out for home to compete with the Nottingham lace, or set up in business under the noses of those who taught them. Result: Nottingham board of trade passes a resolution to trade with no firm which employs an enemy alien during the next ten years.

ENGLAND MAKES WAR ON RATS

(N. E. A. Special to The Sun)

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Damage by rats in agricultural districts of England is estimated at a billion dollars a year! The result is a national campaign to exterminate rats, plans for a national rat week in October and for the organization of rat clubs to kill off the rodents.

LONDON HAS ITS PHONE TROUBLES

(N. E. A. Special to The Sun)

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Disgust at the irritating delays in getting long distance calls is expressed by many London business firms. It is a common experience to wait a whole day for a long distance call to mature, but this is not the limit. It took one subscriber two days to get his connection.

London to Horsforth, near Leeds. Once he had to make the journey by train, after repeated attempts to get a call through had failed. A London motor firm with a branch in the country says it has given up long distance calls as hopeless. It sends a representative by train.

BIG COFFEE YIELD PLEASES HAWAII

(N. E. A. Special to The Sun)

HONOLULU, Oct. 3.—Hawaii will have the biggest coffee crop this year that it has ever gathered. And the price is double that of a year ago. The situation is a pleasing one to growers, however, the consumer may feel.

For several years the price has been so low that cost of production ate up profits. This year the growers are due for a cleanup.

The only fly in the ointment is the shortage of labor. Arrangements are being made to release children over 12 from school that they may help in the harvest.

MORE GOVERNMENT CANNED FOOD

Mayor Thompson will make every effort to secure another carload of government canned foodstuffs for Lowell within a short time and as soon as price lists are secured, requisitions will be made upon the zone finance office in Boston. The mayor is particularly anxious to get a generous shipment of bacon in the next car and also would like to get large quantities of cocoa, coffee, condensed milk and vegetables.

The buying public also would welcome a shipment of bacon, for the brand secured through the postoffice a few weeks ago was particularly good and most reasonable in price.

PEARSON WINS IN DISTRICT RECOUNT

Gardner W. Pearson of this city has strengthened his lead over Senator Edward B. Ames of Reading in the contest for the republican nomination for senator in the seventh district as the result of a recount held in every town and city of the district with the exception of Roxbury. The Lowell man now has a lead of 23 votes and as there were but 19 ballots cast in Roxbury, a recount there will not affect the lead. Mr. Pearson will be opposed for election by Charles H. Burns of Lynn, the democratic nominee.

LOWELL'S MOTORCYCLE POLICE SQUAD READY

Lowell's motorcycle police squad will get into action tomorrow. According to Mayor Perry D. Thompson, and the police protection of the city will be very materially increased by their presence.

Three motorcycles, each equipped with a side car, fire extinguisher and a first aid kit, will be put into operation. The motorcycles will in reality be combinations of police patrol, fire apparatus and ambulance. Patrolmen Hamilton, O'Sullivan and Lyden have been assigned for duty on the machines and their territory will include Pawtucketville, Healdville and Centralville. They will work mainly in the outlying sections of the city and will have much more territory to cover than the ordinary patrolman.

The mayor's purpose in installing

the machines in the department is to remedy conditions now existing which have caused certain outlying sections of the city to receive only meagre protection. For the present the machines will be kept at the central fire station pending the repairing of the floor of the police station garage.

TWO FIRE ALARMS

The fire department responded to two alarms for slight fires this forenoon, one at 8.33 o'clock for a blaze in the waste chute of the Tremont & Suffolk mills and the other at 10.35 o'clock for a blaze in a bale of cotton in a freight car in the yard of the B. & M. In Thorndike street. The former was a still alarm and when the firemen reached the premises the blaze had been extinguished, while the latter was a telephone call. There was no damage.

FEAR FOR SAFETY OF MISSING AIRMEN

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 3.—Fear for the safety of Captain Carl W. Danman and Lieut. Edward J. Verheyden, pilot and able, respectively, of the Wichita, Kas., Aero club entry in the national championship balloon race, was expressed today by Major Albert Bond Lambert, an official of the race. No word has been received from them since they took the air shortly after 6 p. m., Wednesday, when the race started here.

Apparently the Ohio, the smallest of the 19 balloons in the contest, has travelled farthest of any of the six which have landed.

Captain Warren Ransom, its pilot, telegraphed he descended at 1 p. m., yesterday at Perry Sound, Ont., several hundred miles north of Simcoe county, where the Murphyboro, Ill., entry came to earth.

CLUB LAFAYETTE HONORS MEMBER

Mr. Ernest J. Dupont, a prominent club man and well known in musical circles, will be married next Tuesday to Miss Yvonne Rophette, daughter of Dr. L. V. Rophette of Merrimack street. When the members of the Club Lafayette, of which Mr. Dupont is a former president and secretary, heard that their fellow clubman was to become a benedict they immediately got busy on plans for a bachelor party in his honor and the affair was carried out last evening in the well appointed quarters of the organization in Merrimack street and was participated in by about 100 members and friends of the club.

Good fellowship was the keynote that prevailed from the early evening until the wee hours of the morning. Musical numbers were given, speeches were delivered and a buffet luncheon was served under the able direction of Chef Bert Grew, who had spared nothing to make the "cele" most palatable and with great success. The feature of the evening, however, was the presentation of a gift to the benedict-to-be as a token of esteem, this being a handsome mahogany standing electric lamp. The presentation was made by Dr. George E. Caisse, treasurer of the club, who in a brief address congratulated Mr. Dupont on his choice of a bride and after thanking him for the valuable services rendered the club during his term of office, extended to him the best wishes of his fellow clubmen. Mr. Dupont responded briefly, thanking his friends for their mark of esteem and assuring them that their kindness will never be forgotten.

The presentation was followed by a varied musical program in which the following named participated: Messrs. Arthur G. Leveille, Willie Rousseau, Alfred Ducharme, Omer J. Smith, Dr. A. J. Gagnon, Hen. John T. Sparks, Frank Morette, Harry Briggs, Ugeil Favreau, Armand J. Dupont, W. P. Caisse, Jr., Dr. J. E. Lamoureux, Dewey G. Archambault, Victor Rophette, Herve D. Parthenais, E. Gaston Campbell, J. and H. Pontbriand, the two latter of Nashua, N. H., Z. A. Normandin, Telephore Beauparlant, Ovide Morin, Venace Favreau, James Lavallée, E. J. Larochele and others. Mr. J. B. Blouin of Montreal, a composer of music and known in the musical world as Johann Jose, presided at the piano and delighted his audience with musical numbers. Mr. Moulin is an artist and his efforts were highly appreciated.

Shortly after 11 o'clock all repaired to the dining room, where a very appetizing buffet luncheon was served. Later toasts were given and various games were played. The gathering broke up at a seasonable hour after all had extended their best wishes to Mr. Dupont. The evening's program had been arranged and was successfully carried out under the direction of the board of directors of the club of which Mr. F. N. Labelle is president.

Overdoing

How American Women Break Down

Owing to the modern manner of living and the nervous haste of every woman to accomplish just so much each day, they overdo, and as a consequence develop ailments peculiar to their sex, as is indicated by backache, headache, nervousness, the blues, displacements and weakness.

Women who find themselves in this condition should slow down, and depend upon that good old fashioned root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, to restore them to health and strength, for there is no other remedy known that so quickly restores a healthy, normal condition.

Here is the Story of a Most Remarkable Recovery

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was run down and nervous, could not rest at night, and was more tired in the morning than when I went to bed. I have two children, the youngest three months old, and it was drudgery to care for them as I felt so irritable and generally worn out. From lack of rest and appetite my baby did not get enough nourishment from me, so I started to give him two bottle feedings a day. After taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman, full of life and energy. It is a pleasure to care for my children and I am very happy with them and feel fine. I nurse my baby exclusively again, and can't say too much for your medicine."

THE HOME STORAGE OF VEGETABLES

The home storage of vegetables is an interesting topic of discussion among home gardeners at this time of the year. Most everyone has a surplus of vegetables in the garden. In order to save these for home consumption during the winter they must be placed in proper storage this month.

There are three different kinds of storage required for garden products. The first of these is the cool storage. Such as a moist dark cellar or pit. Potatoes should be kept in bins in this storage. Beets, carrots, salsify, turnips, kohlrabi and parsnips should be buried in sand. Other vegetables which may be kept in this cool, moist storage are cabbage, Brussels sprouts, cauliflower and celery. The roots of these vegetables should be set in sand. The temperature in the cool, moist storage should be kept between 35 and 40 degrees.

The second type of storage is the cool, dry storage such as an unheated room in the dwelling. Onions, eggplants, peppers and tomatoes keep best under such conditions. The temperature of the cool, dry storage should be regulated between 35 and 40 degrees, the same as for the cool, moist storage.

The third kind of vegetable storage is the warm, dry storage, such as is usually found in a partially heated room or cellar with a furnace.

Squashes and pumpkins keep best in such places where the temperature ranges from 50 to 60 degrees.

There are several things to remember when storing vegetables. The vegetables must be free from bruises and decay, well matured and dry when put in storage. Stored vegetables should not be piled to a depth of more than two or three feet. Decayed vegetables should be sorted out and removed at intervals during the winter to prevent spreading decay to sound products.

A cool storage in cellars with a furnace can be provided by partitioning off a part of the cellar farthest away from the furnace. This room should contain a cellar window for ventilation which should be closed in severe cold weather.

Girl Asks the United States
to Aid Country in Free-

WASHINGTON, D. C., October.—
Here to plead for independence for her native land, Miss Nodie Kim, a prominent Korean girl, is attracting much attention in the national capitol.

Nodie Kim's father was one of the first Koreans to be reached by the missionaries, and he and all his family were Christians.

"Many young people I have known,
girls as well as boys, says the little Korean girl, 'have escaped from Korea
and the Japanese by disguising themselves and making the terrible journey
over the northern mountains into Manchuria. They have even gone in winter, when babies have been frozen on their mothers' backs, and when his men have been frozen to death. They thought it better even to freeze to death than to endure what the Japanese wanted.

"Some day the people of Korea will be free, or there will no longer be a people of Korea. We say with you,
'Give me liberty or give me death.'
Our school girls say it, and go to the police without fear. We ask the free
American people to be the friends of Korea. I am helping to establish a League of the Friends of Korea, and I hope that many Americans will join."

WHEN WOMEN

RULE THE WORLD

It was the first really important meeting of the all-women cabinet of
Mrs. Perkins, the first woman president of the United States. The matter under consideration by the cabinet was exceedingly important—it was war!

The faces of all the cabinet members were stern and grave, only the face of Mrs. Johnson, the secretary of the recently established department of millinery and dressmaking, retained anything like its usual pliancy and prettiness.

"We must remember our men folks,"
said Mrs. Perkins, gravely. "It will be hard on our men to have us women go to the front and fight. We must remember that man is the weaker sex
and we must be prepared for many heart-breaking scenes when the mobilization of our woman's army is announced and the terrified, heart-broken men cling frantically about the necks of their women warriors."

"But," said Mrs. Smith, secretary of state, "we must remember that this is a just war—to protect our men from the indignities which might be thrust upon them by the women warriors of
our enemy in the case of our defeat.
We must remember that if we go to

At the thought of their weak, suffering, loved men at home the faces of the women became even more grave.
At this moment a phone message came to Mrs. President Perkins. She listened a moment, smiled and then hastily addressed the meeting.

"Ladies!" she said, "we'll take up
this war matter later. The most important thing in the world has happened. My daughter's husband has just phoned that my newest grandchild has just cut a tooth! The meeting is adjourned!"

And, amid the excited exclamations
of the statewomen, the cabinet meeting broke up.—N.E.A.

Has He Found a Cure for Asthma?

Simple Prescription Gives Instant
Relief. Makes Breathing Easy.

In New England, where bronchial
asthma, bronchitis and other diseases
of the throat and lungs are so prevalent, remarkably successful results are being reported following the use of a new form of treatment known as Oxidaze, a physician's prescription.

Oxidaze is a harmless but powerful combination of curative essential oils concentrated and compressed into a small tablet. One of these tablets
slowly dissolved before going to bed
seems to have the effect of releasing
the muscular constriction of the bronchial tubes, opening up the air passages and relieving spasmodic lung action. This enables the patient to breathe easily and naturally while lying down and to get a comfortable
night's sleep.

So much interest has been shown that local druggists, including Lowell
Pharmacies, have secured a small supply and state that they are authorized to refund the money paid for the first package if it is not used. This new treatment fails to give relief. Oxidaze is pleasant to take, contains no harmful habit-forming drugs and is not expensive. This makes their test an easy matter.—Adv.

CAMEL HAD NECK AND LEGS OF A GIRAFFE

AMHERST, Oct. 3.—A camel with the neck and legs of a giraffe, ranged the plains of Colorado a million and a half years ago with the ancestral three-toed horse, the Amherst college geological expedition found in its researches of the past summer. The expedition, which has just returned from western Nebraska and Colorado, brought back what is considered a prize collection of fossil bones.

From incomplete but representative parts of the skeletons of the "giraffe-camel" the scientists have reconstructed in theory an animal which although a camel, had the build of the modern giraffe, and was nearly its size. Ancestral members of the deer, rhinoceros, mastodon and some other families were represented by other bones.

Under the miocene sandstones in prairie deposits of fine clay a million or more years older than the sandstone, were found other skeletons, including one of a tiny camel no larger than a half grown sheep. At the Pawnee hills a fossil egg similar in size and shape to that of the present day hen was uncovered, indicating the existence in those days of a bird, no part of the skeleton of which has ever been found.

ENGLAND'S NETWORK OF RAILWAYS

The board of health is an important position and should carry with it more than a salary of the paltry sum of $300, said Mr. Murphy.

Encouraging Bolshevism

Everything that falsely encourages unrest also encourages bolshevism.

Misunderstanding of American industrial organization, and of its benefits to mankind, leads to unrest, dissatisfaction, and radicalism.

For example, the Federal Trade Commission tells the public that the large packers had an agreed price for lard substitute (made of cotton-seed oil).

It reproduces letters taken from the files of one of the packers, showing that such agreed price existed.

But it failed to mention that the agreed price was determined at the request of and in co-operation with the Food Administration!

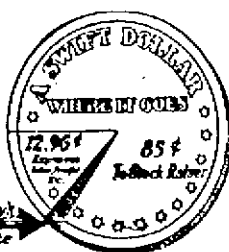

Even the Department of Justice, in its unjust attempt to create prejudice against the packers, has made public these same letters, with no explanation.

How long must this kind of misrepresentation continue? In so far as it is believed, it not only breeds discontent, but results in injustice to our industry.

GREET KING AND QUEEN

Belgian Royal Party Make Formal Entry Into New York—Meet Children

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The king and queen of the Belgians, with Prince Leopold, heir to the throne cast aside today the "incognito" which had shrouded them since their welcome at noon yesterday to the United States by Vice President Marshall, and boarded the yacht Noma in the Hudson river to make their formal entry into New York.

Driven by automobile from the Waldorf-Astoria, where they spent the night, to the foot of West 34th street, they were received by Rodman Wana-maker, chairman of Mayor Jylan's committee on reception to distinguished guests, committee members and city officials.

The Noma immediately cast off and started on a cruise about the harbor

prior to the official landing at the Battery.

The "incognito" which the king and queen chose to assume upon their arrival yesterday was a novelty to New Yorkers as was the presence in the city for the first time of a reigning king and queen.

The incognito proved only partially effective so far as Albert was concerned. When he went for an automobile tour of the city with Prince Leopold, he was fervently cheered. He received an especially enthusiastic ovation at Columbia, where he was recognized by students leaving their classes.

He visited the Belgian bureau, where he was greeted by 200 Belgians in a reception arranged by Monsignor J. F. Sillemans, bureau director. The king decorated Monsignor Sillemans with the Order of Knight of the Crown and conferred on Pierre Mail, Belgian consul general, a commandship of the same order.

Queen Elizabeth's incognito aided by a heavy white veil, proved more effective. Accompanied by the Baroness de Caraman Chimay, her lady-in-waiting, and the Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Belgian ambassador to the United States, she visited several Fifth avenue stores and made small purchases from saleswomen who failed to realize the rank of their quiet customer.

In the evening the king and queen essayed to visit a Broadway motion picture show but every theatre they visited displayed the "Standing Room Only" sign and they were forced to abandon the plan.

The queen with her lady-in-waiting and the Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne then visited a cabaret, accompanied by Baron de Caraman Chimay. King Albert spent the evening chatting with friends.

The king and queen expected to greet 50,000 children this afternoon in Central park. They will attend a theatre in the evening. Tomorrow night they will leave for Boston.

King Albert desired to go to Washington incognito in order to express his sympathy with President Wilson in his illness but abandoned his plans on receipt of a telegram from Rear Admiral Grayson that the president's condition rendered it necessary to prohibit his receiving any visitors.

German meals cost a third less than in the United States.

INFANT MORTALITY RATE STILL HIGH

Lowell's infant mortality rate for the week ending Sept. 27 was 32.1, sufficiently high to give this city second place among the large cities of the country which make reports. Fall River led with 31.3 and Dayton was third with 30.5. Atlanta was low with 2.1 and the average rate was 18.7. Rates for the large cities were: Boston, 19.7; New York, 19; Philadelphia, 22; and Chicago, 19.

TRANSFERS FROM CLAIMS APPROPRIATION

In view of the demand for funds in various municipal departments to complete the fiscal year, it is probable that transfers will be made from the claims appropriation which at the present time has a substantial balance. So far this year only $4991.46 have been expended in claims out of an appropriation at the beginning of the year amounting to $15,355.17.

ASKS WITHDRAWAL OF AMERICAN TROOPS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—In the house today, Representative Tinkham submitted the following resolution, which was referred to the committee on foreign affairs and ordered to be printed:

Resolved, by the house of representatives that the use of armed forces of the United States in Europe and Asia against any people with which the United States is at peace without express authorization of congress, or the use of such troops for the supervision of frontiers, the determination of racial rights and other tasks to which they are known to have been assigned, is incompatible with the traditions and policies of this country, and certain, whether or not by design, to commit this government to policies over which it can exercise no control; and that, inasmuch as in effect, if not technically, our army has been demobilized, there should be no delay in withdrawing our troops from participation in international arrangements, whether temporary or permanent, until sanction of congress shall have been granted.

COAL SHORTAGE MAKES RAILROAD STRIKE FELT IN IRELAND

DUBLIN, Oct. 3 (Ily Associated Press).—The national executive of the Irish labor party and the Trades union congress will hold a mass meeting Sunday in support of the striking railway men in England, Scotland and Wales. The coal shortage is making Ireland feel the effects of the strike acutely. Beginning last night the Dublin tram cars will cease running at 8.30 each evening. This will be a severe blow to all the amusement places. The mail services also are disorganized.

Labor Conference Will Be Held

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Regardless of whether any additional nations ratify the peace treaty in the meantime, there will be no postponement of the international labor conference called for Oct. 29 in Washington by President Wilson under authority conferred by the treaty. This announcement was made today by E. H. Greenwood, of the department of labor, who is in charge of the arrangements for the meeting.

GAS HIGHER IN LAWRENCE

DARTON, Oct. 3.—Expressing the opinion that advances in operating costs, including recent wage increases, warrant a higher rate, the Gas and Electric Light commission yesterday authorized an increase from $1.15 to $1.25 per 100 cubic feet by the Lawrence Gas company, effective as of Oct. 1. An increase of 20 cents had been granted since April 1, when the rate was 85 cents.

IN AN ALASKAN GARDEN

ALASKA ABLE TO PAY WAR DEBT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Alaska can pay the nation's war debt.

That's the new slogan of Uncle Sam's last pioneer country to the north.

Not only can Alaska pay the nation's debt, but its people are anxious to do so.

All they need to do it is more men and some of the government's money invested in development of natural resources.

Untold wealth, in raw gold, silver, copper and other minerals, lies buried in the mountains of Alaska, where few men have ever set foot. If properly developed, that wealth, dug from the bowels of the earth, will, if the income tax collector does his duty, pay the nation's debt in full.

During the war Alaska's productivity almost reached a standstill. Now, however, the eyes of the government are again being turned on this comparatively virgin country, and the eyes of the people of Alaska are being turned on Washington.

Here's why Alaska can pay the war debt of the United States:

It has an area of 586,400 square miles, extending from the 5th degree of north latitude to the 75th degree. If those figures don't mean much to you, these will: Alaska's area is greater than 20 of the 48 states of the Union put together!

Its taxable wealth today is less than that of the smallest state of the 15—but its potential wealth is far greater than that of the 29 states mentioned!

Alaska's wealth has only been scraped off the surface. Its population in 1900 was only 63,592, and in 1918 it was officially given as 61,951—an increase of only 1392 in 18 years. But in reality the war, which took nearly all the men from Alaska, cut its population in half. These men are now returning, and trying to induce others to return with them.

Once Alaska has the population its resources will support, it will be the richest section of the United States.

The daylight saving must have originated in Alaska, for there they have 22 hours of daylight in summer time!

To show how easily Alaska can support a population of many millions, officials of the Alaska bureau of the government call attention to the fact that it is in the same latitude as a section of European Russia which is smaller than Alaska, but has a population of 5,553,000. Included in this section are the cities of Petrograd and Archangel, as well as all the largest cities of Russia. All of Sweden lies in practically the same latitude as Alaska.

In that country, wheat, rye and other grains, potatoes, vegetables of all kinds and livestock thrive.

In 1910 Alaska had 222 improved farms, with an average of 191 acres to the farm, and with a total valuation, including buildings and livestock, of $1,468,402. Since 1910 the number of farms has vastly increased, but there are still miles and miles of fertile soil waiting for the hand of the settler.

SUPPLY OF SUGAR 25 PER CENT SHORT

BOSTON, Oct. 2.—Brigadier-General John H. Sherburne, chairman of the commission on the necessities of life, stated yesterday that during the next three months residents of New England must get along on 75 per cent. of their usual allotment of sugar, the supply being approximately 25 per cent. short.

Increased Demand

The shortage, Gen. Sherburne says, is due largely to increased demand for the sweet stuff for candy making, in part the making up of last year's deficiency but chiefly to the greatly increased consumption. The consumption has been greater during the past nine months than ever in the history of New England, he said. During this period the shipments in New England have totalled 101,000 tons as against 110,000 tons during the same period in 1918.

Asked about the rumors that large amounts of sugar refined in this vicinity have been shipped abroad, Gen. Sherburne said the sugar equalization board has an arrangement with the royal commission under which a certain portion of the Cuban crop is allotted to England, and of England's sugar is refined here, but the New England supply is not at all diminished because of this, as the refineries use only their surplus capacity on England's sugar, and they are able to handle all that is consigned to them for New England consumption.

Not more than 700 tons out of New England's supply has gone abroad, and these shipments were due to a mistake last July, when the supply was overestimated and the demand underestimated. These shipments have been ended, however, and New England will retain hereafter all the sugar intended for it.

To Equalize Allotments

With reference to plans for meeting the shortage conditions, Gen. Sherburne said a voluntary committee has been organized in the sugar trade, the duty of which will be to equalize allotments among wholesalers and suppliers. Sugar cards have been considered, but it is certain that there will be no reduction in price before next spring, and therefore advises everyone to place orders at once for such coal as will be needed during the winter, in order that dealers may know just what their needs are to be.

With respect to prices of general commodities, Gen. Sherburne says the commission has found that since Sept. 9, when its first fair price list was issued, pork products have dropped about 10 per cent. in price, beef, 6 per cent.; lamb, 5 per cent., and general groceries, an average of 5.3-10 per cent. He expects there will be a further advance in butter and eggs, but for other commodities the commission expects to fix a steady decline in prices.

THIRTIETH ARREST IN AUTO CASES

BOSTON, Oct. 2.—Arthur J. Hickman, 19 years old, of 261 Hamilton street, Cambridge, was arrested at his home yesterday afternoon on a grand jury indictment charging him with the larceny of an automobile and receiving stolen cars. The arrest was made by Sergeant Shannon and Patrolmen Russell and Curtin of the Cambridge police. Hickman is the 30th to be arrested in connection with the recent investigation of automobile stealing, which is being conducted by District Attorney Tufts and the Cambridge police.

John J. Buckley of Somerville, who is held under $12,500 bonds on charges of conspiracy to steal automobiles and receiving stolen property pleaded guilty to four counts of receiving stolen cars yesterday in the superior criminal court. The case was continued till today for disposition.

It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin. No matter whether you are troubled with a poor complexion, wrinkles, puffiness around the eyes, freckles, crow's feet or lines around the mouth, dry finger nails, or just a simple roughness of the face, hands or arms caused by wind or sun, you will find that any or all of these troubles will quickly disappear with the use of Howard's Buttermilk Cream.

SCAMPS IN THEATRES

Although no prosecutions have thus far been brought, it appears that many ladies who attend motion picture shows in this city are annoyed by men who sit beside them and indulge in unwarranted familiarity after the lights are lowered. The managers of the theatre have had many complaints as the result of offenses of this character, and it is probable that an example soon will be made of some of the hoodlums who insult respectable women by their unruly advances. The law is very severe against such offenders and it is to be hoped that cases of this kind will be reported at once to the police officers present in the theatres, so that the guilty parties may be promptly arrested and brought to punishment.

TO BLOCKADE GERMANY

The allies threaten to renew the blockade on Germany unless German troops are withdrawn from the Baltic provinces. The German government at Berlin protests that it has no control over those troops inasmuch as they have enlisted in the Russian White army. That is set down as a subterfuge by the allies and Germany has been notified that she must withdraw the troops or be prepared to withstand the effects of a blockade. At the present time such a proceeding on the part of the allies might have serious results. It is feared that, in the first place, it might overthrow the German government and enable the monarchists to gain control. In this way a powerful combination between the monarchists of Germany and those of Russia might be formed for the control of both countries. It seems that the allies can scarcely make a move of any kind without stirring up seas of trouble, worse than those they attempt to remedy.

GARY'S ATTITUDE

Chairman Gary of the American Steel corporation, opposes the steel strike because he believes it would lead to the closed shop which he says would overrule the rights of those who do not belong to the unions and result in industrial decay. "The open shop," he said, "maintains the right of the employer to bring about the greatest production with only the interests of the employer, the employee and the public in sight."

Evidently Judge Gary is opposed to collective bargaining as that term is understood by the unions, and he declares that his company will fight for the open shop with all its resources. That places the issue very clearly before the country so that there is no room for any misunderstanding.

Whether the United States senate can change the attitude of the steel magnates is not quite clear. So far as long working hours are concerned, it is understood that this is a matter of discretion with the men. Were it not for the prominence attained by W. Z. Foster as an out and out radical and I. W. W., there would be some chance of a compromise; but with him as leader of the strike, there is little hope of bringing the steel corporation to terms except by a long struggle from which the men will be the chief sufferers.

INDUSTRIAL PEACE

Edwin T. Mulready, state commissioner of labor, is a man who has given deep thought to the leading questions of the day. In an address before the Round Table of the First Baptist church, he exposed some of the fallacies that lead to most of our industrial troubles. The causes do not all lie on one side by any means. Capital and labor are jointly responsible and apparently, there must be very material concessions on both sides before there can be any marked improvement.

On the side of labor there must be a divorce from the extreme radical, and the employer must abandon the idea that labor has no right to say under what conditions it shall work or who shall represent it in conference with the employers. In a word, there must be a greater spirit of co-operation on both sides, more tolerance, more friendly relations and less of that antagonism which stands always as an obstacle in the path of real success.

Mr. Mulready emphasized the fact that labor troubles are not necessary to the success of labor and that by wise diplomacy and the application of the principles of fair play, most of the labor disputes that now sweep the country might have been prevented. There is such truth in what Mr. Mulready says, but it will take a long time to bring the parties in conflict around to his way of thinking.

THE OHIO DECISION

Opponents of national prohibition in the state of Ohio have raised a legal question which promises to cause delay in the action of some states relative to the ratification of the constitutional amendment. It has been decided by the supreme court of that state that the ratification of this amendment must be submitted to the people under the referendum law of the state. Two other states, Washington and Nebraska, have raised the same point and in each case the supreme court of the state sustained the contention.

When on the 29th of January last Assistant Secretary Polk proclaimed the adoption of the amendment and named January 16 of next year as the date for its taking effect, nine of the thirty-six states that had ratified, were referendum states. The other six states that have not already done so, are now to invoke the referendum law and appeal to the people as part of the ratifying power. Should their contention be upheld by the supreme court of the United States, and it is alleged that this court is already committed to the principle—then it would appear that the amendment was not legally ratified when proclaimed by Mr. Polk.

Since then, however, it has been ratified by enough non-referendum states to make it operative, but at a later date.

When the constitution was framed, it provided for the ratification of amendments by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states. There was then no such thing as the referendum attached to legislation in any of the states. Now, however, it appears that under the decision of the Ohio court, the legislature of that state is held to include not only the two branches of the general assembly, but the citizens at large, acting through the ballot box on the question of the amendment.

The Ohio court holds that as making a constitution is the highest function of legislation, it should be passed upon by all the agencies provided by the state for legislative purposes.

This new legal technicality will be fought by the Anti-Saloon league before the United States supreme court whose decision will be anxiously awaited by all the parties concerned.

COMPENSATION

Mother Nature cares for all her children. There is a law of compensating balances to this end. The abnormal is never permanent nor of long duration—there is always a return to the normal and before many days.

This is a large world. It is not a perfect world. But—it is never imperfect in all its parts all at once. The Creator had this in mind no doubt in making it so large that the elements that bring famine in one part will not affect all parts in the same season.

For instance, we have before us the special report of C. A. King & Co., Toledo, which says:

"The one outstanding fact in international agricultural statistics is the unflinching regularity with which Nature compensates poor crops in one or more countries with good crops in others."

"This providential provision," the report continues, "was strikingly in evidence during the war, and the fact that famine has been almost unknown, except through defect in transportation, is direct proof that in spite of the destruction in Russia and Balkan countries, sufficient wheat has always been produced to meet consumers' needs, although, by turns, Australia, India, Argentina and North America have all had bad seasons."

The report concludes by saying that the question may be naturally asked where importing countries are to find supplies of wheat to make good the undoubted losses which have lately occurred in North America, but it is answered by saying that it would indeed be a happy experience if the losses in North America, or a good part of them, would be offset by exceptionally good mid-season crops in Argentina and India, and as already indicated, such a compensation would be nothing more wonderful than the huge American winter crop of 1914, the Indian crop of 1917 and 1918, the Australian crop of 1915 and 1916, and the Canadian crop of 1915.

All this is a clear ringing note of optimism. It inspires human confidence in Nature by the proof that she provides full harvest in one part of the world for the lean harvest in another part and all in the same year, provided the farmers do their part in co-operating with Nature's bounty.

There never was famine throughout the whole world all at one time. And with the perfection and extension of transportation there never will be famine again in any part of the world. Transportation is the final adjustment in the law of compensating balances.

Yes, Mother Nature cares for her children not only in the provision of the world's fields, but in giving them power to abridge distance over land and sea, that the full crops may be taken to the place of lean crops and in the same year, and that all years may be finally full wherever Her children dwell.

Ask and ye shall receive of Mother Nature—of the fruits of the fields and the power of will in dominion over all obstacles.—N. E. A.

King Albert of Belgium shows good judgment in refusing to visit Chicago and Milwaukee, two cities that have made themselves ridiculous by their pro-Germanism during the war. Chicago was disgraced by her Mayor Thompson and but recently the mayor of Milwaukee when asked to invite King Albert to that city used a most contemptuous expression in reference to the royal visitor. Thus both cities are very properly ruled out of the itinerary of the Belgian visitors. Nevertheless, Chicago sends a humble appeal to King Albert to visit that city and it remains to be seen whether he will comply with the request.

We have received an unsigned communication protesting against our advocacy of higher salaries for the teachers of Lowell. The writer, if we are to judge from his penmanship and spelling, never had much opportunity to judge of the services of school teachers; and it is with the hope of extending the advantages of education and thus lessening the number of such near illiterates, that we favor an increase for the teachers. It would be like throwing pearls to swine to argue the question with a correspondent who says that because the "teachers can sit down all the time," they do not deserve an increase.

The provision dealers of Lowell are wondering how it is that a certain Mr. Leavitt of Lawrence can secure such an ample supply of sugar that he can send an occasional car to relieve the famine in this city. We are not criticising Mr. Leavitt for what he has done, but we are wondering why it is that some Lowell dealer cannot get into the sugar ring.

It seems now almost inevitable that the republican party will repudiate Mr. Burrell, their nominee for state treasurer as a "genuine counterfeit." This is but another illustration of the truth that "it's a bad wind that blows nobody good."

Steady work at reasonable pay will solve the troubles with which this country is menaced today.

A good old man had died; the editor endeavored to do him justice for the old man had been a life-long worker in the church, where his abundance of silver white hair had made him a conspicuous figure. The Artistic Lover

June Elvidge, the most proposed-to woman in the world, has this to say about the artistic lover:

A wonderfully appealing type is the artistic lover. It is he, and he only, who can make love so that the flowers, the trees, the stars and the heavens are part of the universe of love with which he surrounds his beloved. The artistic lover brings to his love-making all the beautiful things of life—it is he who can best paint in words the burning thoughts which fill his soul for his loved one. The artistic type of lover is not necessarily, or even usually, an artist. I mean by an artistic lover, one who appreciates and loves the beautiful wherever it may be. A woman who is herself of the artistic type can best appreciate this type of lover. It is only she who can make the future home what her lover-husband can best appreciate. If you are yourself an artistic girl, you should seek out for your mate the artistic type of lover. If not, you had better steer clear of him. He will make love to you anyhow, if he has the chance, but you will be wise to marry some other type.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

The board of trade is planning to wage an exceptionally strong campaign in the interests of Americanization during this fall and winter and is endeavoring to enlist the services of representative citizens of all nationalities in the work. The announcement by the school committee that the state board of education was willing to share the expense of the work here in Lowell has greatly encouraged the Americanization committee of the board as it will add materially to the resources at hand for the campaign. Last year an excellent start was made in this work and a large number of foreign speaking people taught to speak English. Even greater strides are looked for during the coming season and it is expected that the various preliminary meetings which the board will hold to get the campaign into running order will be well attended.

The absence of John J. Mahoney, chairman of last year's campaign committee, will naturally be felt greatly, but with Mr. Mahoney's willing co-operation as head of the work for the entire state, the local officials hope to make a worth while record.

Time: 7:30 p. m. on a Sunday night. Place: A down town drug store.

Enter two youths, who are "got up regardless." They make for the candy counter and buy two boxes of sweets more noted for the bad taste displayed on the box than for the quality of the goods inside. Then they purchase cigars—also of the cheapest brand—and do a few steps in a shimmy while waiting for their change.

They are leaving to the tune of "I'll Say She Does" when they spy a mirror on a slot vending machine. Stopping short, they gaze with approving appraisal at the reflection therein, adjust their bow ties, twisting their necks to relieve the grip of the high, jaunty collars on their throats, tilt their chapeaus to a most "killin'" angle, wink at the comely clerk, light their cigars and go "jazzing" out into the night.

Ever see this happen? Well, so have we.

WILL NOT REOPEN DEVENS HOSPITAL

Despite the efforts made by the Massachusetts chamber of commerce to have convalescent soldiers who were removed from Camp Devens to Plattsburg, N. Y., some weeks ago, returned to the Ayer Cantonment now that the Plattsburg hospital has been abandoned, it is not believed that such will be possible.

Relatives of convalescent men have complained that hardships were imposed upon them because now they are unable to visit the men and provide them with some of the comforts and luxuries of home.

Col. C. R. Darnall, in replying to the request of the state chamber of commerce, states that it has become necessary to close a number of the hospitals in several states, Camp Devens among them, and that the men who have been in the Plattsburg hospital have been sent to Fox Hills, Staten Island, Fort McHenry, Md., and the Walter Reed hospital at Washington.

"This is in conformity with the policy of this department to retrench and to contract activities of the hospitals as requirements for hospital-

EXPERT TALKS OF STREET RAILWAYS AND FARES

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—J. H. Parden of New York, president of the American Electric Railway association, addressing the members of the New England Street Railway club at their banquet at the American house last night, declared that "the labor is to become an organized monopoly then it follows that labor must become a regulated monopoly."

He further stated that strikes upon a regulated public utility are directed against the public and not capital, and that they should be considered a crime against the public and be so treated.

"The public, which is the most affected," the speaker added, "may demand that labor assume responsibility and be organized in such a manner that it can be subjected to proper regulation in the interest of the whole people. It must assume certain obligations to the public, and it must fulfill those obligations if it is given the monopoly of furnishing electric railway service. It may not use that monopoly as a club over the public."

He further said that the politician who makes a pre-election pledge that he will solve the street railway problem by a reduction of fares is either intentionally or unintentionally deceiving the people.

"No vote of the people," said Parden, "can make five cents do the work of ten cents, reduce the scale of wages, lower the price of materials, or compel the investment of a dollar of any man's money in the electric railway securities. No resolution, ordinance, ruling or law of a city council, public service commission or legislature can accomplish the impossible."

SIR ROBERT HORNE

THE BROTHERS GEDDES RULE BRITAIN IN FACE OF GREAT RAILROAD STRIKE

(N.E.A. Special to The Sun)

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The driving force of Sir Eric Geddes.

The persuasive power of Sir Auckland Geddes.

These are the elements against which the British rail strike leaders are now matching their wits.

Premier David Lloyd George put into the hands of Sir Eric, minister of transportation, full power to deal with the strikers or handle the situation as he sees fit. And Sir Eric has let it be known that every force back of the government will be employed if necessary, even to the army, to break the strike.

But Sir Eric has enlisted as his first aide his brother, who is secretary of the British board of trade. Sir Auckland is an excellent speaker with an analytic mind and a persuasive tongue. When conciliation is the order of the day, it is Sir Auckland who will do the talking.

The Brothers Geddes are sent out to India to build bridges.

Eric was born in Agra. He studied law but didn't like it, and when his father insisted, went aboard a liner and worked his way to America. He was 17 then, he's in the early 40's now.

He worked in a Carnegie rolling mill, in a lumber camp, on a railroad from switchman to station master. He studied sugar growing in Ceylon, forestry in India. Back in England, he grew to a high post with the London & Northeastern. In the course of the war he became director general of railways. Then he became first lord of the admiralty with control of Britain's naval policy. Now he's on the job with the railroads again.

Auckland Geddes was a college professor before he became British minister for national service and reconstruction and then head of the board of trade. He was professor of anatomy at McGill university, Montreal, in 1914. He enlisted as a private and was wounded at Mons and sent back to England. Given a job, he soon rose to the post where, through him was requisitioned all the man power of England for the period of the war.

Tall, clean cut, keen eyed, clean shaven, dynamic men, the Geddes brothers are foemen worthy of the steel of labor's brightest.

In the Geddes family Auckland is believed to be the genius and wonder is expressed that the world has not seen it. Perhaps the handling of the rail strike will determine which has the winning qualities.

Working with Brothers Geddes is Sir Robert Horne, minister of labor, who tried his best, but tried in vain, to avert the struggle that now is being waged.

WATERTOWN, Oct. 3.—Floyd Johnson, 25, whose home is in De Queen, Ark., and Harry O. Jones of Watertown, who made a sensational escape from Deer Island and who it was feared had perished in the whirlpools of Shirley Gut, are the men who have since been caught by the police in Bristol, Conn., and charged with the holdup of Frank C. Bell's night watchman in the garage of John C. Morgan on Prentiss street, this town, and the larceny therefrom of $7 from the cash register and an automobile in which they fled from the vicinity. The alleged holdup was shortly after midnight Tuesday.

Their arrest was affected after the automobile had hit a tree in Terryville, Conn. Deputy Sheriff George F. Buckley saw them leaving the scene. He also saw the number of the car, the one for which the Watertown police were searching, so he notified the Bristol police. The men were found in a barber shop. Johnson and Jones were arrested.

Chief Millmore and Inspector Burke of the Watertown police and Chief Argy of the Belmont police brought the prisoners to Watertown jail. They were arraigned in the Waltham district court today on the garage holdup and larceny charge. Jones is also charged with carrying a loaded revolver.

The recaptured prisoners, who were being held at the house of correction at Deer Island—Johnson under a sentence of two years for malicious assault, and Jones on a 30-months' sentence for breaking and entering—told the police they decided to get away from there a week ago Monday and that they got their chance during the night school session at the island. They say they swam Shirley Gut and landed on the Winthrop shore.

They say they spent the night at a vacant cottage where they swapped their prison clothes for some civilian garments found in the cottage. Since then they had been staying near Boston until they got so "broke" they decided to enter Morgan's garage and get enough money to go west.

The car stolen, it is claimed, belongs to Mrs. Milante Arnoldson of Marlon road, Belmont.

Henry A. Higgins, the master of the night school, says that Johnson and Jones (known as the "human fly") were of a class of 100 prisoners in attendance at the school conducted at the house of correction.

During the session on that night the two men asked permission to visit the toilet. When after 15 minutes they did not return a search was made and then a general alarm sounded.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The name of King Albert of the Belgians was added today to the long roll of famous men who have been made honorary citizens of the city of New York. The ceremony on the steps of the city hall and the scenes which preceded it were a practical duplication of the picture that was presented recently when General Pershing was similarly honored by the nation's metropolis.

From the moment that the king and his consort, Queen Elizabeth, landed at the Battery, until his arrival at the city hall, he was the center of an ovation.

In the city hall plaza the crowd was so dense that the large force of police and soldiers had difficulty in keeping the roadway clear for the royal procession. At the entrance to the city the king was greeted by Governor Smith and Mayor Hylan.

In his address of welcome the mayor expressed his conviction that a new and greater Belgium would arise out of the wreckage of the great war.

Homestead plants of the Carnegie Steel Co., officials said today that more men were back and that tonnage was being increased daily.

From Newcastle, Pa., and Sharon-Farrell district, further north, reports indicated that more men were going to work.

At Johnstown, Pa., the Lorraine steel plant is still operating short handed, while the Cambria steel works remains closed. Union organizers in the Pittsburgh district said they had made big inroads on the forces of many of the large plants, particularly Homestead, in the last two days.

Counter Claims From Chicago

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Officials of steel mills in the Chicago district today pointed to reports of increasing numbers of workmen resuming their tasks during the last two days, and indicated by many other workers of their intention to return to work as upholding their prediction that production today would mount close to 50 per cent. of normal. Labor leaders continued their claims that appreciable inroads into the ranks of the strikers were not being made.

An official of the United States Steel corporation at Gary, Ind., asserted that 6000 of the 9000 men on the payroll when the strike was called were ready to begin work at Indiana Harbor, Ind., and reports of additional production came from Waukegan.

Three men with bricks in their pockets were arrested last night at the American Sheet & Tin Plate Co.'s plant at Gary, where a serious clash between strikers and police guards was threatened.

Strike leaders said today that the bricklayers and plasterers' unions had joined the walkout and that about 45 per cent. of the 150 bricklayers employed in the construction department of the steel company did not report for work yesterday.

50 Per Cent. Capacity

GARY, Ind., Oct. 3.—Alarmed at the defection of 1500 men yesterday, strike leaders today exerted every influence to keep their lines intact. Mass meetings were held and picket lines strengthened.

Apparently not more than 200 strikers returned to work today, at the Indiana Steel company plant, where units in nearly every department were in operation. Officials stated that a force of about 60000 was now employed, and that the plant was operating 50 per cent. capacity.

The Amn. Sheet & Tin Plate company, claimed to be running units in nearly every department on a basis of 75 per cent. capacity.

because many who went to work yesterday remained in the plant overnight. Few pickets were on duty.

LAWRENCE SCHOOL STRIKE

LAWRENCE, Oct. 3.—After a hearing last night on the strike of the 11 Green grammar school pupils attended by the fathers and mothers, the school committee remained firm and named Rawlinson.

refused to rescind its order sending the children to the Packard school. The strike started Monday when 15 of the pupils were ordered to attend sessions in the Packard school. Only one complied with the order.

Flight for "Free Speech"

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 3.—The fight of union leaders for the "right of free speech and free assembly" in Allegheny county continues to be the feature of the steel strike in the Pittsburgh district. According to strike leaders, county officials and authorities of municipalities are avoiding responsibility for prohibiting mass meetings and as a result the workers' lawful right to assemble and hear speeches is being abused.

Sheriff William S. Haddock recently granted strikers permission to hold indoor meetings in McKeesport, while officials of that city say such sessions cannot be conducted. Contrary to this state of affairs, the strikers say are the sheriff's orders that strikers must not assemble in Glassport, while local authorities of Glassport have notified union headquarters that meetings may be held there.

Union leaders and representatives of the employers made their usual conflicting statements today, the former claiming that the strike was spreading while the latter said additional men had returned to their places in the mills.

More Men Go Back

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Oct. 3.—Officials of the Carnegie Steel company, said today that more men were reporting daily at the Ohio works. Observers reported that the number of men entering the plant today was about the same as yesterday. Mill officials asserted this showed a gain for them

WILLIAMS' WILDNESS CAUSED DEFEAT

CINCINNATI, Oct. 3.—A resume of the pitchers' records yesterday shows that lack of control by "Lefty" Williams, White Sox pitcher, plus the home team's snappy hitting, gave the Reds the second game of the world's series yesterday, 4 to 2. It was Cincinnati's ability to smash the ball that gave them the first victory in the baseball classic.

Williams yesterday handed out six bases on balls and the Reds made four hits. Ten hits were made off "Lefty" Sallee. Sallee, however, gave only one base on balls and struck out two, while Williams retired only one by the strike-out route.

Williams gave a total of 53 balls, as compared with Sallee's total of 31. The White Sox, however, put over more strikes, getting 30, while Sallee got only 23. Each pitcher was hit 38 times, including batters and grounders resulting in put-outs.

A grand total of 213 balls was pitched during yesterday's game; 52 by Sallee in nine innings and 121 by Williams in eight innings. The highest number of balls thrown in any one inning were pitched by Williams in the fourth. In this inning, in which Cincinnati scored three runs, he was forced to pitch 29 times. The low number of balls pitched in any one inning was seven. Williams pitched only seven in the seventh inning, and in the following inning Sallee equalled this record. Sallee was credited with a balk in the sixth inning.

Following is the inning pitching record for yesterday's game:

The committee, holding that fraud had been practiced in the election by colonization of voters and illegal registration, out of the returns of the fourth, eighth and ninth precincts of the fifth ward in Boston, with the result that Mr. Tague's majority for the whole district was held to be 316.

Representatives Luce, Massachusetts, and Overstreet, Georgia, did not join in the majority decision which was agreed to by Representatives Goodall, Maine; Lehigh, New Jersey; Elston, California; Rhode, Missouri, and McLennon, New Jersey.

STRIKE SITUATION IN LOCAL SHOE SHOPS

The strike situation in the local shoe shops, according to information received this morning remains the same, although the members of the Allied Shoe Workers' union have been away from their work for over ten weeks. The strike was started after the manufacturers refused to acquiesce to the demand of the workers, that of recognition of the union and an increase in wages.

It was learned this morning that an attempt is being made to call a conference between the manufacturers and the employees in the near future in an endeavor to bring about a settlement. A meeting of the strikers will be held this evening in Leather Workers' hall, Central street.

TAX BILLS FOR REAL ESTATE OWNERS

The bills must be paid on or before Nov. 1 or otherwise interest dating from Oct. 15 will be charged.

GRADING APPROACHES TO NEW BRIDGE

As a result of the construction of the new bridge in Thorndike street by the Locks and Canals, the street department has started the work of grading the approaches to the new structure. At the junction of Dutton and Fletcher streets 1000 yards of granite block will be laid and will materially improve the appearance of that section.

HUNT ARMS IN RIOT ZONE

Troops Search for Ammunition Hidden By Negroes at Elaine, Ariz.

HELENA, Ark., Oct. 3.—Federal troops from Camp Pike, with local posse men and state officers resumed search today for arms and ammunition believed secreted by negroes at Elaine, a small town near here where race rioting during the past few days has resulted in 16 known deaths.

The race trouble, reports indicated, was fomented by agitators who had aroused the negroes to participate in an organized uprising and the authorities were determined to prevent further trouble by obtaining possession of all fire arms in the hands of the negroes.

150 Rifles Seized
Announcement was made at military headquarters in Elaine that about 150 rifles had been taken from negroes who had been arrested, or had been found at the homes of negroes.

Arrests of negroes today numbered 235, of whom 225 were under guard by federal troops at Elaine and 60 had been brought here.

The known white dead in connection with the fighting remained at five, including one soldier. Five white men have been wounded. Eleven negroes are known to have been killed.

my Zeitz of New Bedford, president of the Mercantile Wrecking Co., which finally salvaged part of the cargo for the government under contract, were the two chief witnesses here today before congressional sub-committee investigating the loss of about $2,000,000 worth of the vessel's cargo.

Ensign Robinson stated that in his opinion, the wreck could easily have been raised and the entire cargo salvaged; that he owned two boats which he rented to amateur salvagers; that the Port Hunter was without lights or buoys or any markers, and he felt that the steamer had been abandoned. He refused to criticize alleged delay by the army or navy officials, saying that he was still in the service and would make no comment on the acts of his superiors. Also he stated that he made no recommendations to the government, assuming the matter in no way concerned him.

Mr. Zeitz said he was turned down three times in bidding for the work of salvage in favor of other companies; that they could not execute the contract and that finally it was awarded to him by Col. Yates of Boston, without competition. Mr. Zeitz testified that he was looking for the chance to salvage the wreck for many months, and that he informed Gen. Hines by telegraph that fishermen were taking the cargo out of the vessel and selling it.

Examinations for postoffice clerks and carriers will be held by Albert H. Sparks and D. J. Sullivan, civil service examiners, at Lowell High school tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

In a letter sent to the local examiners, the civil service commission announces that preferential treatment will be extended to honorably discharged service men for postoffice and railway mail positions whereby the requirements of height and weight are waived.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

The affair was attended by about 25 friends and proved most enjoyable. Miss Bennett was showered with appropriate gifts and best wishes and a pleasing increased $2 per cent.

HOOVER URGES LEAGUE

Says "If League Breaks Down We Must at Once Prepare to Fight"

PAID AUTO, Oct. 3.—"If the League of Nations is to break down, we must at once prepare to fight," Herbert Hoover, formerly economic director for the supreme war council, told the students of Stanford university in an address he delivered here last night.

"The peace treaties," he said, "cannot be carried out without the league. If the league fails the treaties also fail. If the balance of power is to be supplanted the League of Nations, we will have torn asunder the only hope that Europe will not break into further wars of races, classes and combinations that will take civilization back to the Middle Ages."

"I am confident that if we attempt to revise the treaty we shall tread a road through European chaos. If we manage to keep our soldiers out of it we will not escape fearful economic losses."

"The allies may themselves revise this treaty without us and then assemble a council of nations of their own in an endeavor to solve the problems of Europe. It would be a council of Europe and in the midst of these terrible times, considering the debts they owe us, the material they must have from us or starve, I would rather that we be represented therein, lest it become a league of Europe against the western hemisphere. A peace without us means more army and navy for us, the old treadmill of taxes and dangers for us."

Desperation of Europe
Mr. Hoover said that few people seem to realize the desperation to which Europe has been reduced.

"During the coming winter some of them will look with longing eyes to this rich, fat nation, with its surplus of every human necessity," he said. "We cannot fiddle while Rome burns. If we believe we can see our neighbors return to another 30 years' war through the break-down of this treaty, and we still maintain our progress, it is the egoism of insanity. Our expansion overseas has entangled us for good or ill, and I stand for an honest attempt to prevent these entanglements from involving us in war. We are not dealing with perfection, we are dealing with the lesser of evils."

"For us to refuse to enter into a joint attempt with the well-thinking sections of a large part of the world to establish a continuing moral conscience against war is the utmost folly in our own interests."

Pointing out the likelihood that some European nations will again be plunged into war with their neighbors,

Mr. Hoover referred to a probability of the invasion of Poland if the treaty failed.

"There are many elements in Europe," he said, "who wish to see the treaty break down and the League of Nations disappear. During the last five months our allies have been growing weaker from a military point of view due to the necessity of demobilizing their armies, while at the same time the reactionary group in Germany has been growing in strength through the hope of yet securing a division of the allies. At the time I left Europe a month ago German militarism had already re-established itself as a well-disciplined, well-officered army of at least 400,000 men largely congregated on the Polish frontier and even defying the government at Berlin."

"Under the terms of this danger the Poles, in the midst of the greatest economic misery that a nation ever saw have been trying to create an army of 600,000 men for their protection from the Germans on the one side and the Bolsheviks on the other. If the treaty is ratified the German army will be reduced to 200,000 men and dispersed over Germany and their extra armament destroyed. The failure of the treaty means the invasion of the Polish state."

"This is only one of the powder magazines in Europe which cannot be destroyed until the treaty is ratified, and during every day of delay more explosives are poured into them."

Could Not Be Made Perfect

"The treaty finally agreed upon at Paris is by no means perfect," declared Mr. Hoover, adding that he saw no method by which it could have been made perfect under the circumstances.

"It is often overlooked that this was not a conference to settle the wrongs committed by allies or neutrals, but by the enemy only," said Mr. Hoover. "It was Germany's wrongs that were on the operating table. It would have been beautiful to have all the international wrongs on the table, but this is not a perfect world. If this had been attempted the conference would have broken up into quarrels among the allies and Germany would have been handed again the domination of Europe. The old guard in Germany hoped and expected this would result; up to date they have been disappointed."

"No one could be more disappointed than the American delegation that some great wrongs that were the result of the secret treaties that had been written in times of great desperation among the original allies were not eradicated."

Referring to the probable effect upon an aggressor of world enlightenment and the use of the boycott, Mr. Hoover said: "The hope which I, an independent observer, have placed in the league is that it will forever relieve the United States of the necessity to again send a single soldier outside of our boundaries."

WOOL KING'S SON LEARNING BUSINESS

Cornelius A. Wood, son of William M. Wood, millionaire president of the American Woolen company, who has started in to learn the wool business from the bottom, is here depicted grading wool in the storehouse of the Washington mills, Lawrence, the largest in the world. Cornelius A. Wood was only recently discharged from the United States navy, in which he was commissioned lieutenant.

NO RELEASES FROM THE STATE GUARD

It is stated on good authority that Superintendent Molloy of the Lowell school department and Principal Fisher of the Vocational school will not be released from duty with the state guard in Boston, even though our city officials should so request. The military authorities have already turned down many requests for the release of city officials, military superintendents, attorneys-at-law, doctors and other professional men. They assert that if they should break this rule they would have to release perhaps 2000 men who hold important positions in the industrial business or professional life of the state.

Undoubtedly the school board is cognizant of this fact and this may explain why there is some talk of engaging an assistant superintendent of schools to deal with the very important educational questions now awaiting settlement.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of the members of J. A. Garfield, W.R.C. 33, was held yesterday afternoon and evening. The afternoon was devoted to sewing and whist, while in the evening a business session was held with Mrs. Almira Killpatrick in the chair. One new member was initiated and it was announced that the annual inspection of the corps will take place Oct. 16.

British-American Club

The last meeting of the British-American Social club was held at the home of Mrs. Leach, 178 Pleasant st., and was largely attended. Two new members were elected and routine business was transacted. At the close of the business session a social hour was held, during which entertainment numbers were given by Mary Morse, Mrs. Kershaw, George Whalley, George Marshall, Mr. Pearson and Mrs. Pearson, Mr. Kershaw presiding at the piano. Refreshments were served.

UNSKILLED LABOR EXODUS

Several thousand unskilled laborers, including both men and women, have left Lowell in the past six months to accept positions in out-of-town industries, and the exodus still continues. The higher wages offered unskilled labor in various parts of the state and New England is given as the reason for so many Lowell people leaving the city; also the fact that at the present time local mills take in practically no unskilled help of any kind.

"TRUTH REPORT" COMING

Long Overdue Report to Be Issued Before Election—Attack on Curtis

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—Following a protracted conference yesterday afternoon between Mayor Peters and James J. Storrow, chairman of the committee of 34 which attempted to avert the walk-out of the police, it was strongly intimated in city hall that the long overdue report would be issued within a very short time.

Mayor Peters expressly stated, at the conference, that, in his opinion, there was no reason for withholding the report longer.

Report Before Election

When reached at his summer home in Lincoln last night, Chairman Storrow stated that he had put the matter before his committee last week and that the committee ruled the time was not right for the immediate issuance of the report. Mr. Storrow stated, however, that he would again put the matter before the committee. When asked when he replied: "Before long." He reiterated this phrase when asked if that meant before the gubernatorial election in November.

After yesterday's conference Mayor Peters stated that, while the report would be "interesting," there would be a decided absence of "sensational" in its contents. According to the mayor the report will be mainly a resume of the work of Mr. Storrow's committee. It was understood, following the conference, that Mr. Storrow was not personally opposed to the issuance of the report but, as he explained last night, he is powerless to submit the report without the consent of the entire committee—or, at least, a majority of its members.

Labor Demands Report

Prior to the meeting between the mayor and Chairman Storrow there was a conference between Mayor Peters and leaders of organized labor. The latter refused to make any comment, following their 30-minute conversation with the city's chief executive, but Mayor Peters acknowledged that they had urged upon him the immediate issuance of the report of the committee of 34.

A special session of the governor's council will be held today to take further action upon the request of Police Commissioner Curtis to have certain changes made in the age, weight and height requirements of the civil service rules as applied to applicants for appointment to the police force.

Menues 120 Days' Delay

The discovery of an alleged "joker"

in the amendment agreed upon by the council on Wednesday is responsible for the special session today.

The attorney-general ruled yesterday that, according to law, the changes in the police force requirements could not become effective before 120 days. According to this ruling the amendment, as endorsed on Wednesday, would have to be advertised for 60 days. Then, when the civil service commission made the explicit changes as requested by the police commissioner, these changes would have to be advertised for 60 days.

Sullivan Attacks Coolidge

Lewis R. Sullivan, member of the council, yesterday launched a vehement attack upon Governor Coolidge, Police Commissioner Curtis and Herbert Parker, legal advisor to the commissioner. Last night Councillor Sullivan stated that at today's meeting of the council he would attempt to secure action which would force Commissioner Curtis to make known the remuneration given Attorney Parker for his services.

"I want to find out why it is that Police Commissioner Curtis, answerable to the city of Boston for the expenditures of his office, does not call in the services of the city corporation counsel when questions affecting the interests of the city are at stake, instead of a rank outsider," Mr. Sullivan, said last night.

RENEW EFFORTS TO END BIG RAILROAD STRIKE

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Negotiations between the government and labor representatives other than railwaymen were resumed today in an effort to bring the authorities and the railway representatives together for a settlement of the railroad strike.

At an early hour the premier, George S. Barnes, minister without portfolio, Sir Robert Horne, the minister of labor, and Sir Eric Geddes, the minister of transport, conferred. Later they were joined by a deputation of the transport men and associated unions.

The government insisted at a conference yesterday that work must be resumed by the railway strikers before the negotiations could be reopened.

That patch of eruption is not necessarily a serious matter. Even in severe, well-established cases of eczema, ringworm or similar affections, Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap usually relieve the itching at once and quickly overcome the trouble completely. ed, but the labor leaders objected both to this proposition and to the government's order holding back the pay of the men for the last week they worked before the strike.

The union of vehicle workers, who operate the buses and other vehicular traffic in London, took a vote today to determine whether to strike in sympathy with the railroad men. The result will be known tomorrow night. The ministry of labor has posted a call for volunteer bus drivers.

J. T. Brownlie, representative of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers, said this afternoon after the conference between the labor men and the premier:

"The situation is easier."

The annual meeting of the French-American Historical society was held at the Boston City club Wednesday evening and was largely attended. Lowell men present at the meeting included Treasurer J. H. Guillet.

Early American playing cards, according to an article in the American Printer, showed the national antipathy to kings and queens by presenting, instead of the conventional figures with which playing cards are now adorned, the following pictures: "President" of hearts, George Washington; of diamonds, John Adams; of clubs, Benjamin Franklin; of spades, Lafayette. The "queens" were Venus, Fortuna, Ceres and Minerva. The knaves were represented, appropriately selecting the general feeling among the whites, by pictures of Indian chiefs.

FRIENDLY POKER GAME ENDS IN MIXUP

"It was just a friendly game of poker, Judge, Your Honor," explained E. Stanley Chase in police court today.

E. Stanley paused a moment to rub gingerly a discolored and swollen eye, and his hand lingered for a second on his jaw, which also showed the marks of recent conflict.

"Just a friendly game of poker," he added. "That is, it was friendly for a while. Then we got into an argument and Albert Oser and I went outside to settle it."

"Then what happened?" queried Supt. Welch, who appeared for the prosecution.

"Well, I was going along pretty good until the other two fellows came out and jumped on me," affirmed E. Stanley. "Then some one hit me on the jaw and that's all."

Here E. Stanley took up the story, awakened about midnight by what as aforesaid, and allowed that the poker game had been the cause of it all.

It had been a most friendly game—held in one of the youth's rooms in the institution.

E. Stanley couldn't just remember what the argument had been; something had not suited him and he had invited Oser to take the air. If the other two youths hadn't boosted Oser's stock, things wouldn't have ended as they did, he contended.

They took E. Stanley's word for this last and then Judge Hickman ordered fines as follows: Mahoney, $10; Oser, $5; Clark, $5; and E. Stanley $3.

E. Stanley, accompanied by Albert Oser, Francis B. Clark and John F. Mahoney, all four employed variously as farmhand, cook, waiter and attendant at the state infirmary in Tewksbury, were arraigned before Judge Enright today, charged with disturbing the peace. Midnight last night was given as the time, and all four pleaded guilty.

Dr. William F. Hanson of the institution told the court that he had been awakened about midnight by what sounded like a miniature riot on the grounds outside of the building.

He investigated and found all four of the defendants engaged in what appeared to be a general free-for-all and making almost as much noise as the boys of the 25th did when they chased the Germans at Chateau-Thierry.

By the time he had dressed and made his way to the scene, the conflict was over. All but E. Stanley were still on their feet and apparently had suffered little damage, but E. Stanley was hors de combat.

He thought for a moment that the youth had been killed, he said, but found that he had been merely knocked out by one of the right hooks and left jabs which had been flying around indiscriminately during the melee, and soon revived him.

Wilson's Condition Grave

Continued

Francis B. Sayre, daughters of the president, are on their way to Washington. Mrs. McAdoo will arrive this afternoon from New York. Mrs. Sayre is coming from Cambridge, Mass. It was said that while members of the family had not been summoned to Washington, Mrs. McAdoo and Mrs. Sayre had expressed a desire to come. Mrs. Margaret Wilson, the third daughter, is now in Washington.

No Visitors Allowed

Orders of the physicians that the president be kept absolutely quiet would be strictly enforced, Secretary Tumulty said today. No official business will be brought to his attention, no matter how pressing, and no one except members of the immediate family will be permitted to see him.

The president was informed late yesterday of the defeat in the senate of the Fall amendments to the peace treaty and of the ratification of the treaty by the French chamber of deputies and this news apparently cheered him considerably. Mr. Tumulty said.

It was announced officially that the turn in the president's condition would not interfere with the industrial conference next week. In the event that the president is not able on Monday to address a communication to the conference, Secretary Tumulty will notify it of the president's desires regarding the selection of a permanent presiding officer.

In Consultation Two Hours

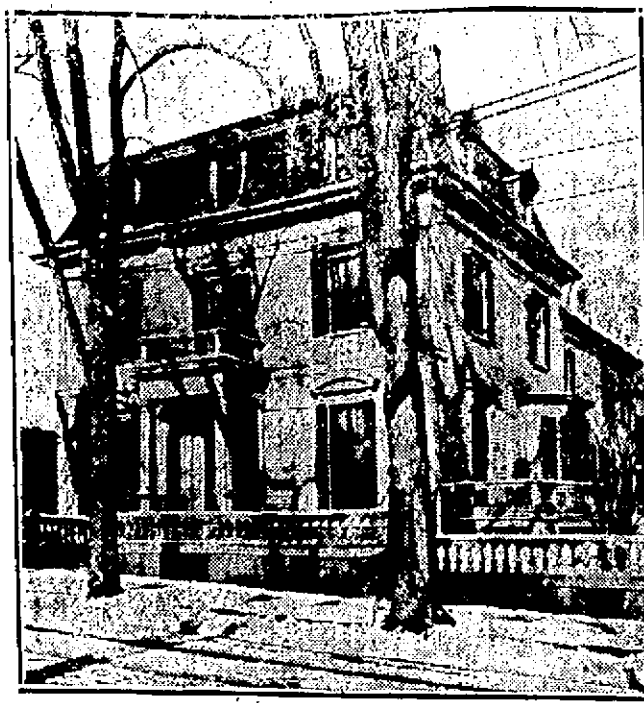

Admirals Grayson and Stitt and Dr. Ruffin were in consultation for about two hours and this delayed the issuing of the usual 10 o'clock bulletin as to the president's condition.

"The president's condition is unchanged," Dr. Grayson's bulletin, issued at 12:15 p. m., said.

Takes Some Nourishment

Supplementing his official bulletin, Dr. Grayson said that the president's mind was keen and alert and his physical condition fairly good. He also is taking some nourishment.

Dr. Grayson talked with Dr. F. X. Dercum, of Philadelphia, by telephone today. Dr. Dercum will come to Washington from time to time as Dr. Grayson feels he needs him, while Rear Admiral Stitt, head of the naval

THE OLD KITSON HOME

Negotiations Under Way for Sale of Building Occupied By Club Lafayette

Negotiations are under way for the sale of the building numbered 331 Merrimack street and it is believed the deal will be put through within a short time. The building, the old Kitson home, is owned by Dr. Rodrigue Magnault, and it is understood that the purchaser will be Mrs. Perpetue Boisvert, who conducts a boarding and lodging house in Worthen street.

The building has been occupied by Club Lafayette for the past five or six years. It is a wooden building of hospital here, and Dr. Sterling Ruffin, Mrs. Wilson's physician, will visit the president daily.

The consulting physicians have agreed with Dr. Grayson that the president is suffering from nervous exhaustion brought on by the strain of his work at the peace conference, and his recent tour over the country.

Dr. Grayson said the president desired to keep in constant touch with official affairs and that he was only with difficulty that his mind could be diverted.

Scores of inquiries as to the president's health are being received at the White House from officials, diplomats and friends. Those calling at the White House during the morning included Chief Justice White of the supreme court, W. A. F. Ekengren, the Swedish minister, and Samuel Compers.

Sayre Off for Capitol

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 3.—Francis B. Sayre, son-in-law of President Wilson and now a member of the faculty at the Harvard law school, left this afternoon for Washington. He was preceded a few hours earlier by Mrs. Sayre. It was said that the Sayres had not received any word of an alarming nature regarding the condition of the president, but both wished to be with him at this time.

heavy construction and contains 12 rooms and a large billiard room. The building is assessed for $4400 and the land for $5450, making a total of $9850.

Mrs. Boisvert stated this morning that she has made a deposit on the building with the understanding, however, that the club has the preference in case its members should decide to buy. The club's lease will expire in December, and in the event of the deal being put through with Mrs. Boisvert, the latter will take possession shortly after the expiration of the lease.

When questioned as to whether the club would buy the property, President P. N. Labelle stated this morning that the matter has been discussed several times but nothing definite had been arrived at. There will be a meeting of the directors of the organization this evening at which time a building committee will be appointed to consider the future of the club.

X. Dercum, neurologist, who joined in a consultation at the White House yesterday, said today that the president's condition was grave, but that he was in a cheerful frame of mind.

The president, according to Dr. Dercum, realizes that he is a sick man and is making an effort to cease chafing under the restraint which compels him to relinquish temporarily the helm of the administration. By nature, according to the neurologist, he is a "hard man to handle" from the viewpoint of a physician.

"The president is not the type of man to be worried by his symptoms," said Dr. Dercum. "This led him to overtax his strength, when he should have been husbanding it after the strain of the peace conference."

The president is profoundly exhausted and very weak. He remained in bed all day. He had no temperature, but the fact that he was up and about on Wednesday and became so completely exhausted later, caused everyone to be a little apprehensive."

Dr. Dercum said he would not return to Washington unless summoned.

SPRINGFIELD WELCOMES

CARDINAL MERCIER

SPRINGFIELD, Oct. 3.—This city the first in Massachusetts to be visited by Cardinal Mercier, turned out en masse today to pay tribute to the Belgian primate, who arrived at noon from New Haven. Arrangements for his reception were made by a committee which included Thomas D. Beaven of the Roman Catholic diocese of Springfield and Bishop Thomas F. Davies of the Episcopal diocese of western Massachusetts.

Cardinal Mercier was escorted to the municipal buildings where a short reception was given by Mayor Adams and the city council and where he spoke to a crowd that included hun-

PLANS ERECTION OF APARTMENT HOUSE

If plans prepared by George Husson, one of the proprietors of the Royal theatre in Merrimack street are carried out a modern kitchenette building will soon be erected in Pawtucket street

at a cost of between $60,000 and $70,000.

Mr. Husson recently purchased the old wooden two-tenement house at 135-139 Pawtucket street and it is his intention to tear down the old structure and in its stead erect a four-story brick building, which will contain between 40 and 50 small flats or kitchenettes. This new building will serve to relieve to some extent the housing condition in this city and will be welcomed no doubt by the Textile school boys who have been unable to obtain accommodations here.

Nerve Expert Says President Realizes His Condition But is Cheerful

Turn in Condition Brings Members of His Family to Bedside

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—There was no improvement in President Wilson's condition this morning and Rear Admiral Grayson held another consultation with Rear Admiral Sitt of the naval medical school and Dr. Sterling Ruffin, Mrs. Wilson's family physician, who participated in yesterday's consultation with Dr. F. N. Dercum of Philadelphia. An earlier bulletin said the president is a "very sick man."

The president slept some last night. With him is a trained nurse, who is assisting Mrs. Wilson in caring for the patient. He has no temperature and his heart action is good.

Tighe Declares Gary "Sowing Seeds of Anarchy" in Refusing to Arbitrate

Reiterates Steel Corp. Voted $20,000,000 to Fight Unions—Steel Inquiry

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—In refusing to arbitrate the steel strike, Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United Steel corporation, "is sowing the seeds of anarchy," the senate committee investigating the strike was told today by Michael F. Tighe, president of the union of Iron, Steel & Tin Workers.

"I was very much put out yesterday by Judge Gary's refusal to compromise or arbitrate this issue," said Tighe. "He is sowing the seeds of anarchy, promoting the insidious doctrine that there is no way out of industrial difficulties except by the destruction of one side or the other."

Tighe reiterated that the closed shop was not an issue and said the union leaders could not comply with President Wilson's request to postpone the strike until after the industrial conference next week, because the L.W.W. organizers were active among the men and would have succeeded in calling some sporadic strikes.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Giving a detailed history of union activities in the steel industry, Michael F. Tighe, president of the Iron, Steel and Tin Workers' union, today told the senate committee investigating the steel strike that the U. S. Steel Corporation instead of "leading the van in advancing wages, as Judge Gary has claimed, has lagged behind our organization."

"Information given to you by Judge Gary," Tighe said, "was not first-hand evidence gained from practical knowledge of the industry, but instead continued to last page

TAFT CONFERS WITH SENATORS

Former President Discusses Reservations With Republicans at Capital

Expects Later to See Sen. Hitchcock, the Administration Leader

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Former President Taft, who came here today to appear before a congressional committee considering a national budget system, participated in private discussions of republican senators regarding reservations to the peace treaty. He conferred with several republicans, including mild reservationists and expected later to see Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, the administration leader in the treaty fight and other democratic senators.

Senator Lodge left today for Boston to attend the republican state convention tomorrow and arrangements were made for adjournment of the senate until next Monday.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Failure of the president to authorize purchases of the Cuban sugar crop for 1920 makes it practically certain that sugar prices will increase after next January 1, a senate sub-committee was told today by George A. PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 3.—Reports came from company sources today that preparations were being made to open steel plants now shut down and otherwise provide for a larger return of men on Monday.

From Donora, Pa., Mingo Junction, O., and Wierton, W. Va., came reports that efforts would be made to resume work Monday. LOCAL STORES LIVING UP TO REGULATIONS

Although Thura Hanson, the state commissioner of weights and measures, has sent out a warning to retailers of bread that the state law regarding the weight and wrapping of this commodity must be lived up to, local dealers have little to fear from this warning, according to City Sealer Warren P. Rioridan. On the whole, the local stores which sell bread are living up to the regulations as consistently as can be expected.

In the past two days inspectors of the local sealer's office have inspected 200 places where bread is sold and found conditions satisfactory.

The state law says that unwrapped bread must be sold in units of two-pound loaves, one-pound loaves, half-pound loaves or pound-and-a-half loaves. A sign stating the prices of each size loaf must be placed in a conspicuous position in the store where the bread is sold.

Bread that is wrapped must have printed on the wrapper the name of the maker, the trade mark, if any, and the net weight exclusive of the wrappings.

THRIFT DAY IN LOWELL SCHOOLS
Lowell's public and parochial schools informally observed Thrift day today in accordance with a proclamation by Governor Coolidge. No extended programs were carried out but in many of the schools the teachers told their pupils of the purpose of the day and urged that the excellent thrift record made during the world war by the school children be maintained permanently.

The governor's proclamation was read in many of the class rooms and in some instances a letter from Secretary Glass of the treasury in which the latter urged investments in thrift and war savings stamps as one of the ways in which school children could continue the practice of thrift.

SCHALK KERR
SOX'S BATTERY

COMISKEY PARK, Chicago, Oct. 3.—Perfect weather and what promised to be a capacity attendance, greeted the Reds and White Sox in the third game of the World's Series today.

When the gates were opened, the first man to enter the pavilion was Roland Ryan, a wounded soldier from Fort Sheridan, who had been standing in line all night.

James served up benders to the Gleason lineup which showed that Kerr was taking his regular position in the batting order. Rether, Salter and Ring warmed up in front of the Cincinnati bench.

The umpires came on the field at 1.50 p. m.

Umpire Quigley will be behind the plate; Nallin on first base; Rigler on second and Evans on third.

The umpires held a conference with Manager Moran and Captain Groh, of the Reds, and Manager Gleason, at which Ground rules relative to overthrows were discussed.

The batteries for today's game: Cincinnati, Fisher and Rariden; Chicago, Kerr and Schalk.

The two teams, accompanied by some 2000 Cincinnati rooters, arrived here early today on more than a dozen trains, the Reds confident that they would return to Ohio Sunday night possessors of baseball's highest honors, and the White Sox determined to overcome their handicap while playing on their home grounds.

Despite the fact that the White Sox, 5 to 5 favorites before the series started, had lost two straight games to the National leaguers, their followers were confident that today's contest would be the beginning of a winning streak. Fans began gathering at the park last night, waiting in line to purchase the general admission tickets.

Wait All Night for Tickets

The first fan appeared at the park at 5.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and shortly afterward others appeared. By midnight, more than 100 were in line and all night the ticket seekers increased in number. Included among the waiters was a fair sprinkling of women.

Fisher was the likely choice. Both are righthanders and were stars of the pennant campaign.

In what little batting was reported today on the series the Reds were 5 to 3 favorites. On today's game there were some bets at even money, but in most cases the White Sox followers demanded odds.

"The boys all slept well and are ready to put up the same kind of ball here that they displayed in Cincinnati," said Pat Moran.

Manager Gleason also reported that every man on his team was feeling "in great shape." John Collins, who had a slight cold yesterday morning had recovered completely.

First Inning

First half: Rath was out, Risberg to Gandil. The ball was a slow grounder and easily handled. Daubert died out to Felsch. Groh struck out. He missed the last strike, which was a low one, over the outside corner. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second half: Leibold sent a line drive to Neale. The latter came in fast and got it at his shoelaps, turning a somersault, but holding the ball. Eddie Collins out, Fisher to.

Lowell High and Nashua High Schools Lock Horns at Spalding Park.

Lowell high school's 1919 gridiron eleven got going on their season's schedule today when it lined up against Nashua high at Spalding park in the first local game of the season.

A large delegation of the student body accompanied Coach Conway's men to the park while the Nashua players also had a supporting contingent. Although it was a little warm for football, nevertheless, both eleven showed plenty of speed in the practice sessions.

Last year Lowell high was not represented by a football team owing to the paramount interest in war activities at that time and for that reason it is expected that there will be more than usual enthusiasm this year.

Some quarters that these unions would accept representation by the delegates accredited to the federation, even if they were not allowed to appoint their own spokesmen.

Illness of President Wilson was believed to be playing a considerable part in the failure of negotiations to settle the difficulty.

Arrangements have been made at the Pan-American building to seat 100 delegates, 100 press representatives and about 350 visitors at the formal opening of the conference. Stenographic reports of the proceedings will be furnished newspaper correspondents every 10 minutes.

Daubert. It was an easy grounder. Weaver sent a high lob to Daubert. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second Inning

First half: Roush hit the first ball pitched to Risberg, who threw him out at first. Duncan singled to right center. It was on the Texas league order. Kopf drove to Risberg, who threw him out at first. Risberg missed the ball around until it was too late to get Duncan at second. Neale out, E. Collins to Gandil. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second half: Jackson took a terrific swing on his second strike. Jackson opened the second inning for Chicago with a clean single to left. Felsch laid down a sacrifice, which Fisher threw into center field in an attempt to catch Jackson, the latter landing on third and Felsch second. Gandil singled into right, scoring Jackson and Felsch, and taking second on the throw to the plate. Risberg walked. Gandil was out when Fisher threw Schalk's tap to Groh. Risberg reached second and Schalk first. Rariden threw to Groh, thinking Risberg was going to steal, but Risberg hurried back to second safely. Risberg was forced when Fisher took Kerr's easy tap and threw to Groh, Schalk going to second and Kerr first. Groh speared Leibold's drive and threw him out at first. Two runs, two hits, one error.

Third Inning
First half: Kerr seemed to be putting them over the plate, but they were low. Weaver got Rariden's bouncer and had the ball in Gandil's hands with Rariden several jumps away. Fisher singled. It was a short hit toward third that Kerr got to but fell down in attempting to field. Kerr almost caught Fisher off first a moment later. Rath hoisted an easy fly to Risberg. Eddie Collins grabbed Daubert's bouncer and tossing to Risberg forced Fisher. No runs, one hit, no errors.

CHANGE CIVIL SERVICE REQUIREMENTS
BOSTON, Oct. 3.—Changes in the civil service requirements for membership in the police force of this city were permitted by action of the governor's council today. By these changes Police Commissioner Edwin U. Curtis, who is seeking new men to fill the ranks broken by the strike, will be enabled to set the age limits as 23 to 25 years, instead of 25 to 33 years, and the minimum height at 5 feet 7 inches, instead of 5 feet 5 inches.

After the meeting of the council, the civil service commission met and decided that a state of war still exists, so that the modifications in the requirements may go into effect at once without waiting for the 60 days' notice required in peace times.

ATTACK ON SEN. LODGE

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—Sharp differences of opinion in regard to the League of Nations were shown in the speaking at the meeting yesterday afternoon of the committee on resolutions of the republican state convention. Considerable bitterness was displayed on each side of that important question, but the outstanding feature was the criticism which representatives of the so-called "Patriotic Societies" made of the attitude of Senator Lodge.

Rev. William M. Macnair, pastor of the Prospect Congregational church, Cambridge, and Breton H. MacCurdy of Somerville, who has been for years prominent in the American Patriotic association, were the speakers who attacked Mr. Lodge for his attitude on the treaty and urged the adoption of a plank calling for the ratification of the treaty and the entrance of the United States into a League of Nations.

Mr. Macnair declared that the great majority of the Congressional ministers in the state favored the treaty and the league. He said that he voted for Senator Lodge in the senatorial election a few years ago because he (Mr. Macnair) could not support the political mountebank, who was the candidate against him, but that if the election were held today he (Mr. Macnair) would vote for the political mountebank in preference to Mr. Lodge.

Speeches for 10,000 Patriots

Mr. MacCurdy said that he represented 10,000 patriotic citizens and that at the recent meetings of the American Patriotic association there had been hardly a man or a woman who did not heartily favor the League of Nations. The speaker said that he had not been a Wilson man until he decided to enter the war, but that since that time he had been with the president. "No self-respecting citizen could be with him before that," Mr. MacCurdy said.

"I believe in Senator Lodge," Mr. MacCurdy went on. "I have always voted for him, but I take issue with him on this matter, the most important question that has come up since Adam came into the world.

Crane's Brief Statement

Ex-United States Senator W. Murray Crane was at the meeting. He made this characteristically brief statement of his position: "I recommend that the following be inserted in the platform: 'That the committee favors prompt and favorable action on the peace treaty with suitable reservations that will not amend the treaty.'"

Ex-Senator Robert W. Washburn submitted the following in behalf of the executive committee of the Roosevelt club:

"We commend the statesmanship of Henry Cabot Lodge, senator from Massachusetts, leader of the senate, and chairman of the great committee on foreign relations, far and clear-seeing patriot and tireless in war and in peace; particularly his attitude for a dictated and not a negotiated armistice; and for Americanizing the treaty and the Covenant of Nations, for the safety and welfare of the people of the United States."

That proposed resolution was signed by Harcourt Amory, Jr., Caspar G. Bacon, George P. Barry, Walter H. Foster, George von L. Meyer, R. M. Washburn and B. Loving Young.

For Treaty Without Amendment

Ex-Speaker Joseph Walker and Courtenay Crocker, representing the Massachusetts joint committee for a League of Free Nations, offered a resolution the essential part of which read as follows:

"We urge ratification of the treaty of peace with Germany without amendment and we suggest, as a basis of adjustment between the extreme position of the president and the extreme position of certain senators, the adoption by the senate of interpretative reservations which do not substantially change the terms of the treaty, but which make the obligation of the United States under the treaty more clear and definite, and we commend the efforts of those senators who are working to effect that end."

Reports from Washington are that Senator Lodge has been thoroughly roused by what he believes to be attempts to discredit him in this state and that he will speak his mind freely and plainly at the convention on Saturday. It is commonly believed that, no matter what the committee on resolutions does, a minority report will be presented on the floor of the convention, and hence a real fight which may make serious trouble for the party.

Ask Anti-Lynching Plank

Walter A. Johnson and W. B. Miller, two colored men, asked for a plank against lynching.

Wendell P. Thore submitted planks in favor of old-age pensions, the strict observance of the legislative rules in regard to the passing of votes, a national referendum before the people of the country can be thrown into war unless it be a war of defense, and state control of the production, distribution and price of milk.

Mr. Thore said that the republican party had strayed far away from the example set by Lincoln and other men to whom its orators frequently referred as lights of the world. He said also that unless the party awoke to a sense of its responsibilities and took an attitude in favor of progressive legislation it would soon find itself in a minority.

Mrs. Edna L. Spencer of Cambridge urged a plank in favor of maternity pensions.

stated the statements made to him by his employees, foremen and superintendents. It was far and away from being the truth about the industry."

Tighe repeated the charge that the steel corporation early in its history had appropriated $20,000,000 to fight unions and gave names of his informants. The unions, he said, had never sought the closed shop but union shops.

"When the management signs a contract as to scales and working conditions it is a union shop," he explained. "The effect is the same as a closed shop, isn't it?" asked Senator Sterling, republican, South Dakota.

"No," said Tighe. "We are not asking for closed shops and never have." W. Z. Foster, secretary of the general strike committee, whose alleged views as a radical, have drawn congressional fire, was present at the hearing prepared to testify after Tighe had concluded. Armed with copies of his book on syndicalism, members of the committee were ready for sharp

Advertisement For Foreigners

Tighe read an advertisement of 1903 credited to the United States Steel Corporation, which said:

"Men wanted—Syrians, Poles; and Rumanians preferred."

"The gentleman (Judge Gary) remarks about foreigners now," Tighe remarked, "are not well taken, in view of that."

"Do you charge that from 1903 on there was a steady increase of foreign workmen in the steel company's mills?" asked Senator Walsh of Massachusetts.

"Yes, I do," Tighe asserted. Declaring that the present strike was preceded by universal demands for organization from steel workers, Tighe said about 100 new charters for local unions had been issued by his organization but that he could not tell exactly how many men had joined for the strike.

On October 1, he said, 363,000 men were on strike.

"How many of those strikers cannot speak English?" asked Chairman Kenyon.

Tighe had no exact information, but said: "To be frank about the matter, I think the largest percentage of them are foreign-born."

"This strike was called," Tighe said, "because Judge Gary would not grant the request for a conference with the 24 unions. If he had done that there would have been no strike."

"Why could not it be delayed at the president's request?" asked Chairman Kenyon.

"Because there were a number of I.W.W. organizers among the men," said Tighe. "If we had delayed, they would have said that the American Federation of Labor could not do anything. They were getting some influence, and would have succeeded in calling some sporadic strikes anyway."

"Then in the last analysis, the I.W.W. caused this strike?" said Senator Sterling.

"Oh, don't take that view," Tighe responded. "If we had gotten a conference we would have had something to show these men, that their interests were being protected, and could have held them on the job."

TO MILITARIZE OMAHA POLICE FORCE

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 3.—In response to recommendations of Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, who was assigned to quell rioting in Omaha following the lynching of a negro Sunday and the burning of the court house, the city council yesterday voted to appoint 100 new policemen and effect semi-military organization of the force.

Two machine guns, 30 riot guns and motorcycles and automobiles for emergency use will be secured at once. A competent military instructor will be engaged to drill the reorganized department.

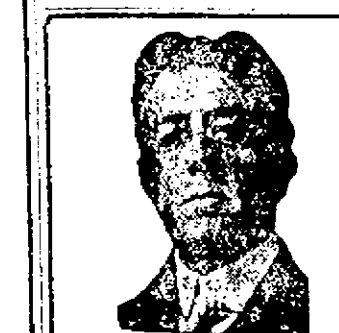

Gen. Wood said last night that there was no evidence of further troubles and all parts of the city were quiet. He made preparations to leave the city today.

The case was continued for sentence.

The stomacher of jewels and the armlets, the burnoose-like sleeves, the great earrings and oriental comb all suggest the spicy atmosphere of Arabia. In fact the gown is spicy to the point of daring. Only a tall woman with exquisitely slender lines could achieve distinction in this model.

It is built of heavy satin and clinging chiffon. The creator of this wondrous gown chose a chiffon of apricot hue to combine with lustrous deep cream satin, which, in turn, is outlined with pearls, topaz stones and jet to glitter in evening candle light.

Stomacher and armlets are fashioned of the pearls, topaz stones and jet, but the earrings and comb, which are an integral part of the costume, are of real amber. The heavy tassels finishing the front of the skirt and the sleeves are of the pearl, topaz, jet combination, while the slender slippers with their accentuated toes are beaded with the same jewels.

REPUBLICAN RALLY

Lowell republicans held a well-attended rally last evening in Eagles' hall at which the principal speaker was Frank B. Hall, chairman of the republican state committee. The meeting was one of a series to be held during the present state campaign.

William J. White presided and introduced Chairman Hall. Mr. Hall emphasized the necessity of bringing out the greatest possible vote at the coming election if success were to be attained and said that members of the republican party should not be too confident as to the result unless a record registration at the polls was in evidence on election day.

He referred to the great vote that was cast in the days when Wolcott won by 131,000, Gull by 103,000 and Crane by 97,000. Massachusetts, Kentucky, New Jersey and Maryland are electing governors this year, he said, and the election in Massachusetts was the most important of the four.

The bearing of the current campaign for Americanization on the political situation was dwelt on by the speaker. He said that the people here had been partly to blame for the spirit of unrest now evident among the foreign-speaking immigrants. A better spirit of helpfulness and friendliness must be brought into play, he said, if the immigrant is to do his best work as an American citizen. However, if the immigrant persists in his allegiance to his mother country after being here a reasonable length of time, he should be invited to return to his native land. It was the duty of republicans to cultivate a spirit of helpfulness with the immigrants, he said, so that their power as part of the electorate might be felt.

In concluding, he urged support for Governor Coolidge at the coming election and asked for a large vote.

William A. Mitchell spoke on organization work and Albert Edmund Brown led those present in singing. Mr. Brown will lead the singing at the state republican convention in Boston tomorrow.

TO PROTECT USERS OF GASOLINE

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—More than 40 dealers in gasoline answered the request of State Commissioner of Standards Thure Hanson yesterday and went to the state house to hear him talk of pumps which failed to furnish a correct amount of "gas." He said that there was none among them he suspected of intentional short-selling. Others who had ignored his "polite letters," he said, might expect court summonses.

"I am here to protect the public and the public will be protected," said the commissioner. He said, further, that the meeting had been called to see if the dealers and he could not co-operate for the public good.

Three principal sources of inaccuracy to be guarded against, he pointed out, were shortage because the tank is too low, because it is too full and because the hose is not drained. He urged that pumps be "primed" every morning by drawing-off one or two gallons before any is sold, as this will put the pump in better condition.

He said that the owner of the pump and not the manufacturer is responsible for short sales; that it is not the duty of his inspectors to repair pumps, that the hose is not part of the measure and that pumps should be sealed early in the season and later toward the close.

MUST SKIP ROPE TO HOLD JOBS

(N. E. A. Special to The Sun)
CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Chicago's oldest policemen have got to skip the rope to hold their jobs on the force. If they haven't the endurance for this childish exercise they will be retired on pension. Weight lifting and other tests also are being applied. There are 112 men slated for the tests.

WORK AGAINST JINNEYS
BOSTON, Oct. 3.—The Woburn city council last night refused to grant jitney licenses to North Woburn and Wilmington. Mayor Bernard J. Golden sent a special message to the council recommending refusal to grant the licenses. The mayor took the attitude that if Woburn is to choose between the jitney and the street car, then, by all means, it should keep the street car.

ANTIOISTS BEWARE!
The Lowell police have begun a campaign against antioists whose practice it is to put on more speed after striking dogs and other animals while passing through the city, and if antioists continue to keep on their way after knowingly causing injury to animals there will be a police court sequel to the affair, Supt. Welch declares.

LABOR COUNCIL ELECTS OFFICERS

At a regular meeting of the Trades and Labor council held last evening a movement was started by which the labor unions of this city will attempt to bring about a reduction in car fares. The first step toward that end was taken when the secretary of the council was instructed to write to the trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company for a conference at the earliest possible moment. This matter will also be taken up individually by all unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

Routing business was transacted and officers were elected for the ensuing six months:

President, Frank A. Warnock; vice president, John B. Curtin; secretary, Charles E. Anderson; assistant secretary, Frank N. Stimpson; financial secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Annie Reagan; sergeant-at-arms, Michael Kline; trustees, Fred Drouin, Mrs. Rachel Campbell and Timothy O'Rourke.

The following committee was appointed to prepare a list of standing committees to be submitted to the next meeting: Timothy O'Rourke, Charles E. Anderson, Albra W. Hersome, Walter G. Roarke and George F. Keating.

Painters' Union
President Robert Moore occupied the chair at the regular meeting of the members of the Painters' union, which was held last evening in Carpenters' hall. Routine business was transacted and it was voted to hold a special meeting next Thursday night for the purpose of hearing the plea of the local firemen for a double platoon system in this city.

HELD COFFEE PARTY
An enjoyable coffee party was held at Grace Universalist church last evening and, despite the inclement weather, a large attendance was on hand for the event. Following the supper several musical selections were given by members of a choir, including Mrs. Lawrence Jordan, Mrs. George E. Burns, Miss Edith Chase, Mrs. F. L. Gage and Miss Bernice Russell. The matrons were Mrs. J. C. Merchant and Mrs. Henry Davis. The supper arrangements were in charge of Mrs. J. A. Evans.

What Famous Actors Do for Their Teeth
No class values appearance so much as those of the stage and films, and their teeth come first. They want them clean and highly polished. Cecil De Mille, who has the most perfect teeth on the American stage, uses Albodon Dental Cream. So do Cleo Mayfield, Emmy Wehlen, Mae Murray and the great star of the Follies, Eddie Cantor. They take no chances with polish and carboic acid tooth pastes, with gritty things that wear away enamel.

Albodon is calcium carbonate, saponified and mixed with the well-known oils of cloves, cinnamon and eucalyptus, which authorities declare is the efficient and safe composition for women and children, and so naturally for you. It is in equal parts cleansing, polishing and antiseptic. A tube containing 85 brushings is sold everywhere for 25c. It is unnecessary to pay more.—Adv.

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Adv.

RECONSTRUCTING ROADWAY

The highway department of Chelmsford has started reconstructing the roadway between the railroad tracks in Middlesex street, North village. This thoroughfare has been in a poor condition for some time and at the last town meeting a certain sum of money was appropriated for the necessary repairs.

From the source of the mouth of the Rhine there are to be found nearly 500 castles formerly the homes of warlike chiefs.

DISCONTINUE TOWN RAILWAY SERVICE

A special town meeting was held in Westford Wednesday evening. In the absence of the town clerk Arthur E. Day was chosen to fill the position, while Capt. Sherman H. Fletcher was elected moderator. Under article 5 it was voted to accept the recommendation of the joint committee chosen to investigate the advisability of the town spending money for the continued operation of Brookside branch of the Lowell & Fitchburg St. Ry., to wit, that it was inadvisable to appropriate any more money for the said line, which means that the street railway service to the centre of Westford will be discontinued.

Under article 2 it was voted to elect a board of health at the next annual meeting.

Article 3: Voted to appropriate an additional $5000 for the repair of roads and bridges.

Article 4: Voted to appropriate an additional $2000 for the support of the public schools.

Article 5: Voted the sum of $3500 to be expended in connection with the employment of a public health nurse.

36 Proposed Changes in Peace Treaty Voted Down
by Senate

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—At last reaching the stage of action in its consideration of the peace treaty, the senate swept aside in quick succession yesterday, 36 of the 45 amendments which had been written into the document by the foreign relations committee. The smallest majority recorded against any of the committee proposals was 15, and the largest was 28.

All Fall's Amendments

All of the amendments considered had been introduced by Senator Fall, republican, New Mexico, and were designed to curtail American participation in European settlements resulting from the war.

Of the nine amendments yet to be acted on, six relate to the Shantung section, two propose to equalize voting power in the League of Nations, and one would limit American representation on the reparations commission.

In the absence of a definite agreement on the disposition of these proposals, senate leaders thought last night that the debate might run on for several days before another roll-call is taken.

Throughout the day's voting the democrats presented a solid front against the amendments except for Senators Gore of Oklahoma and Thomas of Colorado. Seventeen republicans, on the other hand, lined up against the first committee proposal to be considered and most of them stood with the democrats on all succeeding roll-calls. Many of them announced they were for reservations which they believed would cover the same ground without endangering the treaty.

At adjournment the treaty advocates declared themselves elated at the day's work and the opposition leaders, also were claiming a victory on the showing made for their amendments. They mustered a maximum strength of 31 which with absentees would be sufficient, they declared, to ensure the treaty's defeat unless satisfactory qualifications are accepted. Thirty-three negative votes on the final roll-call, they pointed out, would make impossible the two-thirds majority necessary for ratification.

Under a special agreement speeches on the amendments were limited to five minutes, and nearly half the senate membership got into the running debate which occupied most of the day. Only a few senators were absent and many members of the house crowded into the rear of the chamber to see the first actual act on the treaty, while in the filled galleries the ushers stood guard in the aisles to restrain spectators from applauding the declarations from the floor.

Once during the debate the rule against applause was broken, however, a wave of handclapping following a speech by Senator McCumber of North Dakota, a republican member of the committee, who pleaded against amendment of the treaty and concluded by declaring that "no harm could come of America's doing its full duty to the very end." The demonstration was quickly hushed by vigorous use of the gavel.

There were only four roll calls, all the other amendments being voted down by acclamation. The first record vote stood 30 to 53 against an amendment to eliminate the United States from representation on the commission to adjust the German-Belgian boundary. The senate went on record 31 to 56 against withdrawing from the Saar Basin commission; 28 to 53 against refusing to be a party to the agreements affecting Czechoslovakia; and 1 to 46 against precluding this country from the upper Silesia settlement.

The roll call on the Belgian boundary amendment follows:

For adoption: Republicans—Ball, Borah, Brandegee, Calder, Curtis, Dillingham, Ekins, Fall, Fernald, France, Frelinghuysen, Gronna, Harding, Knox, LaFollette, Lodge, McCormick, McLean, Moses, New, Newberry, Norris, Penrose, Phillips, Poindestexter, Sherman, Wadsworth, Warren and Watson—29; democrats—Gore—1.

Total for adoption—30.
Against adoption: Republicans—Capper, Coll, Cummings, Edge, Hale, Jones (Washington), Kellogg, Kenyon, Keyes, Lenroot, McCumber, McNary, Nelson, Smoot, Spencer, Sterling and Townsend—17.

Democrats—Ashurst, Bankhead, Beckham, Chamberlain, Culberson, Dial, Fletcher, Gay, Gerry, Harris, Harrison, Henderson, Hitchcock, Jones (New Mexico), Kendrick, Kirby, McKellar, Myers, Nugent, Overman, Owen, Phelps, Pittman, Pomerene, Ransdell, Robinson, Sheppard, Shields, Simmons, Smith (Arizona), Smith (Georgia), Smith (Maryland), Stanley, Swanson, Thomas, Trammell, Underwood, Walsh (Massachusetts), Walsh (Montana), Williams and Wolcott—41.
Total against—55.

D. S. MEDAL GIVEN ONLY ONE WOMAN

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Only 550 Distinguished Service medals were awarded to American soldiers—and of these just one was presented to a woman.
Miss Mary Vall Andrews, an American Red Cross canteen worker in France, was the woman chosen for the distinguished honor.
The medal was presented to Miss Andrews by General Pershing in the name of the president of the United States.
Miss Andrews, a New York woman was one of the first seven American girls to go overseas. She went to the Toul sector as the American troops entered it, and on her own initiative set up a canteen tent in the station yard and gave small comforts to the soldiers arriving or on leave. Within a month she assisted 1600 doughboys a day, and it is estimated that during her entire service her canteen well-combed more than 2,000,000 soldiers. After the town's access she opened a rest house for officers and men, and finally was put in charge of an entire hotel. Under her direction were installed shower baths where thousands of men enjoyed their first chance for a bath after weeks in the trenches.

Miss Andrews is now at home, but planning to continue her social and public service in some other form.

EASIER NOW THAN LATER

It is easier to break up a cold or check a cough now than it will be later. Persistent bronchial coughs that "hang on" all winter pave the way for serious throat and lung diseases. I. W. Day, 65 Campbell Ave., B. Detroit, Mich., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar relieves one of bronchitis very quickly. I hope never to have it again." This reliable family medicine for the relief of coughs, colds, croup, hoarseness, etc., contains no opiates. Children like it. WINDOW DISPLAY AT BON MARCHE

Even on a rainy morning the present display in the windows of the Bon Marche store brings the passerby to an appreciative halt so that a closer and more admiring view may be had of this attractive outlay of fall clothes.
As a most fitting background to the appealing variety of women's suits, waists and hats, there is a front of a colonial house in miniature. Subdued lights of the old style English hang from either side of the door. The miniature windows are of French design and small red and blue plush curtains are draped from the tops.
The miniature display in the right window is that of the front of the house while the other miniature is a side view with a large French window in the center. The entire lighting is most delightful to the eye and senses of warming cheer within.

The variety and appropriate style of the clothing display are cleverly planned out and have been the cause of many admiring remarks from all.

The state gnanhes and horses of the king of the Belgians, taken to England for safety during the war, are back in Brussels.

FORERUNNERS OF SICKNESS

Medical authorities agree that indigestion and constipation are the forerunners of half the ill of mankind. Don't let a mass of partly digested, decomposing food poison your whole system. When your food is being properly digested, you are free from biliousness, gas, bloating, sick headache, sour stomach, bad breath, coated tongue. Foley's Cathartic Tablets, a wholesome physic, thoroughly cleanse the bowels without griping or nausea, sweeten the stomach and invigorate the liver.

TO DISCONTINUE TROLLEY LINE

WHITMAN, Oct. 3.—Whitman seems destined to lose the street cars, and unless something unforeseen happens, the trolleys on the Brockton-Whitman branch of the former Bay State system will be called into the harem Oct. 18. Division Manager P. E. Sheehan has agreed to allow the matter of a choice between the trolley and the jitney bus to stand until after the Brockton fair, when, he declares, he will post the seven-day discontinuation notice.
It would seem that the town is powerless to prevent this. Twice have the townspeople refused to accept the act empowering towns and cities to govern jitney traffic, and it is stated that the issue will for the third time be placed before the town for referendum vote. The bus owners have tried in vain to secure some definite statement from the Whitman town officials, who prefer to remain quiet, stating that a special town meeting will soon be called.

The recent excavations of Pompeii in the ancient Street of Abundance have resulted in such extensive finds that the life of the street can be almost entirely reconstructed. The principal discovery is that of a huge "thermopolium," a kind of public house.

CARDINAL MERCIER IS HONORED BY YALE

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 3.—Yale university and the historic city of New Haven yesterday bestowed its greatest honors upon heroic Cardinal Mercier, aged prelate of Belgium. In Woolsey hall last night at a special convocation, second in 30 years, President Arthur Twining Hadley conferred the honorary degree of doctor of laws on this great figure of a great war. Earlier in the day, after one of the most vociferous local welcomes ever accorded a world-noted personage, Mayor David E. Fitzgerald granted freedom of the city to "Mercier, servant of God and Belgium."

City and university could not do enough in their efforts to cheer this man against whom war's evil surges in vain. Best of all, President Hadley struck the feelings of a great community and famous institution of education.

"No words can adequately express the pleasure with which Yale men welcome you," he said. "To find a parallel to this occasion we must go back a century to the visit of Talleyrand or two centuries to that of Berkeley. In you we find combined the qualities of both these men. The statesmanship of the one, the philosophic acumen of the other."

TESTED RECIPES

FOR LUNCHEON

BY BIDDY BYE

Among the many wonderful things Uncle Sam does for us, and which all too few of us know about, is the testing and compiling of food recipes.

The following are a series of government recipes used in food demonstrations and study classes in different states by some demonstration agents for the United States department of agriculture. These agents work in connection with the various state agriculture colleges.

The ones selected here were chosen for their suitability as the main dish at noon day luncheon in homes where there are hungry boys and girls coming in from school.

Baked Bean Soup: 1 pint baked beans and liquid, 1 pint white sauce, Milk 1/2 cupful flour, 1/2 cupful butter, 1/2 teaspoonful pepper. Melt the butter, stir in the flour and seasonings. Add milk gradually and stir constantly until it thickens. This is the white sauce and to it add the bean pulp and liquid which has been forced through a strainer. Flavor with a little onion juice.

Vegetable Souffle: 1/2 cupful cornmeal, 1 1/2 cupful boiling water, 1/2 teaspoonful paprika, 2 teaspoonful salt, 2 tomatoes, 1 green pepper, 1 tablespoonful grated onion, 2 eggs. Stir the hot water, salt, pepper, cut tomatoes, green pepper and grated onion into the corn meal; when mixed add the beaten eggs and fold in the whites, beaten stiff. Bake for 40 minutes.

American Chop Suey: 1/2 cupful spaghetti or rice, 1 pint-can tomatoes, 1/2 teaspoonful paprika, 1/2 cupful cooked or uncooked meat, chopped, 1 small onion, 1 teaspoonful salt. Cook rice or spaghetti in boiling water until tender. Drain, add other ingredients, pour into well-greased baking dish, and bake in oven until meat is cooked.

Minestrina: 6-inch strip fat salt pork, 1 cupful celery, chopped small, 1/2 cupful rice, salt and pepper, 1 large onion, 1/2 peck spinach, 1 tablespoonful chopped cheese, 1 teaspoonful Worcestershire sauce. Cut pork fine, chop onions and celery, add the spinach, cook in double boiler for 1 hour, or until pork has melted. Add 2 quarts boiling water, cook directly over fire 10 minutes. Add rice, cook 30 minutes more. Add cheese and flavoring. Serve at once. Minestrina is an Italian dish that has proved very popular.

Vegetable Stew: 1/2 cupful carrots, 1/2 cupful celery, 1/2 cupful turnips, 1 1/2 cupful potato, 1 tablespoonful onion. Prepare the amounts of vegetables given and cut into small cubes. Sauté all except potatoes in 3 tablespoonfuls of drippings until a delicate brown. Add salt and pepper to taste, and a quart of boiling water. Add the potatoes 20 minutes before the stew is finished and 1 teaspoonful of chopped parsley. The potatoes will usually thicken the stew sufficiently, but flour may be added 10 minutes before serving for thicker consistency.

Corn Roast: 1 cupful corn, 1 cupful bread crumbs, 1/2 cupful chopped cooked carrots, 2 eggs, beaten, 2 tablespoonfuls melted fat, 1 tablespoonful chopped parsley. Salt and pepper. Mix the ingredients together, in the order named, omitting 1 tablespoonful fat. Shape into loaf on a greased baking sheet, brush over with the remaining fat and bake for 25 minutes in a moderate oven. Serve at once with white or brown sauce.

NOTTINGHAM BAN ON GERMAN WORKERS

(N. E. A. Special to The Sun)

NOTTINGHAM, Eng., Oct. 3.—Nottingham lace makers hope all Germans will be sent back to Germany. Nottingham has experienced the crookedness of the Germans in business. German agents worked their way into the lace industry which is the backbone of Nottingham, learned all its secrets and then set out for home to compete with the Nottingham lace, or set up in business under the noses of those who taught them. Result: Nottingham board of trade passes a resolution to trade with no firm which employs an enemy alien during the next ten years.

ENGLAND MAKES WAR ON RATS

(N. E. A. Special to The Sun)

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Damage by rats in agricultural districts of England is estimated at a billion dollars a year! The result is a national campaign to exterminate rats, plans for a national rat week in October and for the organization of rat clubs to kill off the rodents.

Exhausted at sixteen regains strength with RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women.

MISS EMMA MESSIER

I am sixteen years of age, and last year I was excessively weak, owing to the fact that I was forced to start working at a very early age, with the result that I soon became exhausted. My mother, who had great confidence in the efficacy of RED PILLS, persuaded me to take them during the period of one year. Today, thanks to the good results obtained from their regular use, I am feeling much stronger and have more ambition to attend to my daily duties. We always have a few boxes of RED PILLS on hand at my home, and I am only too happy to say that in my opinion RED PILLS are an excellent tonic for weak and suffering young girls.

BIG COFFEE YIELD PLEASES HAWAII

(N. E. A. Special to The Sun) HONOLULU, Oct. 3.—Hawaii will have the biggest coffee crop this year that it has ever gathered. And the price is double that of a year ago. The situation is a pleasing one to growers, however, the consumer may feel. For several years the price has been so low that cost of production ate up profits. This year the growers are due for a cleanup. The only dry in the continent is the shortage of labor. Arrangements are being made to release children over 12 from school that they may help in the harvest.

MORE GOVERNMENT CANNED FOOD

Mayor Thompson will make every effort to secure another carload of government canned foodstuffs for Lowell within a short time and as soon as price lists are secured, regulations will be made upon the zone finance officer in Boston. The mayor is particularly anxious to get a generous shipment of bacon in the next car and also would like to get large quantities of cocoa, coffee, condensed milk and vegetables.

PEARSON WINS IN DISTRICT RECOUNT

Gardner W. Pearson of this city has strengthened his lead over Senator Edward B. Eames of Reading in the contest for the republican nomination for senator in the seventh district as the result of a recount held in every town and city of the district with the exception of Roxbury. The Lowell man now has a lead of 23 votes and as there were but 19 ballots cast in Roxbury, a recount there will not affect the lead. Mr. Pearson will be opposed for election by Charles H. Burns of Lynn, the democratic nominee.

LOWELL'S MOTORCYCLE POLICE SQUAD READY

Lowell's motorcycle police squad will get into action tomorrow, according to Mayor Perry D. Thompson, and the police protection of the city will be very materially increased by their presence.

Three motorcycles, each equipped with a side car, fire extinguisher and a first aid kit, will be put into operation. The motorcycles will in reality be combinations of police patrol, fire apparatus and ambulance. Patrolmen Hamilton, O'Sullivan and Lynch have been assigned for duty on the machines and their territory will include Pawtucketville, Belvidere and Centralville. They will work mainly in the outlying sections of the city and will have much more territory to cover than the ordinary patrolman.

The mayor's purpose in installing

the machines in the department is to remedy conditions now existing which have caused certain outlying sections of the city to receive only meagre protection. For the present the machines will be kept at the central fire station pending the repairing of the floor of the police station garage.

TWO FIRE ALARMS

The fire department responded to two alarms for slight fires this forenoon, one at 8.33 o'clock for a blaze in the waste chute of the Tremont & Suffolk mills and the other at 10.35 o'clock for a blaze in a bale of cotton in a freight car in the yard of the B. & M. in Thorndike street. The former was a still alarm and when the firemen reached the premises the blaze had been extinguished, while the latter was a telephone call. There was no damage.

FEAR FOR SAFETY OF MISSING AIRMEN

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 3.—Fear for the safety of Captain Carl W. Damman and Lieut. Edward J. Verheyden, pilot and aide, respectively, of the Wichita, Kas., Aero club entry in the national championship balloon race, was expressed today by Major Albert Bond Lambert, an official of the race. No word has been received from them since they took the air shortly after 6 p. m., Wednesday, when the race started here.

Apparently the Ohio, the smallest of the 10 balloons in the contest, has travelled farthest of any of the six which have landed.

Captain Warren Raser, its pilot, telegraphed he descended at 1 p. m., yesterday at Perry Sound, Ont., several hundred miles north of Simcoe county, where the Murphysboro, Ill., entry came to earth.

CLUB LAFAYETTE HONORS MEMBER

Mr. Ernest J. Dupont, a prominent club man and well known in musical circles, will be married next Tuesday to Miss Yvonne Rochette, daughter of Dr. L. V. Rochette of Merrimack street. When the members of the Club Lafayette, of which Mr. Dupont is a former president and secretary, heard that their fellow clubman was to become a bachelor they immediately got busy on plans for a bachelor party in his honor and the affair was carried out last evening in the well appointed quarters of the organization in Merrimack street and was participated in by about 100 members and friends of the club.

Good fellowship was the keynote that prevailed from the early evening until the wee hours of the morning. Musical numbers were given, speeches were delivered and a buffet luncheon was served under the able direction of Chief Bert Grey, who had spared nothing to make the "ests" most palatable, and with great success. The feature of the evening, however, was the presentation of a gift to the benefactor as a token of esteem, this being a handsome mahogany standing electric lamp. The presentation was made by Dr. George E. Calise, treasurer of the club, who in a brief address congratulated Mr. Dupont on his choice of a bride and after thanking him for the valuable services rendered the club during his term of office, extended to him the best wishes of his fellow clubmen. Mr. Dupont responded briefly, thanking his friends for their mark of esteem and assuring them that their kindness will never be forgotten.

The presentation was followed by a varied musical program in which the following named participated: Messrs. Arthur G. Leveille, Willie Rousseau, Alfred Ducharme, Omer J. Smith, Dr. A. J. Gagnon, Hon. John T. Sparks, Frank Monette, Harry Briggs, Ugei Favreau, Armand J. Dupont, W. P. Calise, Jr., Dr. J. E. Lamoureux, Dewey G. Archambault, Victor Rochette, Herve D. Parthenais, E. Gaston Campbell, J. and H. Pontbriand, the two latter of Nashua, N. H., Z. A. Norman, Telephore Beauparlant, Ovide Morin, Venace Favreau, James Lavallee, E. J. Laroche and others. Mr. J. B. Blouin of Montreal, a composer of music and known in the musical world as Johann Jose, presided at the piano and delighted his audience with musical numbers. Mr. Blouin is an artist and his efforts were highly appreciated.

Shortly after 11 o'clock all repaired to the dining room, where a very appetizing buffet luncheon was served. Later toasts were given and various games were played. The gathering broke up at a seasonable hour after all had extended their best wishes to Mr. Dupont. The evening's program had been arranged and was successfully carried out under the direction of the board of directors of the club of which Mr. F. N. Labelle is president.

Overdoing

How American Women Break Down

Owing to the modern manner of living and the nervous haste of every woman to accomplish just so much each day, they overdo, and as a consequence develop ailments peculiar to their sex, as is indicated by backache, headache, nervousness, the blues, displacements and weakness.

Women who find themselves in this condition should slow down, and depend upon that good old fashioned root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, to restore them to health and strength, for there is no other remedy known that so quickly restores a healthy, normal condition.

Here is the Story of a Most Remarkable Recovery

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was run down and nervous, could not rest at night, and was more tired in the morning than when I went to bed. I have two children, the youngest three months old, and it was drudgery to care for them as I felt so irritable and generally worn out. From lack of rest and appetite my baby did not get enough nourishment from me, so I started to give him two bottle feedings a day. After taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman, full of life and energy. It is a pleasure to care for my children and I am very happy with them and feel fine. I nurse my baby exclusively again, and can't say too much for your medicine."

THE HOME STORAGE OF VEGETABLES

The home storage of vegetables is an interesting topic of discussion among home gardeners at this time of the year. Most everyone has a surplus of vegetables in the garden. In order to save these for home consumption during the winter they must be placed in proper storage this month.

There are three different kinds of storage required for garden products. The first of these is the cool storage, such as a moist dark cellar or pit. Potatoes should be kept in bins in this storage. Beets, carrots, salsify, turnips, kohlrabi and parsnips should be buried in sand. Other vegetables which may be kept in this cool, moist storage are cabbage, Brussels sprouts, cauliflower and celery. The roots of these vegetables should be set in sand. The temperature in the cool, moist storage should be kept between 35 and 40 degrees.

The second type of storage is the cool, dry storage such as an unheated room in the dwelling. Onions, eggplants, peppers and tomatoes keep best under such conditions. The temperature of the cool, dry storage should be regulated between 35 and 40 degrees, the same as for the cool, moist storage.

The third kind of vegetable storage is the warm, dry storage, such as is usually found in a partially heated room or cellar with a furnace.

Squashes and pumpkins keep best in such places where the temperature ranges from 50 to 60 degrees.

There are several things to remember when storing vegetables. The vegetables must be free from bruises and decay, well matured and dry when put in storage. Stored vegetables should not be piled to a depth of more than two or three feet. Decayed vegetables should be sorted out and removed at intervals during the winter to prevent spreading decay to sound products.

A cool storage in cellars with a furnace can be provided by partitioning off a part of the cellar farthest away from the furnace. This room should contain a cellar window for ventilation which should be closed in severe cold weather.

According to an announcement made a couple of days ago, Mr. Joseph A. Landry and Miss Pearl Virginia Fillion will be united in the bonds of matrimony some time next month. Both young people are well known in this city, where they count a host of friends. Miss Fillion is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Fillion of 348 Hildreth street. SOUTH END DISTRICT DANCE BIG SUCCESS

The social and dance held in Association hall last night by young women of the South End district for the benefit of the general fund of the welcome-home celebration attracted a capacity crowd. It was one of the first dancing parties of the fall season and hundreds of the city's young people welcomed the return to the realm of jazz.

Two splendid orchestras, Markham's and Miner-Boyle's furnished music, playing alternately throughout the long program of dance numbers. A concert proceeded the dancing and the or continued with but one brief intermission period from 5 o'clock until midnight. Not only was the hall floor completely covered with dancers, but the balconies were filled as well, older persons sitting there to enjoy the music fully as much as those below who danced to its perfect rhythm.

The young women of the district who served in different capacities to make the event a success were: General manager, Miss Mary E. Markham; assistant general manager, Louise M. O'Connell; floor director, Miss Anna O'Connell; assistant floor director, Mrs. James Hogan; treasurer, Miss Mollie Roane; assistant treasurer, Miss Anastasia Lannon; chief aid, Miss Mary Carmody and aids, Marie Markham, Helen Donahue, Mrs. Connors, Catherine Callahan, Kathleen O'Dea, Esther Donahue, Mollie Donahue, Helen O'Connell, Margaret Chase, Madeline O'Dea, Helen Shea, Sadie Fitzgerald, Mary Fitzgerald, Anna Mulcahy, Mrs. Theresa Corby Melancon, Mrs. Michael J. BIG BONFIRE WILL OPEN CELEBRATION

The big bonfire on the old Fair grounds, which will mark the official opening of the South End welcome-home to service men, is expected to be one of the big features of the celebration. The work of erecting the huge pile of wood, logs, etc., is in charge of the Manhattan Social club, and each and every member of the progressive organization is working zealously to make their part of the program a great success.

The pile now stands 10 feet high and the members plan to add about 10 feet between now and the time to apply the torch. In addition to the bonfire there will be a band concert.

In years gone by the old Fair grounds has been the scene of some of the greatest bonfires ever witnessed in this city, and those in charge of this one aver that it will be the best on record.

All residents of the neighborhood as well as others throughout the city have co-operated in the work and the Manhattan are grateful to all who gave a hand. Chief Saunders of the fire department, Mr. Hunnewell of the Lowell Electric Light Corp., officers of the B. & M. railroad, Leon Mullen and several others are among those who have given valuable aid to the committee.

The officers of the Manhattan club in charge of the bonfire follow: Francis Farrell, president; Ed Sweeney, vice president; John J. Barton, secretary; and Eugene Mahan, treasurer.

SEN. REED'S VIEWS OF ECG THROWING

ARDMORE, Ok., Oct. 3.—Before he left for Tulsa, Ok., Senator Reed yesterday dictated this statement:

"My compliments to the decent people of Ardmore, my contempt for the thugs who denied to these people the privilege of this assembly under the flag and constitution of the United States.

"If the friends of the League of Nations imagine that the character of the argument employed last night will win friends for their cause, I believe they have mistaken the temper of the American people. I am very sure they mistake the temper of the people of Ardmore. So far as I am concerned the incident is closed, but I desire to remark that the occurrence may serve to illustrate the fact that probably we had better learn to govern ourselves before we take charge of the rest of the world and undertake to run it."

REPUBLICAN STATE LEAGUE LUNCHEON

Six delegates from this city went to Boston this noon to attend a luncheon and conference of the Republican League of Massachusetts at the Boston City club. The event is being held as a sort of preamble to the state republican convention being held in that city tomorrow.

The Lowell men who went to Boston today were: William J. White, Jr., Richard Bratbrook Walsh, Frederick A. Harvey, Francis M. Qua, Abel R. Campbell and Arthur F. Woodley.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Below is what the press agents of the different theatres say of the current attractions and of others to come:

THE STRAND

Yesterday's presentation of "Oh, Boy!" at the Strand revealed the fact that Albert Capeland, "the wizard of shadowing," as he has been called, has achieved a new and delightful triumph, an offering shot with sunshine and smiles and feminine loveliness. He has taken "Oh, Boy!" Broadway's conspicuous musical success, and conveyed it into the screen with all of the technical skill, art, of the delicate art and beauty which mark his more serious productions. It is in no way inferior to the stage presentation in entertainment quality. And this, he it said, is high praise, for "Oh, Boy!" on the stage was a smashing success. See it.

"Broken Commandments" love and sorrow, three-sided romance, is the other attraction for the weekend. This too is a really remarkable picture that must be seen to be appreciated to the full.

H. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Comedy and plots of characters, these are the hall marks of H. F. Keith's theatre. This week, there is James J. Morton, turn of men, who will last force a laugh if one is in you. He calls his work "investigation." It is a comedy of fun, comedy, burlesque, three and there is no harder working man on the stage. Wilbur Sullivan and Genevieve Houston have a racy dancing and comedy turn, and Pietro, the pianist-acrobat, plays melodies despatched. Other acts on the bill are: Billie Mae and her troupe, in a comedy, "The Little Girl in the Shoe," and a variety of other acts.

OPERA HOUSE

One of the funniest of the many funny scenes of "Fair and Warmer," the latest comedy that is being presented at the Opera House, is the scene in the second act, when the two leading women, and the two leading men, are in a "cuckoo" and the effects on the pair. You will laugh yourself tired at the antics of the two as they re-

INCREASE AMOUNTS BANKS CAN LOAN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The senate today passed the house bill increasing the amount national banks can loan on bills of lading and sight drafts from 10 to 25 per cent. of their capital and surplus. The measure now goes to conference.

Best their feelings after their second and third indulgence. And then the morning after." See the play and get a full measure of genuine excitement.

Next week America's greatest drama, "The Great Divide," will be presented with a full cast and along with the original production, it's a play in which John Merdon will be seen to best advantage. On Monday the management is to give another half the day's receipts to the South End fund. Special features will be provided in addition to the regular production and it's to be known as "South End Day." Don't miss it.

LAST CHANCES TO WITNESS "THE MIRACLE MAN"

Tonight and tomorrow are the last opportunities afforded Lowell theatregoers to witness George Loane Tucker's famous production, "The Miracle Man," which is being presented at the Merrimack square theatre.

The central figure in the story is a patriarch in a little village who possesses the power to heal the sick and maimed. Tom Burke, a New York gangster, and his pals scheme to use him as a means of enriching themselves. With this view, they visit him and are astounded to discover that his power to heal is absolutely bona-fide. How the word that he is latent in the crooks is brought out is the theme of the drama, which is one of the most striking yet produced. Prominent in the strong cast are Tina Melghan, Elinor Fair, Joseph J. Dowling and Betty Compson.

LOWELL CONGREGATIONAL CLUB

The first fall meeting of the Lowell Congregational club will be held next Tuesday evening, Oct. 7, at the Pawtucket church. A social hour will extend from 6 to 6:30 o'clock and dinner will be served at 6:30. Rev. A. G. Lyon, president of the club, will preside and the speaker of the evening will be Rev. H. F. Swartz, who will speak on "The Debt of the World to the Pilgrims, and the Coming Tercentenary Celebration."

Girl Asks the United States
to Aid Country in Free-

WASHINGTON, D. C., October.—
Here to plead for independence for her native land, Miss Nodie Kim, a prominent Korean girl, is attracting
much attention in the national capitol.

Nodie Kim's father was one of the first Koreans to be reached by the missionaries, and he and all his family

were Christians.

"Many young people I have known,
girls as well as boys, says the little Korean girl, 'have escaped from Korea
and the Japanese by disguising themselves and making the terrible journey
over the northern mountains into Manchuria. They have even gone in winter, when babies have been frozen on their mothers' backs, and when big men have been frozen to death. They thought it better even to freeze to death than to endure what the Japanese wanted.

"Some day the people of Korea will be free, or there will no longer be a people of Korea. We say with you,
'Give me liberty or give me death.'
Our school girls say it, and go to the police without fear. We ask the free
American people to be the friends of Korea. I am helping to establish a League of the Friends of Korea, and I hope that many Americans will join."

WHEN WOMEN RULE THE WORLD

It was the first really important meeting of the all-women cabinet of
Mrs. Perkins, the first woman president of the United States. The matter under consideration by the cabinet
was exceedingly important—it was
war!

The faces of all the cabinet members were stern and grave, only the face of Mrs. Johnson, the secretary of the recently established department of millinery and dressmaking, retained anything like its usual piquancy and prettiness.

"We must remember our men folks,"
said Mrs. Perkins, gravely. "It will be hard on our men to have us women go to the front and fight. We must remember that man is the weaker sex
and we must be prepared for many heart-breaking scenes when the mobilization of our woman's army is announced and the terrified, heart-broken men cling frantically about the
necks of their women warriors."

"But," said Mrs. Smith, secretary of
a just war—to protect our men from
the indignities which might be thrust
upon them by the women warriors of
our enemy in the case of our defeat.
We must remember that if we go to

At the thought of their weak, suffering, loved men at home the faces of the women became even more grave.
At this moment a phone message came
to Mrs. President Perkins. She listened
a moment, smiled and then hastily addressed the meeting.

this war matter later. The most important thing in the world has happened. My daughter's husband has just phoned that my newest grandchild has just cut a tooth! The meeting is adjourned!"

And, amid the excited exclamations
of the stateswomen, the cabinet meeting broke up.—N.E.A.

Has He Found a Cure for Asthma?

Simple Prescription Gives Instant
Relief. Makes Breathing Easy.

In New England, where Bronchial
Asthma, Bronchitis and other diseases
of the throat and lungs are so prevalent, remarkably successful results are being reported following the use of a new form of treatment known as Oxidaze, a physician's prescription.

Oxidaze is a harmless but powerful
combination of curative essential oils
concentrated and compressed into a small tablet. One of these tablets
slowly dissolved before going to bed
seems to have the effect of releasing
the muscular constriction of the bronchial tubes, opening up the air passages and regulating spasmodic lung action. This enables the patient to breathe easily and naturally while lying down and to get a comfortable
night's sleep.

So much interest has been shown that local druggists, including Lowell
Pharmacy, have secured a small supply
and state that they are authorized to refund the money paid for the first package if in any case this new treatment fails to give relief. Oxidaze is pleasant to take, contains no harmful, habit-forming drugs and is not expensive. This makes their test an easy matter.—Adv.

CAMEL HAD NECK AND LEGS OF A GIRAFFE

AMHERST, Oct. 2.—A camel with the neck and legs of a giraffe, ranged the plains of Colorado a million and a half years ago with the ancestral three-toed horse, the Amherst college geological expedition found in its researches of the past summer. The expedition, which has just returned from western Nebraska and Colorado, brought back what is considered a prize collection of fossil bones.

From incomplete but representative parts of the skeletons of the "giraffe-camel" the scientists have reconstructed in theory an animal which although a camel, had the build of the modern giraffe, and was nearly its size. Ancestral members of the deer, rhinoceros, mastodon and some rodent families were represented by other bones.

Under the Miocene sandstones in prairie deposits of fine clay a million or more years older than the sandstone, were found other skeletons, including one of a tiny camel no larger than a half grown sheep. At the Pawnee Buttes a fossil egg similar in size and shape to that of the present day hen was uncovered, indicating the existence in those days of a bird, no part of the skeleton of which has ever been found.

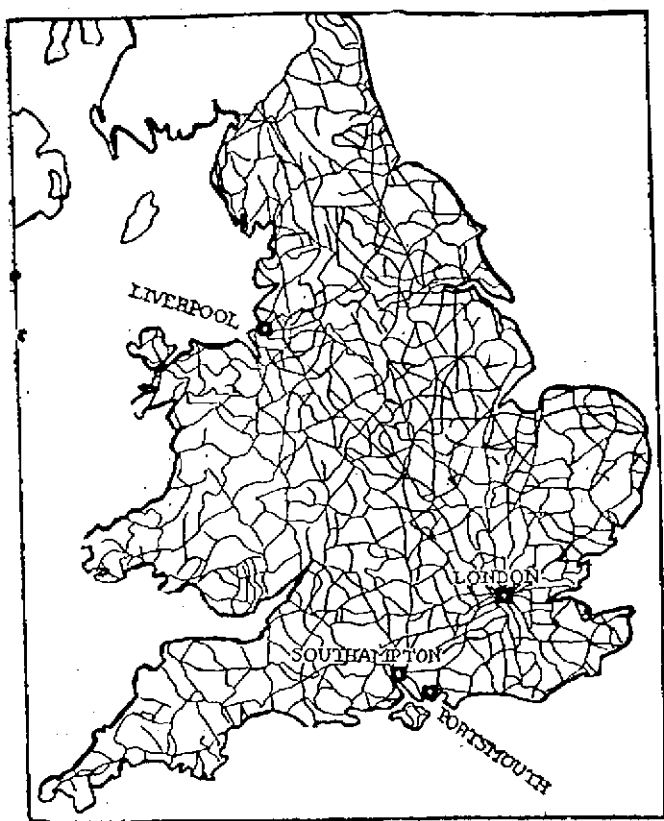

HOUSES FALL UNDER WEIGHT OF HAILSTONES

MADRID, Oct. 3. (Havas).—Interruption of railroad traffic and telegraph communication prevents details of conditions in eastern Spain, where torrential rains have fallen, from becoming known. It is reported that 13 bodies have been discovered at Cartagena and five at Alicante. At the latter place large hailstones were piled in some places to a depth of over six feet, many houses collapsing under the weight.

Lawrence Health Board Chairman Resigns

LAWRENCE, Oct. 3.—Dissatisfied with a salary of $300, Daniel J. Mur-

ENGLAND'S NETWORK OF RAILWAYS

LONDON.—A railroad map of England reveals the astonishing network of lines which make up England's part of 25,000 miles of railway in the United Kingdom. A mile of railway for every five square miles of area is about the proportion throughout Great Britain.

phy, chairman of the board of health for the past five years, resigned with the request that his successor be appointed immediately. He will continue as superintendent of sanitation, a civil service position, which pays $2100.

Mr. Murphy alleges that he is tired of working 24 hours a day for 365 days in the year. In the future he intends to work only "eight hours a day."

The board of health is an important position and should carry with it more than a salary of the paltry sum of $300, said Mr. Murphy.

Encouraging Bolshevism

Everything that falsely encourages unrest also encourages bolshevism.

Misunderstanding of American industrial organization, and of its benefits to mankind, leads to unrest, dissatisfaction, and radicalism.

For example, the Federal Trade Commission tells the public that the large packers had an agreed price for lard substitute (made of cotton-seed oil)

It reproduces letters taken from the files of one of the packers, showing that such agreed price existed.

But it failed to mention that the agreed price was determined at the request of and in co-operation with the Food Administration!

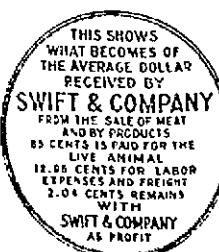

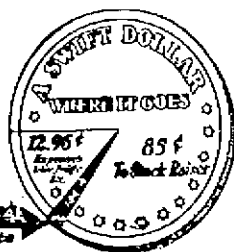

Even the Department of Justice, in its unjust attempt to create prejudice against the packers, has made public these same letters, with no explanation.

How long must this kind of misrepresentation continue? In so far as it is believed, it not only breeds discontent, but results in injustice to our industry.

GREET KING AND QUEEN

Belgian Royal Party Make Formal Entry Into New York—Meet Children

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The king and queen of the Belgians, with Prince Leopold, heir to the throne cast ashore today the "incognito" which had shrouded them since their welcome at noon yesterday to the United States by Vice President Marshall, and boarded the yacht Noma in the Hudson river to make their formal entry into New York.

Driven by automobile from the Waldorf-Astoria, where they spent the night, to the foot of West 34th street, they were received by Rodman Wana-maker, chairman of Mayor Hylan's committee on reception to distinguished guests, committee members and city officials.

The Noma immediately cast off and started on a cruise about the harbor

prior to the official landing at the Battery.

The "incognito" which the king and queen chose to assume upon their arrival yesterday was a novelty to New Yorkers as was the presence in the city for the first time of a reigning king and queen.

The incognito proved only partially effective so far as Albert was concerned. When he went for an automobile tour of the city with Prince Leopold, he was fervently cheered. He received an especially enthusiastic ovation at Columbia, where he was recognized by students leaving their classes.

He visited the Belgian bureau, where he was greeted by 200 Belgians in a reception arranged by Monsignor J. F. Sillemans, bureau director. The king decorated Monsignor Sillemans with the Order of Knight of the Crown and conferred on Pierre Mall, Belgian consul general, a commandship of the same order.

Queen Elizabeth's incognito aided by a heavy white veil, proved more effective. Accompanied by the Baroness de Caraman Chimay, her lady-in-waiting, and the Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Belgian ambassador to the United States, she visited several Fifth avenue stores and made small purchases from saleswomen who failed to realize the rank of their quiet customer.

In the evening the king and queen essayed to visit a Broadway motion picture show but every theatre they visited displayed the "Standing Room Only" sign and they were forced to abandon the plan.

The queen with her lady-in-waiting and the Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne then visited a cabaret, accompanied by Baron de Caraman Chimay. King Albert spent the evening chatting with friends.

The king and queen expected to greet 50,000 children this afternoon in Central park. They will attend a theatre in the evening. Tomorrow night they will leave for Boston.

King Albert desired to go to Washington incognito in order to express his sympathy with President Wilson in his illness but abandoned his plans on receipt of a telegram from Rear Admiral Grayson that the president's condition rendered it necessary to prohibit his receiving any visitors.

German meals cost a third less than in the United States.

INFANT MORTALITY RATE STILL HIGH

Lowell's infant mortality rate for the week ending Sept. 27 was 32.1, sufficiently high to give this city second place among the large cities of the country which make reports. Fall River led with 31.8 and Dayton was third with 30.8. Atlanta was low with 2.1 and the average rate was 16.7. Rates for the large cities were: Boston, 19.7; New York, 19; Philadelphia, 22; and Chicago, 19.

TRANSFERS FROM CLAIMS APPROPRIATION

In view of the demand for funds in various municipal departments to complete the fiscal year, it is probable that transfers will be made from the claims appropriation which at the present time has a substantial balance. So far this year only $4051.46 have been expended in claims out of an appropriation at the beginning of the year amounting to $15,353.17.

ASKS WITHDRAWAL OF AMERICAN TROOPS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—In the house today, Representative Tinkham submitted the following resolution, which was referred to the committee on foreign affairs and ordered to be printed:

"Resolved, by the house of representatives that the use of armed forces of the United States in Europe and Asia against any people with which the United States is at peace without express authorization of congress, or the use of such troops for the supervision of rebellious, the domination of frontiers, the determination of racial rights and other tasks to which they are known to have been assigned, is incompatible with the traditions and policies of this country, and certain, whether or not by design, to commit this government to policies over which it can exercise no control; and that, inasmuch as in effect, if not technically, our army has been demobilized, there should be no delay in withdrawing our troops from participation in international arrangements, whether temporary or permanent, until sanction of congress shall have been granted.

COAL SHORTAGE MAKES RAILROAD STRIKE FEEL IN IRELAND

DUBLIN, Oct. 3. (By Associated Press).—The national executive of the Irish labor party and the Trades union congress will hold a mass meeting Sunday in support of the striking railway men in England, Scotland and Wales. The coal shortage is making Ireland feel the effects of the strike acutely. Beginning last night the Dublin tram cars will cease running at 8.30 each evening. This will be a severe blow to all the amusement places. The mail services also are disorganized.

Labor Conference Will Be Held

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Regardless of whether any additional nations ratify the peace treaty in the meantime, there will be no postponement of the international labor conference called for Oct. 29 in Washington by President Wilson under authority conferred by the treaty. This announcement was made today by E. H. Greenwood, of the department of labor, who is in charge of the arrangements for the meeting.

GAS HIGHER IN LAWRENCE

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—Expressing the opinion that advances in operating costs, including recent wage increases, warrant a higher rate, the Gas and Electric Light commission yesterday authorized an increase from $1.15 to $1.25 per 1000 cubic feet by the Lawrence Gas company, effective as of Oct. 1. An increase of 26 cents had been granted since April 1, when the rate was 55 cents.

ALASKA ABLE TO PAY WAR DEBT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—"Alaska can pay the nation's war debt."

That's the new slogan of Uncle Sam's last pioneer country to the north.

Not only can Alaska pay the nation's debt, but its people are anxious to do so.

All they need to do is more men and some of the government's money invested in development of natural resources.

Untold wealth, in raw gold, silver, copper and other minerals, lies buried in the mountains of Alaska, where few men have ever set foot. If properly developed, that wealth, dug from the bowels of the earth, will, if the income tax collector does his duty, pay the nation's debt in full.

During the war Alaska's productivity almost reached a standstill. Now, however, the eyes of the government are again being turned on this comparatively virgin country, and the eyes of the people of Alaska are being turned on Washington.

Here's why Alaska can pay the war debt of the United States:

It has an area of 586,400 square miles, extending from the 54th degree of north latitude to the 75th degree. If these figures don't mean much to you, these will: Alaska's area is greater than 20 of the 48 states of the Union put together!

Its taxable wealth today is less than that of the smallest state of the

—but its potential wealth is far greater than that of the 20 states mentioned!

Alaska's wealth has only been scraped off the surface. Its population in 1900 was only 63,592, and in 1910 it was officially given as 61,934—an increase of only 1392 in 10 years. But in reality the war, which took nearly all the men from Alaska, cut its population in half. These men are now returning, and trying to induce others to return with them.

Once Alaska has the population its resources will support, it will be the richest section of the United States.

The daylight saving must have originated in Alaska, for there they have 22 hours of daylight in summer time!

To show how easily Alaska can support a population of many millions, officials of the Alaska bureau of the government call attention to the fact that it is in the same latitude as a section of European Russia which is smaller than Alaska, but has a population of 5,553,000. Included in this section are the cities of Petrograd and Archangel, as well as all the largest cities of Russia. All of Sweden lies in practically the same latitude as Alaska.

In that country, wheat, rye and other grains, potatoes, vegetables of all kinds and livestock thrive.

In 1910 Alaska had 223 improved farms, with an average of 191 acres to the farm, and with a total valuation, including buildings and livestock, of $1,468,492. Since 1910 the number of farms has vastly increased, but there are still miles and miles of fertile soil waiting for the hand of the settler.

SUPPLY OF SUGAR 25
PER CENT SHORT

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—Brigadier-General John H. Sherburne, chairman of the commission on the necessities of life, stated yesterday that during the next three months residents of New England must get along on 75 per cent. of their usual allotment of sugar, the supply being approximately 25 per cent. short.

Increased Demand

The shortage, Gen. Sherburne says, is due largely to increased demand for the sweet stuff for candy making. In part the making up of last year's deficiency but chiefly to the greatly increased consumption. The consumption has been greater during the past nine months than ever in the history of New England, he said. During this period the shipments in New England have totaled 101,000 tons as against 140,000 tons during the same period in 1915.

Asked about the rumors that large amounts of sugar refined in this vicinity have been shipped abroad, Gen. Sherburne said the sugar equalization board has an arrangement with the royal commission under which a certain portion of the Cuban crop is allotted to England. But of England's sugar is refined here, but the New England supply is not at all diminished because of this, as the refineries use only their surplus capacity on England's sugar, and they are able to handle all that is consigned to them for New England consumption.

Not more than 700 tons out of New England's supply has gone abroad, and these shipments were due to a mistake last July, when the supply was over-estimated and the demand under-estimated. These shipments have been ended, however, and New England will retain hereafter all the sugar intended for it.

To Equalize Allotments

With reference to plans for meeting the shortage conditions, Gen. Sherburne said a voluntary committee has been organized in the sugar trade, the duty of which will be to equalize allotments among wholesalers and suppliers. Sugar cards have been considered, but it is certain that there will be no reduction in price before next spring, and therefore advises everyone to place orders at once for such coal as will be needed during the winter, in order that dealers may know just what their needs are to be.

With respect to prices of general commodities, Gen. Sherburne says the commission has found that since Sept. 9, when its first fair price list was issued, pork products have dropped about 10 per cent. in price, beef, 6 per cent.; lamb, 5 per cent., and general groceries, an average of 5.5-10 per cent. He expects there will be a further advance in butter and eggs, but for other commodities the commission expects to fix a steady decline in prices.

Hickman is the 30th to be arrested in connection with the recent investigation of automobile stealing, which is being conducted by District Attorney Tufts and the Cambridge police.

The first application of Howard's Buttermilk Cream will astonish you. It creates beauty almost like magic. The most wonderful thing about it is the fact that whilst it turns the darkest, most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes rid of rough hands or arms, snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin. No matter whether you are troubled with a poor complexion, wrinkles, puffiness around the eyes, freckles, crow's feet or lines around the mouth, ugly cancer ulcers, or just a simple roughness of the face, hands or arms caused by wind or sun, you will find that any or all of these troubles will quickly disappear with the use of Howard's Buttermilk Cream.

To prove this to your complete satisfaction, get a small quantity today at Fred Howard's and show the Druggist, with the understanding that

SCAMPS IN THEATRES

Although no prosecutions have thus far been brought, it appears that many ladies who attend motion picture shows in this city are annoyed by men who sit beside them and indulge in unwarranted familiarity after the lights are lowered. The managers of the theatre have had many complaints as the result of offenses of this character, and it is probable that an example soon will be made of some of the hoodlums who insult respectable women by their unruly advances. The law is very severe against such offenders and it is to be hoped that cases of this kind will be reported at once to the police officers present in the theatres, so that the guilty parties may be promptly arrested and brought to punishment.

TO BLOCKADE GERMANY

The allies threaten to renew the blockade on Germany unless German troops are withdrawn from the Baltic provinces. The German government at Berlin protests that it has no control over those troops inasmuch as they have enlisted in the Russian White army. That is set down as a subterfuge by the allies and Germany has been notified that she must withdraw the troops or be prepared to withstand the effects of a blockade.

At the present time such a proceeding on the part of the allies might have serious results. It is feared that, in the first place, it might overthrow the German government and enable the monarchists to gain control. In this way a powerful combination between the monarchists of Germany and those of Russia might be formed for the control of both countries. It seems that the allies can scarcely make a move of any kind without stirring up seas of trouble, worse than those they attempt to remedy.

GARY'S ATTITUDE

Chairman Gary of the American Steel corporation, opposes the steel strike because he believes it would lead to the closed shop which he says would override the rights of those who do not belong to the unions and result in industrial decay. "The open shop," he said, "maintains the right of the employer to bring about the greatest production with only the interests of the employer, the employee and the public in sight."

Evidently Judge Gary is opposed to collective bargaining as that term is understood by the unions, and he declares that his company will fight for the open shop with all its resources. That places the issue very clearly before the country so that there is no room for any misunderstanding.

Whether the United States senate can change the attitude of the steel magnates is not quite clear. So far as long working hours are concerned, it is understood that this is a matter of discretion with the men. Were it not for the prominence attained by W. Z. Foster as an out and out radical and J. W. W., there would be some chance of a compromise; but with him as leader of the strike, there is little hope of bringing the steel corporation to terms except by a long struggle from which the men will be the chief sufferers.

INDUSTRIAL PEACE

Edwin T. Mulready, state commissioner of labor, is a man who has given deep thought to the leading questions of the day. In an address before the Round Table of the First Baptist church, he exposed some of the fallacies that lead to most of our industrial troubles. The causes do not all lie on one side by any means. Capital and labor are jointly responsible and apparently, there must be very material concessions on both sides before there can be any real improvement.

On the side of labor there must be a divorce from the extreme radical, and the employer must abandon the idea that labor has no right to say under what conditions it shall work or who shall represent it in conference with the employers. In a word, there must be a greater spirit of cooperation on both sides, more tolerance, more friendly relations, and less of that antagonism which stands always as an obstacle in the path of real success.

Mr. Mulready emphasized the fact that labor troubles are not necessary to the success of labor and that by wise diplomacy and the application of the principles of fair play, most of the labor disputes that now sweep the country might have been prevented. There is much truth in what Mr. Mulready says, but it will take a long time to bring the parties in conflict around to his way of thinking.

THE OHIO DECISION

Opponents of national prohibition in the state of Ohio have raised a legal question which promises to cause delay in the action of some states relative to the ratification of the constitutional amendment. It has been decided by the supreme court of that state that the ratification of this amendment must be submitted to the people under the referendum law of the state. Two other states, Washington and Nebraska, have raised the same point and in each case the supreme court of the state sustained the contention.

When on the 29th of January last Assistant Secretary Polk proclaimed the adoption of the amendment and named January 16 of next year as the date for its taking effect, nine of the thirty-six states that had ratified, were referendum states. The other six states that have not already done so, are now to invoke the referendum law and appeal to the people as part of the ratifying power. Should their contention be upheld by the supreme court of the United States, and it is alleged that this court is already committed to the principle—then it would appear that the amendment was not legally ratified when proclaimed by Mr. Polk.

Since then, however, it has been ratified by enough non-referendum states to make it operative, but at a later date.

When the constitution was framed, it provided for the ratification of amendments by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states. There was then no such thing as the referendum attached to legislation in any of the states. Now, however, it appears that under the decision of the Ohio court, the legislature of that state is held to include not only the two branches of the general assembly, but the citizens at large, acting through the ballot box on the question of the amendment.

The Ohio court holds that as making a constitution is the highest function of legislation, it should be passed upon by all the agencies provided by the state for legislative purposes.

This new legal technicality will be fought by the Anti-Saloon league before the United States supreme court where decision will be anxiously awaited by all the parties concerned.

COMPENSATION

Mother Nature cares for all her children. There is a law of compensating balances to this end. The abnormal is never permanent nor of long duration—there is always a return to the normal and before many days.

This is a large world. It is not a perfect world. But—it is never imperfect in all its parts all at once. The Creator had this in mind no doubt in making it so large that the elements that bring famine in one part will not affect all parts in the same season.

For instance, we have before us the special report of C. A. King & Co., Toledo, which says:

"The one outstanding fact in international agricultural statistics is the unflinching regularity with which Nature compensates poor crops in one or more countries with good crops in others."

"This providential provision," the report continues, "was strikingly in evidence during the war, and the fact that famine has been almost unknown, except through defect in transportation, is direct proof that in spite of the defection in Russia and Balkan countries, sufficient wheat has always been produced to meet consumers' needs, although, by turns, Australia, India, Argentina and North America have all had bad seasons."

The report concludes by saying that the question may be naturally asked where importing countries are to find supplies of wheat to make good the undoubted losses which have lately occurred in North America, but it is answered by saying that it would indeed be a happy experience if the losses in North America, or a good part of them, would be offset by exceptionally good mid-season crops in Argentina and India, and as already indicated, such a compensation would be nothing more wonderful than the huge American winter crop of 1914, the Indian crop of 1917 and 1918, the Australian crop of 1915 and 1916 and the Canadian crop of 1915.

All this is a clear ringing note of optimism. It inspires human confidence in Nature by the proof that she provides full harvest in one part of the world for the lean harvest in another part and all in the same year, provided the farmers do their part in co-operating with Nature's bounty.

There never was famine throughout the whole world all at one time. And with the perfection and extension of transportation there never will be famine again in any part of the world. Transportation is the final adjustment in the law of compensating balances.

Yes, Mother Nature cares for her children not only in the provision of the world's fields, but in giving them power to abridge distance over land and sea, that the full crops may be taken to the place of lean crops and in the same year, and that all years may be finally full wherever her children dwell.

Ask and ye shall receive of Mother Nature—of the fruits of the fields and the power of will in dominion over all obstacles.—N. E. A.

King Albert of Belgium shows good judgment in refusing to visit Chicago and Milwaukee, two cities that have made themselves ridiculous by their pro-Germanism during the war. Chicago was disgraced by her Mayor Thompson and but recently the mayor of Milwaukee when asked to invite King Albert to that city used a most contemptuous expression in reference to the royal visitor. Thus both cities are very properly ruled out of the itinerary of the Belgian visitors. Nevertheless, Chicago sends a humble appeal to King Albert to visit that city and it remains to be seen whether he will comply with the request.

We have received an unsigned communication protesting against our advocacy of higher salaries for the teachers of Lowell. The writer, if we are to judge from his penmanship and spelling, never had much opportunity to judge of the services of school teachers; and it is with the hope of extending the advantages of education and thus lessening the number of such near illiterates, that we favor an increase for the teachers. It would be like throwing pearls to swine to argue the question with a correspondent who says that because the "teachers can sit down all the time," they do not deserve an increase.

The provision dealers of Lowell are wondering how it is that a certain Mr. Leavitt of Lawrence can secure such an ample supply of sugar that he can send an occasional car to relieve the famine in this city. We are not criticising Mr. Leavitt for what he has done, but we are wondering why it is that some Lowell dealer cannot get into the sugar ring.

It seems now almost inevitable that the republican party will repudiate Mr. Burrell, their nominee for state treasurer as a "genuine counterfeit." This is but another illustration of the truth that "it's a bad wind that blows nobody good."

Steady work at reasonable pay will solve the troubles with which this country is menaced today.

A good old man had died; the editor endeavored to do him justice for the old man had been a life-long worker in the church, where his abundance of silver white hair had made him a conspicuous figure. The Artistic Lover
June Elridge, the most proposed-to woman in the world, has this to say about the artistic lover:

A wonderfully appealing type is the artistic lover. It is he, and he only, who can make love so that the flowers, the trees, the stars and the heavens are part of the universe of love with which he surrounds his beloved. The artistic lover brings to his love-making all the beautiful things of life—it is he who can best paint in words the burning thoughts which fill his soul for his loved ones. The artistic type of lover is not necessarily, or even usually an artist. I mean by an artistic lover, one who appreciates and loves the beautiful wherever it may be. A woman who is herself of the artistic type can best appreciate this type of lover. It is only she who can make the future home what her lover-husband can best appreciate. If you are yourself an artistic girl, you should seek out for your mate the artistic type of lover. If not, you had better steer clear of him. He will make love to you anyhow. If he has the chance, but you will be wise to marry some other type.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

The board of trade is planning to wage an exceptionally strong campaign in the interests of Americanization during this fall and winter and is endeavoring to enlist the services of representative citizens of all nationalities in the work. The announcement by the school committee that the state board of education was willing to share the expense of the work here in Lowell has greatly encouraged the Americanization committee of the board as it will add materially to the resources at hand for the campaign. Last year an excellent start was made in this work and a large number of foreign speaking people taught to speak English. Even greater strides are looked for during the coming season and it is expected that the various preliminary meetings which the board will hold to get the campaign into running order will be well attended.

The absence of John J. Mahoney, chairman of last year's campaign committee, will naturally be felt greatly, but with Mr. Mahoney's willing cooperation as head of the work for the entire state, the local officials hope to make a worth while record.

Time: 7.30 p. m. on a Sunday night. Place: A down town drug store.

Enter two youths, who are "got up regardless." They make for the candy counter and buy two boxes of sweets more noted for the bad taste displayed on the box than for the quality of the goods inside. Then they purchase cigarettes—also of the cheapest brand—and do a few steps a la shimmy while waiting for their change.

They are leaving to the tune of "Till She Comes" when they spy a mirror on a slot weighing machine. Stopping short, they gaze with approving approval at the reflection therein, adjust their bow ties, twisting their necks to relieve the grip of the high, jaunty collars on their throats. All their chapeaux to a most "killing" angle, wink at the comely clerk, light their cigarettes and go "jazzing" out into the night.

Ever see this happen? Well, so have we.

Despite the efforts made by the Massachusetts chamber of commerce to have convalescent soldiers who were removed from Camp Devens to Plattsburg, N. Y., some weeks ago, returned to the Ayer cantonment now that the Plattsburg hospital has been abandoned, it is not believed that such will be possible.

Relatives of convalescent men have complained that hardships were imposed upon them because now they are unable to visit the men and provide them with some of the comforts and luxuries of home.

Col. C. R. Darnell, in reply to the request of the state chamber of commerce, states that it has become necessary to close a number of the base hospitals in several states, Camp Devens among them, and that the men who have been in the Plattsburg hospital have been sent to Fox Hills, Staten Island; Fort McIntosh, Md., and the Walter Reed hospital at Washington.

"This is in conformity with the policy of this department to retrench and to contract activities of the hospitals as requirements for hospital-

REVENUE AND TARIFF BILLS DELAYED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Consideration of all bills dealing with national revenue or tariff laws will be deferred until after the senate disposes of the peace treaty under a decision of the senate finance committee.

Among the bills affected are house measures proposing to raise tariffs on dressstuffs, tungsten and other metals. Changes in the internal revenue laws which now will go over indefinitely provide for repeal of the car tax on soft drinks and for reduction of those on loganberry and other fruit juices.

LONG ATTACKS ELEVATED BILL

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—Richard H. Long, democratic candidate for governor, held rallies in Holyoke, Springfield and Amherst last night, after making a tour with Joseph A. Conry, candidate for attorney general, Arthur J. B. Carter, of Fall River, candidate for auditor and Chandler M. Wood, candidate for treasurer, through Berkshire towns, during the day.

In his speeches Mr. Long dealt with the Boston Elevated bill and what he termed the solicitude of the Coolidge administration for the "railway wreckers." He contrasted the benefits which the bill confers upon the holders of "bankrupt stock" with the "niggardly" bonus given the soldiers. He declared that the times require a business man for governor and criticized Gov. Coolidge's attitude toward the workmen.

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—J. H. Pardee of New York, president of the American Electric Railway association, addressing the members of the New England Street Railway club at their banquet at the American house last night, declared that "if labor is to become an organized monopoly then it follows that labor must become a regulated monopoly."

He further stated that strikes upon a regulated public utility are directed against the public and not capital, and that they should be considered a crime against the public and be so treated.

"The public, which is the most affected," the speaker added, "may demand that labor assume responsibility and be organized in such a manner that it can be subjected to proper regulation in the interest of the whole people. It must assume certain obligations to the public, and it must fulfill those obligations if it is given the monopoly of furnishing electric railway service. It may not use that monopoly as a club over the public."

He further said that the politician who makes a pre-election pledge that he will solve the street railway problem by a reduction of fares is either intentionally or unintentionally deceiving the people.

"No vote of the people," said Pardee, "can make five cents do the work of ten cents, reduce the scale of wages, lower the price of materials, or compel the investment of a dollar of any man's money in the electric railway securities. No resolution, ordinance, ruling or law of a city council, public service commission or legislature can accomplish the impossible."

THE BROTHERS GEDDES RE- BRITAIN IN FACE OF GREAT RAILROAD STRIKE

(N.E.A. Special to The Sun)
LONDON, Oct. 2.—The driving force of Sir Eric Geddes.

The persuasive power of Sir Auckland Geddes.

These are the elements against which the British rail strike leaders are now matching their wits.

Premier David Lloyd George put into the hands of Sir Eric, minister of the British board of trade. Sir Auckland is an excellent speaker with an analytic mind and a persuasive tongue. When conciliation is the order of the day, it is Sir Auckland who will do the talking.

The Brothers Geddes are sons of a Scotch engineer, who was sent out to India to build bridges.

Eric was born in Agra. He studied law but didn't like it, and when his father insisted, went aboard a liner and worked his way to America. He was 17 then, he's in the early 40's now.

He worked in a Carnegie rolling mill, in a lumber camp, on a railroad

from switchman to station master. He studied sugar growing in Ceylon, forestry in India. Back in England, he grew to a high post with the London & Northeastern. In the course of the war he became director general of railways. Then he became first lord of the admiralty with control of Britain's naval policy. Now he's on the job with the railroads again.

Auckland Geddes was a college professor before he became British minister for national service and reconstruction and then head of the board of trade. He was professor of anatomy at McGill university, Montreal, in 1914. He enlisted as a private and was wounded at Mons and sent back to England. Given a job, he soon rose to the post where, through him was requisitioned all the man power of England for the period of the war.

Tall, clean cut, keen eyed, clean shaven, dynamic men, the Geddes

brothers are foemen worthy of the steel of labor's brightest.

In the Geddes family Auckland is believed to be the genius and wonder is expressed that the world has not seen it. Perhaps the handling of the rail strike will determine which has the winning qualities.

Working with Brothers Geddes is Sir Robert Horne, minister of labor, who tried his best, but tried in vain, to avert the struggle that now is being waged.

on Prentiss street, this town, and the automobile had hit a tree in Terryville, Conn. Deputy Sheriff George F. Buckley saw them leaving the scene. He also saw the number of the car, the one for which the Watertown police were searching, so he notified the Bristol police. The men were found in a barber shop. Johnson and Jones were arrested.

Their arrest was affected after the automobile had hit a tree in Terryville, Conn. Deputy Sheriff George F. Buckley saw them leaving the scene. He were arraigned in the Waltham district court today on the charge of holdup and larceny charge. Jones is also charged with carrying a loaded revolver.

The captured prisoners, who were being held at the house of correction at Deer Island—Johnson under a sentence of two years for malicious assault, and Jones on a 30-months' sentence for breaking and entering—told the police they decided to get away from there a week ago Monday and that they got their chance during the night school session at the island. They say they swam Shirley Gut and landed on the Winthrop shore.

They say they spent the night at a vacant cottage where they swapped their prison clothes for some civilian garments found in the cottage. Since then they had been staying near Boston until they got so "broke" they decided to enter Morgan's garage and get enough money to go west.

The car stolen, it is claimed, belongs to Mrs. Minnie Arnoldson of Marlon road, Belmont.

Henry A. Higgins, the master of the night school, says that Johnson and Jones (known as the "human fly") were of a class of 100 prisoners in attendance at the school conducted at the house of correction.

During the session on that night the two men asked permission to visit the toilet. When after 15 minutes they did not return a search was made and then a general alarm sounded.

This week is Quarter Week at The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank.

King Albert Made Citizen of New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The name of King Albert of the Belgians was added today to the long roll of famous men who have been made honorary citizens of the city of New York. The ceremony on the steps of the city hall and the scenes which preceded it were a practical duplication of the picture that was presented recently when General Pershing was similarly honored by the nation's metropolis.

From the moment that the king and his consort, Queen Elizabeth, landed at the Battery, until his arrival at the city hall, he was the center of an ovation.

In the city hall plaza the crowd was so dense that the large force of police and soldiers had difficulty in keeping the roadway clear for the royal procession. At the entrance to the city the king was greeted by Governor Smith and Mayor Hylan.

In his address of welcome the mayor expressed his conviction that a new and greater Belgium would arise out of the wreckage of the great war.

To Open Steel Plants

Homestead plants of the Carnegie Steel Co., officials said today that more men were back and that tonnage was being increased daily.

From Newcastle, Pa., and Sharon-Farrell district, further north, reports indicated that more men were going to work.

At Johnstown, Pa., the Lorain steel plant is still operating short handed, while the Cambria steel works remains closed. Union organizers in the Pittsburgh district said they had made big inroads on the forces of many of the large plants, particularly Homestead, in the last two days.

Counter Claims From Chicago

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Officials of steel mills in the Chicago district today pointed to reports of increasing numbers of workmen resuming their tasks during the last two days, and indicated

tions by many other workers of their intention to return to work as upholding their prediction that production today would amount close to 50 per cent. of normal. Labor leaders continued their claims that appreciable inroads into the ranks of the strikers were not being made.

An official of the United States Steel corporation at Gary, Ind., asserted that 5000 of the 9600 men on the payroll when the strike was called were ready to begin work at Indiana Harbor, Ind., and reports of additional production came from Waukegan.

Three men with bricks in their pockets were arrested last night at the American Sheet & Tin Plate Co.'s plant at Gary, where a serious clash between strikers and police guards was threatened.

Strike leaders said today that the bricklayers and plasterers' unions had joined the walkout and that about 45 per cent. of the 150 bricklayers employed in the construction department of the steel company did not report for work yesterday.

Officials of the company declared the situation at all their plants was so near normal it was "not worth talking

50 Per Cent. Capacity

GARY, Ind., Oct. 3.—Alarmed at the defection of 1500 men yesterday, strike leaders today exerted every influence to keep their lines intact. Mass meetings were held and picket lines strengthened.

Apparently not more than 200 strikers returned to work today. At the Indiana Steel company plant, where units in nearly every department were in operation. Officials stated that a force of about 6000 was now employed, and that the plant was operating 50 per cent. capacity.

The Ann. Sheet & Tin Plate company, claimed to be running units in nearly every department on a basis of 75 per cent. capacity.

Fight for "Free Speech"

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 3.—The fight of union leaders for the "right of free speech and free assembly" in Allegheny county continues to be the feature of the steel strike in the Pittsburgh district. According to strike leaders, county officials and authorities of municipalities are avoiding responsibility for prohibiting mass meetings and as a result the workers' lawful right to assemble and hear speeches is being abused.

Sheriff William S. Haddock recently granted strikers permission to hold indoor meetings in McKeesport, while officials of that city say such sessions cannot be conducted. Contrary to this state of affairs, the strikers say are the sheriff's orders that strikers must not assemble in Glassport, while local authorities of Glassport have notified union headquarters that meetings may be held there.

Union leaders and representatives of the employers made their usual conflicting statements today, the former claiming that the strike was spreading while the latter said additional men had returned to their places in the mills.

More Men Go Back

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Oct. 3.—Officials of the Carnegie Steel company, said today that more men were reporting daily at the Ohio works. Observers reported that the number of men entering the plant today was about the same as yesterday. Mill officials admitted there was a gain of 1000 men.

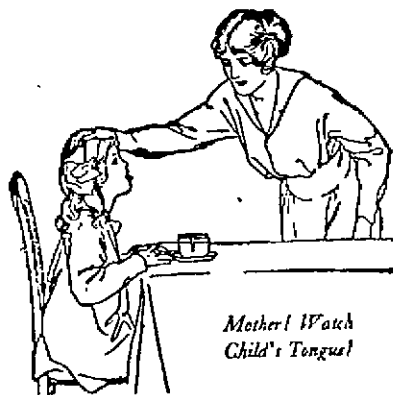

because many who went to work yesterday remained in the plant overnight. Few pickets were on duty.

LAWRENCE SCHOOL STRIKE

LAWRENCE, Oct. 3.—After a hearing last night on the strike of the 11 Green grammar school pupils attended by the fathers and mothers, the school committee remained firm and named Rawlinson.

refused to rescind its order sending the children to the Packard school. The strike started Monday when 15 of the pupils were ordered to attend sessions in the Packard school. Only one complied with the order.

"Mary had a little lamb" is the real story of a Massachusetts girl. The verse were written by a student of a school committee remained firm and named Rawlinson.

WILLIAMS' WILDNESS CAUSED DEFEAT

CINCINNATI, Oct. 3.—A resume of the pitchers' records yesterday shows that lack of control by "Lefty" Williams, White Sox pitcher, plus the home team's snappy hitting, gave the Reds the second game of the world's series yesterday, 4 to 2. It was Cincinnati's ability to smash the ball that gave them the first victory in the baseball classic.

Williams yesterday handed out six bases on balls and the Reds made four hits. Ten hits were made off "Lefty" Saltee. Saltee, however, gave only one base on balls and struck out two, while Williams retired only one by the strike-out route.

Williams gave a total of 53 balls, as compared with Saltee's total of 31. The White Sox, however, put over more strikes, getting 30 while Saltee got only 23. Each pitcher was hit 35 times, including flies and grounders resulting in put-outs.

A grand total of 213 balls was pitched during yesterday's game; 92 by Saltee in nine innings and 121 by Williams in eight innings. The highest number of balls thrown in any one inning were pitched by Williams in the fourth, in this inning, in which Cincinnati scored three runs, he was forced to pitch 22 times. The low number of balls pitched in any one inning was seven. Williams pitched only seven in the seventh inning, and in the following inning Saltee equalled this record. Saltee was credited with a balk in the sixth inning.

Following is the inning pitching record for yesterday's game:

House Elections Committee Decides Tague Entitled to the Seat

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—By a vote of 5 to 3, the house elections committee yesterday decided to recommend the unseating of John F. Fitzgerald, representative from the 10th Massachusetts district, holding Peter F. Tague as entitled to the seat.

The committee, holding that fraud had been practiced in the election by colonization of voters and illegal registration, out of the returns of the fourth, eighth and ninth precincts of the fifth ward in Boston, with the result that Mr. Tague's majority for the whole district was held to be 316.

Representatives Luce, Massachusetts, and Overstreet, Georgia, did not join in the majority decision which was agreed to by Representatives Goodall, Maine; Lehigh, New Jersey; Elston, California; Rhode, Missouri, and McLenon, New Jersey.

The committee report will not be called up in the house until next month, Chairman Goodall said, and meanwhile Mr. Fitzgerald will continue to hold the seat.

STRIKE SITUATION IN LOCAL SHOE SHOPS

The strike situation in the local shoe shops, according to information received this morning remains the same, although the members of the Allied Shoe Workers' union have been away from their work for over ten weeks. The strike was started after the manufacturers refused to acquiesce to the demand of the workers, that of recognition of the union and an increase in wages.

It was learned this morning that an attempt is being made to call a conference between the manufacturers and the employees in the near future in an endeavor to bring about a settlement. A meeting of the strikers will be held this evening in Leather Workers' hall, Central street.

TAX BILLS FOR REAL ESTATE OWNERS

Lowell real estate owners will get their 1919 tax bills on Tuesday or Wednesday of next week, according to City Treasurer Fred H. Rourke. The office force of the treasurer's department has been working night and day for the past week preparing the 14,000 bills that must be sent out. The bills must be paid on or before Nov. 1 or otherwise interest dating from Oct. 15 will be charged.

GRADING APPROACHES TO NEW BRIDGE

As a result of the construction of the new bridge in Thorndike street by the Locks and Canals, the street department has started the work of grading the approaches to the new structure. At the junction of Dutton and Fletcher streets 1000 yards of granite block will be laid and will materially improve the appearance of that section.

It is estimated that coal discovered in the Argentine would cost $10 a ton at San Antonio.

Troops Search for Ammunition Hidden By Negroes at Elaine, Ark.

ELINE, Ark., Oct. 3.—Federal troops from Camp Pike, with local posse men and state officers resumed search today for arms and ammunition believed secreted by negroes at Elaine, a small town near here where race rioting during the past few days has resulted in 16 known deaths.

The race trouble, reports indicated, was fomented by agitators who had organized the negroes to participate in an organized uprising and the authorities were determined to prevent further trouble by obtaining possession of all fire arms in the hands of the negroes.

150 Rifles Seized
Announcement was made at military headquarters in Elaine that about 150 rifles had been taken from negroes who had been arrested, or had been found at the homes of negroes.

Arrests of negroes today numbered 255, of whom 225 were under guard by federal troops at Elaine and 60 had been brought here.

ney Zeitz of New Bedford, president of the Mercantile Wrecking Co., which finally salvaged part of the cargo for the government under contract, were the two chief witnesses here today before congressional sub-committee investigating the loss of about $2,000,000 worth of the vessel's cargo.

Design Robinson stated that in his opinion, the wreck could easily have been raised and the entire cargo salvaged; that he owned two boats which he rented to amateur salvagers; that the Port Hunter was without lights or buoys or any markers, and he felt that the steamer had been abandoned. He refused to criticize alleged delay by the army or navy officials, saying that he was silent in the service and would make no comment on the acts of his superiors. Also he stated that he made no recommendations to the government, assuming the matter in no way concerned him.

Mr. Zeitz said he was turned down three times in bidding for the work of salvaging in favor of other companies; that they could not execute the contract and that finally it was awarded to him by Col. Yates of Boston, without competition. Mr. Zeitz testified that he was looking for the chance to salvage the wreck for many months, and that he informed Gen. Hines by telegram that fishermen were taking the cargo out of the vessel and selling it.

HOOVER URGES LEAGUE

Says "If League Breaks Down We Must at Once Prepare to Fight"

PALO ALTO, Oct. 3.—"If the League of Nations is to break down, we must at once prepare to fight," Herbert Hoover, formerly economic director for the supreme war council, told the students of Stanford university in an address he delivered here last night.

"The peace treaties," he said, "cannot be carried out without the league. If the league fails the treaties also fail. If the balance of power is to supplant the League of Nations, we will have torn asunder the only hope that Europe will not break into further wars of races, classes and combinations that will take civilization back to the Middle Ages."

"I am confident that if we attempt to revise the treaty we shall tread a road through European chaos. If we manage to keep our soldiers out of it we will not escape fearful economic losses."

"The allies may themselves revise this treaty without us and then assemble a council of nations of their own in an endeavor to solve the problems of Europe. It would be a council of Europe and in the midst of these terrible times, considering the debts they owe us, the material they must have from us or starve, I would rather that we be represented therein, lest it become a league of Europe against the western hemisphere. A peace without us means more army and navy for us, the old treadmill of taxes and dangers for us."

Desperation of Europe

Mr. Hoover said that few people seem to realize the desperation to which Europe has been reduced.

"During the coming winter some of them will look with longing eyes to this rich, fat nation with its surplus of every human necessity," he said. "We cannot fiddle while Rome burns. If we believe we can see our neighbors return to another 10 years' war through the break-down of this treaty, and we still maintain our progress, it is the egotism of insanity. Our expansion overseas has entangled us for good or ill, and I stand for an honest attempt to join with Europe's better spirits to prevent these entanglements from involving us in war. We are not dealing with perfection, we are dealing with the lesser of evils."

"For us to refuse to enter into a joint attempt with the well-thinking sections of a large part of the world to establish a continuing moral conscience against war is the utmost folly in our own interests."

Pointing out the likelihood that some European nations will again be plunged into war with their neighbors.

Mr. Hoover referred to a probability of the invasion of Poland if the treaty failed.

"There are many elements in Europe," he said, "who wish to see the treaty break down and the League of Nations disappear. During the last five months our allies have been growing weaker from a military point of view due to the necessity of demobilizing their armies, while at the same time the reactionary group in Germany has been growing in strength through the hope of yet securing a division of the allies. At the time I left Europe a month ago German militarism had already re-established itself as a well-disciplined, well-officer army of at least 400,000 men largely congregated on the Polish frontier and even defying the government at Berlin."

"Under the alarm of this danger the Poles, in the midst of the greatest economic misery that a nation ever saw have been trying to create an army of 500,000 men for their protection from the Germans on the one side and the Bolsheviks on the other. If the treaty is ratified the German army will be reduced to 200,000 men and dispersed over Germany and their extra armament destroyed. The failure of the treaty means the invasion of the Polish state."

"This is only one of the powder magazines in Europe which cannot be destroyed until the treaty is ratified, and during every day of delay more explosives are poured into them."

Could Not be Made Perfect

"The treaty finally agreed upon at Paris is by no means perfect," declared Mr. Hoover, adding that he saw no method by which it could have been made perfect under the circumstances.

"It is often overlooked that this was not a conference to settle the wrongs committed by allies or neutrals, but by the enemy only," said Mr. Hoover.

"It was Germany's wrongs that were on the operating table. It would have been beautiful to have all the international wrongs on the table, but this is not a perfect world. If this had been attempted the conference would have broken up into quarrels among the allies and Germany would have been handed again the domination of Europe. The old guard in Germany hoped and expected this would result; up to date they have been disappointed."

"No one could be more disappointed than the American delegation that some great wrongs that were the result of the secret treaties that had been written in times of great desperation among the original allies were not eradicated."

Referring to the probable effect upon an aggressor of world enlightenment and the use of the boycott, Mr. Hoover said: "The hope which I, as an independent observer, have placed in the league is that it will forever relieve the United States of the necessity to again send a single soldier outside of our boundaries."

WOOL KING'S SON LEARNING BUSINESS

Cornelius A. Wood, son of William M. Wood, millionaire president of the American Woolen company, who has started in to learn the wool business from the bottom, is here depicted grading wool in the storehouse of the Washington mills, Lawrence, the largest in the world. NO RELEASES FROM THE STATE GUARD

It is stated on good authority that Superintendent Molloy of the Lowell school department and Principal Fisher of the Vocational school will not be released from duty with the state guard in Boston, even though our city officials should so request. The military authorities have already turned down many requests for the release of city officials, mill superintendents, attorneys-at-law, doctors and other professional men. They assert that if they should break this rule they would have to release perhaps 2000 men who hold important positions in the industrial business or professional life of the state.

Undoubtedly the school board is cognizant of this fact and this may explain why there is some talk of engaging an assistant superintendent of schools to deal with the very important educational questions now awaiting settlement.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

British-American Club

The last meeting of the British-American Social club was held at the home of Mrs. Leach, 118 Pleasant st., and was largely attended. Two new members were elected and routine business was transacted. At the close of the business session a social hour was held, during which entertainment numbers were given by Mary Morse, Mrs. Kershaw, George Whalley, George Marshall, Mr. Pearson and Mrs. Pearson, Mr. Kershaw presiding at the piano. Refreshments were served.

LATEST STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Shares of popular issues were freely offered at the opening of today's stock market, the selling being attributed to the same factors which brought about yesterday's irregular movement. Crucible Steel was again the weak feature, losing six points. Declines in allied issues ranged from one to two points, oils, motors, tobacco and shipping yielding as much. The few transactions in rails were at moderate reactions. Recoveries in such leaders as U. S. Steel, equipment and Mexican Petroleum resulted in a general rally before the end of the first half-hour. The rebound carried a number of others one to three points above yesterday's final quotations, but this seemed to serve as a foundation for fresh selling, all gains being cancelled. Professional pressure was most marked in speculative shares, such as oils, motors, rubbers and tobacco, where reactions extended from two to seven points. Excepting Crucible, Steels and equipment offered better resistance to the liquidating movement which became general in the second hour, even the more representative issues showing little or no change. A substantial rally followed the opening rate of 7 per cent. for call loans.

A 12 point advance in American Tobacco and gains of 10 1/2 points in local traction featured the less feverish mid-session. Battles in other quarters of the list extended from one to three points, motors and equipments being especially responsive to support.

NO HOSPITAL AT DEVENS BLAMES WILSON FOR DELAY

"Utterly Impossible," Army Surgeon General Tells Congressman Rogers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Surgeon General Ireland of the army yesterday told Congressman Rogers of Lowell that it was "utterly impossible" for the war department to locate a military hospital at Camp Devens or any other New England point. Explaining the reasons for his decision, Gen. Ireland made the following statement:

On Sept. 26 there were 20,250 soldier patients in the general hospitals of the United States. On the same date there was a total number of beds in the general hospitals amounting to 27,926. Thus in the hospitals now being operated there were 8000 vacant beds. Under these circumstances, the opening of new hospitals cannot be thought of. On the contrary, the secretary of war and the surgeon-general, acting on his direction, are almost daily closing the smaller and less tenanted hospitals.

Close Plattsburg Hospital

Thus the hospital at Plattsburg Barracks, N. Y., to which most of the New England soldiers were transferred when Parker Hill hospital was closed, was occupied by only a fraction of its full complement of patients—254—and was closed on Sept. 30. The soldiers who were patients there, including a great many New England veterans, have in the main been transferred to the Fox Hills hospital, Staten Island, N. Y.

The Hospital at Spartansburg, S. C.

was also closed on Sept. 30, at which time it had only six patients. Because of the small number of patients, hospitals at Williamsburg Bridge, New York city, with 503 patients; Colonia, Fort Des Moines hospital, with 572 patients, and Orlville, N. Y. hospital will be closed during the coming month.

When these hospitals have closed there will be only 14 general soldiers' hospitals in the United States. Of that number four are tubercular hospitals and two are for the insane. The other eight are permanent army hospitals which will be continued indefinitely, being in no sense war emergency institutions. These eight are:

- Letterman General hospital, San Francisco; Walter Reed General hospital, Washington; Fort McHenry hospital, Baltimore; Fort McPherson hospital, Georgia; Fort Sheridan hospital, Illinois; Carlisle hospital, Carlisle, Pa.; Fox Hills hospital, Staten Island, N. Y.; Fort Sam Houston hospital, Texas.
- Gen. Ireland stated that the war department is striving to centralize the hospitals and re-establish them as nearly as may be on a peace basis. This month will see the closing of the last of the temporary hospitals. Those that will remain open thereafter will be the permanent peace time hospitals of the military establishments.

FRENCH DEMAND THAT HUNS BE UNMASKED

PARIS, (By Mail).—The impending resumption of commercial relations with the enemy of yesterday is causing the French public at large a good deal of misgiving. Many would keep the Germans out at all costs, but cooler heads realize that France cannot afford to close the door upon a customer of £1,000,000,000 annually. There is, however, a fairly unanimous feeling that if the German is to come back into France he must come back in some recognizable shape and not disguised, as too often before.

Incidents such as the following do not serve to put the public mind at ease. A woman of good social standing of Lille recognized yesterday, in the person of a cashier in one of the big department stores of Paris, a former German officer. She had good reason to recognize him as one of the invaders who had been quartered in her home in Lille.

Challenged as to his identity the man stoutly denied his Teutonic nationality. He spoke French perfectly; his papers were at all appearance in order, and the cashier at first found scant credence on the part of the management. Then she remembered that the man had once boastfully exhibited his arm, on which the portrait of the former German emperor was tattooed. The cashier-officer was dismissed and the newspapers are now demanding that employers shall be held responsible for the civil status of their employees.

STRIKE BREAKS SLEEP SHIFTS

(N.E.A. Special to The Sun)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 3.—There is a typical mill town boarding house with 14 rooms, 20 beds and 43 lodgers. The shift system prevails in the boarding houses as well as in the steel mills, where production was continuous before the strike.

The beds in this house were occupied day and night. When the day crews left, the night workers came home for sleep.

The strike created an embarrassing situation. Most of the men now crave the luxury of sleep at night, especially since there is no place else to go in a mill town after dark.

BLAMES WILSON FOR DELAY

Sen. Jones Says President's Action Embodies Spirit of Mob

"Has Done More to Undermine Peaceful Government Than Any Other Agency"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Senator Jones, republican, of Washington, declared in an address in the senate today that President Wilson "by word and deed, has done more to undermine orderly, peaceful, representative government than any other human agency."

The president's action "in attempting to force a co-ordinate legislative branch of the government to do his will regardless of his own judgment and conviction of duty," Sen. Jones said, "was a more dangerous assault upon democracy and the integrity of this republic than any armed attack could be. It embodies the spirit of the mob and justifies lawlessness."

Senator Jones said he did not question the president's sincerity and how ever much he might condemn his methods, it would not influence his decision in voting on the treaty. In studying it, he said, he had sought to find reasons to justify his support rather than to sustain a vote against it.

"The league covenant should not be in the treaty," he said. "Months ago the treaty with Germany should have been made and ratified. Who is to blame for the delay? No one but the president. He and he alone insisted on the two things being put together. If the world's heart is broken, he will break it. If the world's hope of peace shall die, he will kill it."

Senator Jones insisted that American representatives in the council and assembly of the league should be eventually elected by the people.

"The president tells the people the world will sink into chaos if the United States does not enter the League of Nations," he said. "The danger to the covenant today comes from the president himself. He insists that the covenant must be accepted by the senate exactly as he has sent it to us. I know and his friends know and he ought to know that if reservations are not adopted the covenant will be rejected in its entirety. If the treaty is not ratified and the United States fails to enter the League of Nations, Woodrow Wilson alone will prevent it."

STRIKE CLOSES SUGAR PLANT

ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 3.—One of St. John's largest industries is shut down as a result of the decision taken by the Atlantic Sugar Refineries' workers to go on strike, until certain demands which they have made are met by their employers. There is a considerable divergence between the demands which the men are making and what the company is willing to concede, and as a result of a mass meeting of the sugar refinery workers last night all work ceased in the plant at 1 o'clock (daylight time) this morning. The men did not all march out in a body, but the different departments left one after the other. A board of conciliation has been suggested, but each side charges the other with a decision in advance not to accept the finding of such a board, unless favorable.

The demands of the employees are an eight-hour day and an increase of 10 cents per hour, and the company is willing to concede the eight-hour day and an advance of five cents per hour. F. G. O'Grady, the general manager of the Atlantic Sugar Refineries, Ltd., has come from Montreal to look after the interests of the company, and he stated last night that all refineries in Canada and the United States were running on 11 to 13-hour shifts and that the wage already paid to the employees here (35 cents per hour) was the highest wage paid by the company east of Winnipeg, but that the company was willing to take a radical step for the betterment of their employees.

F. A. Campbell, president of the Trades and Labor council, who is handling the strike, said that the men were not unreasonable in their demands, but were merely asking for a living wage.

Mr. Campbell says he is acting under authorization of the American Federation of Labor in Washington, and local authorities wonder if Canada has been annexed to the United States through labor control.

Mr. O'Grady says the company is willing to pay the 40 cents per hour as the minimum for unskilled labor; that the cost will be $100,000, and of course it will involve an advance of the cost of sugar in every sugar bowl served by his refinery.

The union officials insist on the 45-cent minimum for unskilled labor.

R. R. UNIONS MAY NOT BE REPRESENTED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Railroad unions representing more than 2,000,000 workers will not participate in the industrial conference called by President Wilson for next Monday, unless the basis of labor representation is changed to include the chief executives of all international and national unions.

Timothy Shea of the Brotherhood of Firemen, said the change in representation had been suggested to Director General Hines but that no reply had been received and none was expected. Because of this, he said, the four brotherhoods did not expect to go into the conference and it was thought the 14 other railroad unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor also would not participate.

Trouble over the railroad men's representation arose when all the railroad unions were asked to send four men to the conference. The brotherhoods, asserting that the 14 other unions would be represented by the American Federation of Labor with which the brotherhoods are not affiliated, sought to name all four delegates. The railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor contended they should have direct representation by appointment of part of the four. The matter was referred to Mr. Hines, who has been endeavoring to solve the problem without success.

Mr. Shea said today it was felt that without the presence of an official of each union, many problems might arise at the industrial conference on which no expert advice would be available.

Acting President Jewell of the railroad employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, said today he did not yet know whether the railroad unions affiliated with the federation would be represented in the conference. There was indication from

Long Overdue Report to Be Issued Before Election—Attack on Curtis

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—Following a protracted conference yesterday afternoon between Mayor Peters and James J. Storrow, chairman of the committee of 31 which attempted to avert the walk-out of the police, it was strongly intimated in city hall that the long overdue report would be issued within a very short time.

Mayor Peters expressly stated, at the conference, that, in his opinion, there was no reason for withholding the report longer.

When reached at his summer home in Lincoln last night, Chairman Storrow stated that he had put the matter before his committee last week and that the committee ruled the time was not right for the immediate issuance of the report. Mr. Storrow stated, however, that he would again put the matter before the committee. When asked when he replied: "Before long." He reiterated this phrase when asked if that meant before the gubernatorial election in November.

After yesterday's conference Mayor Peters stated that, while the report would be "interesting," there would be a decided absence of "sensational" in its contents. According to the mayor the report will be mainly a resume of the work of Mr. Storrow's committee. It was understood, following the conference, that Mr. Storrow was not personally opposed to the issuance of the report but, as he explained last night, he is powerless to submit the report without the consent of the entire committee—or, at least, a majority of its members.

Prior to the meeting between the mayor and Chairman Storrow there was a conference between Mayor Peters and leaders of organized labor. The latter refused to make any comment, following their 30-minute conversation with the city's chief executive, but Mayor Peters acknowledged that they had urged upon him the immediate issuance of the report of the committee of 31.

A special session of the governor's council will be held today to take further action upon the request of Police Commissioner Curtis to have certain changes made in the age, weight and height requirements of the civil service rules as applied to applicants for appointment to the police force.

The discovery of an alleged "joker" in the amendment agreed upon by the council on Wednesday is responsible for the special session today.

The attorney-general ruled yesterday that, according to law, the changes in the police force requirements could not become effective before 120 days. According to this ruling the amendment, as endorsed on Wednesday, would have to be advertised for 60 days. Then, when the civil service commission made the explicit changes as requested by the police commissioner, these changes would have to be advertised for 60 days.

Sullivan Attacks Coolidge

Lewis R. Sullivan, member of the council, yesterday launched a vehement attack upon Governor Coolidge. Police Commissioner Curtis and Herbert Parker, legal advisor to the commissioner, last night Councilor Sullivan stated that at today's meeting of the council he would attempt to secure action which would force Commissioner Curtis to make known the remuneration given Attorney Parker for his services.

"I want to find out why it is that Police Commissioner Curtis, answerable to the city of Boston for the expenditures of his office, does not call in the services of the city corporation counsel when questions affecting the interests of the city are at stake, instead of a rank outsider," Mr. Sullivan, said last night.

FRIENDLY POKER GAME ENDS IN MIXUP

"It was just a friendly game of poker, Judge, Your Honor," explained E. Stanley Chase in police court today.

E. Stanley paused a moment to rub gingerly a discolored and swollen eye, and his hand lingered for a second on his jaw, which also showed the marks of recent conflict.

"Just a friendly game of poker," he added. "That is, it was friendly for a while. Then we got into an argument and Albert Osser and I went outside to settle it."

"Then what happened?" queried Supt. Welch, who appeared for the prosecution.

"Well, I was going along pretty good until the other two fellows came out and jumped on me," affirmed E. Stanley. "Then some one hit me on the jaw and that's all."

E. Stanley, accompanied by Albert

Osser, Francis B. Clark and John F. Mahoney, all four employed variously as farmhand, cook, waiter and attendant at the state infirmary in Tewksbury, were arraigned before Judge Wright today, charged with disturbing the peace. Midnight last night was given as the time, and all four pleaded guilty.

Dr. William F. Hanson of the institution told the court that he had been awakened about midnight by what sounded like a miniature riot on the grounds outside of the buildings.

He investigated and found all four of the defendants engaged in what appeared to be a general free-for-all and making almost as much noise as the boys of the 26th did when they chased the Germans at Chateau-Thierry.

By the time he had dressed and made his way to the scene, the conflict was over. All but E. Stanley were still on their feet and apparently had suffered little damage, but E. Stanley was hors de combat.

He thought for a moment that the youth had been killed, he said, but found that he had been merely knocked out by one of the right books and left jabs which had been flying around indiscriminately during the melee, and soon revived him.

Here E. Stanley took up the story, as aforesaid, and allowed that the poker game had been the cause of it all.

It had been a most friendly game—held in one of the youth's rooms in the institution.

E. Stanley couldn't just remember what the argument had been; something had not suited him and he had invited Osser to take the air. If the other two youths hadn't boosted Osser's stock, things wouldn't have ended as they did he contended.

They took E. Stanley's word for this last and then Judge Pickman ordered fines as follows: Mahoney, $10; Osser, $5; Clark, $5; and E. Stanley $3.

Continued

Francis B. Sayre, daughters of the president, are on their way to Washington. Mrs. McAdoo will arrive this afternoon from New York. Mrs. Sayre is coming from Cambridge, Mass. It was said that while members of the family had not been summoned to Washington, Mrs. McAdoo and Mrs. Sayre had expressed a desire to come. Miss Margaret Wilson, the third daughter, is now in Washington.

No Visitors Allowed

Orders of the physicians that the president be kept absolutely quiet would be strictly enforced, Secretary Tumulty said today. No official business will be brought to his attention, no matter how pressing, and no one except members of the immediate family will be permitted to see him.

The president was informed last yesterday of the defeat in the senate of the Fall amendments to the peace treaty and of the ratification of the treaty by the French chamber of deputies and this news apparently cheered him considerably, Mr. Tumulty said.

It was announced officially that the turn in the president's condition would not interfere with the industrial conference next week. In the event that the president is not able on Monday to address a communication to the conference, Secretary Tumulty will notify it of the president's desires regarding the selection of a permanent presiding officer.

In Consultation Two Hours

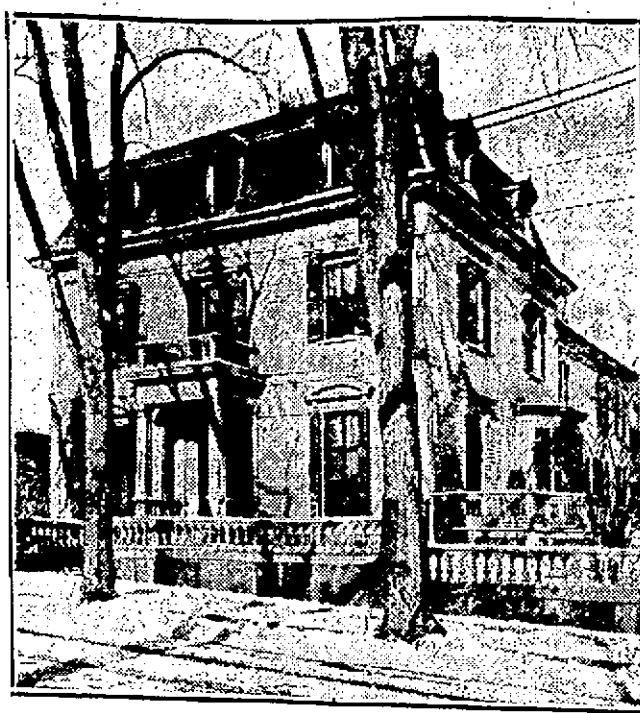

Admirals Grayson and Stitt and Dr. Ruffin were in consultation for about two hours and this delayed the issuing of the usual 10 o'clock bulletin as to the president's condition.

"The president's condition is unchanged," Dr. Grayson's bulletin, issued at 12:15 p. m., said.

Takes Some Nourishment

Supplementing his official bulletin, Dr. Grayson said that the president's mind was keen and alert and his physical condition fairly good. He also is taking some nourishment.

Dr. Grayson talked with Dr. F. N. Dercum, of Philadelphia, by telephone today. Dr. Dercum will come to Washington from time to time as Dr. Grayson feels he needs him, while Rear Admiral Stitt, head of the naval

THE OLD KITSON HOME

Negotiations Under Way for Sale of Building Occupied By Club Lafayette

Negotiations are under way for the sale of the building numbered 331 Merrimack street and it is believed the deal will be put through within a short time. The building, the old Kitson home, is owned by Dr. Rodrigue Mignault, and it is understood that the purchaser will be Mrs. Perpetue Boisvert, who conducts a boarding and lodging house in Worthen street.

The building has been occupied by Club Lafayette for the past five or six years. It is a wooden building of hospital here, and Dr. Sterling Ruffin, Mrs. Wilson's physician, will visit the president daily.

The consulting physicians have agreed with Dr. Grayson that the president is suffering from nervous exhaustion brought on by the strain of his work at the peace conference and his recent tour over the country.

Dr. Grayson said the president desired to keep in constant touch with official affairs and that it was only with difficulty that his mind could be diverted.

Scores of Inquiries

Despite the strain, Dr. Grayson has been under since the president was taken ill a week ago yesterday, he is remaining in constant attendance on the president, but when he needs rest, Drs. Ruffin and Stitt will relieve him.

Scores of inquiries as to the president's health are being received at the White House from officials, diplomats and friends. Those calling at the White House during the morning, included Chief Justice White of the supreme court, W. A. F. Ekengren, the Swedish minister, and Samuel Gompers.

Sayre Off for Capitol

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 3.—Francis B. Sayre, son-in-law of President Wilson and now a member of the faculty at the Harvard law school, left this afternoon for Washington. He was preceded a few hours earlier by Mrs. Sayre. It was said that the Sayres had not received any word of an alarming nature regarding the condition of the president, but both wished to be with him at this time.

heavy construction and contains 12 rooms and a large billiard room. The building is assessed for $400 and the land for $6450, making a total of $6850.

Mrs. Boisvert stated this morning that she has made a deposit on the building with an understanding, however, that the club has the preference in case its members should decide to buy. The club's lease will expire in December and in the event of the deal being put through with Mrs. Boisvert, the latter will take possession shortly after the expiration of the lease.

When questioned as to whether the club would buy the property, President F. N. Labelle stated this morning that the matter has been discussed several times but nothing definite had been arrived at. There will be a meeting of the directors of the organization this evening at which time a building committee will be appointed to consider the future of the club.

N. Dercum, neurologist, who joined in a consultation at the White House yesterday, said today that the president's condition was grave, but that he was in a cheerful frame of mind.

The president, according to Dr. Dercum, realizes that he is a sick man and is making an effort to cease chafing under the restraint which compels him to relinquish temporarily the helm of the administration. By nature, according to the neurologist, he is a "hard man to handle" from the viewpoint of a physician.

"The president is not the type of man to be worried by his symptoms," said Dr. Dercum. "This led him to overtax his strength, when he should have been husbanding it after the strain of the peace conference."

The president is profoundly exhausted and very weak. He remained in bed all day. He had no temperature, but the fact that he was up and about on Wednesday and became so completely exhausted later, caused everyone to be a little apprehensive."

Dr. Dercum said he would not return to Washington unless summoned.

SPRINGFIELD WELCOMES CARDINAL MERCIER

SPRINGFIELD, Oct. 3.—This city, the first in Massachusetts to be visited by Cardinal Mercier, turned out en masse today to pay tribute to the Belgian primate, who arrived at noon from New Haven. Arrangements for his reception were made by a committee which included Bishop Beaven of the Roman Catholic diocese of Springfield and Bishop Thomas P. Davies of the Episcopal diocese of western Massachusetts.

Cardinal Mercier was escorted to the municipal buildings where a short reception was given by Mayor Adams and the city council and where he spoke to a crowd that included hun-

Add Mazola drop by drop until the mixture begins to thicken, beating slowly. As soon as the mixture thickens, add the remainder of the vinegar a little at a time. Now beat in the remainder of the Mazola gradually until all is used. The mayonnaise should be thick enough to hold its shape. Put in a glass jar and cover close. Place in the ice box to be used when needed. It will keep for weeks. Do not stir it when you open it; take out as much as you need with a tablespoon, and close the jar.

SAYS CLOSED SHOP NOT ISSUE

Reiterates Steel Corp. Voted $20,000,000 to Fight Unions—Steel Inquiry

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—In refusing to arbitrate the steel strike, Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United Steel corporation, "is sowing the seeds of anarchy," the senate committee investigating the strike was told today by Michael F. Tighe, president of the union of Iron, Steel & Tin Workers.

"It was very much put out yesterday by Judge Gary's refusal to compromise or arbitrate this issue," said Tighe. "He is sowing the seeds of anarchy, promoting the insidious doctrine that there is no way out of the industrial difficulties except by the destruction of one side or the other."

Tighe reiterated that the closed shop was not an issue and said the union leaders could not comply with President Wilson's request to postpone the strike until after the industrial conference next week, because the I.W.W. organizers were active among the men and would have succeeded in calling some sporadic strikes.

LOCAL STORES LIVING UP TO REGULATIONS

Although Thura Hanson, the state commissioner of weights and measures, has sent out a warning to retailers of bread that the state law regarding the weight and wrapping of this commodity must be lived up to, local dealers have little to fear from this warning, according to City Sealer Warren P. Klordon.

In the past two days inspectors of the local sealer's office have inspected 200 places where bread is sold and found conditions satisfactory.

THRIFT DAY IN LOWELL SCHOOLS

Lowell's public and parochial schools informally observed Thrift day today in accordance with a proclamation by Governor Coolidge. No extended programs were carried out but in many of the schools the teachers told their pupils of the purpose of the day and urged that the excellent thrift record made during the world war by the school children be maintained permanently.

ATTACK ON SEN. LODGE

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—Sharp differences of opinion in regard to the League of Nations were shown in the speaking at the meeting yesterday afternoon of the committee on resolutions of the republican state convention. Considerable bitterness was displayed on each side of that important question, but the outstanding feature was the criticism which representatives of the so-called "Patriotic Societies" made of the attitude of Senator Lodge.

Rev. William M. Macnair, pastor of the Prospect Congregational church, Cambridge, and Brenton H. MacCurdy of Somerville, who has been for years prominent in the American Patriotic association, were the speakers who attacked Mr. Lodge for his attitude on the treaty and urged the adoption of a plank calling for the ratification of the treaty and the entrance of the United States into a League of Nations.

Mr. Macnair declared that the great majority of the Congregational ministers in the state favored the treaty and the league. He said that he voted for Senator Lodge in the recent election a few years ago because he (Mr. Macnair) could not support the political mountebank, who was the candidate against him, but that if the election were held today he (Mr. Macnair) would vote for the political mountebank in preference to Mr. Lodge.

Speakers for 16,000 Patriots. Mr. MacCurdy said that he represented 16,000 patriotic citizens and that at the recent meetings of the American Patriotic association there had been hardly a man or a woman who did not heartily favor the League of Nations. The speaker said that he had not been a Wilson man until he decided to enter the war, but that since that time he had been with the president. "No self-respecting citizen could be with him before that," Mr. MacCurdy said.

"I believe in Senator Lodge," Mr. MacCurdy went on. "I have always voted for him, but I take issue with him on this matter, the most important question that has come up since Adam came into the world.

Crane's Brief Statement

Ex-United States Senator W. Murray Crane was at the meeting. He made this characteristically brief statement of his position: "I recommend that the following be inserted in the platform: That the committee favors prompt and favorable action on the peace treaty with suitable reservations that will not amend the treaty."

Ex-Senator Robert W. Washburn submitted the following in behalf of the executive committee of the Roosevelt club:

"We commend the statesmanship of Henry Cabot Lodge, senator from Massachusetts, leader of the senate, and chairman of the great committee on foreign relations, far and clear-seeing, patriotic and tireless, in war and in peace; particularly his attitude for a decade and not a negotiable armistice; and for Americanizing the treaty and the Covenant of Nations, for the safety and welfare of the people of the United States."

That proposed resolution was signed by Harcourt Amory, Jr., Gaspar G. Bacon, George P. Drury, Walter H. Foster, George von L. Meyer, R. M. Washburn and B. Lorin Young.

For Treaty Without Amendment

Ex-Speaker Joseph Walker and Courtenay Crocker, representing the Massachusetts joint committee for a League of Free Nations, offered a resolution the essential part of which read as follows:

"We urge ratification of the treaty of peace with Germany without amendment and we suggest, as a basis of adjustment between the extreme position of the president and the extreme position of certain senators, the adoption by the senate of interpretative reservations which do not substantially change the terms of the treaty, but which make the obligation of the United States under the treaty more clear and definite, and we commend the efforts of those senators who are working to effect that end."

Wendell P. Thorpe, who offered several planks for the consideration of the committee, supported Senator Lodge in his position regarding the treaty and the league.

Reports from Washington are that Senator Lodge has been thoroughly ragged by what he believes to be attempts to discredit him in this state and that he will speak his mind freely and plainly at the convention on Saturday. It is commonly believed that, no matter what the committee on resolutions does, a minority report will be presented on the floor of the convention, and hence a real fight which may make serious trouble for the party.

Ask Anti-Lynch Plank

Walter A. Johnson and W. T. Miller, two colored men, asked for a plank against lynching.

Wendell P. Thorpe submitted planks in favor of old-age pensions, the observance of the legislative rules in regard to the pairing of votes, a national referendum before the people of the country can be thrown into war unless it be a war of defense, and state control of the production, distribution and price of milk.

Mr. Thorpe said that the republican party had strayed far away from the example set by Lincoln and other men to whom its orators frequently referred as lights of the world. He said also that unless the party awoke to a sense of its responsibilities and took an attitude in favor of progressive legislation it would soon find itself in a minority.

system of the statements made to him by his employees, foremen and superintendents. It was far and away from being the truth about the industry."

Tighe repeated the charge that the steel corporation early in its history had appropriated $20,000,000 to fight unions and gave names of his informants. The unions, he said, had never sought the closed shop but union shops.

"When the management signs a contract as to sales and working conditions it is a union shop," he explained. "The effect is the same as a closed shop, isn't it?" asked Senator Sterling, republican, South Dakota.

W. Z. Foster, secretary of the general strike committee, whose alleged views as a radical, have drawn congressional fire, was present at the hearing prepared to testify after Tighe had concluded. Armed with copies of his book on syndicalism, members of the committee were ready for sharp cross-examination.

Advised For Foreigners

Tighe read an advertisement of 1909 credited to the United States Steel Corporation, which said:

"Men wanted—Syrians, Poles, and Rumanians preferred."

"The gentleman (Judge Gary's) remarks about foreigners now," Tighe remarked, "are not well taken, in view of that."

"Do you charge that from 1909 on there was a steady increase of foreign workers in the steel company's mills?" asked Senator Walsh of Massachusetts.

"Yes," Tighe asserted.

Declaring that the present strike was preceded by universal demands for organization from steel workers, Tighe said about 100 new charters for local unions had been issued by his organization but that he could not tell exactly how many men had joined for the strike.

On October 1, he said, 263,000 men were on strike.

"How many of those strikers cannot speak English?" asked Chairman Kenyon.

Tighe had no exact information, but said: "To be frank about the matter, I think the largest percentage of them are foreign-born."

"This strike was called," Tighe said, "because Judge Gary would not grant the request for a conference with the 24 unions. If he had done that there would have been no strike."

I.W.W. Caused Strike

"Why could not it be delayed at the president's request?" asked Chairman Kenyon.

"Because there were a number of I.W.W. organizers among the men," said Tighe. "If we had delayed, they would have said that the American Federation of Labor could not do anything. They were getting some influence, and would have succeeded in calling some sporadic strikes anyway."

"Then in the last analysis, the I.W.W. caused this strike?" said Senator Sterling.

"Oh, don't take that view," Tighe responded. "If we had gotten a conference we would have had something to show these men, that their interests were being protected, and could have held them on the job."

TO MILITARIZE OMAHA POLICE FORCE

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 3.—In response to recommendations of Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, who was assigned to quell rioting in Omaha following the lynching of a negro Sunday and the burning of the court house, the city council yesterday voted to appoint 100 new policemen and effect semi-military organization of the force.

Two machine guns, 20 riot guns and motorcycles and automobiles for emergency use will be secured at once. A competent military instructor will be engaged to drill the reorganized department.

Gen. Wood said last night that there was no evidence of further troubles and all parts of the city were quiet. He made preparations to leave the city today.

Civil authorities are continuing the arrest of men and boys alleged to have participated in the riot. All are being held without bond for a special session of the grand jury next Wednesday.

FORGED POSTAL CERTIFICATE

Thomas Bahrowski, alias Murray, of Billerica, who was arraigned in Lowell police court some time ago charged with forgery of postal certificates, which he was alleged to have stolen from a room on Middlesex street, was found guilty of forging a signature to a $100 postal certificate by a jury in the federal district court yesterday. The case was continued for sentence.

ELABORATE AND UNIQUE DINNER GOWN OF PERSIAN DESIGN GLOWS WITH JEWELS

The elaborate and unique dinner gown here shown is of Persian inspiration.

The stomacher of jewels and the armlets, the burnouslike sleeves, the great earrings and oriental comb all suggest the splay atmosphere of Arabia. In fact the gown is spiced to the point of daring. Only a tall woman with exquisitely slender lines could achieve distinction in this model.

It is built of heavy satin and clinging chiffon. The creator of this wondrous gown chose a chiffon of apricot hue to combine with lustrous deep cream satin, which, in turn, is outlined with pearls, topaz stones and jet to glitter in evening candle light. Stomacher and armlets are fashioned of the pearls, topaz stones and jet, but the earrings and comb, which are an integral part of the costume, are of real amber. The heavy tassels flanking the front of the skirt and the sleeves are of the pearl, topaz, jet combination, while the slender slippers with their accented toes are beaded with the same jewels.

FACE BREAKING AND ENTERING CHARGE

Accused of breaking, entering and larceny in Williamstown, Conn., on night before the big drought—June 30, to be exact—William J. Matthews, 26, of North Billerica, was arrested in that town this morning by Lieut. Petrie and Patrolman O'Brien of the Billerica police, and afterwards taken to the Connecticut city by Chief of Police Killmore, who came to Lowell with a warrant for Matthews' arrest.

Matthews, in company with Albert Potvin of Williamstown, who was recently arrested by Chief Killmore, is charged with breaking into a saloon and afterwards a dry goods store in that city on June 30, and stealing several quarts of gin and whiskey and some tobacco from the third parlor, and several pairs of silk stockings from the clothing store.

REPUBLICAN RALLY

Lowell republicans held a well-attended rally last evening in Eagles' hall at which the principal speaker was Frank B. Hall, chairman of the republican state committee. The meeting was one of a series to be held during the present state campaign.

William J. White presided and introduced Chairman Hall. Mr. Hall emphasized the necessity of bringing out the greatest possible vote at the coming election if success were to be attained and said that members of the republican party should not be too confident as to the result unless a record registration at the polls was in evidence on election day.

He referred to the great vote that was cast in the days when Wolcott won by 131,000, Guild by 103,000 and Crane by 97,000. Massachusetts, Kentucky, New Jersey and Maryland are electing governors this year, he said, and the election in Massachusetts was the most important of the four.

The bearing of the current campaign for Americanization on the political situation was dwelt on by the speaker. He said that the people here had been partly to blame for the spirit of unrest now evident among the foreign-speaking immigrants. A better spirit of helpfulness and friendliness must be brought into play, he said, if the immigrant is to do his best work as an American citizen. However, if the immigrant persists in his allegiance to his mother country after being here a reasonable length of time, he should be invited to return to his native land. It was the duty of republicans to cultivate a spirit of helpfulness with the immigrants, he said, so that their presence as part of the electorate might be felt.

In concluding, he urged support for Governor Collins at the coming election and asked for a large vote.

William A. Mitchell spoke on organization work and Albert Edmund Brown led those present in singing. Mr. Brown will lead the singing at the state republican convention in Boston tomorrow.

TO PROTECT USERS OF GASOLINE

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—More than 40 dealers in gasoline answered the request of State Commissioner of Standards Thure Hanson yesterday and went to the state house to hear him talk of pumps which failed to furnish a correct amount of "gas." He said that there was none among them he suspected of intentional short-selling. Others who had ignored his "polite letters," he said, might expect court summonses.

"I am here to protect the public and the public will be protected," said the commissioner. He said, further, that the meeting had been called to see if the dealers and he could not co-operate for the public good.

Three principal sources of inaccuracy to be guarded against, he pointed out, were shortage because the tank is too low, because it is too full and because the hose is not drained. He urged that pumps be "primed" every morning by drawing off one or two gallons before any is sold, as this will put the pump in better condition.

He said that the owner of the pump and not the manufacturer is responsible for short sales; that it is not the duty of his inspectors to repair pumps, that the hose is not part of the measure and that pumps should be sealed early in the season and later toward the close.

WOMEN AGAINST JITTERS
BOSTON, Oct. 3.—The Woburn city council last night refused to grant jitter licenses to North Woburn and Wilmington. Mayor Bernard J. AUTOISTS, BEWARE!
The Lowell police have begun a campaign against autoists whose practice it is to put on more speed after striking dogs and other animals while passing through the city, and if autoists continue to keep on their way after knowingly causing injury to animals there will be a police court sequel to the affair, S. A. Welch declares.

HELD COFFEE PARTY

An enjoyable coffee party was held at Grace Universalist church last evening and, despite the inclement weather, a large attendance was on hand for the event. Following the supper several musical selections were given by members of choir, including Mrs. Lawrence Jordan, Mrs. George E. Burns, Miss Edith Chase, Mrs. F. L. Gage and Miss Bernice Russell. The matrons were Mrs. J. C. Merchant and Mrs. Henry Davis. The supper arrangements were in charge of Mrs. J. A. Evans.

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single skin and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Adv.

LABOR COUNCIL ELECTS OFFICERS

At a regular meeting of the Trades and Labor council held last evening a movement was started by which the labor unions of this city will attempt to bring about a reduction in car fares. The first step toward that end was taken when the secretary of the council was instructed to write to the trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company for a conference at the earliest possible moment. This matter will also be taken up individually by all unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

Routine business was transacted and officers were elected for the ensuing six months:

President, Frank A. Warnock; vice president, John B. Curtin; secretary, Charles E. Anderson; assistant secretary, Frank N. Stimpson; financial secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Anne Reagan; sergeant-at-arms, Michael Kinane; trustees, Fred Drouin, Mrs. Rachel Campbell and Timothy O'Rourke.

The following committee was appointed to prepare a list of standing committees to be submitted to the next meeting: Timothy O'Rourke, Charles E. Anderson, Albra W. Hersome, Walter G. Roarke and George F. Keating.

Painters' Union

President Robert Moore occupied the chair at the regular meeting of the members of the Painters' union, which was held last evening in Carpenters' hall. Routine business was transacted and it was voted to hold a special meeting next Thursday night for the purpose of hearing the plea of the local firemen for a double platoon system in this city.

The famous leaning tower of Pisa is of pure white Carrara marble in the Gothic style. Its departure from the perpendicular has been variously interpreted, but there is little doubt that it arises from the softness of the soil on which it stands, but notwithstanding its threatening appearance, it has now stood for more than 600 years without rent or decay.

What Famous Actors Do for Their Teeth

No class values appearance so much as those of the stage and films, and their teeth come first. They want them clean and highly polished.

Great Lescage, who has the most perfect teeth on the American stage, uses Albolon Dental Cream. So do Cleo Maguire, Emmy Wehlen, Mac Murray and the great star of the Follies, Eddie Cantor. They take no chances with polish and carbolic acid tooth pastes, with gritty things that wear away enamel.

Albolon is calcium carbonate, saponified and mixed with the well-known oils of cloves, cinnamon and eucalyptus, which authorities declare is the efficient and safe composition for women and children, and so naturally for you. It is in equal parts cleansing, polishing and antiseptic. A tube containing 35 brushings is sold everywhere for 25c. It is unnecessary to pay more.—Adv.

DISCONTINUE TOWN RAILWAY SERVICE

A special town meeting was held in Westford Wednesday evening. In the absence of the town clerk Arthur E. Day was chosen to fill the position, while Capt. Sherman H. Fletcher was elected moderator. Under article 6 it was voted to accept the recommendation of the joint committee chosen to investigate the advisability of the town spending money for the continued operation of Brookside branch of the Lowell & Fitchburg St. Ry., to wit, that it was inadvisable to appropriate any more money for the said line, which means that the street railway service to the centre of Westford will be discontinued.

Under article 2 it was voted to elect a board of health at the next annual meeting.

Article 3: Voted to appropriate an employment of a public health nurse.

Additional $5000 for the repair of roads and bridges.

Article 4: Voted to appropriate an additional $2000 for the support of the public schools.

Article 5: Voted the sum of $3000 to be expended in connection with the meeting.

36 Proposed Changes in Peace Treaty Voted Down by Senate

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—At last reaching the stage of action in its consideration of the peace treaty, the senate swept aside in quick succession yesterday, 36 of the 45 amendments which had been written into the document by the foreign relations committee. The smallest majority recorded against any of the committee proposals was 16, and the largest was 23.

All Fall's Amendments

All of the amendments considered had been introduced by Senator Fall, republican, New Mexico, and were designed to curtail American participation in European settlements resulting from the war.

Of the nine amendments yet to be acted on, six relate to the Shantung section, two propose to equalize voting power in the League of Nations, and one would limit American representation on the reparations commission.

In the absence of a definite agreement on the disposition of these proposals, senate leaders thought last night that the debate might run on for several days before another roll-call is taken.

Throughout the day's voting the democrats presented a solid front against the amendments except for Senators Gore of Oklahoma and Thomas of Colorado. Seventeen republicans, on the other hand, lined up against the first committee proposal to be considered and most of them stood with the democrats on all succeeding roll-calls. Many of them announced they were for reservations which they believed would cover the same ground without endangering the treaty.

At adjournment the treaty advocates declared themselves elated at the day's work and the opposition leaders also were claiming a victory on the showing made for their amendments. They mustered a maximum strength of 31 which with absentees would be sufficient, they declared, to ensure the treaty's defeat unless satisfactory qualifications are accepted. Thirty-three negative votes on the final roll-call, they pointed out, would make impossible the two-thirds majority necessary for ratification.

Under a special agreement speeches on the amendments were limited to five minutes, and nearly half the senate membership got into the running debate which occupied most of the day. Only a few senators were absent and many members of the house crowded into the rear of the chamber to see the first actual act on the treaty, while in the filled galleries the ushers stood guard in the aisles to restrain spectators from applauding the declarations from the floor.

Once during the debate the rule against applause was broken, however, a wave of handclapping following a speech by Senator McCumber of North Dakota, a republican member of the committee, who pleaded against amendment of the treaty and concluded by declaring that "no harm could come of America's doing its full duty to the very end." The demonstration was quickly hushed by vigorous use of the gavel.

There were only four roll calls, all the other amendments being voted down by acclamation. The first record vote stood 30 to 55 against an amendment to eliminate the United States from representation on the commission to adjust the German-Belgian boundary. The senate went on record 31 to 56 against withdrawing from the Saar Basin commission; 28 to 53 against refusing to be a party to the agreements affecting Czechoslovakia; and 1 to 46 against precluding this country from the upper Silesia settlement.

The roll call on the Belgian boundary amendment follows:

For adoption: Republicans—Ball, Borah, Brandegee, Calder, Curtis, Dillingham, Elkins, Fall, Fernald, France, Frelinghuysen, Gronna, Harding, Knox, La Follette, Lodge, McCormick, McLean, Moses, New, Newberry, Norris, Penrose, Phipps, Poindexter, Sherman, Wadsworth, Warren and Watson—29; democrats—Gore—1.

Total for adoption—30.

Against adoption: Republicans—Capper, Colt, Cummins, Edge, Hale, Jones (Washington), Kellogg, Kenyon, Keyes, Lenroot, McCumber, McNary, Nelson, Smoot, Spencer, Sterling and Townsend—17.

D. S. MEDAL GIVEN ONLY ONE WOMAN

NEW YORK, Oct.—Only 129 Distinguished Service medals were awarded to American soldiers—and of these just one was presented to a woman.

Miss Mary Vall Andrews, an American Red Cross canteen worker in France, was the woman chosen for the distinguished honor.

The medal was presented to Miss Andrews by General Pershing in the name of the president of the United States.

Miss Andrews, a New York woman, was one of the first seven American girls to go overseas. She went to the Toul sector as the American troops entered it, and on her own initiative set up a canteen tent in the station yard and gave small comforts to the soldiers arriving or on leave. Within a month she assisted 8669 doughboys a day, and it is estimated that during her entire service her canteen welcomed more than 3,000,000 soldiers.

After the tent's success she opened a rest house for officers and men, and finally was put in charge of an entire hotel. Under her direction were installed shower baths where thousands of men enjoyed their first chance for a bath after weeks in the trenches.

Miss Andrews is now at home, but planning to continue her social and public service in some other form.

EASIER NOW THAN LATER

It is easier to break up a cold or check a cough now than it will be later. Persistent bronchial coughs that "hang on" all winter pave the way for serious throat and lung diseases. J. W. Day, 63 Campbell Ave., E., Detroit, Mich., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar has been one of bronchitis very quickly. I have never to have it again." This reliable family medicine for the relief of coughs, colds, croup, hoarseness, etc., continues to operate. Children like it. WINDOW DISPLAY AT BON MARCHE

Even on a rainy morning the present display in the windows of the Bon Marche store brings the passersby to an appreciative halt so that a closer and more admiring view may be had of this attractive outlay of fall clothes.

As a most fitting background to the appealing variety of women's suits, waists and hats, there is a front of a colonial house in miniature. Subdued lights of the old style English hang from either side of the door. The miniature windows are of French design and small red and blue plush curtains are draped from the tops.

The miniature display in the right window is that of the front of the house while the other miniature is a side view with a large French window in the center. The entire lighting is most delightful to the eye and senses of warning cheer within.

The variety and appropriate style of the clothing display are cleverly planned out and have been the cause of many admiring remarks from all.

TO DISCONTINUE TROLLEY LINE

WHITMAN, Oct. 2.—Whitman seems destined to lose the street cars, and unless something unforeseen happens, the trolleys on the Brockton-Whitman branch of the former Bay State system will be called into the barns Oct. 13. Division Manager P. F. Sheehan has agreed to allow the matter of a choice between the trolley and the jitney bus to stand until after the Brockton fair, when, he declares, he will post the seven-day discontinuation notice.

It would seem that the town is powerless to prevent this. Twice have the townspeople refused to accept the act empowering towns and cities to govern jitney traffic, and it is stated that the issue will for the third time be placed before the town for referendum vote. The bus owners have tried in vain to secure some definite statement from the Whitman town officials, who prefer to remain quiet, stating that a special town meeting will soon be called.

CARDINAL MERCIER IS HONORED BY YALE

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 3.—Yale university and the historic city of New Haven yesterday bestowed its greatest honors upon heroic Cardinal Mercier, aged prelate of Belgium. In Woolsey hall last night at a special convocation, second in 30 years, President Arthur Twining Hadley conferred the honorary degree of doctor of laws on this great figure of a great war. Earlier in the day, after one of the most vociferous local welcomes ever accorded a world-noted personage, Mayor David E. Fitzgerald granted freedom of the city to "Mercier, servant of God and Belgium."

City and university could not do enough in their efforts to cheer this man against whom war's evil surges in vain. Best of all, President Hadley struck the feelings of a great community and famous institution of education.

"No words can adequately express the pleasure with which Yale men welcome you," he said. "To find a parallel to this occasion we must go back a century to the visit of Talleyrand or two centuries to that of Berkeley. In you we find combined the qualities of both these men. The statesmanship of the one, the philosophic acumen of the other."

TESTED RECIPES FOR LUNCHEON

BY HINDY RYE

Among the many wonderful things Uncle Sam does for us, and which all too few of us know about, is the testing and compiling of food recipes.

The following are a series of government recipes used in food demonstrations and study classes in different states by some demonstration agents for the United States department of agriculture. Those agents work in connection with the various state agriculture colleges.

The ones selected here were chosen for their suitability as the main dish at noon day luncheon in homes where there are hungry boys and girls coming in from school.

They are also suggested as interesting to housekeepers who serve supper at night instead of dinner.

Baked Bean Soup: 1 pint baked beans and liquid, 1 pint white sauce, milk 1/2 cupful flour, 1/4 cupful butter, 1/2 teaspoonful pepper. Melt the butter, stir in the flour and seasonings. Add milk gradually and stir constantly until it thickens. This is the white sauce and to it add the bean pulp and liquid which has been forced through a strainer. Flavor with a little onion juice.

Vegetable Souffle: 3/4 cupful cornmeal, 1 1/2 cupful boiling water, 1/2 teaspoonful paprika, 2 teaspoonfuls salt, 2 tomatoes, 1 green pepper, 1 tablespoonful grated onion, 2 eggs. Stir the hot water, salt, pepper, cut tomatoes, green pepper and grated onion into the corn meal; when mixed add the beaten eggs and fold in the whites, beaten stiff. Bake for 40 minutes.

American Chop Suey: 3/4 cupful spaghetti or rice, 1 pint-can tomatoes, 1/2 teaspoonful pepper, 1/2 cupful cooked or uncooked meat, chopped, 1 small onion, 1 teaspoonful salt. Cook rice or spaghetti in boiling water until tender. Drain, add other ingredients, pour into well-greased baking dish, and bake in oven until meat is cooked.

Minestrina: 5-inch strip fat salt pork, 1 cupful celery, chopped small, 1/2 cupful rice, salt and pepper, 1 large onion, 1/2 peck spinach, 1 tablespoonful chopped cheese, 1 teaspoonful Worcestershire sauce. Cut pork fine, chop onions and celery, add the spinach, cook in double boiler for 1 hour, or until pork has melted. Add 2 quarts boiling water, cook directly over fire 10 minutes. Add rice, cook 30 minutes more. Add cheese and flavoring. Serve at once. Minestrina is an Italian dish that has proved very popular.

Vegetable Stew: 1/2 cupful carrots, 1/2 cupful celery, 1/2 cupful turnips, 1 1/2 cupful potato, 1 tablespoonful onion. Prepare the amounts of vegetables given and cut into small cubes. Saute all except potatoes in 3 tablespoonfuls of drippings until a delicate brown. Add salt and pepper to taste, and a quart of boiling water. Add the potatoes 20 minutes before the stew is finished and 1 teaspoonful of chopped parsley. The potatoes will usually thicken the stew sufficiently, but flour may be added 10 minutes before serving for thicker consistency.

Corn Roast: 1 cupful corn, 1 cupful bread crumbs, 1/2 cupful chopped cooked carrots, 2 eggs, beaten, 2 tablespoonfuls melted fat, 1 tablespoonful chopped parsley. Salt and pepper. Mix the ingredient together, in the order named, omitting 1 tablespoonful fat. Shape into loaf on a greased baking sheet, brush over with the remaining fat and bake for 25 minutes in a moderate oven. Serve at once with white or brown sauce.

NOTTINGHAM BAN ON GERMAN WORKERS

(N. E. A. Special to The Sun)

NOTTINGHAM, Eng., Oct. 3.—Nottingham lace makers hope all Germans will be sent back to Germany. Nottingham has experienced the crookedness of the Germans in business. German agents worked their way into the lace industry which is the backbone of Nottingham, learned all its secrets and then set out for home to compete with the Nottingham lace, or set up in business under the noses of those who taught them. Result: Nottingham board of trade passes a resolution to trade with no firm which employs an enemy alien during the next ten years.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Damage by rats in agricultural districts of England is estimated at a billion dollars a year! The result is a national campaign to exterminate rats, plans for a national rat week in October and for the organization of rat clubs to kill off the rodents.

Exhausted at sixteen regains strength with RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women.

MISS EMMA MESSIER

I am sixteen years of age, and last year I was excessively weak, owing to the fact that I was forced to start working at a very early age, with the result that I soon became exhausted. My mother, who had great confidence in the efficacy of RED PILLS, persuaded me to take them during the period of one year. Today, thanks to the good results obtained from their regular use, I am feeling much stronger and have more ambition to attend to my daily duties. We always have a few boxes of RED PILLS on hand at my home, and I am only too happy to say that in my opinion RED PILLS are an excellent tonic for weak and suffering young girls.

LOWELL'S MOTORCYCLE POLICE SQUAD READY

Lowell's motorcycle police squad will get into action tomorrow, according to Mayor Perry D. Thompson, and the police protection of the city will be very materially increased by their presence.

Three motorcycles, each equipped with a side car, fire extinguisher and a first aid kit, will be put into operation. The motorcycles will in reality be combinations of police patrol, fire apparatus and ambulance. Patrolmen Hamilton, O'Sullivan and Lynch have been assigned for duty on the machines and their territory will include Pawtucketville, Belvidere and Centralville. They will work mainly in the outlying sections of the city and will have much more territory to cover than the ordinary patrolman.

The mayor's purpose in installing

the machines in the department is to remedy conditions now existing which have caused certain outlying sections of the city to receive only meagre protection. For the present the machines will be kept at the central fire station pending the repairing of the floor of the police station garage.

TWO FIRE ALARMS

The fire department responded to two alarms for slight fires this forenoon, one at 8.33 o'clock for a blaze in the waste chute of the Tremont & Suffolk mills and the other at 10.35 o'clock for a blaze in a bale of cotton in a freight car in the yard of the B. & M. in Thorndike street. The former was a still alarm and when the firemen reached the premises the blaze had been extinguished, while the latter was a telephone call. There was no damage.

FEAR FOR SAFETY OF MISSING AIRMEN

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 3.—Fear for the safety of Captain Carl W. Dammann and Lieut. Edward J. Verheyden, pilot and aide, respectively, of the Wichita, Kan., Aero club entry in the national championship balloon race, was expressed today by Major Albert Bond Lamber, an official of the race. No word has been received from them since they took the air shortly after 6 p. m., Wednesday, when the race started here.

Apparently the Ohio, the smallest of the 10 balloons in the contest, has travelled farthest of any of the six which have landed.

Captain Warren Raser, its pilot, telegraphed he descended at 1 p. m., yesterday at Perry Sound, Ont., several hundreds miles north of Simcoe county, where the Murphysboro, Ill., entry came to earth.

CLUB LAFAYETTE HONORS MEMBER

Mr. Ernest J. Dupont, a prominent club man and well known in musical circles, will be married next Tuesday to Miss Yvonne Rochette, daughter of Dr. L. V. Rochette of Merrimack street. When the members of the Club Lafayette, of which Mr. Dupont is a former president and secretary, heard that their fellow clubman was to become a benedict they immediately got busy on plans for a bachelor party in his honor and the affair was carried out last evening in the well appointed quarters of the organization in Merrimack street and was participated in by about 100 members and friends of the club.

Good fellowship was the keynote that prevailed from the early evening until the wee hours of the morning. Musical numbers were given, speeches were delivered and a buffet luncheon was served under the able direction of Chief Bert Grew, who had spared nothing to make the "bats" most palatable and with great success. The feature of the evening, however, was the presentation of a gift to the benedict-to-be as a token of esteem, this being a handsome mahogany standing electric lamp. The presentation was made by Dr. George E. Calise, treasurer of the club, who in a brief address congratulated Mr. Dupont on his choice of a bride and after thanking him for the valuable services rendered the club during his term of office, extended to him the best wishes of his fellow clubmen. Mr. Dupont responded briefly, thanking his friends for their mark of esteem and assuring them that their kindness will never be forgotten.

The presentation was followed by a varied musical program in which the following named participated: Messrs. Arthur G. Leveille, Willie Rousseau, Alfred Ducharme, Omer J. Smith, Dr. A. J. Gagnon, Hon. John T. Sparks, Frank Monette, Harry Briggs, Urgel Favreau, Armand J. Dupont, W. P. Calise, Jr., Dr. J. E. Lamoureux, Dewey G. Archambault, Victor Rochette, Herve D. Parthenais, E. Gaston Campbell, J. and H. Pontbriand, the two latter of Nashua, N. H., Z. A. Normandin, Telephore Beauparlant, Oella Morin, Venace Favreau, James Lavallee, E. J. Larochele and others. Mr. J. B. Blouin of Montreal, a composer of music and known in the musical world as Johann Jose, presided at the piano and delighted his audience with musical numbers. Mr. Blouin is an artist and his efforts were highly appreciated.

Shortly after 11 o'clock all repaired to the dining room, where a very appetizing buffet luncheon was served. Later toasts were given and various games were played. The gathering broke up at a seasonable hour after all had extended their best wishes to Mr. Dupont. The evening's program had been arranged and was successfully carried out under the direction of the board of directors of the club of which Mr. F. N. Labelle is president.

How American Women Break Down

Owing to the modern manner of living and the nervous haste of every woman to accomplish just so much each day, they overdo, and as a consequence develop ailments peculiar to their sex, as is indicated by backache, headache, nervousness, the blues, displacements and weakness.

Women who find themselves in this condition should slow down, and depend upon that good old fashioned root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, to restore them to health and strength, for there is no other remedy known that so quickly restores a healthy, normal condition.

Here is the Story of a Most Remarkable Recovery

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was run down and nervous, could not rest at night, and was more tired in the morning than when I went to bed. I have two children, the youngest three months old, and it was drudgery to care for them as I felt so irritable and generally worn out. From lack of rest and appetite my baby did not get enough nourishment from me, so I started to give him two bottle feedings a day. After taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman, full of life and energy. It is a pleasure to care for my children and I am very happy with them and feel fine. I nurse my baby exclusively again, and can't say too much for your medicine."

THE HOME STORAGE OF VEGETABLES

The home storage of vegetables is an interesting topic of discussion among home gardeners at this time of the year. Most everyone has a surplus of vegetables in the garden. In order to save these for home consumption during the winter they must be placed in proper storage this month.

There are three different kinds of storage required for garden products. The first of these is the cool storage, such as a moist dark cellar or pit. Potatoes should be kept in bins in this storage. Beets, carrots, salsify, turnips, kohlrabi and parsnips should be buried in sand. Other vegetables which may be kept in this cool, moist storage are cabbage, Brussels sprouts, cauliflower and celery. The roots of these vegetables should be set in sand. The temperature in the cool, moist storage should be kept between 35 and 40 degrees.

The second type of storage is the cool, dry storage such as an unheated room in the dwelling. Onions, eggplants, peppers and tomatoes keep best under such conditions. The temperature of the cool, dry storage should be regulated between 35 and 40 degrees, the same as for the cool, moist storage.

The third kind of vegetable storage is the warm, dry storage, such as is usually found in a partially heated room or cellar with a furnace.

Squashes and pumpkins keep best in such places where the temperature ranges from 50 to 60 degrees.

There are several things to remember when storing vegetables. The vegetables must be free from bruises and decay, well matured and dry when put in storage. Stored vegetables should not be piled to a depth of more than two or three feet. Decayed vegetables should be sorted out and removed at intervals during the winter to prevent spreading decay to sound products.

A cool storage in cellar with a furnace can be provided by partitioning off a part of the cellar farthest away from the furnace. This room should contain a cellar window for ventilation which should be closed in severe cold weather.

Girl Asks the United States
to Aid Country in Free-

WASHINGTON, D. C., October.—
Here to plead for independence for her native land, Miss Nodie Kim, a prominent Korean girl, is attracting much attention in the national capitol.

Nodie Kim's father was one of the first Koreans to be reached by the mis-

Miss Nodie Kim

sionaries, and he and all his family
were Christians.

"Many young people I have known,
girls as well as boys, says the little Korean girl, 'have escaped from Korea
and the Japanese by disguising themselves and making the terrible journey
over the northern mountains into Manchuria.' They have even gone in winter, when babies have been frozen on their mothers' backs, and when big men have been frozen to death. They thought it better even to freeze to death than to endure what the Japanese wanted."

"Some day the people of Korea will be free or there will no longer be a people of Korea. We say with you,
'Give me liberty or give me death.'
Our school girls say it, and go to the police without fear. We ask the free
American people to be the friends of Korea. I am helping to establish a League of the Friends of Korea, and I hope that many Americans will join."

WHEN WOMEN

RULE THE WORLD

It was the first really important meeting of the all-women cabinet of
Mrs. Perkins, the first woman president of the United States. The matter under consideration by the cabinet
was exceedingly important—it was
war!

The faces of all the cabinet members were stern and grave, only the face of Mrs. Johnson, the secretary of the recently established department of millinery and dressmaking, retained
anything like its usual pliancy and prettiness.

"We must remember our men folks,"
said Mrs. Perkins, gravely. "It will be hard on our men to have us women go to the front and fight. We must remember that man is the weaker sex
and we must be prepared for many heart-breaking scenes when the mobilization of our woman's army is announced and the terrified, heart-broken men cling frantically about the necks of their women warriors."

"But," said Mrs. Smith, secretary of
a just war—to protect our men from
the indignities which might be thrust
upon them by the women warriors of
our enemy in the case of our defeat.
We must remember that if we go to

At the thought of their weak, suffering, loved men at home the faces of the women became even more grave.
At this moment a phone message came
to Mrs. President Perkins. She listened
a moment, smiled and then hastily addressed the meeting.

"Ladies," she said, "we'll take up
this war matter later. The most important thing in the world has happened. My daughter's husband has just phoned that my new-born grandchild has just cut a tooth! The meeting is adjourned!"

And, amid the excited exclamations
of the stateswomen, the cabinet meeting broke up.—N.E.A.

Has He Found a
Cure for Asthma?

Simple Prescription Gives Instant
Relief. Makes Breathing Easy.

In New England, where Bronchial
Asthma, Bronchitis and other diseases
of the throat and lungs are so prevalent, remarkably successful results are being reported following the use of a new form of treatment known as Oxid-dase, a physician's prescription.

Oxidase is a harmless but powerful combination of curative essential oils
concentrated and compressed into a small tablet. One of these tablets
slowly dissolved before going to bed
seems to have the effect of releasing
the muscular constriction of the bronchial tubes, opening up the air passages and regulating spasmodic lung action. This enables the patient to breathe easily and naturally while lying down and to get a comfortable
night's sleep.

No much interest has been shown that local druggists, including Lowell
Pharmacy, have secured a small supply
and state that they are authorized to refund the money paid for the first package if to any case this new treatment fails to give relief. Oxidase is pleasant to take, contains no harmful, habit-forming drugs and is not expensive. This makes their test an easy matter.—Adv.

CAMEL HAD NECK AND LEGS OF A GIRAFFE

AMHERST, Oct. 3.—A camel with the neck and legs of a giraffe, ranged the plains of Colorado a million and a half years ago with the ancestral three-toed horse, the Amherst college geological expedition found in its researches of the past summer. The expedition, which has just returned from western Nebraska and Colorado, brought back what is considered a prize collection of fossil bones.

From incomplete but representative parts of the skeletons of the "giraffe-camel" the scientists have reconstructed in theory an animal which although a camel, had the build of the modern giraffe, and was nearly its size. Ancestral members of the deer rhinoceros, mastodon and some rodent families were represented by other bones.

Under the miocene sandstones in prairie deposits of fine clay a million or more years older than the sandstone, were found other skeletons, including one of a tiny camel no larger than a half grown sheep. At the Pawnee Buttes a fossil egg similar in size and shape to that of the present day hen was uncovered, indicating the existence in those days of a bird, no part of the skeleton of which has ever been found.

Mr. Murphy alleges that he is tired of working 24 hours a day for 365 days in the year. In the future he intends to work only "eight hours a day."

The board of health is an important position and should carry with it more than a salary of the paltry sum of $300, said Mr. Murphy.

MADRID, Oct. 3. (Havas)—Interruption of railroad traffic and telegraph communication prevents details of conditions in eastern Spain, where torrential rains have fallen, from becoming known. At the latter place large hailstones were pelted in some places to a depth of over six feet, many houses collapsing under the weight.

Encouraging Bolshevism

Everything that falsely encourages unrest also encourages bolshevism.

Misunderstanding of American industrial organization, and of its benefits to mankind, leads to unrest, dissatisfaction, and radicalism.

For example, the Federal Trade Commission tells the public that the large packers had an agreed price for lard substitute (made of cotton-seed oil.)

It reproduces letters taken from the files of one of the packers, showing that such agreed price existed.

But it failed to mention that the agreed price was determined at the request of and in co-operation with the Food Administration!

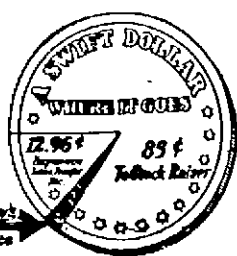

Even the Department of Justice, in its unjust attempt to create prejudice against the packers, has made public these same letters, with no explanation.

How long must this kind of misrepresentation continue? In so far as it is believed, it not only breeds discontent, but results in injustice to our industry.

GREET KING AND QUEEN

Belgian Royal Party Make Formal Entry Into New York—Meet Children

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The king and queen of the Belgians, with Prince Leopold, heir to the throne cast aside today the "incognito" which had shrouded them since their welcome at noon yesterday to the United States by Vice President Marshall, and boarded the yacht Noma in the Hudson river to make their formal entry into New York.

Driven by automobile from the Waldorf-Astoria, where they spent the night, to the foot of West 34th street, they were received by Rodman Wana-maker, chairman of Mayor Hylan's committee, on reception to distinguished guests, committee members, and city officials.

The Noma immediately cast off and started on a cruise about the harbor

prior to the official landing at the Battery.

The "incognito" which the king and queen chose to assume upon their arrival yesterday was a novelty to New Yorkers as was the presence in the city for the first time of a reigning king and queen.

The incognito proved only partially effective so far as Albert was concerned. When he went for an automobile tour of the city with Prince Leopold, he was fervently cheered. He received an especially enthusiastic ovation at Columbia, where he was recognized by students leaving their classes.

He visited the Belgian bureau, where he was greeted by 200 Belgians in a reception arranged by Monsignor J. F. Sillemans, bureau director. The king decorated Monsignor Sillemans with the Order of Knight of the Crown and conferred on Pierre Mall, Belgian consul general, a commandership of the same order.

Queen Elizabeth's incognito aided by a heavy white veil, proved more effective. Accompanied by the Baroness de Caraman Chitmay, her lady-in-waiting, and the Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Belgian ambassador to the United States, she visited several Fifth avenue stores and made small purchases from saleswomen who failed to realize the rank of their quiet customer.

In the evening the king and queen essayed to visit a Broadway motion picture show but every theatre they visited displayed the "Standing Room Only" sign and they were forced to abandon the plan.

The queen with her lady-in-waiting and the Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne then visited a cabaret, accompanied by Baron de Caraman Chitmay. King Albert spent the evening chatting with friends.

The king and queen expected to greet 50,000 children this afternoon in Central park. They will attend a theatre in the evening. Tomorrow night they will leave for Boston.

King Albert desired to go to Washington incognito in order to express his sympathy with President Wilson in his illness but abandoned his plans on receipt of a telegram from Rear Admiral Grayson that the president's condition rendered it necessary to prohibit his receiving any visitors.

German meals cost a third less than in the United States.

INFANT MORTALITY RATE STILL HIGH

Lowell's infant mortality rate for the week ending Sept. 27 was 32.1, sufficiently high to give this city second place among the large cities of the country which make reports. Fall River led with 31.8 and Dayton was third with 30.8. Atlanta was low with 21 and the average rate was 16.7. Rates for the large cities were: Boston, 18.7; New York, 19; Philadelphia, 22, and Chicago, 12.

TRANSFERS FROM CLAIMS APPROPRIATION

In view of the demand for funds in various municipal departments to complete the fiscal year, it is probable that transfers will be made from the claims appropriation which at the present time has a substantial balance. So far this year only $491.46 have been expended in claims out of an appropriation at the beginning of the year amounting to $15,356.17.

IN AN ALASKAN GARDEN

ALASKA ABLE TO PAY WAR DEBT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—"Alaska can pay the nation's war debt."

That's the new slogan of Uncle Sam's last pioneer country to the north.

Not only can Alaska pay the nation's debt, but its people are anxious to do so.

All they need to do it is more men and some of the government's money invested in development of natural resources.

Untold wealth, in raw gold, silver, copper and other minerals, lies buried in the mountains of Alaska, where few men have ever set foot. If properly developed, that wealth, dug from the bowels of the earth, will, if the income tax collector does his duty, pay the nation's debt in full.

During the war Alaska's productivity almost reached a standstill. Now, however, the eyes of the government are again being turned on this comparatively virgin country, and the eyes of the people of Alaska are being turned on Washington.

Here's why Alaska can pay the war debt of the United States:

It has an area of 586,400 square miles, extending from the 54th degree of north latitude to the 75th degree. If those figures don't mean much to you, these will: Alaska's area is greater than 20 of the 48 states of the Union put together!

Its taxable wealth today is less than that of the smallest state of the 15—but its potential wealth is far greater than that of the 20 states mentioned!

Alaska's wealth has only been scraped off the surface. Its population in 1900 was only 63,652, and in 1910 it was officially given as 64,981—an increase of only 1329 in 15 years. But in reality the war, which took nearly all the men from Alaska, cut its population in half. These men are now returning, and trying to induce others to return with them.

Once Alaska has the population its resources will support, it will be the richest section of the United States.

The daylight saving must have originated in Alaska, for there they have 22 hours of daylight in summer time!

To show how easily Alaska can support a population of many millions, officials of the Alaska bureau of the government call attention to the fact that it is in the same latitude as a section of European Russia which is smaller than Alaska, but has a population of 5,553,000. Included in this section are the cities of Petrograd and Archangel, as well as all the largest cities of Russia. All of Sweden lies in practically the same latitude as Alaska.

In that country, wheat, rye and other grains, potatoes, vegetables of all kinds and livestock thrive.

In 1910 Alaska had 222 improved farms, with an average of 191 acres to the farm, and with a total valuation, including buildings and livestock, of $1,465,402. Since 1910 the number of farms has vastly increased, but there are still miles and miles of fertile soil waiting for the hand of the settler.

SUPPLY OF SUGAR 25
PER CENT SHORT

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—Brigadier-General John H. Sherburne, chairman of the commission on the necessities of life, stated yesterday that during the next three months residents of New England must get along on 75 per cent of their usual allotment of sugar, the supply being approximately 25 per cent short.

Increased Demand

The shortage, Gen. Sherburne says, is due largely to increased demand for the sweet stuff for candy making, in part the making up of last year's deficiency but chiefly to the greatly increased consumption. The consumption has been greater during the past nine months than ever in the history of New England, he said. During this period the shipments in New England have totalled 101,000 tons as against 140,000 tons during the same period in 1913.

Asked about the rumors that large amounts of sugar refined in this vicinity have been shipped abroad, Gen. Sherburne said the sugar equalization board has an arrangement with the royal commission under which a certain portion of the Cuban crop is allotted to England. art of England's sugar is refined here, but the New England supply is not at all diminished because of this, as the refineries use only their surplus capacity on England's sugar, and they are able to handle all that is consigned to them for New England consumption.

Not more than 700 tons out of New England's supply has gone abroad, and these shipments were due to a mistake last July, when the supply was over-estimated and the demand under-estimated. These shipments have been ended, however, and New England will retain hereafter all the sugar intended for it.

To Equalize Allotments

With reference to plans for meeting the shortage conditions, Gen. Sherburne said a voluntary committee has been organized in the sugar trade, the duty of which will be to equalize allotments among wholesalers and suppliers. Sugar cards have been considered, but it is certain that there will be no reduction in price before next spring, and therefore advises everyone to place orders at once for such coal as will be needed during the winter. In order that dealers may know just what their needs are to be.

With respect to prices of general commodities, Gen. Sherburne says the commission has found that since Sept. 3, when its first fair price list was issued, pork products have dropped about 10 per cent in price, beef, 6 per cent; lamb, 5 per cent, and general groceries, an average of 5-10 per cent. He expects there will be a further advance in butter and eggs, but for other commodities the commission expects to fix a steady decline in prices.

THIRTIETH ARREST

indictment charging him with the larceny of an automobile and receiving stolen cars. The arrest was made by Sergeant Shannon and Patrolmen Russell and Curtin of the Cambridge police. Hickman is the 30th to be arrested in connection with the recent investigation of automobile stealing, which is being conducted by District Attorney Tufts and the Cambridge police.

John J. Buckley of Somerville, who is held under $12,500 bonds on charges of conspiracy to steal automobiles and receiving stolen property, pleaded guilty to four counts of receiving stolen cars yesterday in the superior criminal court. The case was continued till today for disposition.

SCAMPS IN THEATRES

Although no prosecutions have thus far been brought, it appears that many ladies who attend motion picture shows in this city are annoyed by men who sit beside them and indulge in unwarranted familiarity after the lights are lowered. The managers of the theatres have had many complaints as the result of offenses of this character, and it is probable that an example soon will be made of some of the hoodlums who insult respectable women by their unruly advances. The law is very severe against such offenders and it is to be hoped that cases of this kind will be reported at once to the police officers present in the theatres, so that the guilty parties may be promptly arrested and brought to punishment.

TO BLOCKADE GERMANY

The allies threaten to renew the blockade on Germany unless German troops are withdrawn from the Baltic provinces. The German government at Berlin protests that it has no control over those troops inasmuch as they have enlisted in the Russian White army. That is set down as a subterfuge by the allies and Germany has been notified that she must withdraw the troops or be prepared to withstand the effects of a blockade.

At the present time such a proceeding on the part of the allies might have serious results. It is feared that, in the first place, it might overthrow the German government and enable the monarchists to gain control. In this way a powerful combination between the monarchists of Germany and those of Russia might be formed for the control of both countries. It seems that the allies can scarcely make a move of any kind without stirring up seas of trouble, worse than those they attempt to remedy.

GARY'S ATTITUDE

Chairman Gary of the American Steel corporation, opposes the steel strike because he believes it would lead to the closed shop which he says would overrule the rights of those who do not belong to the unions and result in industrial decay. "The open shop," he said, "maintains the right of the employer to bring about the greatest production with only the interests of the employer, the employee and the public in sight."

Evidently Judge Gary is opposed to collective bargaining as that term is understood by the unions, and he declares that his company will fight for the open shop with all its resources. That places the issue very clearly before the country so that there is no room for any misunderstanding.

Whether the United States senate can change the attitude of the steel magnates is not quite clear. So far as long working hours are concerned, it is understood that this is a matter of discretion with the men. Were it not for the prominence attained by W. Z. Foster as an out and out radical and I. W. W., there would be some chance of a compromise; but with him as leader of the strike, there is little hope of bringing the steel corporation to terms except by a long struggle from which the men will be the chief sufferers.

INDUSTRIAL PEACE

Edwin T. Mulready, state commissioner of labor, is a man who has given deep thought to the leading questions of the day. In an address before the Round Table of the First Baptist church, he exposed some of the fallacies that lead to most of our industrial troubles. The causes do not all lie on one side by any means. Capital and labor are jointly responsible and apparently, there must be very material concessions on both sides before there can be any marked improvement.

On the side of labor there must be a divorce from the extreme radical, and the employer must abandon the idea that labor has no right to say under what conditions it shall work or who shall represent it in conference with the employers. In a word, there must be a greater spirit of co-operation on both sides, more tolerance, more friendly relations, and less of that antagonism which stands always as an obstacle in the path of real success.

Mr. Mulready emphasized the fact that labor troubles are not necessary to the success of labor.

and that by wise diplomacy and the application of the principles of fair play, most of the labor disputes that now sweep the country might have been prevented. There is much truth in what Mr. Mulready says, but it will take a long time to bring the parties in conflict around to his way of thinking.

THE OHIO DECISION

Opponents of national prohibition in the state of Ohio have raised a legal question which promises to cause delay in the action of some states relative to the ratification of the constitutional amendment. It has been decided by the supreme court of that state that the ratification of this amendment must be submitted to the people under the referendum law of the state.

Two other states, Washington and Nebraska, have raised the same point and in each case the supreme court of the state sustained the contention. When on the 29th of January last Assistant Secretary Polk proclaimed the adoption of the amendment and named January 16 of next year as the date for its taking effect, nine of the thirty-six states that had ratified, were referendum states. The other six states that have not already done so, are now to invoke the referendum law and appeal to the people as part of the ratifying power. Should their contention be upheld by the supreme court of the United States, and it is alleged that this court is already committed to the principle—then it would appear that the amendment was not legally ratified when proclaimed by Mr. Polk.

Since then, however, it has been ratified by enough non-referendum states to make it operative, but at a later date.

When the constitution was framed, it provided for the ratification of amendments by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states. There was then no such thing as the referendum attached to legislation in any of the states. Now, however, it appears that under the decision of the Ohio court, the legislature of that state is held to include not only the two branches of the general assembly, but the citizens at large, acting through the ballot box on the question of the amendment.

The Ohio court holds that as making a constitution is the highest function of legislation, it should be passed upon by all the agencies provided by the state for legislative purposes.

This new legal technicality will be fought by the Anti-Saloon league before the United States supreme court whose decision will be anxiously awaited by all the parties concerned.

COMPENSATION

Mother Nature cares for all her children. There is a law of compensating balances to this end. The abnormal is never permanent nor of long duration—there is always a return to the normal and before many days.

This is a large world. It is not a perfect world. But—it is never imperfect in all its parts all at once. The Creator had this in mind no doubt in making it so large that the elements that bring famine in one part will not affect all parts in the same season.

For instance, we have before us the special report of C. A. King & Co., Toledo, which says:

"The one outstanding fact in international agricultural statistics is the untailing regularity with which Nature compensates poor crops in one or more countries with good crops in others.

"This providential provision," the report continues, "was strikingly in evidence during the war, and the fact that famine has been all most unknown, except through defect in transportation, is direct proof that in spite of the defection in Russia and Balkan countries, sufficient wheat has always been produced to meet consumers' needs, although, by turns, Australia, India, Argentina and North America have all had bad seasons.

The report concludes by saying that the question may be naturally asked where importing countries are to find supplies of wheat to make good the undoubted losses which have lately occurred in North America, but it is answered by saying that it would indeed be a happy lot for a neighbor and coming home with her hands full of chocolate, I demonstrated with her about it and the

would be offset by exceptionally good mid-season crops in Argentina and India, and as already indicated, such a compensation would be nothing more wonderful than the huge American winter crop of 1914, the Indian crop of 1917 and 1918, the Australian crop of 1915 and 1916 and the Canadian crop of 1915.

All this is a clear ringing note of optimism. It inspires human confidence in Nature by the proof that she provides full harvest in one part of the world for the lean harvest in another part and all in the same year, provided the farmers do their part in co-operating with Nature's bounty.

There never was famine throughout the whole world all at one time. And with the perfection and extension of transportation there never will be famine again in any part of the world. Transportation is the final adjustment in the law of compensating balances.

Yes, Mother Nature cares for her children not only in the provision of the world's fields, but in giving them power to abridge distance over land and sea, that the full crops may be taken to the place of lean crops and in the same year, and that all years may be finally full wherever her children dwell.

Ask and ye shall receive of Mother Nature—the fruits of the fields and the power of will in dominion over all obstacles.—N. E. A.

King Albert of Belgium shows good judgment in refusing to visit Chicago and Milwaukee, two cities that have made themselves ridiculous by their pro-Germanism during the war. Chicago was disgraced by her Mayor Thompson and but recently the mayor of Milwaukee when asked to invite King Albert to that city used a most contemptuous expression in reference to the royal visitor. Thus both cities are very properly ruled out of the itinerary of the Belgian visitors. Nevertheless, Chicago sends a humble appeal to King Albert to visit that city and it remains to be seen whether he will comply with the request.

We have received an unsigned communication protesting against our advocacy of higher salaries for the teachers of Lowell. The writer, if we are to judge from his penmanship and spelling, never had much opportunity to judge of the services of school teachers; and it is with the hope of extending the advantages of education and thus lessening the number of such near illiterates, that we favor an increase for the teachers. It would be like throwing pearls to swine to argue the question with a correspondent who says that because the "teachers can sit down all the time," they do not deserve an increase.

The provision dealers of Lowell are wondering how it is that a certain Mr. Leavitt of Lawrence can secure such an ample supply of sugar that he can send an occasional ear to relieve the famine in this city. We are not criticising Mr. Leavitt for what he has done, but we are wondering why it is that some Lowell dealer cannot get into the sugar ring.

It seems now almost inevitable that the republican party will repudiate Mr. Burrell, their nominee for state treasurer as a "genuine counterfeit." This is but another illustration of the truth that "it's a bad wind that blows nobody good."

Steady work at reasonable pay will solve the troubles with which this country is menaced today.

The Artistic Lover

June Elvidge, the most proposed-to woman in the world, has this to say about the artistic lover:

A wonderfully appealing type is the artistic lover. It is he, and he only, who can make love so that the flowers, the trees, the stars and the heavens are part of the universe of love with which he surrounds his beloved. The artistic lover brings to his love-making all the beautiful things of life—it is he who can best paint in words the burning thoughts which fill his soul for his loved ones. The artistic type of lover is not necessarily, or even usually an artist. I mean by an artistic lover, one who appreciates and loves the beautiful wherever it may be. A woman who is herself of the artistic type can best appreciate this type of lover. It is only she who can make the future home what her lover-husband can best appreciate. If you are yourself an artistic girl, you should seek out for your mate the artistic type of lover. If not, you had better steer clear of him. He will make love to you anyhow. If he has the chance, but you will be wise to marry some other type.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

The board of trade is planning to wage an exceptionally strong campaign in the interests of Americanization during this fall and winter and is endeavoring to enlist the services of representative citizens of all nationalities in the work. The announcement by the school committee that the state board of education was willing to share the expense of the work here in Lowell has greatly encouraged the Americanization committee of the board as it will add materially to the resources at hand for the campaign. Last year an excellent start was made in this work and a large number of foreign speaking people taught to speak English. Even greater strides are looked for during the coming season and it is expected that the various preliminary meetings which the board will hold to get the campaign into running order will be well attended.

The absence of John J. Mahoney, chairman of last year's campaign committee, will naturally be felt greatly, but with Mr. Mahoney's willing co-operation as head of the work for the entire state, the local officials hope to make a worth while record.

Time: 7:30 p. m. on a Sunday night. Place: A downtown drug store.

Enter two youths, who are "got up regardless." They make for the candy counter and buy two boxes of sweets more noted for the bad taste displayed on the box than for the quality of the goods inside. Then they purchase cigarettes—also of the cheapest brand—and do a few steps a la shimmy while waiting for their change.

They are leaving to the tune of "I'll Say She Does" when they spy a mirror on a slot vending machine. Stopping short, they gaze with apperishing appraisal at the reflection therein, adjust their bow ties, twisting their necks to relieve the grip of the high, jaunty collars on their throats. Tilt their chapeaux to a most "killing" angle, wink at the comely clerk, light their cigarettes and go "jazzing" out into the night.

Ever see this happen? Well, so have we.

WILL NOT REOPEN DEVENS HOSPITAL

Despite the efforts made by the Massachusetts chamber of commerce to have convalescent soldiers who were removed from Camp Devens to Plattsburg, N. Y., some weeks ago, returned to the Ayer contingent now that the Plattsburg hospital has been abandoned, it is not believed that such will be possible.

Relatives of convalescent men have complained that hardships were imposed upon them because now they are unable to visit the men and provide them with some of the comforts and luxuries of home.

Col. C. R. Barrall, in reply to the request of the state chamber of commerce, states that it has become necessary to close a number of the base hospitals in several states. Camp Devens among them, and that the men who have been in the Plattsburg hospital have been sent to Fox Hills, Staten Island; Fort McHenry, Md., and the Walter Reed hospital at Washington.

"This is in conformity with the policy of this department to retrench and to contract activities of the hospitals as requirements for hospital-

REVENUE AND TARIFF BILLS DELAYED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Consideration of all bills dealing with national revenue or tariff laws will be deferred until after the senate disposes of the peace treaty under a decision of the senate finance committee.

Among the bills affected are house measures proposing to raise tariffs on dyestuffs, tungsten and other metals. Changes in the internal revenue laws which now will go over indefinitely provide for repeal of the car tax on soft drinks and for reduction of those on loganberry and other fruit juices.

LONG ATTACKS ELEVATED BILL

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—Richard H. Long, democratic candidate for governor, held rallies in Holyoke, Springfield and Amherst last night, after making a tour with Joseph A. Conry, candidate for attorney general, Arthur J. B. Carter of Fall River, candidate for auditor and Chandler M. Wood, candidate for treasurer, through Berkshire towns, during the day.

In his speeches Mr. Long dealt with the Boston Elevated bill and what he termed the solicitude of the Coolidge administration for the "railway wreckers." He contrasted the benefits which the bill confers upon the holders of "bankrupt stock" with the "niggardly" bonus given the soldiers. He declared that the times require a business man for governor and criticized Gov. Coolidge's attitude toward the workingmen.

Locomotive Fireman Saw Danger Ahead

Louis Marchand, of 20 Federal St., Greenfield, Mass., a locomotive fireman, says: "I was suffering from a severe stomach trouble. My head ached and I had frequent dizzy spells. I took cold easily and had some trouble with my heart. There was a pain over my liver and I was troubled by gas. My tongue was constantly coated and my skin sal-

EXPERT TALKS OF STREET RAILWAYS AND FARES

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—J. H. Pardee of New York, president of the American Electric Railway association, addressing the members of the New England Street Railway club at their banquet at the American house last night, declared that "if labor is to become an organized monopoly then it follows that labor must become a regulated monopoly."

He further stated that strikes upon a regulated public utility are directed against the public and not capital, and that they should be considered a crime against the public and be so treated.

"The public, which is the most affected," the speaker added, "may demand that labor assume responsibility and be organized in such a manner that it can be subjected to proper regulation in the interest of the whole people. It must assume certain obligations to the public, and it must fulfill those obligations if it is given the monopoly of furnishing electric railway service. It may not use that monopoly as a club over the public."

He further said that the politician who makes a pre-election pledge that he will solve the street railway problem by a reduction of fares is either intentionally or unintentionally deceiving the people.

"No vote of the people," said Pardee, "can make five cents do the work of ten cents, reduce the scale of wages, lower the price of materials, or compel the investment of a dollar of any man's money in the electric railway securities. No resolution, ordinance, ruling or law of a city council, public service commission or legislature can accomplish the impossible."

In the course of the war he became director general of railways. Then he became first lord of the admiralty with control of Britain's naval policy. Now he's on the job with the railroads again.

Auckland Geddes was a college professor before he became British minister for national service and reconstruction and then head of the board of trade. He was professor of Anatomy at McGill university, Montreal, in 1914. He enlisted as a private and was wounded at Mons and sent back to England. Given a job, he soon rose to the post where, through him was requisitioned all the man power of England for the period of the war.

King Albert Made Citizen of New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The name of King Albert of the Belgians was added today to the long roll of famous men who have been made honorary citizens of the city of New York. The ceremony on the steps of the city hall and the scenes which preceded it were a practical duplication of the picture that was presented recently when General Pershing was similarly honored by the nation's metropolis.

From the moment that the king and his consort, Queen Elizabeth, landed at the Battery, until his arrival at the city hall, he was the center of an ovation.

In the city hall plaza the crowd was so dense that the large force of police and soldiers had difficulty in keeping the roadway clear for the royal procession. At the entrance to the city the king was greeted by Governor Smith and Mayor Hylan.

In his address of welcome the mayor expressed his conviction that a new and greater Belgium would arise out of the wreckage of the great war.

Continued
Homestead plants of the Carnegie Steel Co., officials said today that more men were back and that tonnage was being increased daily.

From Newcastle, Pa., and Sharon-Farrell district, further north, reports indicated that more men were going to work.

At Johnstown, Pa., the Lorain steel plant is still operating short handed, while the Cambria steel works remains closed. Union organizers in the Pittsburgh district said they had made big inroads on the forces of many of the large plants, particularly Homestead, in the last two days.

Counter Claims From Chicago

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Officials of steel mills in the Chicago district today pointed to reports of increasing numbers of workmen resuming their tasks during the last two days, and indicated

tions by many other workers of their intention to return to work as upholding their prediction that production today would mount close to 50 per cent. of normal. Labor leaders continued their claims that appreciable inroads into the ranks of the strikers were not being made.

An official of the United States Steel corporation at Gary, Ind., asserted that 5000 of the 9000 men on the payroll when the strike was called were ready to begin work at Indiana Harbor, Ind., and reports of additional production came from Waukegan.

Three men with bricks in their pockets were arrested last night at the American Sheet & Tin Plate Co.'s plant at Gary, where a serious clash between strikers and police guards was threatened.

per cent. of the men were out. Strike leaders said today that the bricklayers and plasterers' unions had joined the walkout and that about 45 per cent. of the 150 bricklayers employed in the construction department of the steel company did not report for work yesterday.

50 Per Cent. Capacity
GARY, Ind., Oct. 3.—Alarmed at the defection of 1500 men yesterday, strike leaders today exerted every influence to keep their lines intact. Mass meetings were held and picket lines strengthened.

Apparently not more than 200 strikers returned to work today, at the near normal it was "not worth talking about."

Fight for "Free Speech"
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 3.—The fight of union leaders for the "right of free speech and free assembly" to hold indoor meetings in McKeesport, while officials of that city say such sessions cannot be conducted. Contrary to this state of affairs, the strikers say are the sheriff's orders that strikers must not assemble in Glassport, while local authorities of Glassport have notified union headquarters that meetings may be held there.

Union leaders and representatives of the employers made their usual conflicting statements today, the former claiming that the strike was spreading while the latter said additional men had returned to their places in the mills.

More Men Go Back
YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Oct. 3.—Officials of the Carnegie Steel company, said today that more men were reporting daily at the Ohio works. Observers reported that the number of men entering the plant today was about the same as yesterday. MILL officials asserted this showed a gain for them because many who went to work yesterday remained in the plant overnight. Few pickets were on duty.

WILLIAMS' WILDNESS CAUSED DEFEAT

CINCINNATI, Oct. 3.—A resume of the pitcher's records yesterday shows that lack of control by "Lefty" Williams, White Sox pitcher, plus the home team's snappy fielding, gave the Reds the second game of the world's series yesterday, 4 to 2. It was Cincinnati's ability to smother the ball that gave them the first victory in the baseball classic.

Williams yesterday handed out six bases on balls and the Reds made four hits. Ten hits were made off "Shin" Sallee, Sallee, however, gave only one base on balls and struck out two, while Williams retired only one by the strike-out route.

A grand total of 213 balls was pitched during yesterday's game; 22 by Sallee in nine innings and 121 by Williams in eight innings. The highest number of balls thrown in any one inning were pitched by Williams in the fourth. In this inning, in which Cincinnati scored three runs, he was forced to pitch 22 times. The low number of balls pitched in any one inning was seven. Williams pitched only seven in the seventh inning, and in the following inning Sallee equaled this record. Sallee was credited with a bulk in the sixth inning.

Following is the inning pitching record for yesterday's game:

House Elections Committee Decides Tague Entitled to the Seat

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—By a vote of 6 to 2, the house elections committee yesterday decided to recommend the unseating of John F. Fitzgerald, representative from the 10th Massachusetts district, holding Peter F. Tague as entitled to the seat.

The committee, holding that fraud had been practiced in the election by colonization of voters and illegal registration, out of the returns of the fourth, eighth and ninth precincts of the fifth ward in Boston, with the result that Mr. Tague's majority for the whole district was held to be 316.

Representatives Luce, Massachusetts, and Overstreet, Georgia, did not join in the majority decision which was agreed to by Representatives Goodall, Maine; Lehigh, New Jersey; Elston, California; Rhode, Missouri, and McLennan, New Jersey.

The committee report will not be called up in the house until next month, Chairman Goodall said, and meanwhile Mr. Fitzgerald will continue to hold the seat.

STRIKE SITUATION IN LOCAL SHOE SHOPS

The strike situation in the local shoe shops, according to information received this morning remains the same, although the members of the Allied Shoe Workers' union have been away from their work for over two weeks. The strike was started after the manufacturers refused to acquiesce to the demand of the workers, that of recognition of the union and an increase in wages.

It was learned this morning that an attempt is being made to call a conference between the manufacturers and the employees in the near future in an endeavor to bring about a settlement. A meeting of the strikers will be held this evening in Leather Workers' hall, Central street.

HUNT ARMS IN RIOT ZONE

Troops Search for Ammunition Hidden By Negroes at Elaine, Ark.

HELENA, Ark., Oct. 3.—Federal troops from Camp Pike, with local posse men and state officers resumed search today for arms and ammunition believed secreted by negroes at Elaine, a small town near here where race rioting during the past few days has resulted in 16 known deaths.

The race trouble, reports indicated, was fomented by agitators who had aroused the negroes to participate in an organized uprising and the authorities were determined to prevent further trouble by obtaining possession of all fire arms in the hands of the negroes.

150 Rifles Seized

Announcement was made at military headquarters in Elaine that about 150 rifles had been taken from negroes who had been arrested, or had been found at the homes of negroes.

Arrests of negroes today numbered 235, of whom 225 were under guard by federal troops at Elaine and 60 had been brought here.

The known white dead in connection with the fighting remained at five, including one soldier. Five white men have been wounded. Eleven negroes are known to have been killed.

PROBE LOSS OF SUNKEN VESSEL'S CARGO

NEW BEDFORD, Oct. 3.—Ensign Chester Robinson, U.S.N., R.F., a resident of Martha's Vineyard, who at the time of the sinking of the steamship Port Hunter, in Buzzard's bay, last November was home on leave, and Barney Zeitz of New Bedford, president of the Mercantile Wrecking Co., which recently salvaged part of the cargo for the government under contract, were the two chief witnesses here today before congressional sub-committee investigating the loss of about $2,000,000 worth of the vessel's cargo.

Ensign Robinson stated that in his opinion, the wreck could easily have been raised and the entire cargo salvaged; that he owned two boats which he rented to amateur salvagers; that the Port Hunter was without lights or buoys or any markers, and he felt that the steamer had been abandoned. He refused to criticize alleged delay by the army or navy officials, saying that he was still in the service and would make no comment on the acts of his superiors. Also he stated that he made no recommendations to the government, assuming the matter in no way concerned him.

Mr. Zeitz said he was turned down three times in bidding for the work of salvaging in favor of other companies; that they could not execute the contract and that finally it was awarded to him by Col. Yates of Boston, without competition. Mr. Zeitz testified that he was looking for the chance to salvage the wreck for many months, and that he informed Gen. Elmer by telegraph that fishermen were taking the cargo out of the vessel and selling it.

HOOVER URGES LEAGUE

Says "If League Breaks Down We Must at Once Prepare to Fight"

PALO ALTO, Oct. 3.—"If the League of Nations is to break down, we must at once prepare to fight," Herbert Hoover, formerly economic director for the supreme war council, told the students of Stanford university in an address he delivered here last night.

"The peace treaties," he said, "cannot be carried out without the league. If the league falls the treaties also fall. If the balance of power is to be maintained, the only hope is that Europe will not break into further wars of races, classes and combinations that will take civilization back to the Middle Ages."

"I am confident that if we attempt to revise the treaty we shall tread a road through European chaos. If we manage to keep our soldiers out of it we will not escape fearful economic losses."

"The allies may themselves revise this treaty without us and then assemble a council of nations of their own in an endeavor to solve the problems of Europe. It would be a council of Europe and in the midst of these terrible times, considering the debts they owe us, the material they must have from us or starve, I would rather that we be represented therein, lest it become a league of Europe against the western hemisphere. A peace without us means more army and navy for us, the old treadmill of taxes and dangers for us."

Desperation of Europe

Mr. Hoover said that few people seem to realize the desperation to which Europe has been reduced.

"During the coming winter some of them will look with longing eyes to this rich, fat nation, with its surplus of every human necessity," he said. "We cannot fiddle while Rome burns. If we believe we can see our neighbors return to another 30 years' war through the break-down of this treaty, and we still maintain our progress, it is the egoism of insanity. Our expansion overseas has entangled us for good or ill, and I stand for an honest attempt to prevent these entanglements from involving us in war. We are not dealing with perfection, we are dealing with the lesser of evils."

"For us to refuse to enter into a joint attempt with the well-thinking sections of a large part of the world to establish a continuing moral conscience against war is the utmost folly in our own interests."

Pointing out the likelihood that some European nations will again be plunged into war with their neighbors,

Mr. Hoover referred to a probability of the invasion of Poland if the treaty failed.

"There are many elements in Europe," he said, "who wish to see the treaty break down and the League of Nations disappear. During the last five months our allies have been growing weaker from a military point of view due to the necessity of demobilizing their armies, while at the same time the reactionary group in Germany has been growing in strength through the hope of yet securing a division of the allies. At the time I left Europe a month ago German militarism had already re-established itself as a well-disciplined, well-officer army of at least 400,000 men largely congregated on the Polish frontier and even defying the government at Berlin."

"Under the alarm of this danger the Poles, in the midst of the greatest economic misery that a nation ever saw, have been trying to create an army of 600,000 men for their protection from the Germans on the one side and the Bolsheviks on the other. If the treaty is ratified the German army will be reduced to 200,000 men and dispersed over Germany and their extra armament destroyed. The failure of the treaty means the invasion of the Polish state."

"This is only one of the powder magazines in Europe which cannot be destroyed until the treaty is ratified, and during every day of delay more explosives are poured into them."

Could Not Be Made Perfect

"The treaty finally agreed upon at Paris is by no means perfect," declared Mr. Hoover, adding that he saw no method by which it could have been made perfect under the circumstances.

"It is often overlooked that this was not a conference to settle the wrongs committed by allies or neutrals, but by the enemy only," said Mr. Hoover. "It was Germany's wrongs that were on the operating table. It would have been beautiful to have all the international wrongs on the table, but this is not a perfect world. If this had been attempted the conference would have broken up into quarrels among the allies and Germany would have been handed again the domination of Europe. The old guard in Germany hoped and expected this would result; up to date they have been disappointed."

"No one could be more disappointed than the American delegation that some great wrongs that were the result of the secret treaties that had been written in times of great desperation among the original allies were not eradicated."

Referring to the probable effect upon an aggressor of world enlightenment and the use of the boycott, Mr. Hoover said: "The hope which I, an independent observer, have placed in the league is that it will forever relieve the United States of the necessity to again send a single soldier outside of our boundaries."

WOOL KING'S SON LEARNING BUSINESS

Cornelius A. Wood, son of William M. Wood, millionaire president of the American Woolen company, who has started in to learn the wool business from the bottom, is here depicted grading wool in the storehouse of the Washington mills, Lawrence, the largest in the world. Cornelius A. Wood was only recently discharged from the United States navy, in which he was commissioned lieutenant.

NO RELEASES FROM THE STATE GUARD

It is stated on good authority that Superintendent Molloy of the Lowell school department and Principal Fisher of the Vocational school will not be released from duty with the state guard in Boston, even though our city officials should so request. The military authorities have already turned down many requests for the release of city officials, mill superintendents, attorneys-at-law, doctors and other professional men. They assert that if they should break this rule they would have to release perhaps 2000 men who hold important positions in the industrial business or professional life of the state.

Undoubtedly the school board is cognizant of this fact and this may explain why there is some talk of engaging an assistant superintendent of schools to deal with the very important educational questions now awaiting settlement.

The couple will make their home in Somerville.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 3.—Sir Robert Borden, premier of Canada, whose health has been affected for several weeks by overwork, will leave for Hot Springs, Va., next Friday afternoon, after the close of this session of the dominion parliament. It is said he will not return for two months.

UNSKILLED LABOR EXODUS

Several thousand unskilled laborers, including both men and women, have left Lowell in the past six months to accept positions in out-of-town industries, and the exodus still continues. The higher wages offered unskilled labor in various parts of the state and New England is given as the reason for so many Lowell people leaving the city; also the fact that at the present time local mills take in practically no unskilled help of any kind.

RENEW EFFORTS TO END BIG RAILROAD STRIKE

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Negotiations between the government and labor representatives other than railwaymen were resumed today in an effort to bring the authorities and the railway representatives together for a settlement of the railroad strike.

At an early hour the premier, George N. Barnes, minister without portfolio, Sir Robert Horne, the minister of labor, and Sir Eric Geddes, the minister of transport, conferred. Later they were joined by a deputation of the transport men and associated unions.

The government insisted at a conference yesterday that work must be resumed by the railway strikers before the negotiations could be reopened.

The President's Valet
Story of the man who "drapes" our presidents and gives them "polish" on White House etiquette. As "master of the bath" for three presidents, Arthur Brooks is perhaps the most traveled colored man in the United States. He knows White House "dos" and "don'ts" like a book. Arthur is quite an important American, well say.

Fashions For Children

Give Up Huge Palaces
Richard Spillane, America's foremost writer on finance, business and economics, has an interesting article for the N. E. A. of which The Sun has the exclusive service here, on giving up of huge palaces by the rich in big cities. He says that in various parts of New York city thousands of persons live in one block, while in Riverside Drive a husband and wife without children occupy an entire block.

Was Wounded 350 Times
African-American Soldier-Sergeant Jack Mason is "Human Sieve" of the United States army. This courageous colored boy was hit 340 times in a single engagement in France, yet he slugs until the many decorations on his breast fudge an accompaniment. He is the military "Polyanna" of the world and has a "red" personality which is irresistible.

Sun's Washington Letter
Richards, The Sun's Washington correspondent, tells how Senator Walsh by a single question forced Judge Gary to admit the reason why he does not recognize union labor—Names of new dye stuffs floor congressional clerk and several members—Labor leaders plan endorsement of treaty and denunciation of the world and then appeal for the Plumb railroad bill as part of the scheme.

At the first sign of skin trouble apply Resinol

That patch of eruption is not necessarily a serious matter! Even severe, well-established cases of eczema, ringworm or similar affections, Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap usually relieve the itching at once and quickly overcome the trouble completely. How much more, then, can this simple, inexpensive treatment be relied on to dispel skin troubles in their earlier stages.

Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment are sold by all druggists. For samples of each, free, write to Dept. 12, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

The union of vehicle workers, who operate the buses and other vehicular traffic in London, took a vote today to determine whether to strike in sympathy with the railroad men. The result will be known tomorrow night. The ministry of labor has posted a call for volunteer bus drivers.

J. T. Brownlie, representative of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers, said this afternoon after the conference between the labor men and the premier: "The situation is easier."

FRIENDLY POKER GAME ENDS IN MIXUP

"It was just a friendly game of poker," explained E. Stanley Chare in police court today.

E. Stanley paused a moment to rub his eyes, which were discolored and swollen, and his hand lingered for a second on his face, which also showed the marks of recent conflict.

"Just a friendly game of poker," he said. "I lost it. It was friendly for a while. Then we got into an argument and Albert Osser and I went outside to settle it."

"Then what happened?" queried Supt. Welch, who appeared for the prosecution.

"Well, I was going along pretty good until the other two fellows came out and jumped on me," affirmed E. Stanley. "Then some one hit me on the jaw and that's all."

E. Stanley was accompanied by Albert

Osser, Francis B. Clark and John F. Mahoney, all four employed variously as farmhand, cook, waiter and attendant at the state infirmary in Tewksbury, were arraigned before Judge Knight today, charged with disturbing the peace. Midnight last night was given as the time, and all four pleaded guilty.

Dr. William F. Hanson of the institution told the court that he had been awakened about midnight by what sounded like a miniature riot on the grounds outside of the buildings.

He investigated and found all four of the defendants engaged in what appeared to be a general free-for-all and making almost as much noise as the boys of the 26th did when they chased the Germans at Chateau-Thierry.

By the time he had dressed and made his way to the scene, the conflict was over. All but E. Stanley were still on their feet and apparently had suffered little damage, but E. Stanley was hors de combat.

knocked out by one of the right hooks and left jab which had been flying around indiscriminately during the melee, and soon revived him.

Here E. Stanley took up the story, as aforesaid, and allowed that the poker game had been the cause of it all.

It had been a most friendly game—held in one of the youth's rooms in the institution.

E. Stanley couldn't just remember what the argument had been; something had not suited him and he had invited Osser to take the air. If the other two youths hadn't boosted Osser's stock, things wouldn't have ended as they did he contended.

They took E. Stanley's word for this and then Judge Pickman ordered fines as follows: Mahoney, $10; Osser, $5; Clark, $5; and E. Stanley $5.

Wilson's Condition Grave

Francis B. Sayre, daughters of the president, are on their way to Washington. Mrs. McAdoo will arrive this afternoon from New York. Mrs. Sayre is coming from Cambridge, Mass. It was said that while members of the family had not been summoned to Washington, Mrs. McAdoo and Mrs. Sayre had expressed a desire to come. Miss Margaret Wilson, the third daughter, is now in Washington.

No Visitors Allowed

Orders of the physicians that the president be kept absolutely quiet would be strictly enforced, Secretary Tumulty said today. No official business will be brought to his attention, no matter how pressing, and no one except members of the immediate family will be permitted to see him.

The president was informed late yesterday of the defeat in the senate of the Fall amendments to the peace treaty and of the ratification of the treaty by the French chamber of deputies and this news apparently cheered him considerably, Mr. Tumulty said.

It was announced officially that the president's condition would not interfere with the industrial conference next week. In the event that the president is not able on Monday to address a communication to the conference, Secretary Tumulty will notify it of the president's desires regarding the selection of a permanent presiding officer.

In Consultation Two Hours

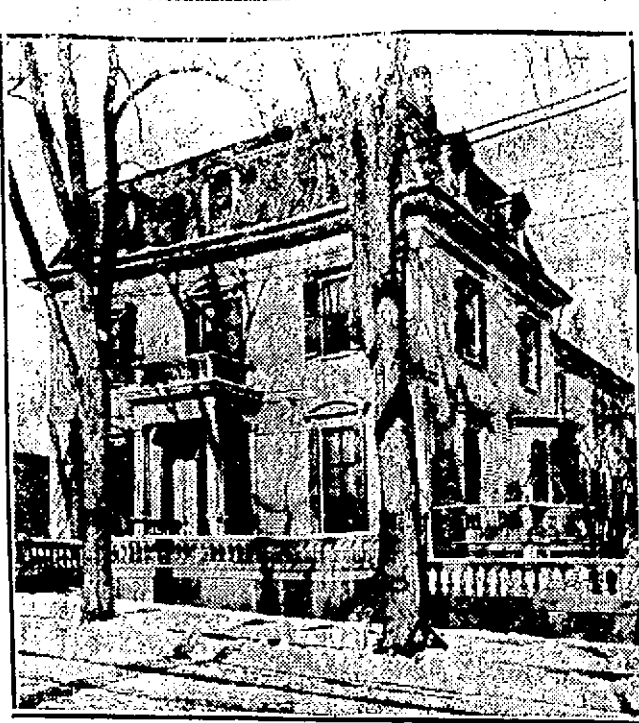

Admirals Grayson and Stitt and Dr. Ruffin were in consultation for about two hours and this delayed the issuing of the usual 10 o'clock bulletin as to the president's condition.

"The president's condition is unchanged," Dr. Grayson's bulletin, issued at 12:15 p. m., said.

Takes Some Nourishment

Supplementing his official bulletin, Dr. Grayson said that the president's mind was keen and alert and his physical condition fairly good. He also is taking some nourishment.

Dr. Grayson talked with Dr. F. A. Dercum, of Philadelphia, by telephone today. Dr. Dercum will come to Washington from time to time as Dr. Grayson feels he needs him, while Rear Admiral Stitt, head of the naval

THE OLD KITSON HOME

Negotiations Under Way for Sale of Building Occupied By Club Lafayette

Negotiations are under way for the sale of the building numbered 831 Merrimack street and it is believed the deal will be put through within a short time. The building, the old Kitson home, is owned by Dr. Rodrigue Mignault, and it is understood that the purchaser will be Mrs. Perpetue Boisvert, who conducts a boarding and lodging house in Worthen street.

The building has been occupied by Club Lafayette for the past five or six years. It is a wooden building of hospital here, and Dr. Sterling Ruffin, Mrs. Wilson's physician, will visit the president daily.

The consulting physicians have agreed with Dr. Grayson that the president is suffering from nervous exhaustion brought on by the strain of his work at the peace conference and his recent tour over the country.

Dr. Grayson said the president desired to keep in constant touch with official affairs and that it was only with difficulty that his mind could be diverted.

Sees of Inquiries

Despite the strain, Dr. Grayson has been under since the president was taken ill a week ago yesterday, he is remaining in constant attendance on the president, but when he needs rest, Dr. Ruffin and Stitt will relieve him.

Scores of inquiries as to the president's health are being received at the White House from officials, diplomats and friends. Those calling at the White House during the morning included Chief Justice White of the supreme court, W. A. F. Ekengren, the Swedish minister, and Samuel Gompers.

Says Off for Capitol

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 3.—Francis B. Sayre, son-in-law of President Wilson and now a member of the faculty at the Harvard law school, left this afternoon for Washington. He was preceded a few hours earlier by Mrs. Sayre. It was said that the Sayres had not received any word of an alarming nature regarding the condition of the president, but both wished to be with him at this time.

heavy construction and contains 12 rooms and a large billiard room. The building is assessed for $400 and the land for $5450, making a total of $5850.

Mrs. Boisvert stated this morning that she has made a deposit on the building with the understanding, however, that the club has the preference in case its members should decide to buy. The club's lease will expire in December and in the event of the deal being put through with Mrs. Boisvert, the latter will take possession shortly after the expiration of the lease.

When questioned as to whether the club would buy the property, President P. N. Labelle stated this morning that the matter has been discussed several times but nothing definite had been arrived at. There will be a meeting of the directors of the organization this evening at which time a building committee will be appointed to consider the future of the club.

X. Dercum, neurologist, who joined in a consultation at the White House yesterday, said today that the president's condition was grave, but that he was in a cheerful frame of mind.

The president, according to Dr. Dercum, realizes that he is a sick man and is making an effort to cease chafing under the restraint which compels him to relinquish temporarily the helm of the administration. By nature, according to the neurologist, he is a "hard man to handle" from the viewpoint of a physician.

"The president is not the type of man to be worried by his symptoms," said Dr. Dercum. "This led him to overtax his strength when he should have been husbanding it after the strain of the peace conference."

The president is profoundly exhausted and very weak. He remained in bed all day. He had no temperature, but the fact that he was up and about on Wednesday and became so completely exhausted later, caused everyone to be a little apprehensive."

Dr. Dercum said he would not return to Washington unless summoned.

SPRINGFIELD WELCOMES CARDINAL MERCIER

SPRINGFIELD, Oct. 3.—This city the first in Massachusetts to be visited by Cardinal Mercier, turned out en masse today to pay tribute to the Belgian primate, who arrived at noon from New Haven. Arrangements for his reception were made by a committee which included Bishop Beavan of the Roman Catholic diocese of Springfield and Bishop Thomas F. Davies of the Episcopal diocese of western Massachusetts.

Cardinal Mercier was escorted to the municipal buildings where a short reception was given by Mayor Adams and the city council and where he spoke to a crowd that included hun-

PLANS ERECTION OF APARTMENT HOUSE

If plans prepared by George Husson, one of the proprietors of the Royal theatre in Merrimack street are carried out a modern kitchenette building will soon be erected in Pawtucket street

at a cost of between $60,000 and $70,000.

Mr. Husson recently purchased the old wooden two-tenement house at 128-130 Pawtucket street and it is his intention to tear down the old structure and in its stead erect a four-story brick building, which will contain between 40 and 50 small flats or kitchenettes. This new building will serve to relieve to some extent the housing condition in this city and will be welcomed no doubt by the Textile school boys who have been unable to obtain accommodations here.

ATTACK ON SEN. LODGE

Much Opposition to His Stand on Treaty by G.O.P. Convention Committee

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—Sharp differences of opinion in regard to the League of Nations were shown in the speaking at the meeting yesterday afternoon of the committee on resolutions of the republican state convention. Considerable bitterness was displayed on each side of that important question, but the outstanding feature was the criticism which representatives of the so-called "Patriotic Societies" made of the attitude of Senator Lodge.

Rev. William M. Macnair, pastor of the Prospect Congregational church, Cambridge, and Brenton H. MacCurdy of Somerville, who have been for years prominent in the American Patriotic association, were the speakers who attacked Mr. Lodge for his attitude on the treaty and urged the adoption of a plank calling for the ratification of the treaty and the entrance of the United States into a League of Nations.

Mr. Macnair declared that the great majority of the Congressional ministers in the state favored the treaty and the league. He said that he voted for Senator Lodge in the senatorial election a few years ago because he (Mr. Macnair) could not support the political mountebank, who was the candidate against him, but that if the election were held today he (Mr. Macnair) would vote for the political mountebank in preference to Mr. Lodge.

Speakers for 10,000 Patriots

Mr. MacCurdy said that he represented 10,000 patriotic citizens and that at the recent meetings of the American Patriotic association there had been hardly a man or a woman who did not heartily favor the League of Nations. The speaker said that he had not been a Wilson man until he decided to enter the war, but that since that time he had been with the president. "No self-respecting citizen could be with him before that," Mr. MacCurdy said. "I believe in Senator Lodge," Mr. MacCurdy went on. "I have always voted for him, but I take issue with him on this matter, the most important question that has come up since Adam came into the world.

Senate's Brief Statement

Ex-United States Senator W. Murray Crane was at the meeting. He made this characteristically brief statement of his position: "I recommend that the following be inserted in the platform: 'That the committee favors prompt and favorable action on the peace treaty with suitable reservations that will not amend the treaty.'"

Ex-Senator Robert W. Washburn submitted the following in behalf of the executive committee of the Roosevelt club:

"We commend the statesmanship of Henry Cabot Lodge, senator from Massachusetts, leader of the senate, and chairman of the great committee on foreign relations, for and clear-sighted patriotism and tireless in war and in peace; and his attitude for a dedicated and not a negotiated armistice; and for Americanizing the treaty; and the Covenant of Nations, for the safety and welfare of the people of the United States."

That proposed resolution was signed by Harcourt Arny, Jr., Gaspar O. Bacon, George P. Drury, Walter H. Foster, George von L. Meyer, R. M. Washburn and B. Loring Young.

For Treaty Without Amendment

Ex-Speaker Joseph Walker and Courtenay Crocker, representing the Massachusetts joint committee for a League of Free Nations, offered a resolution the essential part of which read as follows:

"We urge ratification of the treaty of peace with Germany without amendment and we suggest, as a basis of adjustment between the extreme position of the president and the extreme position of certain senators, the adoption by the senate of interpretative reservations which do not substantially change the terms of the treaty, but which make the obligation of the United States under the treaty more clear and definite, and we commend the efforts of those senators who are working to effect that end."

Wendell P. Thore, who offered several planks for the consideration of the committee, supported Senator Lodge in his position regarding the treaty and the league.

Reports from Washington are that Senator Lodge has been thoroughly roused by what he believes to be attempts to discredit him in this state and that he will speak his mind freely and fully at the convention on Saturday. It is commonly believed that, no matter what the committee on resolutions does, a minority report will be presented on the floor of the convention, and hence a real fight which may make serious trouble for the party.

Ask Anti-Lynching Plank

Walter A. Johnson and W. T. Miller, two colored men, asked for a plank against lynching. Wendell P. Thore submitted planks in favor of old-age pensions, the strict observance of the legislative rules in regard to the pairing of votes, a national referendum before the people of the country can be thrown into war unless it be a war of defense, and state control of the production, distribution and price of milk.

Mr. Thore said that the republican party had strayed far away from the example set by Lincoln and other men to whom its orators frequently referred as lights of the world. He said also that unless the party awoke to a sense of its responsibilities and took an attitude in favor of progressive legislation it would soon find itself in a minority.

Consistent of the statements made to him by his employees, foremen and superintendents. It was far and away from being the truth about the industry.

Tighe repeated the charge that the steel corporation early in its history had appropriated $20,000,000 to fight unions and gave names of his informants. The unions, he said, had never sought the closed shop but union shops.

"When the management signs a contract as to scales and working conditions it is a union shop," he explained. "The effect is the same as a closed shop, isn't it?" asked Senator Sterling, republican, South Dakota.

W. Z. Foster, secretary of the general strike committee, whose alleged views as a radical, have drawn congressional fire, was present at the hearing prepared to testify after Tighe had concluded. Armed with copies of his book on syndicalism, members of the committee were ready for sharp cross-examination.

Admitted For Foreigners

Tighe read an advertisement of 1903 credited to the United States Steel Corporation, which said:

"Men wanted—Syrians, Poles, and Rumanians preferred."

"The gentleman (Judge Gary's) remarks about foreigners now," Tighe remarked, "are not well taken, in view of that."

"Do you charge that from 1903 on there was a steady increase of foreign workmen in the steel company's mills?" asked Senator Walsh of Massachusetts.

"Yes, I do," Tighe asserted.

Declaring that the present strike was preceded by universal demands for organization from steel workers, Tighe said about 100 new charters for local unions had been issued by his organization but that he could not tell exactly how many men had joined for the strike.

On October 1, he said, 353,000 men were on strike.

"How many of these strikers cannot speak English?" asked Chairman Kenyon.

L.W.W. Caused Strike

"Why could not it be delayed at the president's request?" asked Chairman Kenyon.

"Because there were a number of L.W.W. organizers among the men," said Tighe. "If we had delayed, they would have said that the American Federation of Labor could not do anything. They were getting some influence, and would have succeeded in calling some sporadic strikes anyway."

"Then in the last analysis, the L.W.W. caused this strike?" said Senator Sterling.

"Oh, don't take that view," Tighe responded. "If we had gotten a conference we would have had something to show these men, that their interests were being protected, and could have held them on the job."

TO MILITARIZE OMAHA POLICE FORCE

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 3.—In response to recommendations of Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, who was assigned to quell rioting in Omaha following the lynching of a negro Sunday and the burning of the court house, the city council yesterday voted to appoint 100 new policemen and effect semi-military organization of the force.

Two machine guns, 20 riot guns and motorcycles and automobiles for emergency use will be secured at once. A competent military instructor will be engaged to drill the reorganized department.

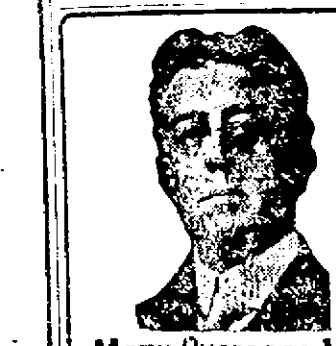

Gen. Wood said last night that there was no evidence of further troubles and all parts of the city were quiet. He made preparations to leave the city today.

Civil authorities are continuing the arrest of men and boys alleged to have participated in the riot. All are being held without bond for a special session of the grand jury next Wednesday.

FORGED POSTAL CERTIFICATE

Thomas Babrowski, alias Murray, of Billerica, who was arraigned in Lowell police court some time ago charged with forgery of postal certificates, which he was alleged to have stolen from a room on Middlesex street, was found guilty of forging a signature to a $100 postal certificate by a jury in the federal district court yesterday. The case was continued for sentence.

BELLEVUES AND K. OF C.
MEET TOMORROW

Tomorrow afternoon while the Cincinnati Reds and Chicago White Sox are battling in the Windy City, the Lowell Knights of Columbus and Bellevues will commence their three-game series at Spalding park.

This series, coming as an aftermath of the K. of C.-Lamson series, is arousing a great deal of interest and there are many fans who figure that the Bellevues will spring a real surprise and overthrow the council team. That the Bellevues have a bunch of fast, aggressive ball tossers is not denied, and the Knights are not taking the series lightly. The teams will fight for a purse of $500 and the entire gate receipts to the winning club and incidentally to settle the question of amateur supremacy in the city.

Manager Hartnett of the Bellevues undoubtedly will send Lawson to the hill to oppose either Owen Devlin or Scully. The latter showed so much against the Lamsons that it would not be surprising to see Mgr. Coughlin name him as his choice for the first game. Bob Keeler umpire and will start the game promptly at 3:15 o'clock. Special cars will accommodate the crowd to and from Spalding park.

THE TRANSYLVANIA

LONDON, Ky., Oct. 3.—Transylvania Day brought out the largest attendance of the Kentucky trotting horse breeders' association meeting and the race while lasting only three heats, was exciting. Prince Loree, after trailing his field into the stretch in the first heat came like a shot and then covering the quarters in 23 seconds, winning by a length from Royal Mac. The second choice, Royal Mac, went to a wild break on the back stretch and finished last after trotting a half in one minute to save his distance.

The second mile found Royal Mac in the lead at the quarter with Prince Loree trailing, the last named coming through the stretch as he did in the first and winning. In the third and final heat Murphy went away in the lead and closely pressed by Eastern held his position to the wire.

Loree was passed by Prince Loree, but the latter could not get up, being strung to his limit and was declared the winner only because of the conditions under the three-heat rule.

Don De Lopez won the first event in straight heats in excellent time. Louie Gratton the second event easily, but the fourth race was unfinished and was postponed after three horses had each won heats and three drivers had engaged in a job, which the judges ruled in the but, ordering the driver of Miss Volo Sombra to go on and win the third heat.

JESSE BURKETT WILL AGAIN COACH HOLY CROSS BALL TEAM

WORCESTER, Oct. 3.—According to a reliable informant at Holy Cross college, Jesse C. Burkett will coach the Holy Cross baseball team again next year, notwithstanding stories to the contrary. It is stated that Burkett has agreed to take charge of the team and the signing of a contract is a mere formality that will be carried out later.

Burkett is to get more for his services than under his old contract, and matters have gone so far as to have him outline some of his plans for next year to the athletic officials at the college.

LYNN, Oct. 3.—Paul Doyle of Boston proved too clever for Walter Butler of Revere in the 12-round main bout at the Casino A. C. last night. During the entire mill Butler tore into Doyle but the latter's clever boxing prevented him from doing any great damage. The bout was decidedly interesting.

Harry Loring of Charlestown won on a foul from Billy Moran of Beverly in the second round. Harry Nelson of Boston and Freddy Bryson fought a fast draw to six rounds and a bout between Young Leonard of Chelsea and George Robbins of Roxbury was stopped in the second. Young Leonard having all the best of it.

He stepped in at the 16th round between Fred Yelle of Taunton and Young Strona of New Bedford, after Strona had received a bad punishment and awarded the decision to Yelle. The bout between Young Stronborg of Boston and Young Dempsey of Boston was ended in the second round. Stronborg getting the decision. The Call'em for sure-enough safeties, yet, when the crisis loomed up, Slim was master. Joe Jackson stood on third base with only one down in the second frame, yet the hitting ace of Gleason could not score. Salie was too much for the Sox when backed against the wall. Again in the fourth, Weaver opened with a single and Jackson followed his lead. A sacrifice advanced both men. Jackson on second. Weaver on third, one man gone. Did they score? So. The old light stuck out like a sore thumb and the Red infield threw a cordon around Salie which rivaled that of Carman's mound when Gardner, Scott, Barry and Hobbs dug in their spikes and pulled their pitcher through. Yes, sir, the Sox hit Salie when his meant nothing except batting averages, but when they meant runs, the wise old bird was too much for them. That, to us, seems the answer.

Outfit and outfitted, yet they won. That in a nutshell tells the story of yesterday's victory for the Reds over the American league representatives in the big classic. They were lucky, some say. Granted, yet that conquest maiden, Miss Luck, always rides along at the side of skill and courage. Southpaw Williams was able to prevent the Reds from hitting in after in the first, but at the crucial moment, when his wildness saved his own grave, he could not keep the ball away from Kopf's favorite alley and the Redland shortstop slapped out the triple which took Chicago's heart away.

Textile Eleven Looks Good

Word comes to us from the Textile school that this year's football team of future mill accents is going to be "good." Not fair, but "good." The squad is large enough to allow the coach to put three elevens on the field at one time in practice sessions and being speed with power. An eight-game schedule of hard battles will try the eleven's worth, but as it looks like the best combination in years at the Monty street school, the team ought to come through in fine style. They open up against Worcester academy in Worcester tomorrow.

You're Welcome, A.T.C.
We are in receipt of the following: Call'em. Dear Sir: Will you kindly inform me through your interesting column how many times Jimmy Gardner and Frank Klaus boxed and the results? Thanking you for a reply, I remain

A.T.C.

They met five times. On April 12, 1919, Gardner lost the decision to Klaus in 12 rounds in Boston; on Nov. 29 of the same year Gardner turned the tables in 12 rounds in Boston; they boxed a draw in Boston on Jan. 31, 1921, and a no-decision bout of six rounds in Pittsburgh on April 11, 1921. On July 1, 1923, their last meeting, Klaus scored a knockout in Boston in three rounds.

Big Doings Tomorrow

We venture to say that the Knights of Columbus Bellevue series which gets under way tomorrow will be a world series in miniature. Both factions are all hot up over the idea and the biggest crowds of the year will turn out.

ELABORATE AND UNIQUE DINNER
GOWN OF PERSIAN DESIGN

BY BETTY BROWN
The elaborate and unique dinner gown here shown is of Persian inspiration. The stomacher of jewels and the armlets, the burnouslike sleeves, the great earrings and oriental comb all suggest the spicy atmosphere of Arabia. In fact the gown is spicy to the point of daring. Only a tall woman with exquisitely slender lines could achieve distinction in this model.

It is built of heavy satin and clinging chiffon. The creator of this wondrous gown chose a chiffon of apricot hue to combine with lustrous deep cream satin, which, in turn, is outlined with pearls, topaz stones and jet to glitter in evening candle light. Stomacher and armlets are fashioned of the pearls, topaz stones and jet, but the earrings and comb, which are an integral part of the costume, are of real amber. The heavy tassels finishing the front of the skirt and the sleeves are of the pearl, topaz, jet combination, while the slender slippers with their accented toes are beaded with the same jewels.

REPUBLICAN RALLY

Lowell republicans held a well-attended rally last evening in Eagles' hall at which the principal speaker was Frank J. Hall, chairman of the republican state committee. The meeting was one of a series to be held during the present state campaign.

William J. White presided and introduced Chairman Hall. Mr. Hall emphasized the necessity of bringing out the greatest possible vote at the coming election if success were to be attained and said that members of the republican party should not be too confident as to the result unless a record registration at the polls was in evidence on election day.

He referred to the great vote that was cast in the days when Wolcott won by 121,000, Guild by 103,000 and Crane by 97,000. Massachusetts, Kentucky, New Jersey and Maryland are electing governors this year, he said, and the election in Massachusetts was the most important of the four.

The bearing of the current campaign for Americanization on the political situation was dwelt on by the speaker. He said that the people here had been partly to blame for the spirit of unrest now evident among the foreign-speaking immigrants. A better spirit of helpfulness and friendliness must be brought into play, he said, if the immigrant is to do his best work as an American citizen. However, if the immigrant persists in his allegiance to his mother country after being here a reasonable length of time, he should be invited to return to his native land. It was the duty of republicans to cultivate a spirit of helpfulness with the immigrants, he said, so that their power as part of the electorate might be felt.

In concluding, he urged support for Governor Coolidge at the coming election and asked for a large vote.

William A. Mitchell spoke on organization work and Albert Edmund Brown led those present in singing. Mr. Brown will lead the singing at the state republican convention in Boston tomorrow.

TO PROTECT USERS OF GASOLINE

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—More than 40 dealers in gasoline answered the request of State Commissioner of Standards Thuro Hanson yesterday and went to the state house to hear him talk of pumps which failed to furnish a correct amount of "gas." He said that there was none among them he suspected of intentional short-selling. Others who had ignored his "polite letters," he said, might expect court summonses.

"I am here to protect the public and the public will be protected," said the commissioner. He said, further, that the meeting had been called to see if the dealers and he could not co-operate for the public good.

Three principal sources of inaccuracy were guarded against, he pointed out, were shortage because the tank is too low, because it is too full and because the hose is not drained. He urged that pumps be "primed" every morning by drawing off one or two gallons before any is sold, as this will put the pump in better condition.

He said that the owner of the pump and not the manufacturer is responsible for short sales; that it is not the duty of his inspectors to repair pumps, that the hose is not part of the measure and that pumps should be sealed early in the season and later toward the close.

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—The Women's city council last night refused to grant jitter licenses to North Woburn and Wilmington. Mayor Bernard J. ATTORNEYS BEWARE!
The Lowell police have begun a campaign against attorneys whose practice it is to put on more speed after striking dogs and other animals while passing through the city, and if attorneys continue to keep on their way after knowingly causing injury to animals there will be a police court sequel to the affair, Sgt. Welch declares.

CHILD COFFEE PARTY
An enjoyable coffee party was held at Grace Universalist church last evening and, despite the inclement weather, a large attendance was on hand for the event. Following the supper several musical selections were given by members of the choir, including Mrs. Lawrence Jordan, Mrs. George E. Barnes, Miss Ethel Chase, Mrs. F. L. Gage and Miss Bernice Russell. The patrons were Mrs. J. C. Merchant and Mrs. Henry Davis. The supper arrangements were in charge of Mrs. J. A. Evans.

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, rub about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Adv.

LABOR COUNCIL ELECTS OFFICERS

At a regular meeting of the Trades and Labor council held last evening a movement was started by which the labor unions of this city will attempt to bring about a reduction in car fares. The first step toward that end was taken when the secretary of the council was instructed to write to the trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company for a conference at the earliest possible moment. This matter will also be taken up individually by all unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

Routine business was transacted and officers were elected for the ensuing six months:

President, Frank A. Warnock; vice president, John R. Curtin; secretary, Charles E. Anderson; assistant secretary, Frank N. Simpson; financial secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Annie Reagan; sergeant-at-arms, Michael Kihano; trustees, Fred Drouin, Mrs. Rachel Campbell and Timothy O'Rourke.

The following committee was appointed to prepare a list of standing committees to be submitted to the next meeting: Timothy O'Rourke, Charles E. Anderson, Albra W. Hersome, Walter G. Roarke and George F. Keating.

Painters' Union
President Robert Moore occupied the chair at the regular meeting of the members of the Painters' union, which was held last evening in Carpenters' hall. Routine business was transacted and it was voted to hold a special meeting next Thursday night for the purpose of hearing the plea of the local firemen for a double platoon system in this city.

The famous leaning tower of Pisa is of pure white Carrara marble in the Gothic style. Its departure from the perpendicular has been variously interpreted, but there is little doubt that it arises from the softness of the soil on which it stands, but notwithstanding its threatening appearance, it has now stood for more than 600 years without top or decay.

What Famous Actors Do for Their Teeth

No class values appearance so much as those of the stage and films, and their teeth come first. They want them clean and highly polished.

Great Leon, who has the most perfect teeth on the American stage, uses it. Alphonse Dental Cream. So do Cleo Mayfield, Emma Wehlen, Mae Murray and the great star of the Foibles, Eddie Cantor. They take no chances with potash and carbolic acid tooth pastes, with gritty things that wear away enamel.

DISCONTINUE TOWN RAILWAY SERVICE

A special town meeting was held in Westford Wednesday evening. In the absence of the town clerk Arthur E. Day was chosen to fill the position, while Capt. Sherman H. Fletcher was elected moderator. Under article 6 it was voted to accept the recommendation of the joint committee chosen to investigate the advisability of the town spending money for the continued operation of Brookside branch of the Lowell & Fitchburg St. Ry. to wit, that it was inadvisable to appropriate any more money for the said line, which means that the street railway service to the centre of Westford will be discontinued.

Under article 2 it was voted to elect a board of health at the next annual meeting.
Article 3: Voted to appropriate an additional $5000 for the repair of roads and bridges.
Article 4: Voted to appropriate an additional $2000 for the support of the public schools.
Article 5: Voted the sum of $3000 to be expended in connection with the employment of a public health nurse.

AMENDMENTS KILLED

36 Proposed Changes in Peace Treaty Voted Down by Senate

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—At last reaching the stage of action in its consideration of the peace treaty, the senate swept aside in quick succession yesterday, 26 of the 45 amendments which had been written into the document by the foreign relations committee. The smallest majority recorded against any of the committee proposals was 15, and the largest was 28.

All Fall's Amendments
All of the amendments considered had been introduced by Senator Fall, republican, New Mexico, and were designed to curtail American participation in European settlements resulting from the war.

Of the nine amendments yet to be acted on, six relate to the Shantung section, two propose to equalize voting power in the League of Nations, and one would limit American representation on the reparations commission.

In the absence of a definite agreement on the disposition of these proposals, senate leaders thought last night that the debate might run on for several days before another roll-call is taken.

Throughout the day's voting the democrats presented a solid front against the amendments except for Senators Gore of Oklahoma and Thomas of Colorado. Seventeen republicans, on the other hand, lined up against the first committee proposal to be considered and most of them stood with the democrats on all succeeding roll-calls.

Many of them announced they were for reservations which they believed would cover the same ground without endangering the treaty.

At adjournment the treaty advocates declared themselves elated at the day's work and the opposition leaders also were claiming a victory on the showing made for their amendments. They mustered a maximum strength of 31 which with absenters would be sufficient, they declared, to ensure the treaty's defeat unless satisfactory qualifications are accepted.

Thirty-three negative votes on the final roll-call, they pointed out, would make impossible the two-thirds majority necessary for ratification.

Under a special agreement speeches on the amendments were limited to five minutes, and nearly half the senate membership got into the running debate which occupied most of the day. Only a few senators were absent and many members of the house crowded into the rear of the chamber to see the first actual act on the treaty, while in the filled galleries the ushers stood guard in the aisles to restrain spectators from applauding the declarations from the floor.

Once during the debate the rule against applause was broken, however, a wave of handclapping following a speech by Senator McCumber of North Dakota, a republican member of the committee, who pleaded against amendment of the treaty and concluded by declaring that "no harm could come of America's doing its full duty to the very end." The demonstration was quickly hushed by vigorous use of the gavel.

There were only four roll calls, all the other amendments being voted down by acclamation. The first record vote stood 30 to 58 against an amendment to eliminate the United States from representation on the commission to adjust the German-Belgian boundary. The senate went on record 31 to 56 against withdrawing from the Saar Basin commission; 25 to 53 against refusing to be a party to the agreements affecting Czechoslovakia; and 1 to 46 against concluding this country from the upper Silesia settlement.

The roll call on the Belgian boundary amendment follows:
For adoption: Republicans—Ball, Borah, Brandegee, Calkins, Curtis, Dillingham, Ellkins, Fall, Vernald, France, Frelinghuysen, Gronna, Harding, Knox, La Follette, Lodge, McCarmerick, McLean, Moses, New, Newberry, Norris, Penrose, Phillips, Townsend, Sherman, Wadsworth, Warren and Watson—29; democrat—Gore—1.
Total for adoption—30.
Against adoption: Republicans—Capper, Colt, Cummins, Edge, Hale, Jones (Washington), Kellogg, Kenyon, Keves, Leonard, McCumber, McNary, Nelson, Snoot, Spencer, Sterling and Townsend—17.
Democrats—Ashurst, Bankhead, Beckham, Chamberlain, Culberson, Dixie, Fletcher, Gay, Gerry, Harris, Harrison, Henderson, Hitchcock, Jones (New Mexico), Kendrick, Kirby, McKellar, Myers, Nugent, Overman, Owen, Phelan, Pittman, Pennington, Randall, Robinson, Sheppard, Shields, Simmons, Smith (Arizona), Smith (Georgia), Smith (Maryland), Stanley, Swanson, Thomas, Trammell, Underwood, Walsh (Massachusetts), Walsh (Montana), Williams and Wolcott—41.

D. S. MEDAL GIVEN ONLY ONE WOMAN

NEW YORK, Oct.—Only 500 Distinguished Service medals were awarded to American soldiers—and of these just one was presented to a woman.
Miss Mary Vall Andrews, an American Red Cross canteen worker in France, was the woman chosen for the distinguished honor.
The medal was presented to Miss Andrews by General Pershing in the name of the president of the United States.
Miss Andrews, a New York woman, was one of the first seven American girls to go overseas. She went to the Toul sector as the American troops entered it, and on her own initiative set up a canteen tent in the station yard and gave small comforts to the soldiers arriving or on leave. Within a month she assisted 2000 doughboys a day, and it is estimated that during

Even on a rainy morning the present display in the windows of the Bon Marche store brings the passersby to an appreciative halt so that a closer and more admiring view may be had of this attractive array of fall clothes.
As a most fitting background to the appealing variety of women's suits, waists and hats, there is a front of a colonial house in miniature. Subdued lights of the old style English hang from either side of the door. The miniature windows are of French design and small red and blue plush curtains are draped from the tops.
The miniature display in the right window is that of the front of the house while the other miniature is a side view with a large French window in the center. The entire lighting is

It is easier to break up a cold or catch a cough now than it will be later. Persistent bronchial coughs that "hang on" all winter pave the way for serious throat and lung diseases. L. W. Day, 65 Campbell Ave., E. Detroit, Mich., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar relieved one of my bronchitis very quickly. I hope never to have it again." This is the family medicine for the relief of coughs, colds, croup, hoarseness, etc. Contains no opiates. Children like it. TO DISCONTINUE TROLLEY LINE

WHITMAN, Oct. 2.—Whitman seems destined to lose the street cars, and unless something unforeseen happens, the trolleys on the Brockton-Whitman branch of the former Bay State system will be called into the barns Oct. 12. Division Manager F. F. Sheehan has agreed to allow the matter of a choice between the trolley and the jitney bus to stand until after the Brockton fair, when, he declares, he will post the seven-day discontinuation notice.
It would seem that the town is powerless to prevent this. Twice have the townspeople refused to accept the act empowering towns and cities to govern jitney traffic, and it is stated that the issue will for the third time be placed before the town for referendum vote. The bus owners have tried in vain to secure some definite statement from the Whitman town officials, who prefer to remain quiet, stating that a special town meeting will soon be called.

THE recent excavations of Pompeii

in the ancient Street of Abundance have resulted in such extensive finds, that the life of the street can be almost entirely reconstructed. The principal discovery is that of a huge "thermopolium," a kind of public house.

CARDINAL MERCIER IS HONORED BY YALE

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 3.—Yale university and the historic city of New Haven yesterday bestowed its greatest honors upon heroic Cardinal Mercier, aged prelate of Belgium. In Woolsey hall last night at a special convocation, second in 30 years, President Arthur Twining Hadley conferred the honorary degree of doctor of laws on this great figure of a great war. Earlier in the day, after one of the most vociferous local welcomes ever accorded a world-noted personage, Mayor David B. Fitzgerald granted freedom of the city to "Mercier, servant of God and Belgium."

City and university could not do enough in their efforts to cheer this man against whom war's evil surges in vain. Best of all, President Hadley struck the feelings of a great community and famous institution of education.

"No words can adequately express the pleasure with which Yale men welcome you," he said. "To find a parallel to this occasion we must go back a century to the visit of Talleyrand or two centuries to that of Berkeley. In you we find combined the qualities of both these men. The statesmanship of the one, the philosophic acumen of the other."

TESTED RECIPES FOR LUNCHEON

BY BIDDY RYE
Among the many wonderful things Uncle Sam does for us, and which all too few of us know about, is the testing and compiling of food recipes. The following are a series of government recipes used in food demonstrations and study classes in different states by some demonstration agents for the United States department of agriculture. Those agents work in connection with the various state agriculture colleges.

The ones selected here were chosen for their suitability as the main dish at noon day luncheon in homes where there are hungry boys and girls coming in from school.

They are also suggested as interesting to housekeepers who serve supper at night instead of dinner.

Baked Bean Soup: 1 pint baked beans and liquid, 1 pint white sauce, 1/2 cupful flour, 1/2 cupful butter, 1/2 teaspoonful pepper. Melt the butter, stir in the flour and seasonings. Add milk gradually and stir constantly until it thickens. This is the white sauce and to it add the bean pulp and liquid which has been forced through a strainer. Flavor with a little onion juice.

Vegetable Souffle: 1/2 cupful cornmeal, 1 1/2 cupful boiling water, 1/2 teaspoonful paprika, 2 teaspoonfuls salt, 2 tomatoes, 1 green pepper, 1 tablespoonful grated onion, 2 eggs. Stir the hot water, salt, pepper, cut tomatoes, green pepper and grated onion into the corn meal; when mixed add the beaten eggs and fold in the whites, beaten stiff. Bake for 40 minutes.

American Chop Suey: 1/2 cupful spaghetti or rice, 1 pint-can tomatoes, 1/2 teaspoonful pepper, 1/2 cupful cooked or uncooked meat, chopped, 1 small onion, 1 teaspoonful salt. Cook rice or spaghetti in boiling water until tender. Drain, add other ingredients, pour into well-greased baking dish, and bake in oven until meat is cooked.

Minestrata: 6-inch strip fat salt pork, 1 cupful celery, chopped small, 1/2 cupful rice, salt and pepper, 1 large onion, 1/2 peck spinach, 1 tablespoonful chopped cheese, 1 teaspoonful Worcestershire sauce. Cut pork fine, chop onions and celery, add the spinach, cook in double boiler for 1 hour, or until pork has melted. Add 2 quarts boiling water, cook directly over fire 10 minutes. Add rice, cook 30 minutes more. Add cheese and flavoring. Serve at once. Minestrata is an Italian dish that has proved very popular.

Vegetable Stew: 1/2 cupful carrots, 1/2 cupful celery, 1/2 cupful turnips, 1/2 cupful potato, 1 tablespoonful onion. Prepare the amounts of vegetables given and cut into small cubes. Saute all except potatoes in 3 tablespoonfuls of drippings until a delicate brown. Add salt and pepper to taste, and a quart of boiling water. Add the potatoes 20 minutes before the stew is finished and 1 teaspoonful of chopped parsley. The potatoes will usually thicken the stew sufficiently, but flour may be added 10 minutes before serving for thicker consistency.

Corn Roast: 1 cupful corn, 1 cupful bread crumbs, 1/2 cupful chopped cooked carrots, 2 eggs, beaten, 2 tablespoonfuls melted fat, 1 tablespoonful chopped parsley, salt and pepper. Mix the ingredients together, in the order named, omitting 1 tablespoonful fat. Shape into loaf on a greased baking sheet, brush over with the remaining fat and bake for 25 minutes in a moderate oven. Serve at once with white or brown sauce.

NOTTINGHAM BAN ON GERMAN WORKERS

(N. E. A. Special to The Sun)
NOTTINGHAM, Eng., Oct. 3.—Nottingham lace makers hope all Germans will be sent back to Germany. Nottingham has experienced the crookedness of the Germans in business. German agents worked their way into the lace industry which is the backbone of Nottingham, learned all its secrets and then set out for home to compete with the Nottingham lace, or set up in business under the noses of those who taught them. Result: Nottingham board of trade passes a resolution to trade with no firm which employs an enemy alien during the next ten years.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Damage by rats in agricultural districts of England is estimated at a billion dollars a year! The result is a national campaign to exterminate rats, plans for a national rat week in October and for the organization of rat clubs to kill off the rodents.

MISS EMMA MESSIER

I am sixteen years of age, and last year I was excessively weak, owing to the fact that I was forced to start working at a very early age, with the result that I soon became exhausted. My mother, who had great confidence in the efficacy of RED PILLS, persuaded me to take them during the period of one year. Today, thanks to the good results obtained from their regular use, I am feeling much stronger and have more ambition to attend to my daily duties. We always have a few boxes of RED PILLS on hand at my home, and I am only too happy to say that in my opinion RED PILLS are an excellent tonic for weak and suffering young girls.

LOWELL'S MOTORCYCLE POLICE SQUAD READY

Lowell's motorcycle police squad will get into action tomorrow, according to Mayor Perry D. Thompson, and the police protection of the city will be very materially increased by their presence.

Three motorcycles, each equipped with a side car, fire extinguisher and a first aid kit, will be put into operation. The motorcycles will in reality be combinations of police patrol, fire apparatus and ambulance. Patrolmen Hamilton, O'Sullivan and Lynch have been assigned for duty on the machines and their territory will include Pawtucketville, Belvidere and Centralville. They will work mainly in the outlying sections of the city and will have much more territory to cover than the ordinary patrolman.

The mayor's purpose in installing

the machines in the department is to remedy conditions now existing which have caused certain outlying sections of the city to receive only meagre protection. For the present the machines will be kept at the central fire station pending the repairing of the floor of the police station garage.

TWO FIRE ALARMS

The fire department responded to two alarms for slight fires this forenoon, one at 8.33 o'clock for a blaze in the waste chute of the Tremont & Suffolk mills and the other at 10.35 o'clock for a blaze in a bale of cotton in a freight car in the yard of the B. & M. in Thorndike street. The former was a still alarm and when the firemen reached the premises the blaze had been extinguished, while the latter was a telephone call. There was no damage.

FEAR FOR SAFETY OF MISSING AIRMEN

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 3.—Fear for the safety of Captain Carl W. Danman and Lieut. Edward J. Verheyden, pilot and aide, respectively, of the Wichita, Kas., Aero club entry in the national championship balloon race, was expressed today by Major Albert Bond Lambert, an official of the race. No word has been received from them since they took the air shortly after 6 p. m., Wednesday, when the race started here.

Apparently the Ohio, the smallest of the 16 balloons in the contest, has travelled farthest of any of the six which have landed.

Captain Warren Ransom, its pilot, telegraphed he descended at 1 p. m., yesterday at Perry Sound, Ont., several hundred miles north of Simcoe county, where the Murphysboro, Ill., entry came to earth.

CLUB LAFAYETTE HONORS MEMBER

Mr. Ernest J. Dupont, a prominent club man and well known in musical circles, will be married next Tuesday to Miss Yvonne Rochette, daughter of Dr. L. V. Rochette of Merrimack street. When the members of the Club Lafayette, of which Mr. Dupont is a former president and secretary, heard that their fellow clubman was to become a benedict they immediately got busy on plans for a bachelor party in his honor and the affair was carried out last evening in the well appointed quarters of the organization in Merrimack street and was participated in by about 100 members and friends of the club.

Good fellowship was the keynote that prevailed from the early evening until the wee hours of the morning. Musical numbers were given, speeches were delivered and a buffet luncheon was served under the able direction of Chef Bert Grew, who had spared nothing to make the "cats" most palatable, and with great success. The feature of the evening, however, was the presentation of a gift to the benedict-to-be as a token of esteem, this being a handsome mahogany standing electric lamp. The presentation was made by Dr. George E. Caisse, treasurer of the club, who in a brief address congratulated Mr. Dupont on his choice of a bride and after thanking him for the valuable services rendered the club during his term of office, extended to him the best wishes of his fellow clubmen. Mr. Dupont responded briefly, thanking his friends for their mark of esteem and assuring them that their kindness will never be forgotten.

The presentation was followed by a varied musical program in which the following named participated: Messrs. Arthur G. Levellie, Willie Rousseau, Alfred Ducharme, Omer J. Smith, Dr. A. J. Gagnon, Hon. John T. Sparks, Frank Monette, Harry Briggs, Urgei Favreau, Armand J. Dupont, W. P. Caisse, Jr., Dr. J. E. Lamoureux, Dewey G. Archambault, Victor Rochette, Herve D. Parthenais, E. Gaston Campbell, J. and H. Pontbriand, the two latter of Nashua, N. H., Z. A. Normandin, Telephore Beauparlant, Ovilla Morin, Venace Favreau, James Lavallee, E. J. Larochele and others. Mr. J. B. Blouin of Montreal, a composer of music and known in the musical world as Johann Jose, presiding at the piano and delighted his audience with musical numbers. Mr. Blouin is an artist and his efforts were highly appreciated.

Shortly after 11 o'clock all repaired to the dining room, where a very appetizing buffet luncheon was served. Later toasts were given and various games were played. The gathering broke up at a seasonable hour after all had extended their best wishes to Mr. Dupont. The evening's program had been arranged and was successfully carried out under the direction of the board of directors of the club of which Mr. F. N. Labelle is president.

How American Women Break Down

Owing to the modern manner of living and the nervous haste of every woman to accomplish just so much each day, they overdo, and as a consequence develop ailments peculiar to their sex, as is indicated by backache, headache, nervousness, the blues, displacements and weakness.

Women who find themselves in this condition should slow down, and depend upon that good old fashioned root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, to restore them to health and strength, for there is no other remedy known that so quickly restores a healthy, normal condition.

Here is the Story of a Most Remarkable Recovery

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was run down and nervous, could not rest at night, and was more tired in the morning than when I went to bed. I have two children, the youngest three months old, and it was drudgery to care for them as I felt so irritable and generally worn out. From lack of rest and appetite my baby did not get enough nourishment from me, so I started to give him two bottle feedings a day. After taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman, full of life and energy. It is a pleasure to care for my children and I am very happy with them and feel fine. I nurse my baby exclusively again, and can't say too much for your medicine."

THE HOME STORAGE OF VEGETABLES

The home storage of vegetables is an interesting topic of discussion among home gardeners at this time of the year. Most everyone has a surplus of vegetables in the garden. In order to save these for home consumption during the winter they must be placed in proper storage this month.

There are three different kinds of storage required for garden products. The first of these is the cool storage, such as a moist dark cellar or pit. Potatoes should be kept in bins in this storage. Beets, carrots, salsify, turnips, kohi-rabi and parsnips should be buried in sand. Other vegetables which may be kept in this cool, moist storage are cabbage, Brussels sprouts, cauliflower and celery. The roots of these vegetables should be set in sand. The temperature in the cool, moist storage should be kept between 35 and 40 degrees.

The second type of storage is the cool, dry storage such as an unheated room in the dwelling. Onions, eggplants, peppers and tomatoes keep best under such conditions. The temperature of the cool, dry storage should be regulated between 35 and 40 degrees, the same as for the cool, moist storage.

The third kind of vegetable storage is the warm, dry storage, such as is usually found in a partially heated room or cellar with a furnace.

Squashes and pumpkins keep best in such places where the temperature ranges from 50 to 60 degrees.

There are several things to remember when storing vegetables. The vegetables must be free from bruises and decay, well matured and dry when put in storage. Stored vegetables should not be piled to a depth of more than two or three feet. Decayed vegetables should be sorted out and removed at intervals during the winter to prevent spreading decay to sound products.

A cool storage in cellars with a furnace can be provided by partitioning off a part of the cellar farthest away from the furnace. This room should contain a cellar window for ventilation which should be closed in severe cold weather.

SOUTH END DISTRICT DANCE BIG SUCCESS

The social and dance held in Association hall last night by young women of the South End district for the benefit of the general fund of the well-known home celebration attracted a capacity crowd. It was one of the first dancing parties of the fall season and hundreds of the city's young people welcomed the return to the realm of jazz.

Two splendid orchestras, Markham's and Miner-Burke's furnished music, playing alternately throughout the long program of dance numbers.

concert proceeded the dancing and the or continued with but one brief intermission period from 5 o'clock until midnight. Not only was the hall floor completely covered with dancers, but the balconies were filled as well, older persons sitting there to enjoy the music fully as much as those below who danced to its perfect rhythm.

The young women of the district who served in different capacities to make the event a success were: General manager, Miss Mary E. Markham; assistant general manager, Louise M. Cull; floor director, Miss Anna O'Connell; assistant floor director, Mrs. James Hogan; treasurer, Miss Mollie Roane; assistant treasurer, Miss Anastasia Lannon; chief and Miss Mary Carney and Miss Marie Markham; Helen Donahue, Mrs. Connors, Catherine Callahan, Kathleen O'Dea, Esther Donahue, Mollie Donahue, Helen O'Connell, Margaret Chase, Madeline O'Dea, Helen Shea, Sadie Fitzgerald, Mary Fitzgerald, Anna Mulcahy, Mrs. Theresa Corby Melancon, Mrs. Michael J. Sharkey, Mrs. William Merritt and Miss Helen McKenney.

BIG BONFIRE WILL OPEN CELEBRATION

The big bonfire on the old Fair grounds, which will mark the official opening of the South End welcome home to service men, is expected to be one of the big features of the celebration. The work of erecting the huge pile of wood, logs, etc., is in charge of the Manhattan Social club, and each and every member of the progressive organization is working zealously to make their part of the program a great success.

The pile now stands 10 feet high and members plan to add about 10 feet between now and the time to apply the torch. In addition to the bonfire there will be a band concert.

In years gone by the old Fair grounds has been the scene of some of the greatest bonfires ever witnessed in this city, and those in charge of this one aver that it will be the best on record.

All residents of the neighborhood as well as others throughout the city have co-operated in the work and the Manhattan Social club is grateful to all who gave a hand. Chief Saunders of the fire department, Mr. Hunsweil of the Lowell Electric Light Corp., officers of the H. & M. railroad, Leon Mullen and several others are among those who have given valuable aid to the committee.

SEN. REED'S VIEWS OF EGG THROWING

ARMORE, Ok., Oct. 2.—Before he left for Tulsa, Ok., Senator Reed yesterday dictated this statement: "My compliments to the decent people of Ardmore, my contempt for the thugs who wanted to use the people's privilege of the assembly under the flag and constitution of the United States."

"If the friends of the League of Nations imagine that the character of the argument employed last night will win friends for their cause, I believe they have mistaken the temper of the American people. I am very sure they mistake the temper of the people of Ardmore. So far as I am concerned the incident is closed, but I desire to remark that the occurrence may serve to illustrate the fact that probably we had better learn to govern ourselves before we take charge of the rest of the world and undertake to run it."

REPUBLICAN STATE LEAGUE LUNCHEON

Six delegates from this city went to Boston this noon to attend a luncheon and conference of the Republican League of Massachusetts at the Boston City club. The event is being held as a sort of prelude to the state republican convention being held in that city tomorrow.

The Lowell men who went to Boston today were: William J. White, Jr., Richard Frothingham, Frederick A. Harvey, Francis M. Qua, Abel R. Campbell and Arthur F. Woodley.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Below is what the press agents of the different theatres say of the current attractions and of others to come:

THE STRAND

Yesterday's presentation of "Oh, Boy!" at the Strand revealed the fact that Albert Capellani, "the wizard of the stage," has achieved a new and delightful triumph in offering such a genuine and subtle and feminine loveliness. It has taken "Oh, Boy!" Broadway's conspicuous musical success and conveyed it into the screen with all of the technical skill, all of the delicate art and beauty which mark his more serious productions. It is in no way inferior to the stage presentation in entertainment quality. Any time, for that, is high praise for "Oh, Boy!" on the stage was a smashing success. See it.

"Broken Commandments" love and sorrow and repetition, and a strange, three-sided romance, is the other attraction for the weekend. This too is a really remarkable picture that ought to be seen to be appreciated to the full.

R. F. WINTERS THEATRE

George Lloyd and many of the many stars of the R. F. Winters theatre, this week, there is a new attraction, "The Great Divide," which is a play in which John Meenan will be seen to best advantage. On Monday the management is to give one-half the day's receipts to the South End fund. Special features will be provided in addition to the regular production and it is to be known as "South End Day." Don't miss it.

One of the features of the many funny scenes of "The War and the Peace" comedy that is being so admirably presented at the Opera House by the Lowell Players is the second act when Mrs. Eliza, the leading woman, and the other characters in the comedy are seen in a scene on the page. You will find yourself tired at the antics of the two as they refect their feelings after their second and third indulgence. And then the "morning after." See the play and get a full measure of genuine merriment.

Next week America's greatest drama, "The Great Divide," will be presented with a full cast and along the lines of the original production. It's a play in which John Meenan will be seen to best advantage. On Monday the management is to give one-half the day's receipts to the South End fund. Special features will be provided in addition to the regular production and it is to be known as "South End Day." Don't miss it.

LAST CHANCES TO WITNESS "THE MIRACLE MAN"

Tonight and tomorrow are the last opportunities afforded Lowell theatres to witness George Loane Tucker's famous production, "The Miracle Man," which is being presented at the Merrimack square theatre.

The central figure in the story is a patriarch in a little village who possesses the power to heal the sick and the lame. Tom Burke, a New York gangster, and his pals scheme to use him as a means of enriching themselves. With this view, they visit him and are astonished to discover that his power to heal is absolutely bona-fide. How the good that lies latent in the crooks is brought out is the theme of the drama, which is one of the most gripping yet produced. Prominent in the strong cast are: Tom Burke, "The Great Divide," Joseph L. McKnight and Betty Campbell.

LOWELL CONGREGATIONAL CLUB

The first full program of the Lowell congregational club will be held next Tuesday evening, Oct. 7, at the Park street church. A social hour will extend from 6 to 7:30 p.m. and dinner will be served at 7:30. Rev. A. G. Lyon, president of the club, will preside and the speaker of the evening will be Rev. H. E. Searcy, who will speak on "The Debt of the World to the Pilgrims, and the Coming Tercenary Celebration."

PLEADS KOREA'S CASE
Girl Asks the United States to Aid Country in Freedom Fight
WASHINGTON, D. C. October.—
Here to plead for independence for her native land, Miss Nodde Kim, a prominent Korean girl, is attracting much attention in the national capital.
Nodde Kim's father was one of the first Koreans to be reached by the misstonaries, and he and all his family were Christians.

"Many young people I have known,
girls as well as boys, says the little Korean girl, "have escaped from Korea
and the Japanese by disguising themselves and making the terrible journey
over the northern mountains into Manchuria. They have even gone in winter, when babies have been frozen on their mothers' backs, and when his men have been frozen to death. They thought it better even to freeze to death than to endure what the Japanese wanted."
"Some day the people of Korea will be free, or there will no longer be a people of Korea. We say with you,
"Give me liberty or give me death."
Our school girls say it, and go to the police without fear. We ask the free
American people to be the friends of Korea. I am helping to establish a League of the Friends of Korea, and I hope that many Americans will join."

WHEN WOMEN
RULE THE WORLD

It was the first really important meeting of the all-women cabinet, of
Mrs. Perkins, the first woman president of the United States. The matter under consideration by the cabinet
was exceedingly important—it was
war!
The faces of all the cabinet members were stern and grave, only the face of Mrs. Johnson, the secretary of the recently established department of military and dressmaking, retained anything like its usual pliancy and prettiness.
"We must remember our men folks,"
said Mrs. Perkins, gravely. "It will be hard on our men to have us women go to the front and fight. We must remember that man is the weaker sex and he must be prepared for many heart-breaking scenes when the mobilization of our woman's army is announced and the terrified, heart-broken men cling frantically about the
necks of their women warriors."
"But," said Mrs. Smith, secretary of state, "we must remember that this is
a just war—to protect our men from the indignities which might be thrust
upon them by the women warriors of
our enemy in the case of our defeat.
We must remember that if we go to
At the thought of their weak, suffering, loved men at home the faces of the women became even more grave.
At this moment a phone message came
to Mrs. President Perkins. She listened
a moment, smiled and then hastily addressed the meeting.
"Ladies," she said, "we'll take up
this war matter later. The most important thing in the world has happened. My daughter's husband has just phoned that my newest grandchild has lost out a tooth! The meeting is adjourned!"
And, amid the excited exclamations
of the stateswomen, the cabinet meeting broke up—N. E. A.

Has He Found a Cure for Asthma?

Simple Prescription Gives Instant
Relief. Makes Breathing Easy.
In New England, where Bronchial
Asthma, Bronchitis and other diseases
of the throat and lungs are so prevalent, remarkably successful results are being reported following the use of a new form of treatment known as Oxidaze, a physician's prescription.
Oxidaze is a harmless but powerful
combination of curative essential oils
concentrated and compressed into a small tablet. One of these tablets is simply dissolved in water and the patient is left to the effect of releasing the muscular contraction of the bronchial tubes, opening up the air passages and regulating spontaneous lung action. This enables the patient to breathe easily and naturally while lying down and to get a comfortable
night's sleep.
So much interest has been shown
that local druggists, including Lowell
Pharmacy, have secured a small supply
and state that they are authorized to offer the remedy as a trial for the first package. If a cure is effected, the treatment fails to give relief, Oxidaze is absolutely safe, contains no harmful habit-forming drugs and is not expensive. This makes their test an easy matter—Adv.

CAMEL HAD NECK AND LEGS OF A GIRAFFE

AMHERST, Oct. 3.—A camel, with the neck and legs of a giraffe, ranged the plains of Colorado a million and a half years ago with the ancestral three-toed horse, the Amherst college geological expedition found in its researches of the past summer. The expedition, which has just returned from western Nebraska and Colorado, brought back what is considered a prize collection of fossil bones.

From incomplete but representative parts of the skeletons of the "giraffe-camel" the scientists have reconstructed in theory an animal which although a camel, had the build of the modern giraffe, and was nearly its size. Ancestral members of the deer, rhinoceros, mastodon and some rodent families were represented by other bones.

Under the miocene sandstones in prairie deposits of fine clay a million or more years older than the sandstone, were found other skeletons, including one of a tiny camel no larger than a half grown sheep. At the Pawnee Buttes a fossil egg similar in size and shape to that of the present day hen was uncovered, indicating the existence in those days of a bird, no part of the skeleton of which has ever been found.

Encouraging Bolshevism

Everything that falsely encourages unrest also encourages bolshevism.

Misunderstanding of American industrial organization, and of its benefits to mankind, leads to unrest, dissatisfaction, and radicalism.

For example, the Federal Trade Commission tells the public that the large packers had an agreed price for lard substitute (made of cotton-seed oil)

It reproduces letters taken from the files of one of the packers, showing that such agreed price existed.

But it failed to mention that the agreed price was determined at the request of and in co-operation with the Food Administration!

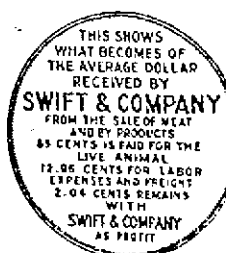

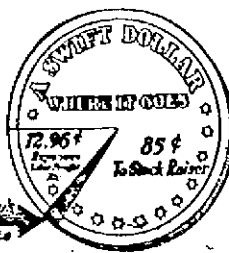

Even the Department of Justice, in its unjust attempt to create prejudice against the packers, has made public these same letters, with no explanation.

How long must this kind of misrepresentation continue? In so far as it is believed, it not only breeds discontent, but results in injustice to our industry.

GREET KING AND QUEEN

Belgian Royal Party Make Formal Entry Into New York—Meet Children

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The king and queen of the Belgians, with Prince Leopold, heir to the throne cast aside today the "incognito" which had shrouded them since their welcome at noon yesterday to the United States by Vice President Marshall, and boarded the yacht Noma in the Hudson river to make their formal entry into New York.

Driven by automobile from the Waldorf-Astoria, where they spent the night, to the foot of West 34th street, they were received by Rodman Wana-maker, chairman of Mayor Hylan's committee on reception to distinguished guests, committee members and city officials.

The Noma immediately cast off and started on a cruise about the harbor

prior to the official landing at the Battery.

The "incognito" which the king and queen chose to assume upon their arrival yesterday was a novelty to New Yorkers as was the presence in the city for the first time of a reigning king and queen.

The incognito proved only partially effective so far as Albert was concerned. When he went for an automobile tour of the city with Prince Leopold, he was fervently cheered. He received an especially enthusiastic ovation at Columbia, where he was recognized by students leaving their classes.

He visited the Belgian bureau, where he was greeted by 200 Belgians in a reception arranged by Monsignor J. F. Sillemans, bureau director. The king decorated Monsignor Sillemans with the Order of Knight of the Crown and conferred on Pierre Mall, Belgian consul general, a commandership of the same order.

Queen Elizabeth's incognito aided by a heavy white veil, proved more effective. Accompanied by the Baroness de Caraman Chimay, her lady-in-waiting, and the Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Belgian ambassador to the United States, she visited several Fifth avenue stores and made small purchases from saleswomen who failed to realize the rank of their quiet customer.

In the evening the king and queen essayed to visit a Broadway motion picture show but every theatre they visited displayed the "Standing Room Only" sign and they were forced to abandon the plan.

The queen with her lady-in-waiting and the Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne then visited a cabaret, accompanied by Baron de Caraman Chimay. King Albert spent the evening chatting with friends.

The king and queen expected to greet 50,000 children this afternoon in Central park. They will attend a theatre in the evening. Tomorrow night they will leave for Boston.

King Albert desired to go to Washington incognito in order to express his sympathy with President Wilson in his illness but abandoned his plans on receipt of a telegram from Rear Admiral Grayson that the president's condition rendered it necessary to prohibit his receiving any visitors.

German meals cost a third less than in the United States.

INFANT MORTALITY RATE STILL HIGH

Lowell's infant mortality rate for the week ending Sept. 27 was 32.1, sufficiently high to give this city second place among the large cities of the country which make reports. Fall River led with 34.5 and Dayton was third with 30.8. Atlanta was low with 2.1 and the average rate was 16.7. Rates for the large cities were: Boston, 19.7; New York, 19; Philadelphia, 22; and Chicago, 19.

TRANSFERS FROM CLAIMS APPROPRIATION

In view of the demand for funds in various municipal departments to complete the fiscal year, it is probable that transfers will be made from the claims appropriation which at the present time has a substantial balance. So far this year only $4091.46 have been expended in claims out of an appropriation at the beginning of the year amounting to $15,355.17.

ALASKA ABLE TO PAY WAR DEBT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—"Alaska can pay the nation's war debt."

That's the new slogan of Uncle Sam's last pioneer country to the north.

Not only can Alaska pay the nation's debt, but its people are anxious to do so.

All they need to do it is more men and some of the government's money invested in development of natural resources.

Untold wealth, in raw gold, silver, copper and other minerals, lies buried in the mountains of Alaska, where few men have ever set foot. If properly developed, that wealth, dug from the bowels of the earth, will, if the income tax collector does his duty, pay the nation's debt in full.

During the war Alaska's productivity almost reached a standstill. Now, however, the eyes of the government are again being turned on this comparatively virgin country, and the eyes of the people of Alaska are being turned on Washington.

Here's why Alaska can pay the war debt of the United States:

It has an area of 586,000 square miles, extending from the 54th degree of north latitude to the 73rd degree. If those figures don't mean much to you, these will: Alaska's area is greater than 20 of the 48 states of the Union put together!

Its taxable wealth today is less than that of the smallest state of the 18—but its potential wealth is far greater than that of the 20 states mentioned!

Alaska's wealth has only been scraped off the surface. Its population in 1900 was only 63,522, and in 1918 it was officially given as 61,981—an increase of only 192 in 18 years. But in reality the war, which took nearly all the men from Alaska, cut its population in half. These men are now returning, and trying to induce others to return with them.

Once Alaska has the population its resources will support, it will be the richest section of the United States.

The daylight saving must have originated in Alaska, for there they have 22 hours of daylight in summer time!

To show how easily Alaska can support a population of many millions, officials of the Alaska bureau of the government call attention to the fact that it is in the same latitude as a section of European Russia which is smaller than Alaska, but has a population of 6,553,000. Included in this section are the cities of Petrograd and Archangel, as well as all the largest cities of Russia. All of Sweden lies in practically the same latitude as Alaska.

In that country, wheat, rye and other grains, potatoes, vegetables of all kinds and livestock thrive.

In 1910 Alaska had 222 improved farms, with an average of 191 acres to the farm, and with a total valuation, including buildings and livestock, of $1,465,402. Since 1910 the number of farms has vastly increased, but there are still miles and miles of fertile soil waiting for the hand of the settler.

SUPPLY OF SUGAR 25 PER CENT SHORT

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—Brigadier-General John H. Sherburne, chairman of the commission on the necessities of life, stated yesterday that during the next three months residents of New England must get along on 75 per cent. of their usual allotment of sugar, the supply being approximately 25 per cent. short.

Increased Demand

The shortage, Gen. Sherburne says, is due largely to increased demand for the sweet stuff for candy making. In part the making up of last year's deficiency but chiefly to the greatly increased consumption. The consumption has been greater during the past nine months than ever in the history of New England, he said. During this period the shipments in New England have totaled 161,000 tons as against 140,000 tons during the same period in 1918.

Asked about the rumors that large amounts of sugar refined in this vicinity have been shipped abroad, Gen. Sherburne said the sugar equalization board has an arrangement with the royal commission under which a certain portion of the Cuban crop is allotted to England. Art of England's sugar is refined here, but the New England supply is not at all diminished because of this, as the refineries use only their surplus capacity on England's sugar, and they are able to handle all that is consigned to them for New England consumption.

Not more than 700 tons out of New England's supply has gone abroad, and these shipments were due to a mistake last July, when the supply was overestimated and the demand under-estimated. These shipments have been ended, however, and New England will retain hereafter all the sugar intended for it.

To Equalize Allotments

With reference to plans for meeting the shortage conditions, Gen. Sherburne said a voluntary committee has been organized in the sugar trade, the duty of which will be to equalize allotments among wholesalers and suppliers. Sugar cards have been considered, but it is certain that there will be no reduction in price before next spring, and therefore advises everyone to place orders at once for such coal as will be needed during the winter, in order that dealers may know just what their needs are to be.

With respect to prices of general commodities, Gen. Sherburne says the commission has found that since Sept. 9, when its first fair price list was issued, pork products have dropped about 10 per cent. in price, beef, 6 per cent.; lamb, 5 per cent., and general groceries, an average of 5-10 per cent. He expects there will be a further advance in butter and eggs, but for other commodities the commission expects to fix a steady decline in prices.

Hickman is the 30th to be arrested in connection with the recent investigation of automobile stealing, which is being conducted by District Attorney Tufts and the Cambridge police.

CAMBRIDGE SCHOOL PRINCIPAL RESIGNS

Harold Lawton, son of Judge George F. Lawton, has resigned as principal of the Peabody school, Cambridge. In his letter of resignation to the superintendent of schools in Cambridge, Mr. Lawton states: "I have decided to leave school work permanently for other lines ultimately offering greater returns and for which I feel myself more adapted."

Use Howard's Buttermilk Cream For Sunburn, Tan and Freckles

Tells all good drug and department stores not to take anyone's money unless this delightful new vanishing cream quickly shows a decided improvement. Try it today at our expense.

The first application of Howard's Buttermilk Cream will astonish you. It creates beauty almost like magic. The most wonderful thing about it is the fact that whilst it turns the darkest, most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes red or tough hands or arms snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin. No matter whether you are troubled with a poor complexion, wrinkles, puffiness around the eyes, freckles, crows feet or lines around the mouth, ugly finger nails or just a simple roughness of the face, hands or arms caused by wind or sun, you will find that any or all of these troubles will quickly disappear with the use of Howard's Buttermilk Cream.

To prove this to your complete satisfaction, get a small quantity today at Fred Howard's and have the Druggist, with the understanding that they will freely return the purchase money to any dissatisfied user.

Beautiful actresses say: "A short massage with Buttermilk Cream at night before retiring is all that is necessary."—Adv.

SCAMPS IN THEATRES

Although no prosecutions have thus far been brought, it appears that many ladies who attend motion picture shows in this city are annoyed by men who sit beside them and indulge in unwarranted familiarity after the lights are lowered. The managers of the theatres have had many complaints as the result of offenses of this character, and it is probable that an example soon will be made of some of the hoodlums who insult respectable women by their unruly advances. The law is very severe against such offenders and it is to be hoped that cases of this kind will be reported at once to the police officers present in the theatres, so that the guilty parties may be promptly arrested and brought to punishment.

TO BLOCKADE GERMANY

The allies threaten to renew the blockade on Germany unless German troops are withdrawn from the Baltic provinces. The German government at Berlin protests that it has no control over those troops inasmuch as they have enlisted in the Russian White army. That is set down as a subterfuge by the allies and Germany has been notified that she must withdraw the troops or be prepared to withstand the effects of a blockade. At the present time such a proceeding on the part of the allies might have serious results. It is feared that, in the first place, it might overthrow the German government and enable the monarchists to gain control. In this way a powerful combination between the monarchists of Germany and those of Russia might be formed for the control of both countries. It seems that the allies can scarcely make a move of any kind without stirring up seas of trouble, worse than those they attempt to remedy.

GARY'S ATTITUDE

Chairman Gary of the American Steel corporation, opposes the steel strike because he believes it would lead to the closed shop which he says would override the rights of those who do not belong to the unions and result in industrial decay. "The open shop," he said, "maintains the right of the employer to bring about the greatest production with only the interests of the employer, the employee and the public in sight."

Evidently Judge Gary is opposed to collective bargaining as that term is understood by the unions, and he declares that his company will fight for the open shop with all its resources. That places the issue very clearly before the country so that there is no room for any misunderstanding.

Whether the United States senate can change the attitude of the steel magnates is not quite clear. So far as long working hours are concerned, it is understood that this is a matter of discretion with the men. Were it not for the prominence attained by W. Z. Foster as an out and out radical and I. W. W., there would be some chance of a compromise; but with him as leader of the strike, there is little hope of bringing the steel corporation to terms except by a long struggle from which the men will be the chief sufferers.

INDUSTRIAL PEACE

Edwin T. Mulready, state commissioner of labor, is a man who has given deep thought to the leading questions of the day. In an address before the Round Table of the First Baptist church, he exposed some of the fallacies that lead to most of our industrial troubles. The causes do not all lie on one side by any means. Capital and labor are jointly responsible and apparently, there must be very material concessions on both sides before there can be any marked improvement. On the side of labor there must be a divorce from the extreme radical, and the employer must abandon the idea that labor has no right to say under what conditions it shall work or who shall represent it in conference with the employers. In a word, there must be a greater spirit of co-operation on both sides, more tolerance, more friendly relations, and less of that antagonism which stands always as an obstacle in the path of real success.

Mr. Mulready emphasized the fact that labor troubles are not necessary to the success of labor and that by wise diplomacy and the application of the principles of fair play, most of the labor disputes that now sweep the country might have been prevented. There is much truth in what Mr. Mulready says, but it will take a long time to bring the parties in conflict around to his way of thinking.

THE OHIO DECISION

Opponents of national prohibition in the state of Ohio have raised a legal question which promises to cause delay in the action of some states relative to the ratification of the constitutional amendment. It has been decided by the supreme court of that state that the ratification of this amendment must be submitted to the people under the referendum law of the state. Two other states, Washington and Nebraska, have raised the same point and in each case the supreme court of the state sustained the contention.

When on the 29th of January last Assistant Secretary Polk proclaimed the adoption of the amendment and named January 16 of next year as the date for its taking effect, nine of the thirty-six states that had ratified, were referendum states. The other six states that have not already done so, are now to invoke the referendum law and appeal to the people as part of the ratifying power. Should their contention be upheld by the supreme court of the United States, and it is alleged that this court is already committed to the principle—then it would appear that the amendment was not legally ratified when proclaimed by Mr. Polk.

Since then, however, it has been ratified by enough non-referendum states to make it operative, but at a later date.

When the constitution was framed, it provided for the ratification of amendments by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states. There was then no such thing as the referendum attached to legislation in any of the states. Now, however, it appears that under the decision of the Ohio court, the legislature of that state is held to include not only the two branches of the general assembly, but the citizens at large, acting through the ballot box on the question of the amendment.

The Ohio court holds that as making a constitution is the highest function of legislation, it should be provided upon by all the agencies possessed by the state for legislative purposes.

This new legal technicality will be fought by the Anti-Saloon league before the United States supreme court whose decision will be anxiously awaited by all the parties concerned.

COMPENSATION

Mother Nature cares for all her children. There is a law of compensating balances to this end. The abnormal is never permanent nor of long duration—there is always a return to the normal and before many days.

This is a large world. It is not a perfect world. But it is never imperfect in all its parts all at once. The Creator had this in mind no doubt in making it so large that the elements that bring famine in one part will not affect all parts in the same season.

For instance, we have before us the special report of U. A. King & Co., Toledo, which says: "The one outstanding fact in international agricultural statistics is the unfailing regularity with which Nature compensates poor crops in one or more countries with good crops in others."

"This providential provision," the report continues, "was strikingly in evidence during the war, and the fact that famine has been almost unknown, except through defect in transportation, is direct proof that in spite of the destruction in Russia and Balkan countries, sufficient wheat has always been produced to meet consumer needs, although, by turns, Australia, India, Argentina and North America have all had bad seasons."

The report concludes by saying that the question may be generally stated where importing countries are to find supplies of wheat to make good the undoubted losses which have lately occurred in North America, but it is answered by saying that it would indeed be a happy experience if the losses in North America, or a good part of them, would be offset by exceptionally good mid-season crops in Argentina and India, and as already indicated, such a compensation would be nothing more wonderful than the huge American winter crop of 1914, the Indian crop of 1917 and 1918, the Australian crop of 1915 and 1916 and the Canadian crop of 1915.

All this is a clear ringing note of optimism. It inspires human confidence in Nature by the proof that she provides full harvest in one part of the world for the lean harvest in another part and all in the same year, provided the farmers do their part in co-operating with Nature's bounty.

There never was famine throughout the whole world all at one time. And with the perfection and extension of transportation there never will be famine again in any part of the world. Transportation is the final adjustment in the law of compensating balances.

Yes, Mother Nature cares for her children not only in the provision of the world's fields, but in giving them power to abide distance over land and sea, that the full crops may be taken to the place of lean crops and in the same year, and that all years may be finally full wherever her children dwell.

Ask and ye shall receive of Mother Nature—the fruits of the fields and the power of will in dominion over all obstacles.—N. E. A.

King Albert of Belgium shows good judgment in refusing to visit Chicago and Milwaukee, two cities that have made themselves ridiculous by their pro-Germanism during the war. Chicago was disgraced by her Mayor Thompson and but recently the mayor of Milwaukee when asked to invite King Albert to that city used a most contemptuous expression in reference to the royal visitor. Thus both cities are very properly ruled out of the itinerary of the Belgian visitors. Nevertheless, Chicago sends a humble appeal to King Albert to visit that city and it remains to be seen whether he will comply with the request.

We have received an unsigned communication protesting against our advocacy of higher salaries for the teachers of Lowell. The writer, if we are to judge from his penmanship and spelling, never had much opportunity to judge of the services of school teachers; and it is with the hope of extending the advantages of education and thus lessening the number of such near illiterates, that we favor an increase for the teachers. It would be like throwing pearls to swine to argue the question with a correspondent who says that because the "teachers can sit down all the time," they do not deserve an increase.

The provision dealers of Lowell are wondering how it is that a certain Mr. Leavitt of Lawrence can secure such an ample supply of sugar that he can send an occasional car to relieve the famine in this city. We are not criticizing Mr. Leavitt for what he has done, but we are wondering why it is that some Lowell dealer cannot get into the sugar ring.

It seems now almost inevitable that the republican party will repudiate Mr. Burrell, their nominee for state treasurer as a "genuine counterfeiter." This is but another illustration of the truth that "it's a bad wind that blows nobody good."

Steady work at reasonable pay will solve the troubles with which this country is menaced today.

The Artistic Lover

June Elvidge, the most proposed-to woman in the world, has this to say about the artistic lover:

A wonderfully appealing type is the artistic lover. It is he, and he only, who can make love so that the flowers, the trees, the stars and the heavens are part of the universe of love with which he surrounds his beloved. The artistic lover brings to his love-making all the beautiful things of life—it is he who can best paint in words the burning thoughts which fill his soul for his loved ones. The artistic type of lover is not necessarily, or even usually an artist. I mean by an artistic lover, one who appreciates and loves the beautiful wherever it may be. A woman who is herself of the artistic type can best appreciate this type of lover. It is only she who can make the future home what her lover-husband can best appreciate. If you are yourself an artistic girl, you should seek out for your mate the artistic type of lover. If not, you had better steer clear of him. He will make love to you anyhow, if he has the chance, but you will be wise to marry some other type.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

The board of trade is planning to wage an exceptionally strong campaign in the interests of Americanization during this fall and winter and is endeavoring to enlist the services of representative citizens of all nationalities in the work. The announcement by the school committee that the state board of education was willing to share the expense of the work here in Lowell has greatly encouraged the Americanization committee of the board as it will add materially to the resources at hand for the campaign. Last year an excellent start was made in this work and a large number of foreign speaking people taught to speak English. Even greater strides are looked for during the coming season and it is expected that the various preliminary meetings which the board will hold to get the campaign into running order will be well attended.

The absence of John J. Mahoney, chairman of last year's campaign committee, will naturally be felt greatly, but with Mr. Mahoney's willing co-operation as head of the work for the entire state, the local officials hope to make a worth while record.

Time: 7:30 p. m. on a Sunday night. Place: A downtown drug store.

Enter two youths, who are "got up regarding." They make for the candy counter and buy two boxes of sweets more noted for the bad taste displayed on the box than for the quality of the goods inside. Then they purchase cigarettes—also of the cheapest brand—and do a few steps in a shimmy while waiting for their change.

They are leaving to the tune of "The Say She Does" when they spy a mirror on a slot weighing machine. Stopping short, they gaze with approving appraisal at the reflection therein, adjust their bowties, twisting their necks to relieve the grip of the high, jaunty collars on their throats. With their chapeaux to a most "killing" angle, wink at the comely clerk, light their cigarettes and go "jazzing" out into the night.

Ever see this happening? Well, so have we.

WILL NOT REOPEN DEVENS HOSPITAL

Despite the efforts made by the Massachusetts chamber of commerce to have convalescent soldiers who were removed from Camp Devens to Plattsburg, N. Y., some weeks ago, returned to the Ayer establishment now that the Plattsburg hospital has been abandoned, it is not believed that such will be possible.

Relatives of convalescent men have complained that hardships were imposed upon them because now they are unable to visit the men and provide them with some of the comforts and luxuries of home.

Col. C. R. Darnell, in reply to the request of the state chamber of commerce, states that it has become necessary to close a number of the hospitals in several states. Camp Devens among them, and that the men who have been in the Plattsburg hospital have been sent to Fox Hills, Staten Island, Fort McNary, Md., and the Walter Reed hospital at Washington.

"This is in conformity with the policy of this department to retrench and to contract activities of the hospitals as requirements for hospital-

EXPERT TALKS OF STREET RAILWAYS AND FARES

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—J. H. Pardee of New York, president of the American Electric Railway association, addressing the members of the New England Street Railway club at their banquet at the American house last night, declared that "if labor is to become an organized monopoly then it follows that labor must become a regulated monopoly."

He further stated that strikes upon a regulated public utility are directed against the public and not capital, and that they should be considered a crime against the public and be so treated.

"The public, which is the most affected," the speaker added, "may demand that labor assume responsibility and be organized in such a manner that it can be subjected to proper regulation in the interest of the whole people. It must assume certain obligations to the public, and it must fulfill those obligations if it is given the monopoly of furnishing electric railway service. It may not use that monopoly as a club over the public."

He further said that the politician who makes a pre-election pledge that he will solve the street railway problem by a reduction of fares is either intentionally or unintentionally deceiving the people.

"No vote of the people," said Pardee, "can make five cents do the work of ten cents, reduce the scale of wages, lower the price of materials, or compel the investment of a dollar of any man's money in the electric railway securities. No resolution, ordinance, ruling or law of a city council, public service commission or legislature can accomplish the impossible."

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The driving force of Sir Eric Geddes.

The persuasive power of Sir Auckland Geddes.

These are the elements against which the British rail strike leaders are now matching their wits.

But Sir Eric has enlisted as his first aide his brother, who is secretary of

Eric was born in Agra. He studied law but didn't like it, and when his father insisted, went aboard a liner and worked his way to America. He was 17 then, he's in the early 40's now.

He worked in a Carnegie rolling mill, in a lumber camp, on a railroad from switchman to station master. He studied sugar growing in Ceylon, forestry in India. Back in England, he grew to high post with the London & Northeastern. In the course of the war he became director general of railways. Then he became first lord of the admiralty with control of Britain's naval policy. Now he's on the job with the railroads again.

Auckland Geddes was a college professor before he became British minister for national service and reconstruction and then head of the board of trade. He was professor of anatomy at McGill university, Montreal, in 1914. He enlisted as a private and was wounded at Mons and sent back to England. Given a job, he soon rose to the post where, through him was requisitioned all the man power of England for the period of the war.

Tall, clean cut, keen eyed, clean shaven, dynamic men, the Geddes brothers are foemen worthy of the steel of labor's brightest.

In the Geddes family Auckland is believed to be the genius and wonder is expressed that the world has not seen it. Perhaps the handling of the rail strike will determine which has the winning qualities.

Working with Brothers Geddes is Sir Robert Horne, minister of labor, who tried his best, but tried in vain, to avert the struggle that now is being waged.

Waterbury, Conn., and charged with the holdup of Frank C. Bellis, night watchman in the garage of John C. Morgan on Prentiss street, this town, and the larceny therefrom of $7 from the cash register and an automobile in which they fled from the vicinity. The alleged holdup was shortly after midnight Tuesday.

Their arrest was effected after the automobile had hit a tree in Terryville, Conn. Deputy Sheriff George F. Buckley saw them leaving the scene. He also saw the number of the car, the one for which the Watertown police were searching, so he notified the Bristol police. The men were found in a barber shop. Johnson and Jones were arrested.

Chief Millmore and Inspector Burko of the Watertown police and Chief Argy of the Belmont police brought the prisoners to Watertown jail. They were arraigned in the Waltham district court today on the charge of holdup and larceny charge. Jones is also charged with carrying a loaded revolver.

The recaptured prisoners, who were being held at the house of correction at Deer Island—Johnson under a sentence of two years for malicious assault, and Jones on a 30-months' sentence for breaking and entering—told the police they decided to get away from there a week ago Monday and that they got their chance during the night school session at the island. They say they swam Shirley Gut and landed on the Waltham shore.

They say they spent the night at a vacant cottage where they swapped their prison clothes for some civilian garments found in the cottage. Since then they had been staying near Boston until they got so "broke" they decided to enter Morgan's garage and get enough money to go west.

The car stolen, it is claimed, belongs to Mrs. Minnie Arnoldson of Marlon road, Belmont.

Henry A. Higgins, the master of the night school, says that Johnson and Jones (known as the "human fly") were of a class of 100 prisoners in attendance at the school conducted at the house of correction.

During the session on that night the two men asked permission to visit the toilet. When after 15 minutes they did not return a search was made and then a general alarm sounded.

King Albert Made Citizen of New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The name of King Albert of the Belgians was added today to the long roll of famous men who have been made honorary citizens of the city of New York. The ceremony on the steps of the city hall and the scenes which preceded it were a practical duplication of the picture that was presented recently when General Pershing was similarly honored by the nation's metropolis.

From the moment that the king and his consort, Queen Elizabeth, landed at the Battery, until his arrival at the city hall, he was the center of an ovation.

In the city hall plaza the crowd was so dense that the large force of police and soldiers had difficulty in keeping the roadway clear for the royal procession. At the entrance to the city the king was greeted by Governor Smith and Mayor Hylan.

In his address of welcome the mayor expressed his conviction that a new and greater Belgium would arise out of the wreckage of the great war.

Continued
Homestead plants of the Carnegie Steel Co. officials said today that more men were back and that tonnage was being increased daily.

From Newcastle, Pa., and Sharon-Farrell district, further north, reports indicated that more men were going to work.

At Johnstown, Pa., the Lorain steel plant is still operating short handed, while the Cambria steel works remains closed. Union organizers in the Pittsburgh district said they had made big inroads on the forces of many of the large plants, particularly Homestead, in the last two days.

Counter Claims From Chicago
CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Officials of steel mills in the Chicago district today pointed to reports of increasing numbers of workmen resuming their tasks during the last two days, and indic-

tions by many other workers of their intention to return to work as upholding their prediction that production today would mount close to 50 per cent. of normal. Labor leaders continued their claims that appreciable inroads into the ranks of the strikers were not being made.

An official of the United States Steel corporation at Gary, Ind., asserted that 5000 of the 9000 men on the payroll when the strike was called were ready to begin work at Indiana Harbor, Ind., and reports of additional production came from Waukegan.

Three men with bricks in their pockets were arrested last night at the American Sheet & Tin Plate Co.'s plant at Gary, where a serious clash between strikers and police guards was threatened.

Strike leaders said today that the bricklayers and plasterers' unions had joined the walkout and that about 45 per cent. of the 150 bricklayers employed in the construction department of the steel company did not report for work yesterday.

Officials of the company declared the situation at all their plants was so near normal it was "not worth talking about."

50 Per Cent. Capacity
GARY, Ind., Oct. 3.—Alarmed at the defection of 1500 men yesterday, strike leaders today exerted every influence to keep their lines intact. Mass meetings were held and picket lines strengthened.

Apparently not more than 200 strikers returned to work today, at the Indiana Steel company plant, where

The Amn. Sheet & Tin Plate company, claimed to be running units in nearly every department on a basis of 75 per cent. capacity.

Fight for "Free Speech"

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 3.—The fight of union leaders for the "right of free speech and free assemblage" in Allegheny county continues to be the feature of the steel strike in the Pittsburgh district. According to strike leaders, county officials and authorities of municipalities are avoiding responsibility for prohibiting mass meetings and as a result the workers' lawful right to assemble and hear speeches is being abused.

Sheriff William S. Haddock recently granted strikers permission to hold indoor meetings in McKeesport, while officials of that city say such sessions cannot be conducted. Contrary to this state of affairs, the strikers say are the sheriff's orders that strikers must not assemble in Glassport, while local authorities of Glassport have notified union headquarters that meetings may be held there.

Union leaders and representatives of the employers made their usual conflicting statements today, the former claiming that the strike was spreading while the latter said additional men had returned to their places in the mills.

More Men Go Back
YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Oct. 3.—Officials of the Carnegie Steel company, said today that more men were reporting daily at the Ohio works. Observers reported that the number of men entering the plant today was about the same as yesterday. Mill officials asserted this showed a gain for them because many who went to work yesterday remained in the plant overnight. Few pickets were on duty.

LAWRENCE SCHOOL STRIKE

LAWRENCE, Oct. 3.—After a hearing last night on the strike of the 14 Green grammar school pupils attended by the fathers and mothers, the school committee remained firm and named Rawlinson.

refused to rescind its order sending the children to the Packard school. The strike started Monday when 15 of the pupils were ordered to attend sessions in the Packard school. Only one complied with the order.

"Mary had a little lamb" is the real story of a Massachusetts girl. The verses were written by a student school committee remained firm and named Rawlinson.

WILLIAMS' WILDNESS
CAUSED DEFEAT

CINCINNATI, Oct. 3.—A resume of the pitchers' records yesterday shows that lack of control by "Lefty" Williams, White Sox pitcher, plus the home team's snappy fielding, gave the Reds the second game of the world series yesterday, 4 to 2. It was Cincinnati's ability to smother the ball that gave them the first victory in the baseball classic.

Williams yesterday handed out six bases on balls and the Reds made four hits. Ten hits were made off "Lefty" Sallee, Sallee, however, gave only one base on balls and struck out two, while Williams struck out only one by the strike-out route.

Williams gave a total of 53 balls, as compared with Sallee's total of 31. The White Sox, however, put over more strikes, getting 30, while Sallee got only 23. Each pitcher was hit by 2 times, including flies and grounders resulting in put-outs.

A grand total of 213 balls was pitched during yesterday's game; 92 by Sallee in nine innings and 121 by Williams in eight innings. The highest number of balls thrown in any one inning were pitched by Williams in the fourth. In this inning, in which Cincinnati scored three runs, he was forced to pitch 23 times. The low number of balls pitched in any one inning was seven. Williams pitched only seven in the seventh inning, and in the following inning Sallee equalled this record. Sallee was credited with a balk in the sixth inning.

Following is the inning pitching record for yesterday's game:

House Elections Committee
Decides Tague Entitled to the Seat

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—By a vote of 5 to 2, the house elections committee yesterday decided to recommend the unseating of John F. Fitzgerald, representative from the 10th Massachusetts district, holding Peter F. Tague as entitled to the seat.

The committee, holding that fraud had been practiced in the election by colonization of voters and illegal registration, out of the returns of the fourth, eighth and ninth precincts of the fifth ward in Boston, with the result that Mr. Tague's majority for the whole district was held to be 310.

Representatives Luce, Massachusetts, and Overstreet, Georgia, did not join in the majority decision which was agreed to by Representatives Goodall, Maine; Lehbach, New Jersey; Blanton, California; Rhodes, Missouri; and McLennon, New Jersey.

The committee report will not be called up in the house until next month, Chairman Goodall said, and meanwhile Mr. Fitzgerald will continue to hold the seat.

STRIKE SITUATION IN LOCAL SHOE SHOPS

The strike situation in the local shoe shops, according to information received this morning remains the same, although the members of the Allied Shoe Workers' union have been away from their work for over ten weeks. The strike was started after the manufacturers refused to acquiesce to the demand of the workers, that of recognition of the union and an increase in wages.

It was learned this morning that an attempt is being made to call a conference between the manufacturers and the employees in the near future in an endeavor to bring about a settlement. A meeting of the strikers will be held this evening in Leather Workers' hall, Central street.

TAX BILLS FOR REAL ESTATE OWNERS

Lowell real estate owners will get their 1919 tax bills on Tuesday or Wednesday of next week, according to City Treasurer Fred H. Bourke. The office force of the treasurer's department has been working night and day for the past week preparing the 14,000 bills that must be sent out. The bills must be paid on or before Nov. 1 or otherwise interest dating from Oct. 15 will be charged.

GRADING APPROACHES TO NEW BRIDGE

As a result of the construction of the new bridge in Thorndike street by the Locks and Canals, the street department has started the work of grading the approaches to the new structure. At the junction of Dutton and Fletcher streets 1000 yards of granite block will be laid and will materially improve the appearance of that section.

It is estimated that coal discovered in the Argentine would cost $10 a ton at San Antonio.

Troops Search for Ammunition Hidden By Negroes at Elaine, Ariz.

HELELA, Ark., Oct. 3.—Federal troops from Camp Pike, with local posse men and state officers resumed search today for arms and ammunition believed secreted by negroes at Elaine, a small town near here where race rioting during the past few days has resulted in 10 known deaths.

The race trouble, reports indicated, was fomented by agitators who had aroused the negroes to participate in an organized uprising and the authorities were determined to prevent further trouble by obtaining possession of all fire arms in the hands of the negroes.

Arrests of negroes today numbered 255, of whom 226 were under guard by federal troops at Elaine and 60 had been brought here.

The known white dead in connection with the fighting remained at five, including one soldier. Five white men have been wounded. Eleven negroes are known to have been killed.

ney Zeitz of New Bedford, president of the Mercantile Wrecking Co., which had salvaged part of the cargo for the government under contract, were the two chief witnesses here today before congressional sub-committee investigating the loss of about $2,000,000 worth of the vessel's cargo.

Ensign Robinson stated that in his opinion, the wreck could easily have been raised and the entire cargo salvaged; that he owned two boats which he rented to amateur salvagers; that the Port Hunter was without lights or buoys or any markers, and he felt that the steamer had been abandoned. He refused to criticize alleged delay by the army or navy officials, saying that he was still in the service and would make no comment on the acts of his superiors. Also he stated that he made no recommendations to the government, assuming the matter in no way concerned him.

Mr. Zeitz said he was turned down three times in bidding for the work of salvage in favor of other companies; that they could not execute the contract and that finally it was awarded to him by Col. Yates of Boston, without competition. Mr. Zeitz testified that he was looking for the chance to salvage the wreck for many months, and that he informed Gen. Hines by telegraph that fishermen were taking the cargo out of the vessel and selling it.

HOOVER URGES LEAGUE

Says "If League Breaks Down We Must at Once Prepare to Fight"

PAID AUTO, Oct. 3.—"If the League of Nations is to break down, we must at once prepare to fight," Herbert Hoover, formerly economic director for the supreme war council, told the students of Stanford university in an address he delivered here last night. "The peace treaties," he said, "cannot be carried out without the league. If the league falls the treaties also fall. If the balance of power is to supplant the League of Nations, we will have torn asunder the only hope that Europe will not break into further wars of races, classes and combinations that will take civilization back to the Middle Ages."

"I am confident that if we attempt to enforce the treaty we shall tread a road through European chaos. If we manage to keep our soldiers out of it we will not escape fearful economic losses."

Desperation of Europe

Mr. Hoover said that few people seem to realize the desperation to which Europe has been reduced.

"During the coming winter some of them will look with longing eyes to this rich, fat nation, with its surplus of every human necessity," he said. "We cannot afford to let Rome burn. If we believe we can see our neighbors return to another 30 years' war through the break-down of this treaty, and we still maintain our progress, it is the egoism of insanity. Our expansion overseas has entangled us for good or ill, and I stand for an honest attempt to join with Europe's better spirits to prevent these entanglements from involving us in war. We are not dealing with perfection, we are dealing with the lesser of evils."

"For us to refuse to enter into a joint attempt with the well-thinking sections of a large part of the world to establish a continuing moral conscience against war is the utmost folly in our own interests."

Pointing out the likelihood that some European nations will again be plunged into war with their neighbors,

Mr. Hoover referred to a probability of the invasion of Poland if the treaty failed.

"There are many elements in Europe," he said, "who wish to see the treaty break down and the League of Nations disappear. During the last five months our allies have been growing weaker from a military point of view due to the necessity of demobilizing their armies, while at the same time the reactionary group in Germany has been growing in strength through the hope of yet securing a division of the allies. At the time I left Europe a month ago German militarism had already re-established itself as a well-disciplined, well-officer army of at least 400,000 men largely concentrated on the Polish frontier and even defying the government at Berlin."

"Under the alarm of this danger the Poles, in the midst of the greatest economic misery that a nation ever saw, have been trying to create an army of 500,000 men for their protection from the Germans on the one side and the Bolsheviks on the other. If the treaty is ratified the German army will be reduced to 200,000 men and dispersed over Germany and their extra armament destroyed. The failure of the treaty means the invasion of the Polish state."

"This is only one of the powder magazines in Europe which cannot be destroyed until the treaty is ratified, and during every day of delay more explosives are poured into them."

Could Not Be Made Perfect

"The treaty finally agreed upon at Paris is by no means perfect," declared Mr. Hoover, adding that he saw no method by which it could have been made perfect under the circumstances.

"It is often overlooked that this was not a conference to settle the wrongs committed by allies or neutrals, but by the enemy only," said Mr. Hoover. "It was Germany's wrongs that were on the operating table. It would have been beautiful to have all the international wrongs on the table, but this is not a perfect world. If this had been broken up into quarrels among the allies and Germany would have been handed again the domination of Europe. The old guard in Germany hope and expected this would result; up to date they have been disappointed."

"No one could be more disappointed than the American delegation that some great wrongs that were the result of the secret treaties that had been written in times of great desperation among the original allies were not eradicated."

Referring to the probable effect upon an aggressor of world enlightenment and the use of the boycott, Mr. Hoover said: "The hope which I, an independent observer, have placed in the league is that it will forever relieve the United States of the necessity to again send a single soldier outside of our boundaries."

WOOL KING'S SON LEARNING BUSINESS

Cornelius A. Wood, son of William M. Wood, millionaire president of the American Woolen company, who has started in to learn the wool business from the bottom, is here depicted grading wool in the storehouse of the Washington mills, Lawrence, the largest in the world. Cornelius A. Wood was only recently discharged from the United States navy, in which he was commissioned lieutenant.

NO RELEASES FROM THE STATE GUARD

It is stated on good authority that Superintendent Molloy of the Lowell school department and Principal Fisher of the Vocational school will not be released from duty with the state guard in Boston, even though our city officials should so request. The military authorities have already turned down many requests for the release of city officials, mill superintendents, attorneys-at-law, doctors and other professional men. They assert that if they should break this rule they would have to release perhaps 2000 men who hold important positions in the industrial business or professional life of the state.

Undoubtedly the school board is cognizant of this fact and this may explain why there is some talk of engaging an assistant superintendent of schools to deal with the very important educational questions now awaiting settlement.

UNSKILLED LABOR EXODUS

Several thousand unskilled laborers, including both men and women, have left Lowell in the past six months to accept positions in out-of-town industries, and the exodus still continues. The higher wages offered unskilled labor in various parts of the state and New England is given as the reason for so many Lowell people leaving the city; also the fact that at the present time local mills take in practically no unskilled help of any kind.

LATEST STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Shares of popular issues were freely offered at the opening of today's stock market, the selling being attributed to the same factors which brought about yesterday's irregular movement. Crude oil was again the weak feature, losing six points. Declines in allied issues ranged from one to two points. Oils, motors, tobacco and shipping, yielding as much. The few transactions in rails were at moderate prices. Recoveries in such leaders as U. S. Steel, equipments and Mexican Petroleum resulted in a general rally before the end of the first half-hour.

The rebound carried a number of leaders to their points above yesterday's final quotations, but this seemed to serve as a foundation for fresh selling, all kinds being cancelled. Professional pressure was most marked in speculative shares, such as oils, motors, rubbers and tobacco, where reactions extended from two to several points. Excepting Crude, Steels and equipments suffered better resistance to the liquidating movement which became general in the second hour, when the more representative issues showed little support. A few substantial rallies followed the opening rate of 7 per cent. for call loans.

A 12 point advance in American Tobacco and gains of 10 to 25 points in local fractions featured the less feverish mid-session. Rallies in other quarters of the list extended from one to three points, motors and equipments being especially responsive to support.

NO HOSPITAL AT DEVENS BLAMES WILSON FOR DELAY

"Utterly Impossible," Army Surgeon General Tells Congressman Rogers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Surgeon General Ireland of the army yesterday told Congressman Rogers of Lowell that it was "utterly impossible" for the war department to locate a military hospital at Camp Devens or any other New England point. Explaining the reasons for his decision, Gen. Ireland made the following statement:

On Sept. 26 there were 20,250 soldier patients in the general hospitals of the United States. On the same date there was a total number of beds in the general hospitals amounting to 27,925. Thus in the hospitals now being operated there were 8005 vacant beds. Under these circumstances, the opening of new hospitals cannot be thought of. On the contrary, the secretary of war and the surgeon-general, acting on his direction, are almost daily closing the smaller and less tenanted hospitals.

Close Plattsburg Hospital

Thus the hospital at Plattsburg Barracks, N. Y., to which most of the New England soldiers were transferred when Parker Hill hospital was closed, was occupied by only a fraction of its full complement of patients—354—and was closed on Sept. 30. The soldiers who were patients there, including a great many New England veterans, have in the main been transferred to the Fox Hills hospital, Staten Island, N. Y.

The hospital at Spartanburg, S. C., was also closed on Sept. 30, at which time it had only six patients. Because of the small number of patients, hospitals at Williamsburg Bridge, New York city, with 503 patients; Colonia, Port Des Moines hospital, with 572 patients; and Otisville, N. Y. hospital will be closed during the coming month.

When these hospitals have closed there will be only 14 general soldiers' hospitals in the United States. Of that number four are tubercular hospitals and two are for the insane. The other eight are permanent army hospitals which will be continued indefinitely, being in no sense war emergency institutions. These eight are:

Letterman General hospital, San Francisco; Walter Reed General hospital, Washington; Fort McHenry hospital, Baltimore; Fort McPherson hospital, Georgia; Fort Sheridan hospital, Illinois; Carlisle hospital, Carlisle, Pa.; Fox Hills hospital, Staten Island, N. Y.; Fort Sam Houston hospital, Texas.

Gen. Ireland stated that the war department is striving to centralize the hospitals and re-establish them as nearly as may be on a peace basis. This month will see the closing of the last of the temporary hospitals. Those that will remain open thereafter will be the permanent peace time hospitals of the military establishments.

FRENCH DEMAND THAT HUNS BE UNMASKED

PARIS, (By Mail).—The impending resumption of commercial relations with the enemy of yesterday is causing the French public at large a good deal of misgiving. Many would keep the Germans out at all costs, but cooler heads realize that France cannot afford to close the door upon a customer of $1,000,000,000 annually. There is, however, a fairly unanimous feeling that if the German is to come back into France he must come back in some recognizable shape and not disguised, as too often before.

Incidents such as the following do not serve to put the public mind at ease. A woman of good social standing of Lille recognized yesterday, in the person of a cashier in one of the big department stores of Paris, a former German officer. She had good reason to recognize him as one of the invaders who had been quartered in her home in Lille.

Challenged as to his identity the man stoutly denied his Teutonic nationality. He spoke French perfectly; his papers were to all appearance in order, and the cashier at first found scant credence on the part of the man. Then she remembered that the man had once boastfully exhibited his arm, on which the portrait of the former German emperor was tattooed. The cashier-officer was dismissed and the newspapers are now demanding that employers shall be held responsible for the civil status of their employees.

(N.E.A. Special to The Sun)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 3.—There is a typical mill town boarding house with 14 rooms, 20 beds and 43 lodgers. The shift system prevails in the boarding houses as well as in the steel mills, where production was continuing before the strike.

The beds in this house were occupied day and night. When the day crews left, the night workers came home for sleep.

The strike created an embarrassing situation. Most of the men now escape the luxury of sleep at night, especially since there is no place else to go in a mill town after dark.

Sen. Jones Says President's Action Embodies Spirit of Mob

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Senator Jones, republican of Washington, declared in an address in the senate today that President Wilson "by word and deed, has done more to undermine orderly, peaceful, representative government than any other human agency."

The president's action "in attempting to coerce a co-ordinate legislative branch of the government to do his will regardless of its own judgment and conviction of duty," Sen. Jones said, "was a more dangerous assault upon democracy and the integrity of this republic than any armed attack could be. It embodies the spirit of the mob and justifies lawlessness."

Senator Jones said he did not question the president's sincerity and how much he might condemn his methods, it would not influence his decision in voting on the treaty. In studying it, he said, he had sought to find reasons to justify his support rather than to sustain a vote against it.

The main controversy over the treaty he declared, was the covenant for a League of Nations "which will not be rejected but so ratified that the vital interests of the United States will be protected and its independence and sovereignty preserved."

"The league covenant should not be in the treaty," he said. "Months ago the treaty with Germany should have been made and ratified. Who is to blame for the delay? No one but the president. He and he alone insisted on the two things being put together. If the world's heart is broken, he will break it. If the world's hope of peace shall die, he will kill it."

Senator Jones insisted that American representatives in the council and assembly of the league should be eventually elected by the people.

"The president tells the people the world will sink into chaos if the United States does not enter the League of Nations," he said. "The danger to the covenant today comes from the president himself. He insists that the covenant must be accepted by the senate exactly as he has sent it to us. I know and his friends know and he ought to know that if reservations are not adopted the covenant will be rejected in its entirety. If the treaty is not ratified and the United States fails to enter the League of Nations, Woodrow Wilson alone will prevent it."

STRIKE CLOSES SUGAR PLANT

ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 3.—One of St. John's largest industries is shut down as a result of the decision taken by the Atlantic Sugar Refineries workers to go on strike, until certain demands which they have made are met by their employers. There is a considerable divergence between the demands which the men are making and what the company is willing to concede, and as a result of a mass meeting of the sugar refinery workers last night all work ceased in the plant at 1 o'clock (daylight time) this morning. The men did not all march out in a body, but the different departments left one after the other. A board of conciliation has been suggested, but each side charges the other with a decision in advance not to accept the finding of such a board, unless favorable.

The demands of the employees are an eight-hour day and an increase of 10 cents per hour, and the company is willing to concede the eight-hour day and an advance of five cents per hour. F. G. O'Grady, the general manager of the Atlantic Sugar Refineries, Ltd., has come from Montreal to look after the interests of the company, and he stated last night that all refineries in Canada and the United States were running on 11 to 13-hour shifts and that the wage already paid to the employees here (35 cents per hour) was the highest wage paid by the company east of Winnipeg, but that the company was willing to take a radical step for the betterment of their employees.

F. A. Campbell, president of the Trades and Labor council, who is handling the strike, said that the men were not unreasonable in their demands, but were merely asking for a living wage.

Mr. Campbell says he is acting under authorization of the American Federation of Labor in Washington, and local authorities wonder if Canada has been annexed to the United States through labor control.

Mr. O'Grady says the company is willing to pay the 40 cents per hour as the minimum for unskilled labor; that the cost will be $100,000, and of course it will involve an advance of the cost of sugar in every sugar bowl served by his refinery.

The union officials insist on the 45-cent minimum for unskilled labor.

BIG RAILROAD STRIKE

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Negotiations between the government and labor representatives other than railwaymen were resumed today in an effort to bring the authorities and the railway representatives together for a settlement of the railroad strike.

At an early hour the premier, George N. Barnes, minister without portfolio, Sir Robert Horne, the minister of labor, and Sir Eric Geddes, the minister of transport, conferred. Later they were joined by a deputation of the transport men and associated unions.

The government insisted at a conference yesterday that work must be resumed by the railway strikers before the negotiations could be reopened.
